Rep. Andrew Christie, Jr. for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: Many people are surprised that our current capital murder law does not cover certain murders that are universally considered to be particularly heinous. Although we have had a capital murder statute in this state for more than 20 years, this bill provided a vehicle to consider expanding the current laws to include a few uncovered types of murder. The committee reviewed the proposed legislation and crafted an amended version which makes it a capital murder to knowingly cause the death of a child under the age of 13, the death of a witness or informer in a criminal investigation, the death of a juror, or the deaths of multiple persons (serial murder victims or single event mass murder victims). This expansion is more limited than the original bill. The committee deleted the felony murder provision which would have made a person who participated in a felony where a death occurred guilty of a capital murder without proof of the intent to cause a death. This legislature has historically supported a capital murder statute which applies to those murders which are deemed serious crimes against society by the very nature of the victims. The committee believes that the expansion proposed here is the appropriate answer to the concern that certain heinous murders are not covered by the current capital murder law. The committee members individually have diverse opinions relative to the death penalty. Some members who voted for this amendment may have done so to present a bill that would likely meet the constitutional requirements. We believe that the amendment will meet those requirements. Vote 14-4.

Amendment (0820h)

Rep. Below: Madam Speaker, we all know that taking the life of another human being is, as a rule, fundamentally wrong. Thou shall not kill is the fifth commandment. Most of us do recognize a couple of exceptions to this rule. It is no crime to kill in defense of one's own life or that of another innocent person. Perhaps the most difficult and heroic of acts is to face death in combat, to defend one's nation, freedom and democracy. Today, we contemplate another possible exception: the death penalty. Part I, Art. 18 of our New Hampshire Constitution says, "all penalties ought to be proportioned to the nature of the offense." We face three choices today: to expand the death penalty; leave it as it is; or, with the adoption of this amendment, to abolish it, and simply make the penalty for capital murder life imprisonment without any possibility of parole.

In truth, we all seek to do the right thing. Nothing about this issue is easy. I, myself, have felt the anger and outrage of one who has seen the precious life of another extinguished by senseless homicide. I have felt such rage, such a passion to see evil brought to justice, that if given the chance, I thought I would volunteer to be the executioner.

I have struggled to reconcile such an urge for retribution with my own core values and beliefs: that human life is sacred; that when possible, we should choose life over death, good over evil, the possibility of redemption over destruction, of healing over revenge, love over hate.

Why do we consider expanding the death penalty today? Can it make sense in a civilized society, to execute - to kill - in order to teach that killing is wrong? Why would we do this? Article 18 of our Constitution concludes that "the true design of all punishments [is] to reform, not to exterminate..." Now I suppose that if the threat of the death penalty were to deter murders, there might be an argument that its presence in law reforms society, if not the individual criminal. However, there is a complete lack of any such empirical evidence to indicate any deterrent effect. Besides, it is probably safe to assume that murderers simply do not think like us; like normal rational people. They must either think they will not be caught or do not care about consequences at the moment they kill. Deliberate consideration of the laws and their penalties, weighing life imprisonment versus lethal injection, just does not happen by those who murder.

We do have another essential task to consider: to assure that society is protected from ever again being victimized by those who commit the most heinous murders. In this "live free or die" state, we can achieve this goal by saying that for those who are guilty of capital murder, we will lock them up and throw away the key until the day they die. They will be denied their freedom for the rest of their natural lives.

Part II, Art. 83 of our Constitution makes it a duty of our office, as legislators, to "inculcate the principles of humanity and general benevolence...among the people." Inculcate - meaning to impress upon the mind by persistent urging - the principle of humanity - civilizing, refining; having what are considered the best qualities of humankind: tenderness, kindness, mercy, and we are to inculcate the principle of general or widespread benevolence, meaning any inclination to do good; goodwill; charity. Thus, it is our sworn duty, as leaders of this body politic, to foster the best qualities and the most potential for good in the people of our state.

These constitutional principles point to a very basic problem with the death penalty. It denies the possibility of redemption and reform. No matter how great the sin, or how evil the crime, who are we to deny the possibility that through God's love, a human spirit might be redeemed, changed and transformed; that true regret and remorse might lead to repentance, atonement, even some healing; that the best qualities of humanity might be more fully realized? Who are we to deny such a possibility?

Two thousand years ago, Jesus said that though "you have heard an 'Eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth,' I tell you that you should not set yourself against those who wrong you;...that although you have been told 'Love your neighbor, hate your enemy,' I tell you: love your enemies, and pray for those who persecute you."¹ Jesus espoused the dignity and worth, the potential for redemption and good, in every human being. Who are we to deny it?

Two hundred years ago, John Newton wrote the words: "Amazing grace, how sweet the sound, that saved a wretch like me, I once was lost, but now am found; was blind, but now I see." John Newton, that lost and blind wretch of a soul, was a slave trader. By his own account, scores of slaves, scores of innocent men, women and children died and were buried at sea while in his custody as he commanded slave trading ships in the 1750s. In another time and place, in another jurisdiction, John Newton might have been subjected to the death penalty for his horrific crimes against humanity, for the death that he was directly responsible for. Instead, by the amazing grace of God he saw the light, repented, was redeemed and found. Instead, John Newton became an eloquent and influential leader of the anti-slavery movement that led to the abolition of slave trade under English law and he gave us the hymn, Amazing Grace. Who are we to deny the possibility of redemption, true change and healing?

Early last month, the State of Texas executed Karla Faye Tucker who had brutally murdered with a pickaxe. During her 15 years on death row she underwent a religious conversion "that, according to people who knew her," was sincere and "redirected her life" in prison to serving "God and helping others."² She expressed regret for her crime and apologized to the relatives of her victims "even as she was strapped to the gurney" for her lethal injection. Some commentators have questioned or even mocked her conversion and wondered if it was just a ploy to gain leniency. Karla Fay's spiritual status is between her and her Maker. But, who are we to deny, through execution, the possibility of redemption? Who are we to foreclose, through the death penalty, "the prospect of genuine moral change?"

We have been nearly 60 years without an execution in New Hampshire. Why revive this ancient and divisive practice now? As we enter a new millenium, when virtually all civilized and democratic nations, save ours, have abolished the death penalty, and most such nations will not even extradite accused murderers to states where they might face execution, why revive and expand this practice? Our desire for justice, retribution and even revenge comes to us naturally. But why let murderers debase our values and diminish our love for life? Why allow murderers to make us participants in perpetuating cycles of violence and revenge. Why drag all of us down by placing the blood of unnecessary killing on all of our hands?

The death penalty does not advance the cause of justice. It does not deter. It is morally wrong; and, incidentally, it is a serious waste of the taxpayer's money. In case you haven't heard, each death penalty that we as a state seek to impose is likely to cost all of us on the order of $1 to $2 million more than the cost to impose and carry out a sentence of life imprisonment. I can think of a lot better uses for such money, especially if our goal is to reduce the incidence of crime, violence and victimization and instead, increase the peace.

In conclusion, Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues who are in doubt about whether to expand the death penalty or to abolish it, to yield their doubt on this question to those who strongly believe that it is wrong in a democracy to place all of us, as citizens of this state, as a body politic, in the role of executioner and premeditated killer. Please yield your doubt in favor of life, humanity and general benevolence. Yield your vote now in favor of the power of love and the possibilities, yes, the possibilities, of redemption, reform, and healing. Thank you.

Rep. Cushing: Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise to speak in support of the Below/Cushing Floor Amendment. I've thought a lot about murder. I really wish we weren't talking about murder, death and the death penalty today. I am opposed to the death penalty, but I want to talk about it in terms of crimes and victims and base my opposition in a way that acknowledges the primacy, the pain of victims and that is conscious of the fact that a discussion of the death penalty is not in and of itself a revictimization of homicide survivors. I am opposed to violence and killing first and that includes the death penalty. But, I am respectful of those who from a moral view, believe otherwise.

On June 1, 1988, Marie and Robert Cushing planted a garden in the backyard of their home at 395 Winnacunnet Road in Hampton. It was a ritual of the season in a familiar place, in the ground they had bought together in 1952 with the GI Bill. The same 12,000 square foot lot where they raised their seven children. Robert had retired as an elementary school teacher several years earlier. Marie was 17 days from her retirement after 23 years teaching reading in Newmarket. They were celebrating a new granddaughter also named Marie Cushing. The first child of their oldest son, my first daughter, who, on June 1st, marked her 59th day on earth. They were happy. Life was good. In mid-evening, I stopped off for a visit, some quick tales, some smiles, some laughs with my Dad. I left him at the kitchen table reading the nightly paper while my Mother lay on the couch watching the Celtic's playoffs. A while after I left, a stranger knocked on the front door. My father got up to answer. Two shotgun blasts were fired through the screen, lifting him up and hurling him backwards; the shrapnel lifting the life out of him.

Those who love me and love my six brothers and sisters say that from the moment that shotgun blast turned my father's chest into hamburger, my laugh and our laughs have never been the same. June 1, 1988 was a transformational day that will mark my life forever. Murder is awful. I can't tell you how painful it is to have someone you love murdered. I can't tell you about the emptiness, about the hurt. I can't begin to tell you how others treat you. When the murder is done, in a moment there is a whole series of revictimizations that begin. It is the death notification and the autopsy and the casket and the makeup and the burial and the investigation and the indictment and the trial and the hearing and the appeal. It is what I call the dead zone. I don't know if it ever gets over. I am in it right now as I speak to you. The most difficult thing I have ever had to ask anyone was for help in getting my father's blood cleaned off the floor and walls.

Survivors of crime, survivors of homicide want three things. They want to know the truth about what happened. It doesn't mean that there will be a rational understanding of events but they want to know the truth. They want to have justice in whatever fashion. I can tell you in the instance of a murder that real justice would only come if you could exchange the life of the one who killed for the life in the grave. That is justice. We can't do that. So, we have to fashion something akin to that. Finally, we want to heal. I think that is the same for individuals affected by murder or for a society. A man came up to me after my father was murdered and the individuals responsible arrested and said, "I hope they fry those people. I hope they fry them so you people can get some peace." I know that man meant to comfort, but to me that was the most horrible thing he could have possibly said, I think, at that moment.

Prior to my father's murder I had evolved a personal set of values that included a respect for life and an opposition to the death penalty. Although I am of the Irish-Catholic tradition, whose religious teachings include "Thou shalt not kill," that's not all of it. It is just more of how I want to live my life and the vision I have for the society I want to live in. For me to change my beliefs because my father was murdered would only give over more power to the killers, for they would take not just my father's life, but my values. The same is true for society. If we let those who murder turn us to murder, it gives over more power to those who do evil. We become what we say we abhor. I do not want to be consumed by hate; "an eye for an eye" leaves everyone blind. I do not want the State of New Hampshire to do to the man who murdered my father what that man did to my family. You have to know that for some survivors of homicide, the thought of executing someone adds to the pain. Nothing makes me shudder more than the carnival atmosphere that I see surrounding executions. It is like it's a party. That is incredibly disrespectful to victims.

At the end of the day, we will be deciding whether to abolish the death penalty, to keep it as it is or to expand it. But, no matter what the outcome of today's discussion is, there is nothing to celebrate. No one should leave here feeling good about having to have a talk about murder. It represents a colossal failure of society and of individuals.

My youngest daughter's name is Grace; Amazing Grace like the song that Cliff referred to, the song written by a man who was a murderer and a slaver and turned into an abolitionist. Every day I think about murder. When I hear my children's laughter, I hear the sound of my father. I miss him. I wish I could bring him back. I'm sure a lot of people would like that. I can't bring him back. What I can do is honor his life and try to lead my life upholding the ideals that he instilled in me. I'm going to spend a long time wrestling with my father's murder. I'm going to try to figure out a way to relate to those who caused me such pain in taking from me the most influential person I have known. I don't know if it will ever be possible to come to reconciliation. I am glad they are serving life without parole instead of the death penalty. I don't want to spend my life consumed by hatred. I want to hold out the possibility that someday I'll be able to forgive. As one victim, as a colleague, I stand before you to ask that you vote to abolish the death penalty, not so much because I want murderers to live but because if the state kills them, that forever forecloses the possibility that those of us who are victims might be able to figure out how to forgive. We've lost enough already. Don't take that option for healing away, please.

Rep. Lozeau: Thank you, Madam Speaker. Let me start by telling you that I don't for one instant think that anything that any of us could say up here could change our overall feeling as it relates to the death penalty. It is what I like to call an "inney." It is something that you have to decide inside. Whether you can logically explain it or not, that's how it is.

When we looked at the death penalty this year, we thought that what we should do is take a comprehensive approach. Some of the crimes that you have heard talked about today relative to Colebrook and the Buchanan case and some of the others that we have all heard about had a little fervor going sometime ago. We were concerned that many people might get involved by choosing what they felt was more heinous than the other and that we would have multiple bills each dealing with separate pieces. Maybe the best way to handle that is to take one and take a comprehensive approach to say, "this is the '90s; here is our capital murder statute; what are the appropriate things to change?" We've done that. In 1990, I stood before this House, having been a member of the Judiciary Committee, and I asked the House to vote against the expansion of the death penalty as it related to two new crimes: one was rape and one was drug crimes. I did it for the very reasons I started to talk about, and that is I don't want to see us, year after year, choose a crime that we have now determined is just more awful than the other one and tag it on. That is not what capital punishment is about. It is about talking about the whole picture. How it effects everything across the board. The bill before you today has done that. The bill before you today talks about things that we haven't talked about before. There weren't a lot of people thinking about people who blow up buildings. Serial murders; they weren't here in New Hampshire. That was the Son of Sam and California. Those were those people. The question is, we have a death penalty and should that death penalty include crimes that we believe rise to the level of heinousness. You have heard the list a lot of times today - multiple murders, serial killers, children under 13, witnesses and informers. But, what I am very concerned about is legislative intent. I don't know how many of you have gone to Superior Court and watched two lawyers argue over what the legislature intended when they passed a law, but I have. Based on my personality, it is exceptionally difficult to sit on the back bench in the courtroom and not be able to jump up and say, "Oh, no. I was there that's not what we talked about." But lawyers do look, both sides look, and so I think it is really important today, based on all the red flags we've all heard for months now, to make sure that we are clear. What is clear is the addition of serious bodily injury. That is what we hear a lot about. We're saying that's the fight, the broken finger, the gangrene, the eyeball. We've heard them all. What's important to remember here is that every crime, no matter what it is, whether it is capital murder, first degree - any crime at all within the criminal code has two parts. Those two parts are the act, what you did, and your mental state. They have talked about mens rea, that is a Latin term and frankly I didn't really remember much of my Latin from high school, so I had to look it up. It comes from "an evil mind," that's what it means. It means what you intended when you did it. The cases that have been raised are not to be determined on the act, but are to be determined on the intent. You have to intend the serious bodily injury and you have to intend the death. Now, we have not had a rash of capital crime, capital prosecutions in this state. We all know that; 1939 was the last death. We have somebody currently charged now. But we have had cases that may have risen to that level. Pam Smart. There is a case we all recall. Based on the existing law without this addition, she would have fallen under this. But our prosecutors used their discretion and chose not to charge in that case on capital murder. Now, the Buchanan case, the rape and death of a six-year-old. Do you remember what the papers were talking about? How they were demanding that we string this guy up on the front lawn; that everybody watch because of what an awful man he was and what he did? Then the Attorney General didn't charge as capital murder and people were outraged. They were demanding that that be different. But you know what. The Attorney General was in a position that nobody else in this state was in. He knew the evidence and he knew what he had and since then we have all learned some of that evidence and we know that he used his discretion appropriately. I believe that to be the case. I believe it will continue to be the case.

The other piece of this that can make us stop and pause and wonder about "are we doing the right thing" is that poor get-away-car driver. We're worried about the person that wasn't really involved and didn't really know. Well, felony murder, which you have heard about, that has been removed from the bill and accomplice are two separate things. So, we don't have to talk about felony murder because it is not here. But, we do have to talk about accomplices. As I said, I think it is so important that I actually wrote down what I wanted to say as it relates to this piece. You can't be an accomplice to an unintended act because accomplice requires that you act with a purpose, that the crime be committed. When we adopted our criminal code and it went into effect in 1973, accomplice liability was in it. It applies to every crime. That is not new in the bill before you. It has always applied. We all know we stated it in the purpose as we opened the bill, but it still applies. What is before you today, ladies and gentlemen, is what I believe is an appropriate expansion of our death penalty, limited on things that should be included. What is missing from the debate that I've been concerned about is just plain common sense. Before you heard about the broken finger and some of the other things that you have heard about, did you think they would be up for capital murder? Of course you didn't. And, neither would a prosecutor charge and neither would a jury of 12 convict. Our system is a good system. We should have faith in the system and we should continue to believe that we will carry forward in a reasonable and a responsible manner. I feel confident in supporting this bill as Ought to Pass as Amended and I will choose to vote that way. Thank you.

(Speaker Sytek in the Chair)

HB 1365, establishing a committee to study whether any state laws were violated or any misrepresentations made up to and including the present date in the merger of Catholic Medical Center and Elliot Hospital. MAJORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE. MINORITY: OUGHT TO PASS.

Rep. David T. Mittelman for the Majority of Commerce: At the present time, it is neither prudent nor necessary to establish a study committee to examine the merger between Catholic Medical Center and Elliot Hospital. There are already mechanisms in place for doing exactly that. On the state level, the Attorney General's office is reviewing the legality of the merger. On the local level, the mayor has created a Task Force on the Future of Healthcare in Greater Manchester. For the legislature to conduct an additional study would only duplicate these efforts. In fact, another study may only serve to distract from the Attorney General's and the Task Force's work. While it may be necessary to establish a legislative study committee in the future, to do so now would be both premature and counterproductive. Vote 11-4.

Rep. William J. McCarthy for the Minority of Commerce: With the recent and continuing controversy regarding the Optima merger of Elliot and CMC and the ensuing suspicions, it would seem to be a very prudent, responsible, considerate, respectful and effective move to keep this bill, a bill calling simply for a committee to study possible violations of ANY state laws in the merger of CMC and Elliot Hospitals, rather than dealing it a death blow now. Keeping it alive would not only be considerate of the people of Manchester who have expressed their serious concerns over this controversial merger, but would also provide the legislature with the flexibility and power to learn how to prevent possible problems in the future. The minority urges you to pass HB 1365 and thinks that an ITL recommendation is premature, peremptory and unnecessary. The House should keep its options open and pass HB 1365 which the Minority believes duplicates neither the efforts of the Attorney General or the Mayors Task Force.

Reps. William McCarthy, Robert Chabot, Donald Welch, Paul Dwyer, Reidy, Baroody, Desrosiers and Vaillancourt spoke against.

Reps. D'Allesandro and Mittleman spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Buckley spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Hunt spoke in favor.

Rep. Donald Welch requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being the adoption of the majority report.

HB 1397-FN-A-L, reestablishing the investment tax credit against the business profits tax under the community development finance authority. REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY

Rep. Avis B. Nichols for Finance: This bill would not only extend the investment tax credit against the Business Profits Tax for investments under the Community Finance Authority but would increase the amount of the credit from $2,000,000 per year to $5,000,000. This could decrease state revenue each year up to $6,200,000 in year 2002. By voting Interim Study for this bill the approved projects will continue to be funded. It will also give the legislature time to continue looking at funding for the Claremont decision before decreasing proceeds from the BPT. Vote 12-5.

Reps. Fuller Clark and Avery spoke against.

Reps. Weyler and Kurk spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Fuller Clark moved Ought to Pass with Amendment and offered a floor amendment.

Floor Amendment (0976h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 5 with the following:

5 Effective Date. This act shall take effect July 1, 1999.

Rep. Fuller Clark spoke in favor.

Adopted.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

REGULAR CALENDAR

HB 1189-FN, increasing the limits of direct off-premises sales from breweries and brew pubs.
OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. William J. Desrosiers for Local and Regulated Revenues: This bill as amended will allow small craft brewers to sell one case of beer per person per day directly from the place of manufacture. Present law allows one 6-pack to be sold. This helps the brewer create demand for its product through tourism and "word of mouth," i.e., taste. Vote 12-3.

Amendment (0867h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with following:

1 Beverage Manufacturer; Off-Premises Sales. Amend RSA 178:10, V to read as follows:

V. The holder of a beverage manufacturer license may sell beverages to the general public for off-premises consumption, in quantities not to exceed ~~[72 fluid ounces]~~ the equivalent of one case of 12 ounce containers per person per day. Package sizes shall be approved, pursuant to RSA 179:33, I and II. Such beverages shall not be sold to retail licensees for resale. Each beverage manufacturer shall pay a fee as required by RSA 178:30, I for each gallon of beverage sold under this paragraph.

2 Brew Pub; Off-Premises Sales. Amend RSA 178:10-a, II to read as follows:

II. Brew pub licenses shall authorize the licensee to manufacture and sell beer to individuals for on-sale consumption, for off-sale consumption; and additionally to sell the beer it manufactures to wholesale distributors for distribution within the state and to transport the beer the brew pub manufactures to the state line for sale outside the state. A brew pub, as a functional part of its premises, shall maintain a full service restaurant and may subsequently serve beverage and liquor as permitted by RSA 178:19, II(a)(1) and RSA 178:20, V(q). Off-sales of beer brewed by a brew pub, not to exceed ~~[+80 fluid ounces]~~ the equivalent of one case of 12 ounce containers per person per day shall be made in containers ordinary and customary to the industry which shall be approved by the commission.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

Adopted.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

HB 1467, establishing a study committee to determine the means and criteria for generating an analysis of New Hampshire's long-term strategic options regarding the sale and distribution of distilled spirits, beer, and wine. REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY

Rep. Jean R. Wallin for Local and Regulated Revenues: This vehicle will permit the committee to review and analyze the state of New Hampshire's long term strategic options regarding the sale and distribution of distilled spirits, wine and beer. Vote 12-3.

Adopted.

HB 1252, relative to the right to farm. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Robert W. Brundige for Municipal and County Government: This bill provides protection for agricultural activities by creating a presumption that unless explicitly addressed through zoning, such activities are deemed permitted if conducted in accordance with best management practices adopted by the commissioner of agriculture, markets and food and with federal and state laws, regulations and rules. The amendment changed the effective date to July 1, 1999 to give municipalities the opportunity to amend their zoning laws if necessary. Vote 13-2.

Amendment (0849h)

Amend RSA 674:32-a as inserted by section 3 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

674:32-a Presumption. In accordance with RSA 672:1, III-d, whenever agricultural activities are not explicitly addressed with respect to any zoning district or location, they shall be deemed to be permitted there, as either a primary or accessory use, so long as conducted in accordance with best management practices adopted by the commissioner of agriculture, markets, and food and with federal and state laws, regulations, and rules.

Amend RSA 674:32-b, II(a) as inserted by section 3 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(a) Any new establishment, re-establishment after disuse, or significant expansion of an operation involving the keeping of livestock, poultry, or other animals may be made subject to special exception or other permit, and may be regulated to the extent necessary to prevent demonstrated adverse impacts on adjacent property.

Amend RSA 674:32-c, II as inserted by section 3 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. Nothing in this subdivision shall exempt agricultural operations from generally applicable building and site requirements such as dimensional standards, setbacks, driveway and traffic regulations, parking requirements, noise restrictions or sign regulations; provided, however, that in circumstances where their literal application would effectively prohibit an agricultural use allowed by this subdivision, or would otherwise be unreasonable in the context of an agricultural use, the building inspector, administrative officer, or board of adjustment or building code board of appeals acting on appeal, shall grant a waiver from such requirement to the extent necessary to reasonably permit the agricultural use, unless such waiver would have a demonstrated adverse effect on public health or safety, or the value of adjacent property.

Amend the bill by replacing section 4 with the following:

4 Effective Date. This act shall take effect July 1, 1999.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill provides protections for agricultural activities by creating a presumption that unless explicitly addressed through zoning such activities are deemed permitted if conducted in accordance with best management practices adopted by the commissioner of agriculture, markets, and food and all applicable laws and regulations.

Adopted.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

HB 1435-L, relative to the vote required for a legislative body of a municipality to accept a street.
OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Paul A. McGuirk for Municipal and County Government: Currently, when a landowner has a tax dispute over a town boundary which affects his/her boundary, an appeal is filed. Section 1 of this bill gives the Board of Land & Tax Appeals the authority to settle the appeal instead of requiring the taxpayer to go to Superior Court. Section 2, 3 and 4 deal with conflicting and confusing appeal dates regarding Land Use Change Tax. Right now, there are two separate appeal periods for Land Use Change Tax and this portion of the bill provides a single appeal period (two months from the date of bill for an appeal to the town and eight months from date of bill for an appeal to Board of Land and Tax Appeals.) Section 5 deals with the votes required for the acceptance of streets by an authorized Planning Board. In the bill a majority of those present and voting or 2/3 of those present and voting are required, instead of a majority or 2/3 of the entire membership of the local legislative body. Section 6 deals with exempting islands served exclusively by boats from the requirement of being on an approved or platted road if the local legislative body votes to approve the policy. Vote 11-3.

Amendment (0875h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to board of tax and land appeals jurisdiction over town line disputes, relative to time limits for abatement and appeal of a land use change tax, relative to the vote required for a legislative body of a municipality to accept a street, and relative to allowing municipalities to except islands from certain requirements concerning streets.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Disputed Town Line; Certain Board of Tax and Land Appeals Added. Amend RSA 51:7 to read as follows:

51:7 Disagreement.

I. When the selectmen of adjoining towns shall disagree in renewing and establishing the lines and bounds of such towns, the superior court for the county in which the town first incorporated or paying the highest tax as aforesaid is situate, upon petition and after notice to the other towns interested, shall, either examine said disputed lines or appoint a committee for that purpose, and the court's decision thereon shall be final; and the court may order either or both towns to pay the costs, as deemed just.

II. For a dispute as to the actual location of a town line arising in a matter on appeal before the board of tax and land appeals pursuant to RSA 76:16-a, the board of tax and land appeals shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the superior court and shall have the authority granted the superior court in paragraph I.

2 Failure to File Inventory; References Added. Amend RSA 74:7-a, I to read as follows:

I. Any person who fails to file a fully completed inventory form on or before April 15, unless granted an extension under RSA 74:8, shall pay a penalty of one percent of the property tax for which the person is liable. In no case, however, shall the penalty be less than $10 or more than $50. Any person who fails to file an inventory form and who becomes liable to pay the penalty specified in this section shall lose the right to appeal the denial of an abatement [~~which is claimed on the grounds of improper assessment valuation~~] of an assessment under RSA 75:1, but shall not lose the right to apply for, or appeal the denial of, any other type of tax relief including an appeal under RSA 72:34, an assessment under RSA 75:10, and a land use change tax under RSA 79-A:7. This penalty has all the force of taxation and shall be treated as incident to the tax.

3 Extensions of Applications; Reference Removed. Amend the introductory paragraph of RSA 76:16-d, II to read as follows:

II. In towns with dates of notice of tax, as defined in RSA 72:1-d and RSA 76:1-a, after December 31, the uniform deadlines in exemption, deferral, and taxation applications, replies and appeals statutes, including RSA 72:33, 34, 34-a, 38-a;[~~]~~ and RSA 76:16, 16-a, and 17[~~], and RSA 79-A:10;~~] shall be as follows:

4 Abatement of Land Use Change Tax. RSA 79-A:10 is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:
 79-A:10 Abatement of Land Use Change Tax.

I. Any person aggrieved by the assessment of a land use change tax may, within 2 months of the notice of tax date and not afterwards, apply in writing to the selectmen or assessors for an abatement of the land use change tax.

II. Upon receipt of an application under paragraph I, the selectmen or assessors shall review the application and shall grant or deny the application in writing within 6 months after the notice of tax date.

III.(a) If the selectmen or assessors neglect or refuse to abate the land use change tax, any person aggrieved may either:

(1) Apply in writing to the board of tax and land appeals accompanied with a $65 filing fee; or

(2) Petition the superior court in the county.

(b) The appeal to either the board of tax and land appeals or superior court shall be filed within 8 months of the notice of tax date and not afterwards.

IV. For purposes of this section, "notice of tax date" means the date the taxing jurisdiction mails the land use change tax bill.

V. Each land use change tax bill shall require a separate abatement request and appeal.

5 Acceptance of Streets; Vote of Those Present and Voting. Amend RSA 674:40, III(a) and (b) to read as follows:

(a) If approved by the board, be approved by a majority vote of ~~the entire membership of the local legislative body~~ those present and voting at a regular or special meeting of the local legislative body; or

(b) If disapproved by the planning board, be approved by not less than 2/3 of ~~the entire membership of the local legislative body in the case of a city or of a county in which there are located unincorporated towns or unorganized places, or by majority vote of the legal voters present and voting at a regular or special town or district meeting in the case of a town or district~~ those present and voting at a regular or special meeting of the local legislative body.

6 New Paragraph; Building Permits; Streets on Islands. Amend RSA 674:41 by inserting after paragraph II the following new paragraph:

II-a. Municipalities may except island lots for islands served exclusively by boats from the requirements of paragraphs I and II by an affirmative vote of the local legislative body, first submitted to the planning board for its approval and:

(a) If approved by the board, approved by a majority of those present and voting at a regular or special meeting of the local legislative body; or

(b) If disapproved by the planning board, approved by not less than 2/3 of those present and voting at a regular or special meeting of the local legislative body.

7 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill :

I. Allows the board of tax and land appeals to decide disputes as to the location of town lines in an appeal concerning abatement of taxes.

II. Clarifies the time limits for abatement and appeal of a land use change tax.

III. Changes the vote required by a legislative body to accept a street.

IV. Allows municipalities to except islands from certain requirements concerning streets.

Adopted.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

HB 1656, relative to the law enforcement memorial. MAJORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE. MINORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.

Rep. Lou D'Allesandro for the Majority of Public Works and Highways: This bill deals with the issue of moving the previously approved Legislative Office Building location of the law enforcement memorial. New locations proposed included the Police Academy and the Justice Department. Previous legislation approving the LOB site did not include any legislative oversight, and the majority of committee members felt that since the design has been approved and work is already commencing on the memorial it was too late to throw other locations into the mix, and the committee strongly supported having the memorial remain in its previously approved location. The committee did not approve any of the offered amendments. Vote 12-4.

Rep. Katherine D. Rogers for the Minority of Public Works and Highways: This bill, if amended, would place the law enforcement memorial on the grounds of the Department of Justice. Although the design of the memorial is not what was originally envisioned or anticipated, it is impressive and a fitting tribute to those it honors. To fulfill its purpose this memorial should have the quality of a sanctuary, a place which inspires contemplation and reflection. The lawn of the Legislative Office Building is not the most appropriate location for the memorial that has been designed. The design overwhelms rather than enhances the site. The memorial is a plaza, 42 feet in diameter, emblazoned by a flame standing 10-1/2 feet high. It does not grace the space, but consumes it. The lawn of the LOB offers little sanctuary. The memorial would stand on one of the busiest intersections in Concord. This will not provide the serenity and tranquillity this memorial deserves. The grounds of the Department of Justice would offer sufficient shelter but accessible space where the memorial would foster the contemplative and reflective setting for which it is designed.

Reps. Katherine Rogers and Wallin spoke against.

Rep. D'Allesandro spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Benjamin Moore spoke in favor.

Rep. Tholl requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being the adoption of the majority report.

Having voted with the prevailing side, Rep. Avery moved that the House reconsider its action where by it ordered to third reading, HB 1397-FN-A-L, reestablishing the investment tax credit against the business profits tax under the community development finance authority and spoke against. Reconsideration failed.

Rep. Wheeler offered the following: RESOLVED, that the House now adjourn from the early session, that the business of the late session be in order at the present time, that the reading of bills be by title only and resolutions by caption only and that all bills ordered to third reading be read a third time by this resolution, and that all titles of bills be the same as adopted, and that they be passed at the present time, and when the House adjourns today it be to meet Thursday, March 19, 1998 at 10:00 a.m.

Adopted.

LATE SESSION

Third reading and final passage

HB 1397-FN-A-L, reestablishing the investment tax credit against the business profits tax under the community development finance authority.

HB 1189-FN, increasing the limits of direct off-premises sales from breweries and brew pubs.

HB 1252, relative to the right to farm.

HB 1435-L, relative to board of tax and land appeals jurisdiction over town line disputes, relative to time limits for abatement and appeal of a land use change tax, relative to the vote required for a legislative body of a municipality to accept a street, and relative to allowing municipalities to except islands from certain requirements concerning streets.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Rep. Loren Jean moved that the remarks made by Rep. Donald White be printed in the Journal. Adopted.

Rep. Donald White: Thank you, Madam Speaker. Before I begin, I want to tell this body of my observations today. I am impressed at the behavior of this body today and I am very pleased to have been a member today.

I was reminded this week about My Lai. The reminder was a combination of great pride co-mingled with the memory of what was the darkest moment in the country's military history. The score of non-combatants, villagers caught in an uncontrolled and murderous maelstrom of men gone wild. I cannot tell you why this happened. I know all those in their country's service could only look at their comrades and see no feasible answer. My own brother, a member of that proud group, that included the honorable Representative from New London, could only look at me and shake his head wordlessly. But, the hurt was there. I have never understood, myself, the reasons for this atrocity and probably never will because I have never felt that depth of despair and complete loss of human instinct; but, I am comforted by what I remember. World War II's GIs sharing food and candy with children, showing them how to chew gum. In north Germany, my friends still remember the kindness to the children and the injured and how they helped the population avoid starvation. These GIs fought a hated idea, but remembered who they were. In Korea, I remember the dismay on the part of the troops who fed chocolate to the children only to see them become ill because the food was too rich for them. The men of the 1st Cavalry Division, heavily engaged in that savage action throughout the entire period found time to help rebuild a children's orphanage. In Iraq, I saw on television a young sergeant pulling an Iraqi soldier, almost catatonic with fear from a trench and telling him, "It's all right. It's all right." These are the people I know. These are the people I knew. They will fight hard for an ideal but face the vanquished with a rough kindness. This is why I commend to you the men who because they knew what is right risked their lives to end the killing even if they must fire at their own people. Hugh C. Thompson, Jr., Lawrence Colburn and Glenn Andreotta saw the My Lai massacre and knew what they must do and by their actions saved the lives of people who were strangers to them by protecting them from our soldiers. On Memorial Day, we will remember those who served and didn't return. Three men at My Lai give grace to all the monuments in memory to all those who have fallen and to all of those who have served. We may again enter the cauldron of war, and we may, once again, face those shattered by defeat and gripped by fear. If this is the case, our forces have no better example of behavior than that set by three brave men at My Lai. Thank you.

HOUSE JOURNAL No. 8

Thursday, March 19, 1998

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the Speaker.

Her Excellency, Governor Jeanne Shaheen, joined the Speaker on the rostrum for the day's opening ceremonies.

Prayer was offered by Guest Chaplain, Rabbi Richard Klein from Temple Beth Jacob in Concord. This week, Jews around the world read from the closing chapters of the Book of Exodus. These chapters tell us of the building of a wilderness sanctuary for the biblical Israelites. Primary responsibility was placed in the hands of the skilled artisans and craftspeople of the community, but everyone was given the opportunity to contribute to the project. Amazingly, the artisans had to say, "No more!" so great was the outpouring of support. May our community's leadership be blessed with such support and enthusiasm in all they undertake. Amen.

Rep. Kenneth MacDonald led the Pledge of Allegiance.

ENROLLED BILLS REPORT

Rep. Nowe, Sen. Barnes for the Committee

REGULAR CALENDAR (CONT'D.)HB 1187, relative to breakwater permitting. REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY

Rep. David M. Lawton for Resources, Recreation and Development: This bill is an attempt to clarify the current Department of Environmental Services (DES) rules relating to breakwater permitting. The majority of this committee strongly believes that the subject matter in the bill has merit, however, current time constraints inhibit a comprehensive airing of the issues at this time. Vote 15-0. Adopted.

Rep. Mirski declared a conflict of interest and did not participate.

HB 1341, relative to temporary seasonal docks on lakes and ponds. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. William E. Williams, Jr. for the Majority of Resources, Recreation and Development: This legislation exempts temporary seasonal docks on lakes and ponds from excavating and dredging permit filing requirements. The bill provides specifications and conditions that the property owner must meet in order to comply with the act. The bill was amended at the suggestion of the Department of Environmental Services (DES) with the approval of the sponsor and encourages the use of a single temporary seasonal dock as a means to access the water in front of one's property. The majority believes that this bill represents a reasonable property use while not adversely impacting the public trust of lakes and ponds. Vote 10-9.

Rep. Sidney Lovett for the Minority of Resources, Recreation and Development: The minority believe that this bill has little merit. It provides a broad exemption without any accountable information to be provided to municipalities and or the Department of Environmental Services. It is simply a "give away" which evades both local control and responsible state planning.

Amendment (0583h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 1 with the following:

1 New Paragraph; Excavating and Dredging Permit; Exemptions; Temporary Seasonal Docks. Amend RSA 482-A:3 by inserting after paragraph IV the following new paragraph:

IV-a. Temporary seasonal docks constructed on any lake or pond shall be exempt from the permitting requirements of this section. To qualify for this exemption, temporary seasonal docks must:

- (a) Have a length of less than 50 feet;
- (b) Have a total surface area of less than 200 square feet;
- (c) Be removed from the water for at least 5 months of every calendar year;
- (d) Have a width of 8 feet or less;
- (e) Not obstruct navigation;
- (f) Be the only structure on the frontage;
- (g) Be on at least 60 feet of frontage owned by the owner of the dock;
- (h) Be at least 20 feet from any property line or the imaginary extension of any property line into the water;

- (i) Not impact wetlands along or adjacent to the shoreline.

Adopted.

Reps. Laflam and Lovett spoke against.

Rep. William Williams spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Whalley spoke in favor.

Rep. Royce requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being the adoption of the majority report.

HB 1659, prohibiting the use of eminent domain powers by public utilities to take private property for the construction and operation of electric generating plants. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY.

Rep. Clifton C. Below for the Majority of Science, Technology and Energy: This bill simply removes the right of a public utility to use eminent domain powers to take private land for the construction or operation of an electric generating plant. The amendment makes this change in policy only effective when competition for electric generation supply exists in at least 70% of the state. This policy will put competitive generation suppliers on a level playing field with public utilities that retain generation. It is also consistent with the restructuring policy principle in RSA 374-F:3, VII, that states: "The rules that govern market activity should apply to all buyers and sellers in a fair and consistent manner in order to ensure a fully competitive market". Vote 11-5.

Rep. Donald B. White for the Minority of Science, Technology and Energy: This bill is well intended as written as part of electrical restructuring. The Minority feels that this bill is premature and unnecessary prior to the time competition is in full force. This bill also leaves municipalities free of eminent domain restriction, so an unequal playing field exists. Of great concern, too, is the potential for the reduction of opportunity for new technology which is in the public interest because the cost and availability of logical sites may be priced out of reach for any buyer to construct a cost-competitive generation plant. Eminent domain for an electric energy supplier has been used only once in the past thirty years and only after demonstrating a clear public interest.

Amend RSA 371:1 s inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

371:1 Petition. Whenever it is necessary, in order to meet the reasonable requirements of service to the public, that any public utility should construct a line, branch line, extension, or a pipeline, conduit, line of poles, towers or wires across the land of another, or should acquire land, land for an electric [~~generating station or electric~~] substation, [~~land for a dam site;~~] or flowage, drainage, or other rights for the necessary construction, extension or improvement of any [~~plant;~~] water power[;] or other works owned or operated by such public utility, and it cannot agree with the owners of such land or rights as to the necessity or the price to be paid therefor, such public utility may petition the public utilities commission for such rights and easements or for permission to take such lands or rights as may be needed for said purposes. No public utility may petition for permission to take private land or property rights for the construction or operation of an electric generating plant.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 2 with the following:

3 Contingency. Sections 1 and 2 of this act shall take effect upon the date of certification by the chairman of the public utilities commission to the secretary of state, pursuant to RSA 38:36, that retail electric competition exists in at least 70 percent of the state.

4 Effective Date.

I. Sections 1-2 of this act shall take effect as provided in section 3.

II. Section 3 of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

Adopted.

Majority report adopted and ordered to third reading.

HB 1662-FN, restructuring the nuclear decommissioning finance committee and the office of the consumer advocate and amending laws relative to atomic energy to reflect the policies of electric utility restructuring. REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY

Rep. Jeb E. Bradley for Science, Technology and Energy: The committee believes that the nuclear decommissioning statutes, Chapters 162-B and 162-F, need updating due to electric utility restructuring. However, since this bill was not completed, and could not be scheduled for public hearing until February 10, the committee was unable to examine decommissioning with any thoroughness. The committee also needs ample time to study how best to accomplish the sponsors' goal of making the Office of the Consumer Advocate more accountable. The current statute provides that the Attorney General appoints the Consumer Advocate and the office is administratively attached to the Public Utilities Commission. Apparently, the current Consumer Advocate is a hold-over from a previous statute (before 1985) that provided Public Utilities Commission appointment and there is no appointment letter from the Attorney General according to a research request performed by the Office of Legislative Services. There is no term of office for the Consumer Advocate who is a classified employee and as such can be removed only for cause. The sponsors believe that were the office to have a four or five year term, with re-appointment necessary, the office would be more accountable to the public, and to the residential consumers of utility services whom the Consumer Advocate represents. The committee is sympathetic to the goals of the sponsors, but believes other states' statutes should be thoroughly studied if changes in appointment are to be made. The committee also believes that due to electric utility restructuring, the role of the Consumer Advocate must be carefully examined. Interim Study will allow for this examination. The committee takes no position on the current Consumer Advocate. Vote 16-0.

Rep. Joseph Foster declared a conflict of interest and did not participate.

HCR 22, rescinding the 1979 call for a federal constitutional convention. MAJORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE. MINORITY: OUGHT TO PASS.

Rep. Kenneth J. MacDonald for the Majority of State-Federal Relations and Veterans Affairs: In 1979, House Concurrent Resolution 8, dealing with a call for a federal constitutional convention to propose an amendment requiring a balanced federal budget, and alternatively calling on Congress to present such an amendment to the states for ratification, was passed. Over a period of years this state has stayed firm on the need for a balanced federal budget. This is not the time to back down but it is the time to stand our ground. A balanced budget is the only mechanism which can ensure our nation's economic future. Fears of a runaway convention are false due to the fact that the call for a convention would have a specific purpose, and would not have the authority other than specific purpose. Vote 10-7.

Rep. William H. Barry for the Minority of State-Federal Relations and Veterans Affairs: The minority of the committee believes that the call for a constitutional convention can not be limited to a single issue. A vote to rescind is not a vote against the balanced budget amendment. The founders did not allow for the constitutional convention to be limited to a single issue when called by the states. Disaster could result if a constitutional convention was open to amend the constitution on issues such as privacy, abortion, states rights, taxes and gun ownership.

Rep. William Riley spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Teschner spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Edwin Smith requested a roll; sufficiently seconded.

The question being the adoption of the majority report.

HJR 22, requesting the government of the United States to adopt and ratify the international treaty to ban land mines. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Reps. Thomas A Varrell and Robert J. Letourneau for State-Federal Relations and Veterans Affairs: Passage of HJR 22 would greatly reduce the safety capabilities and morale of our existing armed forces. The United States currently only uses land mines in a defensive posture and maintains the exact location of all our land mines recently deployed throughout the world. In addition, our modern technology allows us to produce land mines which can be programmed to deactivate on command. As far as existing older unexploded ordinance is concerned, the United States maintains comprehensive SOFAs (Status of Forces Agreements) in all countries where American troops are deployed. All of these SOFAs contain provisions where American explosive ordinance disposal personnel shall assist the host country in the disarmament of all discovered older unexploded ordinance. This treaty has already been addressed by the Department of Defense, the Congress and the President. Under recommendation from DOD and the Congress, the President has declined to sign this treaty, since it would put our armed forces in great jeopardy. In addition, some of the other non-signatory nations are some of our greatest potential adversaries i.e. Cuba, North Korea, Iraq, Iran, Bosnia, etc. This resolution upon first blush appears to be a humanitarian treaty, which certainly has merit. However, upon closer reading of the treaty itself, the treaty is about open ended financial assistance to over 100 third world countries through the United Nations Voluntary Trust Fund. Disclosure of stockpiles of weapons, including lot numbers, would have national security concerns. The majority of the committee felt that it should leave foreign affairs of this nature up to the policy makers in our nation's capitol without interference, no matter how dignified, from state law makers. Vote 11-5.

RECESS

(Speaker Sytek in the Chair)

HB 1196, prohibiting the sale and use of lead fishing sinkers except to persons with commercial salt water fishing licenses. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY.

Rep. Donald Carlson for the Majority of Wildlife and Marine Resources: As originally drafted, this bill would have outlawed the sale, possession and use of lead sinkers and jigs in New Hampshire. The committee heard testimony at the public hearing that was inconclusive as to the threat of lead fishing tackle to water birds. This bill, as amended, takes a two pronged approach. First an education program, already underway, to alert sportsmen and the public to the dangers to, not only wildlife, but also humans. (We heard testimony from health and human services that there were 250 to 300 new cases of human lead poisoning in New Hampshire, annually). Second, the Department of Fish and Game in consultation with Environmental Services and Health and Human Services and in partnership with other interested organizations shall study existing scientific literature and coordinate and compile additional studies into the causes of water bird, and in particular loon, deaths due to lead poisoning and the extent of these deaths. The Director is to report the findings to the Governor, Speaker of the House, President of the Senate and appropriate committees of the House and Senate. Should these studies prove, to a reasonable extent, the need to discontinue the use of lead sinkers and jigs, the Director of Fish and Game may make rules banning the use of the offending devices in New Hampshire's fresh waters. There does not seem to be a threat in New Hampshire's salt waters. Vote 9-1.

Rep. Dennis F. Abbott for the Minority of Wildlife and Marine Resources: The bill, as amended, offers little protection to the common loon from the effects of lead poisoning. The bill provides for a continuing study until the year 2003 ensuring that loon mortality shall escalate annually as it has in recent years. The proposed educational program may help, but until loons stop ingesting lead sinkers, they will continue to die from unnecessary and avoidable lead poisoning. The minority does support the hard work and efforts of the committee and the Fish and Game Department in grappling with this difficult issue

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to coordinating and compiling studies and establishing a lead education program concerning the effects of lead on water birds and other wildlife.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Findings. The legislature finds that the loon population of New Hampshire is increasing and further finds that this unique and popular threatened species is an integral part of the economic and social fabric of our citizenry. However, a preliminary review of research and literature on the toxicity of lead to loons and other waterbirds indicates that ingestion of lead fishing sinkers may pose a significant hazard to waterbirds. Therefore, the legislature finds a need to educate the public, acquire additional information, and review research on the effects of waterbird ingestible lead fishing gear on this important segment of our wildlife resource, and to authorize the executive director to regulate waterbird ingestible lead fishing gear if found hazardous to waterbird populations.

2 Lead Studies and Reports.

1. The executive director of the department of fish and game, in consultation with the commissioners of the department of health and human services and the department of environmental services, shall coordinate and compile studies, in partnership with appropriate agencies and organizations, detailing the causative effects of lead poisoning in waterbirds.

II. The executive director shall prepare a report that makes recommendations on protecting waterbirds from the effects of lead in New Hampshire. The report shall specifically address alternatives to waterbird ingestible lead fishing gear and shall include a determination, based upon scientific studies, as to whether lead fishing gear poses a hazard to the state's waterbirds. The final report shall be submitted no later than January 1, 2003, to the governor, the speaker of the house, the senate president, the house wildlife and marine resources committee, the senate wildlife and recreation committee, and the state library. Until the final report is issued, annual interim reports shall be submitted by January 1 to these entities.

3 New Subdivision; Lead Education Program. Amend RSA 207 by inserting after section 57 the following new subdivision:

Lead Education Program

207:58 Lead Education Program.

I. To discourage the use of lead, the fish and game department, in consultation with the department of health and human services and in partnership with the department of environmental services, the Loon Preservation Committee, the New Hampshire Audubon Society, and the New Hampshire Wildlife Federation, shall institute an educational program consisting of, but not limited to, press releases or articles for all news media, an informational brochure for distribution by licensing agents and at department sponsored training programs, videos for use by television outlets, posters for boat access kiosks and other bulletin boards, and a mobile display for use at public events.

II. The purpose of the educational program is to inform the public about adverse, though unintentional, effects of lead on wildlife, and how to reduce the introduction of lead into the environment through personal action.

4 New Section; Rulemaking; Restrictions on Lead Fishing Gear. Amend RSA 211 by inserting after section 13-a the following new section:

211:13-b Rulemaking; Restrictions on Lead Fishing Gear. The executive director may adopt rules, pursuant to RSA 541-A, relative to restrictions on the use or sale of waterbird ingestible lead fishing gear. This rulemaking authority may be exercised with reference to the state as a whole or for any specified county or part thereof.

5 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill requires the department of fish and game to coordinate and compile studies detailing the causative effects of lead poisoning in waterbirds and report by January 1, 2003. This bill also establishes a lead education program and allows the executive director of fish and game to adopt rules restricting waterbird ingestible lead fishing gear.

Adopted.

Rep. Abbott offered a floor amendment.

Floor Amendment (1103)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to prohibiting the sale and use of lead fishing sinkers and lead jigs in fresh waters of the state and establishing a lead education program concerning the effects of lead on water birds and other wildlife.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Findings. The legislature finds that the loon population of New Hampshire, a unique and popular threatened species, is an integral part of the economic and social fabric of our citizenry. However, a review of research and literature on the toxicity of lead to loons and other waterbirds indicates that ingestion of lead fishing sinkers and jigs poses a significant hazard to waterbirds. Therefore, the legislature finds a need to educate the public on the effects of lead fishing sinkers and jigs on this important segment of our wildlife resource, and to phase in a prohibition on the sale and use of lead fishing sinkers or jigs.

2 New Subdivision; Lead Education Program. Amend RSA 207 by inserting after section 57 the following new subdivision:

Lead Education Program

207:58 Lead Education Program.

I. To discourage the use of lead, the fish and game department, in consultation with the department of health and human services and in partnership with the department of environmental services, the Loon Preservation Committee, the New Hampshire Audubon Society, and the New Hampshire Wildlife Federation, shall institute an educational program consisting of, but not limited to, press releases or articles for all news media, an informational brochure for distribution by licensing agents and at department sponsored training programs, videos for use by television outlets, posters for boat access kiosks and other bulletin boards, and a mobile display for use at public events.

II. The purpose of the educational program is to inform the public about adverse, though unintentional, effects of lead on wildlife, and how to reduce the introduction of lead into the environment through personal action.

3 New Section; Lead Fishing Sinkers and Jigs; Sale Prohibited. Amend RSA 211 by inserting after section 13-a the following new section:

211:13-b Lead Fishing Sinkers and Jigs; Sale Prohibited.

I. No person shall sell any lead sinker or lead jig for the taking of fish in any fresh waters of the state, except as otherwise specifically permitted in this title.

II. A person selling any such lead sinker or jig, shall, upon a first offense, receive a warning, and shall, upon a second offense, be guilty of a violation. Such devices shall be summarily seized and destroyed at any time by any law enforcement officer.

III. The executive director shall develop a fact sheet explaining the potential impact of lead sinkers and lead jigs, which shall be forwarded or given to each person found selling any lead sinker or lead jig pursuant to this section.

IV. For purposes of this section, "lead sinker" or "lead jig" means any device made from lead, the lead portion of which has a mass of one ounce or less. Lead sinkers and lead jigs shall not include lead wire used in fly tying, or lead core fishing line.

4 Lead Fishing Sinkers and Jigs; Sale or Use in Fresh Waters Prohibited. RSA 211:13-a is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

211:13-b Lead Fishing Sinkers and Jigs; Sale or Use in Fresh Waters Prohibited.

I. No person shall sell or use a lead sinker or lead jig for the taking of fish in any fresh waters of the state, except as otherwise specifically permitted in this title.

II. A person selling any such lead sinker or jig, or a person found on any fresh waters of this state, or the shores or islands thereof, having in possession any such lead sinker or jig, shall, upon a first offense, receive a warning, and shall, upon a second offense, be guilty of a violation. Such devices shall be summarily seized and destroyed at any time by any law enforcement officer.

III. The executive director shall develop a fact sheet explaining the potential impact of lead sinkers and lead jigs, which shall be forwarded or given to each person found in possession of any lead sinker or lead jig pursuant to this section.

IV. In accordance with RSA 211:4, the executive director shall confer with the officer or board of other states having jurisdiction over lakes and ponds situated partly in this state and another state for the purpose of developing joint rules regarding the use of lead sinkers or jigs.

V. For purposes of this section, "lead sinker" or "lead jig" means any device made from lead, the lead portion of which has a mass of one ounce or less. Lead sinkers and lead jigs shall not include lead wire used in fly tying, or lead core fishing line.

5 Effective Date.

I. Section 3 of this act shall take effect July 1, 2000.

II. Section 4 of this act shall take effect July 1, 2001.

III. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

I. Establishes a lead education program.

II. Prohibits the sale of lead fishing sinkers and lead jigs effective July 1, 2000, and prohibits their use and sale effective July 1, 2001.

III. Requires the executive director of fish and game to develop a fact sheet on the potential impact of the use of lead sinkers and jigs and to confer with other states concerning lakes and ponds partly in another state.

Reps. Abbott and Lovett spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Carlson spoke against.

Rep. Mock spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Lessard requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

HB 1529, reinstating the corporate charter of the Hampstead Garage, Inc. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Tara G. Reardon for Commerce: When corporate charters lapse in the state of New Hampshire, it is necessary to petition the legislature to reinstate the charter. Although the committee was willing to remedy the immediate need of the corporation before us, we felt this was not an ongoing role that the legislature should play. This bill creates a study committee to investigate a procedure to create the scheme to reinstate these charters within the office of the Secretary of State. Vote 15-0.

Amendment (0819h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT reinstating the corporate charters of Hampstead Garage, Inc. and Raycor Corporation and establishing a committee to study the process for reinstating a corporate charter.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 1 with the following:

2 Reinstatement of Corporate Charter of Raycor Corporation. The charter of Raycor Corporation, of Salem, New Hampshire, incorporated on February 6, 1996, was forfeited on November 2, 1992, under former RSA 293-A:95, I(a) now codified at RSA 293-A:14.21. Upon payment of any fees in arrears, a reinstatement fee of $135 under RSA 293-A:1.22(a)(7), the filing of any annual reports required by law, the filing of an affidavit with the secretary of state stating that there are no lawsuits pending against the corporation, and obtaining a certificate of good standing from the department of revenue administration, Raycor Corporation shall be reinstated for all purposes as a New Hampshire corporation. This reinstatement shall be retroactive to November 2, 1992.

3 Committee Established. There is established a committee to study the process for reinstating a corporate charter after revocation.

4 Membership and Compensation.

I. The members of the committee shall be as follows:

(a) Three members of the house, appointed by the speaker of the house.

(b) Three members of the senate, appointed by the senate president.

II. Members of the committee shall receive mileage at the legislative rate when attending to the duties of the committee.

5 Duties. The committee shall study the current process for reinstating a corporate charter after revocation by the secretary of state.

6 Chairperson; Quorum. The first meeting of the committee shall be called by the first-named house member. At the first meeting, the members of the committee shall elect a chairperson from among the members. All subsequent meetings shall be at the call of the chairperson. Four members of the committee shall constitute a quorum.

7 Report. The committee shall submit a report of its findings, including any recommendations for legislation, to the speaker of the house, the senate president, the house clerk, the senate clerk, the governor, and the state library on or before November 1, 1998.

8 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill reinstates the corporate charters of Hampstead Garage, Inc. and Raycor Corporation.

The bill also establishes a committee to study the corporate charter reinstatement process.

Adopted.

Rep. Hunt offered a floor amendment.

Floor Amendment (0966h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT reinstating the corporate charters of Hampstead Garage, Inc., Shannon Ridge Development, Inc., and Raycor Corporation and establishing a committee to study the process for reinstating a corporate charter.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 1 the following and renumbering the original sections 2-8 to read as 3-9, respectively:

2 Reinstatement of Corporate Charter of Shannon Ridge Development, Inc. The charter of Shannon Ridge Development, Inc., of Pelham, New Hampshire, incorporated on March 20, 1989, was forfeited on November 1, 1991, under former RSA 293-A:95, I(a) now codified at RSA 293-A:14.21. Upon payment of any fees in arrears, a reinstatement fee of $135 under RSA 293-A:1.22(a)(7), the filing of any annual reports required by law, the filing of an affidavit with the secretary of state stating that there are no lawsuits pending against the corporation, and obtaining a certificate of good standing from the department of revenue administration, Shannon Ridge Development, Inc. shall be reinstated for all purposes as a New Hampshire corporation. Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

HB 1598-FN, prohibiting the use of social security numbers except for taxation purposes and providing certain rights to victims of credit card fraud. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Martha Fuller Clark for Commerce: This legislation, while well intended, would wreak havoc economically and socially. For example, social security numbers now are used for all health records, including Medicaid and Medicare, at both the state and federal level. These numbers are also used as a mechanism to provide instant credit by many businesses. It is the only system, other than finger printing, which provides a unique identification process for individuals and is needed in many different venues. At the same time, it is clear that there is a fraud and abuse problem in the use of these numbers. The committee did not feel it had enough information to solve this problem at the present time, but would welcome future legislation that addresses identification. Vote 10-2.

Rep. Donald White spoke against.

Rep. Fuller Clark spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Adopted.

HB 1654, relative to consumer credit solicitations. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. David T. Mittelman for Commerce: This bill prohibits the use of the term "pre-approved" or any similar term in the solicitation for consumer credit. The committee, however, does not see the harm in using such a phrase. "Pre-approved" simply denotes an invitation to apply for credit worthy individuals. The accuracy of the solicitations is adequately regulated by Truth-In-Lending and fair credit laws. Moreover, consumers can request a credit bureau to place their names on no solicitation lists and thereby effectively stop most if not all of these mailings. Vote 12-0.

Rep. Sapareto spoke against.

Rep. Hunt spoke in favor.

On a division vote, 194 members having voted in the affirmative and 108 in the negative, the report was adopted.

HB 1327, clarifying enforcement when structures such as manufactured housing are relocated without payment of taxes. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Walter J. Mikowski for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: The sponsors of this bill were unaware that the provisions in this bill were already in statutes: RSAs 477:44, 73:16 and 80:2-A. cover the concerns brought forward in this bill. The committee did not want to duplicate present laws. Vote 14-0.

Adopted.

Rep. Ann Torr declared a conflict of interest and did not participate.

HB 1559, legalizing the possession and cultivation of marijuana for medicinal purposes. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Paul K. Chase, Jr. for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: This bill would legalize the possession and cultivation of marijuana for medical purposes. No documentation was presented to show that there is a medical benefit to be derived from the use of marijuana other than anecdotal evidence. Because marijuana has not been shown to be a safe and/or effective drug, no physicians in this state are prescribing marijuana. This drug has not been approved by the Federal Food and Drug Administration. There was no evidence to determine which, if any, diseases might be treated effectively by marijuana. The committee thinks that the jury is still out on medicinal use of marijuana. Vote 17-2.

Rep. Robertson spoke against.

Reps. Rosen and David Welch spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. David Welch requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being the adoption of the report.

HB 1465, relative to eligibility for athletic scholarships with the university system of New Hampshire. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Marie Rabideau for Education: This bill would require 1/3 of all athletic scholarships granted within the university system be awarded to New Hampshire high school graduates and that a scholastic aptitude test (SAT) score of 1100 be required as the minimum for athletic scholarship eligibility. The committee felt that placing further restrictions on athletic scholarships was not in the best interest of the university system nor the duty of the committee to legislate. This matter would be better addressed to the university system legislative oversight committee. Vote 17-0.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

HB 1445-FN, relative to nonpublic sessions and relative to attorneys in certain proceedings. IN-EXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Sandra B. Keans for Judiciary and Family Law: This is a change in the right to know law. It adds the word "private" to the current statute while never defining who is referred to. For municipalities it becomes a problem because often non-public sessions are used to discuss employees who are being disciplined without the infraction becoming the object of gossip in the community. The 3rd section adds court hearings to the right to know. The committee believes that is not a good idea, especially in cases of juveniles, incompetency hearings and civil commitments. Vote 15-0.

Rep. McCann spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Moynihan spoke in favor.

On a division vote, 266 members having voted in the affirmative and 21 in the negative, the report was adopted.

HB 1565-FN-A, establishing a joint legislative fiduciary oversight committee and making an appropriation therefor. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Peter F. Bergin for Judiciary and Family Law: Testimony was given that as a result of the Fairbanks investigation it was revealed that most fiduciaries are not lawyers and are not under the same conduct or rules. It was also stated that there are thousands of trusts that are inter vivos which assures privacy and as a result lack court oversight. However, uniform bonding and accounting procedures now exist. In addition, RSA 506:7 was enacted to bring the court eyes to look at judiciary responsibility. If the legislature took on the oversight responsibility it would be costly and inefficient, cut into privacy issues and cause separation of power problems. Vote 15-0.

Rep. Jacobson spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Bergin spoke in favor.

On a division vote, 196 members having voted in the affirmative and 80 in the negative, the report was adopted.

HB 1107-L, relative to the rate setting duties of the department of revenue administration. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Stephen G. Avery for Local and Regulated Revenues: The committee was unanimous that this legislation was not only unnecessary but was also ill-advised and could penalize the local property tax-rate process. The checks and balances of the present system were preferred over any changes. Vote 15-0.

Rep. Dodge spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Noyes spoke in favor.

On a division vote, 226 members having voted in the affirmative and 50 in the negative, the report was adopted.

HB 1136, changing the appointing authority for board of tax and land appeals members from the supreme court to the governor and council. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Stephen G. Avery for Local and Regulated Revenues: This bill would have changed the appointing authority for the board of tax and land appeals from the Supreme Court to the Governor and Council. Almost all of the testimony on this bill was in support of no change. The system is working well and no need was seen to make any changes. Vote 15-0.

Adopted.

SB 428-FN, relative to firearm lock boxes in state facilities. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Herbert R. Hansen for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: Currently, warning signs are posted visibly at each court location and each state facility indicating that firearms are not permitted in the facility. In many of the locations, lock boxes to store the weapons in are available but only to law enforcement and government employees. Members of the public are informed that they must make their own arrangements to leave the weapon someplace outside the facility they are visiting. Many times the only place available is their vehicle which may not be a very secure or safe place to leave the firearm particularly if observed doing so. The committee felt that the same lock box privilege afforded to state and law enforcement personnel should be made available to members of the general public who legitimately have the right to carry. Vote 13-0.

Referred to Finance.

HB 605-FN-L, relative to procedures regarding delinquent children under RSA 169-B. REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY

HB 1224, requiring the department of environmental services to test sludge or biosolids to be used for land application and assessing fees to sludge quality certification holders. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Arthur P. Klemm, Jr. for Finance: This bill puts into statute a pilot project we passed last year which required the Department of Environmental Services to implement a program of random on-site inspection of samples of sludge or biosolids to be used for land application. The program will be paid by fees imposed on the eleven wastewater treatment facilities in-state and eleven facilities from out of state which are certified to land apply in New Hampshire the sludge they generate. The amount of the fee is set at $500 per facility. Vote 16-0.

HB 1259-FN, relative to salary differentials for certain employees of the New Hampshire hospital. OUGHT TO PASS

HB 1290-FN, relative to the authority of the state fire marshal. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Margaret A. Lynch for Finance: This bill updates the authority of the State Fire Marshal to correct fire safety hazards. It does not increase the responsibilities of the Fire Marshal's office. However, it does add a criminal penalty, a violation or misdemeanor, as a result of non-compliance. HB 1291-FN, relative to management of the state ski areas at Mount Sunapee and Cannon Mountain. OUGHT TO PASS

HB 1297-FN-A, establishing a program of integrated pest management and continually appropriating an integrated pest management fund. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Robert L. Wheeler for Finance: The Committee felt that given the multi-tiered registration form and the creation of integrated pest management program that a fund be created specifically for the program and that it be continually appropriated and non-lapsing. The Commissioner shall report to the Environment and Agriculture Committee on the action from the fund by October 1st of each year. Amendment (0977h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 3 with the following:

Rep. Arthur P. Klemm, Jr. for Finance: This bill allows members of the General Court to participate at their own expense in a group dental insurance program. The bill also requires the Department of Administrative Services and the judicial and legislative branches to transfer any excess appropriations for employee health insurance benefits for fiscal year 1998 to the employee benefit adjustment account. This will transfer $404,178 on June 30, 1998, because of the rate saving on the current state health insurance contract. Vote 16-0.

A non-commercial license, which covers up to five traps for the lobsters/crabs that are not for re-sale, is $35. The commercial fishermen are in agreement with these changes. There should be a $14,000 positive impact on state income. Vote 15-0.

This amendment would put more of any surplus into the Rainy Day Fund and the Health Care Fund than the current law. Vote 12-5.

SPECIAL ORDERS

HB 1344-FN, relative to state employees receiving workers' compensation benefits. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Arthur P. Klemm, Jr. for Finance: This bill would have allowed state employees receiving partial workers' compensation indemnity benefits to accrue leave time. The Director of Personnel testified in opposition to the bill stating that the cost of the bill was indeterminable. This issue is more appropriately viewed as a negotiated item in collective bargaining. Vote 16-0. Adopted.

HB 1377-FN, establishing a state commission on the status of men. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Mary Jane Wallner for Finance: As the bill came to the Finance Committee the Commission on the Status of Men would be attached to the Department of Administrative Services, but there was no funding for the new commission. The Department of Administrative Services does not have the needed funds in its present budget to accomplish the goals of the bill. Administrative Services estimated the cost might be up to $20,000 for the first year and $10,000 to $11,000 in future years; the cost of the Commission on the Status of Women is about $45,000 annually. The Finance Committee did not feel this new commission would be a priority for funding at this time. Vote 14-3. Reps. Bickford, Jacobson and Dickinson spoke against.

Rep. Belvin spoke in favor.

Reps. Wallner and Hager spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Kurk yielded to questions.

Rep. Dickinson requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being the adoption of the report.

HB 1545-FN, increasing the salaries and changing the terms of office of the labor commissioner and the deputy labor commissioner. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Robert L. Wheeler for Finance: The Committee felt that since the Labor Department has been assigned more responsibility – eleven new programs – since their last review, and has more employees and larger budgets than Banking and Insurance then they should have pay grades at least equivalent to those comparable departments. The cost to the general fund is less than $3000. Vote 15-1.

Amendment (1017h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 2 with the following:

2 Salaries of Labor Commissioner and Deputy Labor Commissioner. Amend RSA 94:1-a, I by inserting:

I. In group P, deputy labor commissioner.

II. In group R, labor commissioner.

Amend the bill by replacing section 6 with the following:

6 Applicability; Salary of Incumbent Deputy Labor Commissioner and Labor Commissioner. The incumbent deputy labor commissioner and labor commissioner on the effective date of this act shall be placed at the minimum step in group P and R, respectively, as provided in section 2 of this act, on the effective date of this act.

Reps. Franklin Torr and Dyer spoke against.

The Committee amendment failed.

Rep. Dyer offered a floor amendment.

Floor Amendment (1111h)

I. In group N, deputy labor commissioner.

II. In group Q, labor commissioner.

Amend the bill by replacing section 6 with the following:

6 Applicability; Salary of Incumbent Deputy Labor Commissioner and Labor Commissioner. The incumbent deputy labor commissioner on the effective date of this act shall be placed at step 3 in group N, as provided in section 2 of this act, on the effective date of this act. The incumbent labor commissioner on the effective date of this act shall be placed at step 1 in group Q, as provided in section 2 of this act, on the effective date of this act.

Reps. Dyer and Wheeler spoke in favor.

Adopted.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

HB 1617-FN-L, requiring all state agencies to include in its budget request the cost for maintaining state-owned buildings based upon a formula and requiring the department of administrative services to maintain state-owned buildings. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Arthur P. Klemm, Jr. for Finance: This bill would require state agencies to include in their budget requests the cost for maintaining state-owned buildings at $1.00 per square foot. The Committee felt that though the bill was well-intentioned it needed further work in that some agencies needed to be excluded. The bill did not deal with what would happen to funds not expended at the end of the biennium. The bill would have had an $8,407,000 cost impact on the biennial budget. Vote 17-0.

Adopted.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

CONSENT CALENDAR

Rep. Wheeler moved that the Consent Calendar with the relevant amendments as printed in the day's House Record be adopted.

SB 495, relative to the university system study committee. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT
Rep. Clair A. Snyder for Education: This bill changes the name of the university system study committee to the public higher education study committee to include the public university, the four-year colleges, and the community-technical colleges. This will bring all higher education entities under the scope of study by this committee. The amendment includes the regional community-technical colleges as part of the liaison with the university system. Vote 15-0.

Amendment (0993h)

Amend RSA 187-A:28-c, II as inserted by section 3 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. The committee shall act as liaison between the university system, the regional community-technical colleges, the general court, and the public to promote better understanding and communications between ~~[the system]~~ public higher education, the general court, and the public.

HB 1193-FN, relative to installing vending machines at welcome and tourist information centers on state highways. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Kenneth L. Weyler for Finance: The intent of this bill was to add eleven new refreshment centers at state highway rest stops. The construction would be phased in from 2000 to 2004. Originally the construction would be paid for by a half share of the vending revenue going to the Department of Transportation which currently goes to the general fund. The amendment changes the funding mechanisms. At the beginning of the next biennium the split in vending revenues will be 75% to general fund and 25% to DOT. The construction funds will be from DOT. DOT will use their share of the revenues to recover construction costs and pay for maintenance and utilities. The approximately $200,000 to the general fund will be relatively constant. Vote 19-0.

Amend RSA 230:30-a, IV as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

IV. The state's share of the funds derived from the vending machine revenue shall be ~~deposited as unrestricted revenue in the general fund~~ apportioned as follows: 75 percent to the general fund, and 25 percent to the department of transportation beginning July 1, 1999.

Amend the bill by replacing section 2 with the following:

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill revises current law regarding cost and revenue sharing for the installation of vending machines at welcome and tourist information centers on the state highway system.

This bill is a request of the department of transportation.

HB 1337-FN, making technical corrections in laws related to the department of corrections. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Mary E. Brown for Finance: This bill was requested by the Department of Corrections. It makes some technical language corrections; it increases the salary of the Director of Administration of the Department of Corrections from Group M to Group P, step 1, in order to comply with the requirement that superiors should not be paid less than subordinate employees. The Committee also approved increasing from $1,000 to $2,500 the provision of seeking approval from both the Fiscal Committee and the Governor and Council. The fiscal impact is minimal. Vote 14-0.

Amend RSA 622:28-a, V as inserted by section 9 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

V. All purchases of materials, supplies, and equipment into the inventory account shall be made in accordance with the provisions of RSA 21-I:11 and any equipment purchase in excess of ~~[$1,000]~~ $2,500 made under the provisions of this section shall require the prior approval of both the fiscal committee of the general court and the governor and council.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 16 with the following:

17 Salary Change. Amend RSA 94:1-a by:

I. Deleting in group M: director of administration, department of corrections.

II. Inserting in group P: director of administration, department of corrections.

18 Applicability; Salary of Incumbent Director of Administration. The incumbent director of administration of the department of corrections on the effective date of this act shall be placed at the minimum salary in group P, as provided in section 17 of this act, on the effective date of this act.

19 Effective Date.

I. Section 6 of this act shall take effect January 1, 1999.

II. Section 17 and 18 of this act shall take effect July 1, 1998.

III. The remainder of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill allows the commissioner of the department of corrections to delegate authority to the assistant commissioner in the commissioner's absence. The bill changes the penalty for a prison employee who knowingly allows a controlled substance to be passed to a prisoner from a misdemeanor to a class B felony. The bill allows the department of corrections to make certain equipment purchase of up to $2,500 without the approval of governor and council and the fiscal committee.

The bill changes "prison" to "prisons" in the RSA chapters governing the administration of state prison facilities.

The bill also increases the salary of the director of administration of the department of corrections.

This bill was requested by the department of corrections.

HB 1354-FN, relative to fishing in the Connecticut River by residents of Vermont. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Margaret A. Lynch for Finance: The State of New Hampshire owns the rights of the Connecticut River, within its borders, to the banks on the Vermont side. Currently, licensed Vermont residents and non-residents with a valid Vermont fishing license are permitted to fish in the Connecticut River. This bill will change that situation and allow only those people licensed in New Hampshire and residents of Vermont holding a valid Vermont fishing license to legally fish in the Connecticut River. Those people from states other than Vermont will be required to purchase a New Hampshire fishing license in order to fish in the Connecticut River. There is an Interstate Memo of Agreement between New Hampshire and Vermont relative to this change, and Vermont is in full agreement. The Finance Committee amendment provides gender neutral language. The only fiscal impact would be a positive one, but it is indeterminable. Vote 14-0.

Amend the bill by replacing section 1 with the following:

1 Fishing in Connecticut River; Persons Changed to Residents of Vermont. Amend RSA 211:5 to read as follows:

211:5 Fishing in Connecticut River. If the laws of the state of Vermont permit fishing in that part of the Connecticut River lying within that state by persons legally licensed to fish in New Hampshire or otherwise entitled under the laws of this state to fish in that part of said river lying within this state, [persons] residents of Vermont legally licensed to fish in the state of Vermont or otherwise entitled under the laws of that state to fish in said part of the Connecticut River lying within the state of Vermont shall be permitted to fish in that part of the Connecticut River lying within this state. If the above reciprocal laws are in effect as to that part of the Connecticut River lying within the states of New Hampshire and Vermont the executive director is authorized to adopt special rules as to fishing in such waters, after consultation with the like officer of the state of Vermont, in the same manner and with the same effect as [he] the executive director is authorized to do with respect to boundary lakes under the provisions of RSA 211:4.

HB 1473-FN-A, establishing a wildlife damage control program and making an appropriation therefor. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Arthur P. Klemm, Jr. for Finance: This bill establishes a wildlife damage control program. The bill as it comes out of Finance is a compromise between the people who are most affected by this program and Fish and Game. The bill establishes a wildlife damage control advisory board as well as a wildlife damage control program which will be funded by $62,500 of Fish and Game funds for the primary purpose of providing fencing for a number of apple orchards. The cost of the fencing will be shared on a 50/50 basis with the orchard owner and the state. The $5000 cap per participant is removed so larger fencing projects can be done without splitting the fencing project over a number of years. The $62,500 of Fish and Game money will appear as a line item in the Fish and Game budget for the next ten years. Vote 14-1.

Amendment (1080h)

Amend RSA 207:22-c, II as inserted by section 4 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. A cooperative fencing program:

(a) Commercial growers may participate in a cost-share-fencing program on a 50/50 cost share basis. Under this program, the executive director may provide payment from funds designated for this program in the fish and game fund to an eligible commercial grower for the purchase of fencing materials and their installation, provided the commercial grower's participation and eligibility has been approved by the wildlife damage control advisory board.

(b) Commercial growers desiring to participate in the 50/50 cost share program shall submit written applications to the executive director in such manner as prescribed by the executive director on or before May 1 of each year.

(c) Maintenance costs of installed fences shall be the responsibility of the applicant.

(d) The wildlife damage control advisory board shall determine on an annual basis no later than June 30 of each year the recipients of the fencing moneys for the ensuing year. The board will make its determinations based on urgency of need for damage relief and any other factors necessary to ensure a fair and equitable allocation of funds. The decisions of the board shall be final.

(e) The failure of a commercial grower to properly install and maintain fencing purchased under this paragraph shall make the commercial grower ineligible to participate in this program until such time as approved by a majority of the wildlife damage control advisory board.

(f) The executive director shall adopt rules pursuant to RSA 541-A to implement and execute this program, which may include but not be limited to eligibility criteria, fencing specifications, funding levels, and inspection procedures.

(g) The provisions and penalties of RSA 641 concerning false statements shall apply to all reporting and documentation required pursuant to this paragraph.

(h) For purposes of this paragraph, a "commercial grower" means any person who grows an agricultural or horticultural crop from which the person has derived, or reasonably expects to derive an annual gross income from the sale of crops normally produced of at least $2500.

Amend section 9 of the bill by replacing paragraph I with the following:

I. There is hereby appropriated the sum of $62,500 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1999 from the fish and game fund to the fish and game department for the purpose of funding the wildlife damage control program, established in RSA 207:22-c. These funds shall not be used for any other purpose and shall be non-lapsing.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes a wildlife damage control program and the wildlife damage control advisory board. This bill also repeals certain provisions relating to damage by game birds and game, and prospectively repeals the wildlife damage control program on December 31, 2009.

HB 1513-FN-L, relative to vehicle emissions control equipment and testing. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Robert L. Wheeler for Finance: This bill replaces centralized auto emissions tailpipe testing with a safety inspection anti-tampering visual check of emissions-related components such as the gas cap, fuel inlet restrictor, catalytic converter, positive crankcase ventilation valves and hoses and air injection pumps. The safety-related check may in the future include oxygen sensors as well as a check of the on-board diagnostic equipment which auto repair technicians can do with their computerized diagnostic tools. The safety-related inspection is a far cry from centralized auto emissions testing which the EPA was requiring and had sent a threatening letter to sanction New Hampshire transportation funds for non-compliance. This bill removes the threat of these very expensive sanctions to New Hampshire. EPA's tentative approval of this bill has been made possible by Public Service of New Hampshire's commitment to reduce emissions more than required. Clearly there is a cost to PSNH though the Committee believes this cost quite favorable when compared to the cost of auto emissions testing.

The Committee believes PSNH has made a sound business decision in pursuing this environmental improvement. The decision to reduce these emissions is sound public policy because there is a much greater environmental benefit from reducing utility emissions than auto emissions and the costs to NH citizens is substantially less. In order to make this commitment, PSNH should be able to recover the costs of these additional emission reductions. This amendment was requested by the Public Utilities Commission to clarify that recovery by PSNH of these expenses is "recoverable to the same extent and subject to the same conditions as any environmental expenditure mandated by law...." The second change clarifies Department of Safety's ability to waive fines for diesel trucks that fail the roadside emissions test. At this time there is no impact on the General Fund or Highway Fund. Vote 20-0.

Amend RSA 125-C:19-a as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

125-C:19-a Recovery of Public Utility Expenditures. All costs and expenses directly incurred by electric generating facilities for pollution reductions that are a component of, or are required in connection with, any vehicle inspection and maintenance program adopted by the state of New Hampshire and approved by the federal Environmental Protection Agency, or substitute for such program, shall be recoverable to the same extent and subject to the same conditions as any environmental expenditure mandated by law, and shall be recoverable through the fuel and purchased power adjustment clause or any succeeding cost recovery mechanism.

Amend RSA 266:59-c, II as inserted by section 5 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. The department may impose an administrative fine for any violation of this section or rule adopted under the provisions of this section. The maximum amount of the fine which may be assessed for each violation shall be $500. The commissioner shall have the authority to waive or reduce the amount of any fine assessed pursuant to this section.

HB 1558-FN-L, relative to games of chance. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Kenneth L. Weyler for Finance: Minor but consistently recurring abuses to the games of chance offered by charitable organizations have prompted revisions to the current law. A charitable organization must: have been in existence for at least two years, document that it is exempt from federal income tax, establish purposes for its organization, other than gambling, register with the Secretary of State, and maintain a list of bona fide members. License applications must be submitted to the attorney general and respective chief of police. Operation of the games is restricted to bona fide members or their adult family members. Allowable wagers are increased from one dollar to two. There are increased financial reporting requirements and new sections for inspections and penalties. Costs of inspections may be increased by $15,000 to $18,000 per year, but no additional funds are appropriated. Vote 18-2.

HB 1573-FN, changing the name of the department of cultural affairs to the department of cultural resources and establishing a fund for educational purposes and historic preservation. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Arthur P. Klemm, Jr. for Finance: This bill as amended by the Committee on Finance removes the provision of establishing a dedicated fund for educational and historic preservation. The mechanism already exists to keep funds that are donated to Cultural Affairs from lapsing into the general fund by either donating funds for a specific purpose or the director can go before Governor and Council and request that the donated funds not lapse into the general fund. The rest of the bill was passed as it was received from the ED&A Committee. Vote 17-1.

Amendment (1059h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT changing the name of the department of cultural affairs to the department of cultural resources and changing the qualifications for the director of the division of the arts.

Amend the bill by deleting sections 1 and 4 and renumbering the original sections 2, 3, 5, and 6 to read as 1-4, respectively.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill changes the name of the department of cultural affairs to the department of cultural resources and changes qualifications for the director of the division of arts.

HB 1597-FN, relative to providing more cost-effective special education services. OUGHT TO PASS
Rep. Charles L. Vaughn for Finance: This bill refines the cost determination for the State Board of Education and local school districts when they consider appropriate and free public education for disabled children. First: When incarcerated in an adult correctional facility, young adults ages 18 to 21 shall not be included as in "educationally disabled child" unless they were identified as having a disability and arrived at the facility with an I.E.P. (Individualized Education Program). Second: Sending districts will be notified of a court order placement and can submit cost impact statements of the placement in the district. Third: A child with unknown or unavailable parents, or guardian, will have a guardian appointed by the designee of the State Education Commissioner who will represent the educational interests of the child. Vote 20-0.

HB 1600, relative to the multiple DWI offender intervention detention center program. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. W. Gordon Allen for Finance: The Committee supports the intent of the bill to increase the revenues of the DWI multiple offender program, but felt it was not prudent at this time to forgive the program's substantial debt, especially without consultation with the state's auditors, and to reduce DWI sentences for a possible unquantified increase in fees. The amendment keeps the provision allowing more persons to be eligible for the multiple offender program and removes the provisions forgiving the debt and reducing the sentence. Vote 19-0.

Amendment (1018h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Statement of Purpose. The general court finds that the multiple DWI offender intervention detention center program provides a valuable service to persons admitted to the program and to all New Hampshire residents. Persons who successfully complete the program have a recidivism rate of only 11 percent.

2 Multiple DWI Offender Intervention Detention Center Program; Reference Added. Amend RSA 172-B:2-b, I to read as follows:

1. The commissioner shall be responsible for administration and operation of the 7-day multiple DWI offender intervention detention center program which persons convicted under RSA 265:82 or RSA 265:82-a or sentenced pursuant to RSA 651:2, V(h) may be required to attend ~~[under the provisions of RSA 265:82-b]~~.

3 New Subparagraph; Alcohol-Related Offenses. Amend RSA 651:2, V by inserting after subparagraph (g) the following new subparagraph:

(h) In cases of a person convicted of a felony or class A misdemeanor, a court may sentence such person to 7 consecutive 24-hour periods to be served at the state-operated 7-day multiple DWI offender intervention detention center program established under RSA 172-B:2-b, if the evidence demonstrates that alcohol was a contributing factor in the commission of the offense and provided that space is available in the program and such person pays the fees for the program in full prior to admission.

4 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill allows a court to sentence persons convicted of certain crimes in which the evidence demonstrates that alcohol was a contributing factor to the multiple DWI offender intervention detention center program.

This bill is a result of study of 1997, HB 271, which was rereferred to the house criminal justice and public safety committee.

HB 1636-FN, relative to the executive director of fish and game and the fish and game commission. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Arthur P. Klemm, Jr. for Finance: This bill is the result of a study committee this past summer. The Committee on Finance agreed with the ED&A Committee and made no changes in this bill. The fiscal impact of this bill is $3,355 in FY 98 and $13,859 in FY 99 to be paid by Fish and Game funds. There is no impact to the general fund under this bill. Vote 18-0.

HB 1652, establishing a pilot program relative to the administration of medications in residential care facilities. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Sharon L. Nordgren for Finance: This bill has no fiscal impact and the Committee unanimously supported the bill. Vote 21-0.

HB 1655-FN-A, relative to the authority of the length of service awards program committee and making an appropriation therefor. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. O. Alan Thulander for Finance: The length of service awards program for volunteer firefighters and emergency medical personnel was enacted (RSA 100-B:9) in the last biennium. The Internal Revenue Service revised its rules before this program could be initiated. This bill appropriates $3000. to fund actuarial and legal services required to bring the program into compliance with federal requirements. Vote 21-0.

SB 414, relative to official motor vehicle plates. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Robert J. Letourneau for Transportation: This legislation will display our state motto, "Live Free or Die," on official motor vehicle plates as we currently have on general issuance plates. This would correct a long overdue oversight regarding official state vehicle plates. Vote 17-0.

SB 484, prohibiting triple-trailer trucks from the ways of this state. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Thomas J. Boriso for Transportation: From a safety point, triple-trailer trucks are not needed on our New Hampshire highways. Our roadways are hilly, curvy and not flat as our sister states out West and in the Midwest. These triple-trailers are called trains in the industry, and as such should be on tracks and not on our highways. Vote 17-0.

REGULAR CALENDAR

SB 452-FN-L, allowing students to choose alternatives to dissection as part of a course exercise. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Stanley N. Searles, Sr. for Education: This bill allows an alternative to dissection in any school programs for K-12. The amendment authorizes the state board of education to adopt rules allowing student alternatives in actual dissection of animals. Vote 9-6.

HB 1100-FN, relative to the design and construction of a new medium security prison in Berlin, removing the population cap and closing date for the lakes region department of corrections facility, and authorizing the department of corrections to establish 2 additional halfway houses and appoint additional probation and parole officers. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Franklin G. Torr for Finance: This bill as amended authorizes up to $31 million in general fund bonds to design and construct in Berlin a 500-unit prison and infrastructure, administration, and support services space capable of accommodating future expansion to 1000 beds. The bill also funds, from monies already in the budget, the following: 1. The Lakes Region Department of Corrections Facility will remain open, allowing for an additional population of 200, making a total of 500. The increased cost at the Lakes Region facility will be approximately $1,000,000; 2. Two halfway houses will be opened, one planned for the seacoast area and one planned for the Nashua area, to accommodate a minimum of 70 persons. This would occur in the last quarter of FY 99 at a cost of about $250,000; 3. Ten more probation/parole officers will be hired in FY 99 at a cost of some $442,000. Vote 13-2.

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the design and construction of a new medium security prison in Berlin and making an appropriation therefor, removing the population cap and closing date for the lakes region department of corrections facility, authorizing the department of corrections to establish 2 additional halfway houses and appoint additional probation and parole officers, and making adjustments to the operating budget for fiscal year 1999.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Design and Construction of Medium Security Prison in Berlin; Expenditures Authorized.

I. The division of public works, department of transportation and the department of corrections shall develop and issue a request for proposals from experienced and qualified construction firms for design and construction of a medium security prison in Berlin.

II. Proposals shall be submitted on or before June 1, 1998. Anticipated notice to proceed shall be on or before July 15, 1998.

III. The requirements of RSA 228:4, 228:4-a, and 21-I:22 shall not apply to this project. The determining factors in respondent selection shall be the overall quality and conformance of the proposal to the requirements of this act as well as to the long-term lowest staffing and operational costs consistent with security and public safety. At a minimum:

(a) Respondents shall demonstrate competence and experience in similar corrections projects.

(b) While full consideration shall be given to the project cost structure, the successful bid shall not be based on cost alone. Consideration shall be given to qualifications of firms and general conditions necessary to complete the project. The state reserves the right to reject any and all proposals or to negotiate with the apparent successful proposer as determined to be in the state's best interest.

(c) Three legitimate proposals shall be submitted for design and construction of the facility.

(d) The facility shall be constructed with a capacity of 500 beds, and infrastructure, administrative, and support services space capable of accommodating future expansion to 1000 beds.

(e) Construction shall begin no later than August 15, 1998, and be completed and ready for occupancy by the department of corrections within 30 months of the commencing of such construction.

IV. Design of the facility shall be in compliance with American Correctional Association mandatory standards for adult secure institutions, and shall be approved prior to construction by the department of corrections and the division of public works, department of transportation. Design and plans for construction shall also comply with all relevant state codes and regulations.

3 Bonds Authorized. To provide funds for the appropriation made in section 2 of this act, the state treasurer is hereby authorized to borrow upon the credit of the state not exceeding the sum of $31,000,000 and for said purpose may issue bonds and notes in the name of and on behalf of the state of New Hampshire in accordance with RSA 6-A. Payments of principal and interest on the bonds shall be made from the general fund of the state.

4 Powers of Governor and Council. The governor and council are hereby authorized and empowered:

I. To cooperate with and enter into such agreements with the federal government, or any agency thereof, as they may deem advisable, to secure federal funds for the purposes of this act.

II. To accept any federal funds which are, or become available for the project under section 1 of this act. The appropriation of state funds for this project for which federal funds are accepted shall be reduced by the amount of such federal funds, and the amount of bonding authorized by section 3 shall be reduced by the same amount.

5 Population Cap and Closing Date on Lakes Region Department of Corrections Facility Removed. Notwithstanding the provisions of 1991, 351:27, the population cap of 300 at the lakes region department of corrections facility may be exceeded and the authority to operate the facility shall extend beyond July 1, 1998.

The bill makes an appropriation to the department of corrections for the design and construction of the new medium security prison and for furnishings and equipment for inmates of the new prison.

The bill removes the population cap on and the July 1, 1998 closing date for the lakes region department of corrections facility.

The bill authorizes the commissioner of corrections to establish 2 additional halfway houses and appoint 10 additional probation and parole officers, within the limits of funds already appropriated.

The bill also makes adjustment to the operating budget for fiscal year 1999, for the purposes of this bill.

Adopted.

Rep. Rosen spoke against.

Rep. Franklin Torr spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

PROTEST

Pursuant to Part 2, Article 24 of the New Hampshire Constitution, Rep. Boyce requested that his protest be entered on the Journal.

I object to the Finance Committee amending House Bill 1100 to remove the closing date of the Laconia Prison. It is the duty of the policy committee to make policy changes, not the Finance Committee.

HB 1226-FN, creating the educational credential of master teacher. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Marie C. Hawkinson for Finance: The State Board of Education would create the educational credential of master teacher including requirements of academic preparation, teaching experience and demonstrated quality teaching. This allows experienced teachers to act as mentors, supervisors and evaluators for teachers. It provides an opportunity for professional growth, and to serve as a resource for their school and district. This further allows experienced teachers to remain in the teaching role, instead of transitioning to administration. Certification fees should cover any additional costs imposed so that there should be no net effect on the general fund. Vote 14-5.

Amendment (1084h)

Amend the bill by replacing RSA 189:14-f as inserted by section 4 of the bill with the following: 189:14-f Master Teacher.

I. The state board of education shall establish the educational credential of master teacher and grant it to those persons who have fulfilled at least the following requirements:

(a) Academic preparation which shall include a master's level degree and graduate coursework in curriculum development, supervision, and evaluation;

(b) Teaching experience, including at least 7 years during which a teaching certificate was held; and

(c) Demonstrated quality teaching to be satisfied by meeting professional criteria developed by the professional standards board and approved by the state board of education, which criteria shall include:

(1) Quantitative evaluations of teaching quality from students, parents, peers, and administrators;

(2) At least 3 classroom observations of the candidate by an independent observer from outside the candidate's school district; and

(3) At least 4 significant and rigorous written tasks and exercises.

II. The purposes of the credential are to allow experienced teachers an opportunity for professional growth and development, and to identify highly qualified, experienced teachers to serve as resources in their areas of expertise in curriculum development, mentoring, supervising, evaluating teachers, and in other areas as may be determined by their schools and school districts.

III. Master teachers shall have no authority to effectively recommend any personnel action. However, their activities may form the basis for an independent administrative performance review.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill creates the educational credential of master teacher which allows properly certified teachers to mentor, supervise, and evaluate other teachers.

Adopted.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

HB 1350-FN-A, relative to vocational student organizations, the appointment of a vocational student organization advisor, and making an appropriation therefor. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT Rep. David J. Alukonis for Finance: Over the past several years, federal monies which have traditionally funded the stipends paid to the advisors of vocational student organizations have been eliminated. The Committee amendment reduces the general fund appropriation called for in HB 1350 to $1.00 in fiscal 1999. By doing so, a PAU is created in the state budget for vocational student advisors which will be subject to the same budgetary review that is given to every other program in the budget. In the interim, the department will have the ability to partially fund these stipends through transfers as well as through any federal funds which may be made available. Additionally, the amendment reduces the amount of review which the Department of Education has over the vocational programs. Vote 17-1.

Amendment (1098h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to vocational student organizations and making an appropriation for vocational organization advisors.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Leadership Development. Amend RSA 188-E:5 to read as follows:

188-E:5 Program. The program in the regional vocational centers shall be broad enough to serve the reasonable needs of the area, and provide for a substantial vocational offering in the region. Each center shall make maximum utilization of cooperative arrangements with special education and vocational rehabilitation in providing vocational education for disadvantaged and disabled persons. Opportunities for out-of-school youths, including "drop outs" and others, and adult education will be provided whenever possible. The regional vocational centers, as an integral part of each vocational offering, may provide opportunities in leadership development through participation by students in appropriate corresponding and nationally recognized vocational student organizations.

2 Department of Education; New Class Line Added; PAU Totals Amended. Amend PAU 06, 03, 02, 02, 02 as inserted by 1997, 350:1 by inserting after class 98 the following:

	FY 1998	FY 1999
99 Vocational Student Organization	$0	$1
Advisors

3 Total Adjustment. Amend the total in 1997, 350:1, 06, 03, 02, 02, 02 to read as follows:

	FY 1998	FY 1999
Total	45,970,639	[45,324,315] 45,324,316
Estimated Source of Funds for Other State Aid
General Fund	45,970,639	[45,324,315] 45,324,316
Total	45,970,639	[45,324,315] 45,324,316

4 Effective Date. This act shall take effect July 1, 1998.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This act authorizes regional vocational centers to provide leadership development opportunities and makes an appropriation for vocational student organization advisors in fiscal year 1999.

Adopted.

Rep. Alukonis yielded to questions.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

HB 1387-FN, relative to the state art fund. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. William S. Belvin for Finance: This bill proposes to cap state contributions to the art fund. Currently there is no cap. One half of 1% of capital projects goes into this fund. Thus a $30 million building such as a prison would require $150,000 be put into the art fund. The Committee agreed that, in light of the ever-increasing cost of capital projects, it is appropriate to cap the contribution to the fund at $75,000 for buildings costing $15,000,000 or more. Vote 15-0.

Adopted and ordered to third reading.

SPECIAL ORDER

HB 1389-FN-L, relative to agreements for telecommunications-related uses of the state highway system. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Charles L. Vaughn for Finance: This bill authorizes the installation and maintenance of telecommunication towers for commercial use in state-owned rights-of-way. The bill grants the Commissioner of Transportation authority, with subsequent approval of Governor and Council, to lease state land for no more than ten years, subject to local zoning and planning requirements, and properly assessed real estate taxes. An indeterminate increase in state and local revenues may result. Vote 13-2.

Reps. Gene Chandler and Kurk spoke against.

The report failed.

Rep. Kurk moved Ought to Pass with Amendment.

Rep. Belvin offered a floor amendment.

Floor Amendment (1175h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Statement of Intent. The general court recognizes that there is a need to balance the interests of state and local planning, to preserve the scenic and historical character of New Hampshire, and to streamline the processing of visually acceptable telecommunications facility lease sites on state rights-of-way generating revenue to the state.

2 New Section; Agreements for Telecommunications-Related Uses of the State Highway System. Amend RSA 228 by inserting after section 31 the following new section:

228:31-a Agreements for Telecommunications-Related Uses of the State Highway System and State-Owned Railroad Rights-of-Way.

I. The commissioner may, with the approval of the governor and council, execute contracts, leases, licenses, and other agreements relating to the use or occupation of state-owned rights-of-way, whether easement or fee-owned, for purposes of allowing the installation and maintenance of telecommunications facilities. Such agreements, which shall be for commercially reasonable value, shall not extend for a period of more than 10 years. Any leases executed pursuant to this section shall be subject to the requirements of RSA 72:23 with regard to properly assessed real estate taxes, subject to local zoning and planning requirements. Said facilities shall take into consideration the scenic beauty of the landscape. There shall be no advertising signs on these facilities. The provisions of RSA 4:40 shall not apply to this section.

II. The commissioner of the department of transportation shall develop goals regarding telecommunications uses in the rights-of-way. These goals shall include, but not be limited to:

(a) Providing consistent guidelines to telecommunications vendors.

(b) Preserving the scenic beauty of New Hampshire by making every effort to minimize the visual and environmental impact of telecommunications facilities.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Reps. Belvin and Gene Chandler spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Keans spoke against.

Rep. MacIntyre spoke in favor.

Adopted.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

Reps. Boutin, Joseph Foster and Kenney declared conflicts of interest and did not participate.

HB 1503-FN-A-L, relative to intergenerational homeshare programs and making an appropriation therefor. REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY

Rep. William S. Belvin for Finance: The bill's core objective of establishing a two-year intergenerational home share pilot program has real merit. The concept of matching up elderly individuals with other persons to share housing, living expenses, and to give assistance to each other has intrinsic appeal. However, the Committee is concerned about how the program would be administered within the Department of Health and Human Services, and for its startup cost appropriation of $50,000 which is less than the fiscal note estimate of $75,000. Also, the Department of Health and Human Services long-term care program currently is being crafted as part of SB 409, which will clarify the Department's intentions concerning "home sharing." The Committee believes that any appropriated funds should be applied at the local level. Local service agencies are more likely to truly know the individual elderly person's needs and to successfully address them, rather than through building an additional Department of Health and Human Services state bureaucracy of coordinators and counselors which may yield less satisfactory results at higher cost. Exploring these issues and finding a cost effective approach that truly meets the economic and social needs of elderly "home sharing" individuals can best be accomplished through Interim Study. Vote 15-4.
Adopted.

HB 1509-FN, relative to the content of motor vehicle registrations. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Robert G. Holbrook for Finance: This bill helps law enforcement officers receive important information through electronic display as soon as technologically feasible. On the lap-top computer available in a police cruiser, information on motor vehicle registration regarding parole, probation, subject to restraining order, or release on bail, will be displayed immediately upon the motor vehicle registration being keyed into the state police dispatcher. In discussion with the courts and the Department of Safety, this change in the Department of Safety database will not require any general funds. Vote 14-4.

Amend the bill by replacing section 1 with the following:

I New Paragraph; Information in Department of Safety Database. Amend RSA 261:58 by inserting after paragraph II the following new paragraph:

III.(a) The department shall update its database regularly to include information regarding an individual who is:

- (1) Currently on parole.
- (2) Currently on probation.
- (3) The subject of a restraining order.

(b) The administration office of the courts shall, via computer interface, regularly update the database at the department of safety to include information regarding an individual who is released on bail.

(c) The department of safety and the administrative office of the courts shall make available the information required in subparagraphs (a) and (b) as soon as it becomes technologically feasible to do so.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill requires the department of safety to update its database to include information regarding an individual who is out on parole, on probation, or the subject of a restraining order. In addition, it requires the administrative office of the courts to regularly update, via computer interface, the database at the department of safety to include information regarding individuals released on bail.

Adopted.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

PROTEST

Pursuant to Part 2, Article 24 of the New Hampshire Constitution, Rep. Martin requested that her protest be entered on the Journal.

I protest the vote to disallow reconsideration of House Bill 544 and the House voice vote to concur with the Senate amendment taken on March 19, 1998.

Last week, this matter was taken up as the first order of business in violation of House Rule 57. Members who were waiting to speak to this issue were relying on the order of business so as to be present and available in the chamber. The action of addressing it out of order deprived us of our right to speak to an issue which we feel is a consummate abomination and insult to the people of our state. The membership needs to be made aware of the full scope and long-term ramifications of their vote on this issue.

All the waters in the state of New Hampshire are owned by the public and held in trust for them by the state via the Public Trust Doctrine. This legislature is appointed as guardians of the public trust and has sole authority and the responsibility to preserve and protect these waters and lands for the public good.

In some instances, waterfront property owners have exceeded their one special privilege to wharf out over public lands, (i.e. read "dock"). Some have built homes beyond their property line (the high water mark) and out over or in the water (public land). This bill says in effect, "Hey, that's OK, you can have the land." This is a "taking" of public trust lands. This creates two groups of waterfront property owners with unequal rights - unconstitutional. One group stayed within their property lines, and one did not. This legislature has the authority to give this land away, but it is certainly a violation of their responsibilities as guardians and trustees for all the people. This is a wrongful act, which we don't have the right to do.

Two years ago, we dealt with this same bill. While its long range effects were not immediately apparent, they were recognized and it was, correctly, stopped by the Senate.

Over time the Public Trust Doctrine and the people's interests have been largely disregarded by their guardians, this legislature and the Attorney General. Absent this legislative guidance and absent back-up from the Attorney General, the agency was pressured to allow repairs to these self-serving structures on the grounds that statutory law, RSA 482-A:26 which this bill proposes to change, did not include the word "repair" in the actions it prohibited.

RSA 482-A:26 Residential Use Prohibited.

I. No person shall construct or reconstruct any structure intended for use as a dwelling if said structure or any part of said structure extends beyond the shoreline of any public water or publicly-owned water body. For the purposes of this paragraph, "the shoreline" shall be that shoreline which exists when the surface of the water is at the mean high water level.

II. No person shall convert or modify any existing structure in order to make said structure suitable as a dwelling if said structure or any part of said structure extends beyond the shoreline of any public water or publicly-owned water body. For the purposes of this paragraph, "the shoreline" shall be that shoreline which exists when the surface of the water is at the mean high water level.

The current practice by the agency has the result of getting around the actual intent of the RSA while continuing to ignore violations in the public trust. Repeated piece-meal permits for various "repairs result in eventual "reconstruction."

House Bill 152 of 1969 was the legislation which established RSA 482-A:26. See 1969 Senate Journal 630, May 15, 1969. "The intention of House Bill 152 is to prevent the growth of dwellings built over public waters..."

House Bill 544 proposes to legitimate and reward those who have chosen to break the law and ignore their legal property line. Should we be inclined to be sympathetic to the poor fellows investment in the structure, consider that the state has already been more than generous in allowing him to recoup his investment by not enforcing its removal. Nearly 30 years ago, House minutes in 1969 state: "Rep. Mutzbauer spoke in favor...we have 2,086 miles of shoreline to protect...."

We, too, must acknowledge, address, and uphold our duty as guardians of this property owned not by us, but by all those folks who sent us here. The voice vote to concur and allow passage of this bill abdicates state sovereignty and allows/sanctions adverse possession by these squatters. It removes language prohibiting residential use and appears to legitimate some kind of right for these illegal structures to exist. Under the Public Trust Doctrine, the intended beneficiary is clearly the public and this action provides no public benefit. Rather, it conversely grants special privilege to a select and illegal few to the detriment of the public. It establishes a precedent to allow adverse possession against the state and throws out 200 years of case law. It provides for unequal protection under the law. Acting as trustees for the people, for us to agree to give away public lands to illegal squatters is a dereliction of our duty and fiduciary responsibilities to all the citizens of New Hampshire.

RESOLUTION

Rep. Wheeler offered the following: RESOLVED, that the House now adjourn from the early session, that the business of the late session be in order at the present time, that the reading of bills be by title only and resolutions by caption only and that all bills ordered to third reading be read a third time by this resolution, and that all titles of bills be the same as adopted, and that they be passed at the present time, and when the House adjourns today it be to meet Thursday, April 9, 1998 at 10:00 a.m.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Reps. D'Allesandro and Letourneau addressed the House.

Thank you, Madam Speaker. Fellow legislators, today we passed a bill that will include our state motto "Live Free or Die" on all official state plates just as we do on general issuance plates. Those of us that seek re-election this year and are successful will see that motto on our legislative plates next year. I thought it would be appropriate at this time to give a brief history of our motto for those of us that may not be familiar with it. In July of 1777, Vermont sent an appeal to this assembly for assistance in defeating General Burgoyne's march down Champlain Valley. John Langdon, the Speaker of the House, urged them to comply. In a speech attributed to him by Isaac Hill, Langdon reputedly said, "I have a thousand dollars in hard money: I will pledge my plate for three thousand more. I have 70 hogsheads of Tobago rum which will be sold for the most it will bring. They are at the service of the state. If we succeed in defending our firesides and our homes, I may be remunerated. If we do not, then the property will be of no value to me." To lead these troops the assembly persuaded John Stark, who had served in the French and Indian wars with Rogers Rangers, to come out of retirement. Stark not only had experience, he was a wily tactician and charismatic leader who kept his troops together when most commanders could not. The colorful Stark, who once fought his way through an Indian gauntlet yelling "I'll kiss all your women!", had, according to Colonel Potter, attracted 14 companies to his standard in as many days after the first battle at Lexington. Now, he had no trouble finding volunteers to follow him to Bennington. Stark fought the British and the Hessians from the woods as he had the French and Indians, rallying his men with the cry, "There, my boys, are your enemies, the red-coats and Tories; you must beat them or Molly Stark sleeps a widow tonight." This battle, fought on August 16, 1777, turned out to be a pivotal point in the Revolution. John Stark was promoted to Brigadier General in the Continental Army and became New Hampshire's most distinguished hero in the Revolutionary War. In 1809, General Stark was invited to be the keynote speaker at the 32nd anniversary reunion of the Battle of Bennington. He declined because of poor health. However, he sent a toast to his wartime comrades, "Live Free or Die; Death is Not the Worst of Evils." The following year, a similar invitation (also declined) said; "The toast, Sir, which you sent us in 1809, will continue to vibrate with unceasing pleasure in our ears, Live Free or Die; Death is not the Worst of Evils." In 1945, this legislature was considering a state motto, the last state to do so. The Manchester Union Leader sponsored a contest that had 3,500 responses, and a board of judges settled on "Strong and Steadfast as the Granite Hills," as proposed by Professor Curtis Page of Gilmanton, a former State Senator. The Senate approved Page's suggestion on May 2nd. It was then upset in the House of Representatives the following afternoon. Speaking for patriotic groups, Rep. Walker Wiggin of Manchester led a successful floor fight to substitute the "Live free or Die" toast for the motto. Rep. John Chandler of Warner also vigorously supported the Wiggin move. It was approved by the House in a lopsided vote of 179-85. The Senate promptly concurred without argument. In 1969, this legislature, led by Rep. Robert Lawton of Laconia, voted to place Stark's motto on all non-commercial motor vehicle plates, beginning in 1970. There have been several unsuccessful attempts to remove the motto from our plates. Throughout the course of our Nation's history, citizens of New Hampshire and other states have been called upon to defend America's freedom. Many of these men and women have paid the ultimate sacrifice to retain our freedom. It would be a dishonor to these men and women to speak in disrespect of this motto. Thank you for your indulgence.

Thursday, April 9, 1998

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the Speaker.

Prayer was offered by House Chaplain, Reverend Edward G. Horstmann.

O, God of new life, enter into the places of our lives where we have crowded out miracles and imagination and where even hope has been abandoned. Come, O, God, with healing in Your wings, to cast out our fears, to dispel our self-righteousness, and to call us beyond our clinging to what is familiar. Bring us out of our various captivities that we may love passionately, speak boldly, live gracefully and risk everything for Your sake. Amen.

REMARKS

Rep. Avery: Thank you, Madam Speaker. Fellow Representatives, we are here this morning to recognize Tartan Day for the second time here in New Hampshire. Governor Jeanne Shaheen has issued a proclamation honoring those Scots and Scottish Americans who worked hard for the ideals of freedom on both sides of the Atlantic. Also this year, I am proud to announce that the United States Senate passed a resolution, Senate Resolution No. 155, naming April 6th of each year as National Tartan Day. As the Senate Resolution points out, almost half of the signers of the Declaration of Independence and nine of the sitting 13 Governors were of Scottish descent. This most important document was modeled after the Scottish Declaration of Arbroath which was signed on April 6, 1320. Madam Speaker, I would like to read the most stirring phrase from the Declaration of Arbroath, a phrase that I think we can all hold dear. "It is in truth, not for glory nor riches nor honors that we are fighting, but, for freedom. For that alone which no honest man gives up but with life itself." With that in mind, Madam Speaker, we not only honor all the Scots and Scottish Americans that have worked so hard for freedom but all peoples of all ethnic backgrounds who are striving for those same ideals.

The House of Representatives offered the following:

CONSENT CALENDAR

Rep. Wheeler moved that the Consent Calendar with the relevant amendments as printed in the day's House Record be adopted.

SB 315, relative to divorce proceedings. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Sandra B. Keans for Judiciary and Family Law: This bill would allow a judge to restore a former name of the person getting a divorce. Right now the judge can only change the individual's name back to the last held name, precluding a maiden name. Also, in uncontested cases, where the stipulations have been agreed to, the individuals need not appear in court. Vote 15-0.

SB 348, relative to property left behind by tenants. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Marjorie K. Smith for Judiciary and Family Law: This bill is identical to HB 802 which earlier passed the House and has passed the Senate as of 3-19-98. Therefore this bill is redundant. Vote 15-0.

SB 350, relative to probate court procedures. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Sandra B. Keans for Judiciary and Family Law: This is one of five bills that have been proposed by a study committee that met last year. The broad composition of the committee had as its mission the cleaning up of the probate statutes and making the court more "user friendly." Vote 17-0.

Amendment (1281h)

Amend the bill by deleting section 3 and renumbering sections 4-13 to read as 3-12, respectively.
Amend the bill by replacing all after section 10 with the following:

11 Applicability. Section 9 of this act shall apply only to all persons dying after midnight on December 31, 1998.

12 Effective Date.

I. Section 8 of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect 30 days after its passage.

SB 419, raising the minimum age for marriage. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Paul M. Mirski for Judiciary and Family Law: The lack of support on the part of either the sponsor, or on the part of the public, for raising the minimum age of marriage persuaded the committee that a change in the law was unnecessary. Vote 12-4.

SB 366, establishing a study committee to examine the purging of archaic laws. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Donnalee Lozeau for Legislative Administration: This bill established a legislative study committee to study the purging of archaic laws. The committee believes that legislative staff may best be suited to look at this issue and provide information relative to those laws that may be considered archaic. As we have changed the laws over the years, we have addressed those that have been included in provisions that we have altered. Just as with gender neutral provisions, we continue to update our statutes. Vote 11-0.

HB 1665-FN-L, relative to the Manchester airport authority security force. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Joseph E. Stone for Municipal and County Government: The majority of the testimony heard by the Municipal & County Government Committee was against the need of this bill. Only the sponsors were in favor. Maybe, sometime in the future, either the Manchester Aldermen, members of the Manchester Airport Authority or someone else may feel a change is needed in providing the security of the airport. However, the feeling of this committee is there is no need to make a change at this time based on the vote of 15-1. Vote 15-1.

SB 327-L, allowing local political subdivisions to adopt biennial budgets. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Marilyn A. Fraser for Municipal and County Government: This bill allows local political subdivisions to adopt biennial budgets. This bill is a result of the committee studying SB 152, (1997, 98). The biennial budget will consist of two distinct 12-month fiscal years. The governing body may allow for the carry over of funds from the first fiscal year of the biennium to the second. Numerous groups spoke in favor of this bill, those groups being the Department of Revenue Administration, Finance Directors from the Cities of Concord and Manchester, board counsels, NHMA and mayors. Vote 16-0.

SB 338, relative to special meetings. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Robert A. Lockwood for Municipal and County Government: This bill requires that when the selectmen of a town or the school board of a school district votes to petition the Superior Court for permission to hold a special meeting, they post notices of the vote within 24 hours after the vote and within 10 days before filing the petition. This bill also requires that the Selectmen or the school board post notice of the date of the evidentiary hearing on the receipt of notice of the date from the court. Vote 15-1.

SB 390, relative to the application of the law governing foreign business entities to a merger or other reorganization of a gas utility. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Jeb E. Bradley for Science, Technology and Energy: This bill as amended provides a limited exemption to a long standing statute restricting mergers between in-state and out-of-state public utilities. The exemption in this bill will allow a merger between Northern Utilities (a gas utility) and Bay State Gas in Massachusetts. The committee was sympathetic to arguments that a more general exemption to merger restrictions would be appropriate, but not all parties agreed with that course. Due to the fact there was no opposition to this merger, and as such it should proceed, the limited exemption is the appropriate action at this time. The merger still requires Public Utilities Commission approval and rate-making oversight is retained. The PUC had no objection to the bill. Vote 14-1.

Amend the bill by replacing section 1 with the following:

1 Public Utilities; General Regulations; Exception to Applicability of Foreign Business Entity Prohibitions. The provisions of RSA 374:24 shall not apply to the merger or other reorganization of a gas utility if, on the effective date of this act, such gas utility is engaged in business in this state as a public utility and is a subsidiary of a foreign corporation, provided that this act shall not otherwise alter the jurisdiction of the public utilities commission extant prior to the merger or other reorganization over such gas utility.

SCR 6, urging Congress to establish a centralized registry for security interests in intellectual property to be located in New Hampshire. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Robert J. Letourneau for State-Federal Relations and Veterans Affairs: This bill urges the Congress of the United States to establish a centralized registry for security interest in intellectual property in the State of NH. Should Congress establish such a registry, NH businesses, software developers, investors and entrepreneurs would benefit. Our own Franklin Pierce Law Center is ranked the number one law school for intellectual property by US News and World Report. It would make sense that a registry would be located here in New Hampshire. Vote 13-0.

SB 386, relative to eligibility for antique motor vehicle plates. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. George N. Katsakories for Transportation: This bill would allow those who have antique motor vehicle plates to display a registration plate which was issued in the same year in which the antique motor vehicle was manufactured. The House has already passed a bill this session that has more comprehensive language. The committee felt that this bill would only duplicate this effort. Vote 15-0.

SB 408-FN, requiring the department of safety to perform a background check to determine if an applicant for a motor vehicle registration is in default or has a warrant issued against the applicant. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Robert J. Letourneau for Transportation: This bill, while well intended, is vaguely written and is open to interpretation. Testimony revealed that the Department of Safety ran a pilot program that indicated that the process described in this bill would not produce results that were fiscally sound. The resources needed to comply could be used more efficiently in other areas. Additionally, we learned that law enforcement is beginning to use laptop computers in their cruisers, which will aid in discovering outstanding warrants. The courts are finalizing a system to use credit cards to help alleviate court defaults. Also, SB 440, which is currently in the legislative process, deals with civil bench warrants and civil fines, and this bill has the support of the Department of Safety, and the Senate will deal with this problem using resources efficiently and effectively. Vote 15-0.

REGULAR CALENDAR

HB 1000 FN-L, relative to a 10-year transportation plan and authorizing construction on the Spaulding Turnpike. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Gene G. Chandler for Public Works and Highways: This bill represents the latest version of the state's 10-year transportation improvement program and contains listings for the major federally assisted projects and turnpike expansion projects. The "blue book" entitled State of New Hampshire Ten Year Transportation Improvement Program 1999-2008 represents an alphabetical listing of the total 10-year plan. The first few pages of the book detail how the 10-year plan is molded and how we end up with the final product. The committee did not hear any testimony justifying any change in priorities to the plan as presented, but a strong case was made to move the Manchester to Salem I-93 widening project up in the plan. However, testimony from the Department of Transportation showed a commitment to move this project along as fast as possible, but the design and environmental approval procedures are the limiting factors in how fast the widening project can occur. The I-93 process will commence very soon with a request to the Executive Council for a $1.7 million contract for a draft environmental impact statement. One part of the amendment to the bill allows the Department of Transportation Turnpike division to use $311,600 from turnpike surplus for radio system upgrades for the turnpike division as part of the department's overall radio system upgrade. The second part of the amendment takes into account what may be extra federal funds coming to the state over the next few years, and the committee's intent to make sure that should extra funds become available, projects in the 10-year plan would be stepped up in order of their present priorities and the whole plan would be accelerated. Vote 15-0.

Amendment (1253h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to a 10-year transportation plan, authorizing construction on the Spaulding Turnpike, and relative to the radio system upgrade for the department of transportation.

Amend RSA 240:1 as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

240:1 Legislative Intent. This plan is predicated on the report submitted to the legislature by the governor dated December, 1997 and is intended to serve as the guideline for transportation projects in the state for the next decade. In the event the 1998 Session of Congress authorizes and appropriates to the state of New Hampshire an amount of federal highway funding in excess of the $90,000,000 assumed in drafting this plan, the implementation of this plan shall be expedited accordingly reflecting the priorities and sequencing identified in this plan.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 3 with the following:

4 Funding; Radio System Upgrade. 1995, 309:4, I, A as amended by 1997,349 is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

Radio system upgrade - statewide	$ 3,036,600
Less turnpike funds (Fund 017 Retained Earnings)	$ 311,600
Net State Appropriation Subparagraph A	$ 2,725,000

5 Effective Date.

I. Section 4 of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill updates the 10-year transportation plan to maintain the highways and bridges in the state. The bill authorizes certain construction on the Spaulding Turnpike.

The bill also increases the sum detailed for statewide radio system upgrade for the department of transportation.

Adopted.

Report adopted and referred to Finance.

Adopted by the necessary two-thirds.

SB 339-L, relative to the bidding for design and construction of a new medium security prison in the city of Berlin and to the closure of the lakes region facility and making appropriations therefor. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Katherine D. Rogers for Public Works and Highways: This bill, as amended, is identical to HB 1100 as previously passed by the House. It will provide for the construction of a 500 bed prison facility in Berlin, remove the population cap and closing date for the Lakes Region Department of Corrections facility, authorize the Department of Corrections to establish two additional halfway houses, and appoint ten additional probation and parole officers. Vote 20-1.

Amendment (1315h)

AN ACT relative to the design and construction of a new medium security prison in Berlin and making an appropriation therefor, removing the population cap and closing date for the lakes region department of corrections facility, authorizing the department of corrections to establish 2 additional halfway houses and appoint additional probation and parole officers, and making adjustments to the operating budget for fiscal year 1999.

III. The requirements of RSA 228:4, 228:4-a, and 21-I:22 shall not apply to this project. The determining factors in respondent selection shall be the overall quality and conformance of the proposal to the requirements of this act as well as to the long-term lowest staffing and operational costs consistent with security and public safety. At a minimum:

(a) Respondents shall demonstrate competence and experience in similar corrections projects.

(b) While full consideration shall be given to the project cost structure, the successful bid shall not be based on cost alone. Consideration shall be given to qualifications of firms and general conditions necessary to complete the project. The state reserves the right to reject any and all proposals or to negotiate with the apparent successful proposer as determined to be in the state's best interest.

(c) Three legitimate proposals shall be submitted for design and construction of the facility.

(d) The facility shall be constructed with a capacity of 500 beds, and infrastructure, administrative, and support services space capable of accommodating future expansion to 1000 beds.

(e) Construction shall begin no later than August 15, 1998, and be completed and ready for occupancy by the department of corrections within 30 months of the commencing of such construction.

IV. Design of the facility shall be in compliance with American Correctional Association mandatory standards for adult secure institutions, and shall be approved prior to construction by the department of corrections and the division of public works, department of transportation. Design and plans for construction shall also comply with all relevant state codes and regulations.

V. The department of corrections is authorized to accept any funds from any public or private source or, with the approval of the fiscal committee, to transfer any funds available to the department for the purposes of design and construction of the new facility.

VI. Any land acquired under the appropriation made in section 2 of this act shall be purchased by the commissioner of the department of transportation with the approval of governor and council.

2 Appropriation; Department of Corrections; State Prison Facility. A sum not to exceed $31,000,000 is hereby appropriated to the department of corrections for the purpose of design and construction of a medium security prison in the city of Berlin and for the purpose of providing furnishings and equipment for 500 inmates.

3 Bonds Authorized. To provide funds for the appropriation made in section 2 of this act, the state treasurer is hereby authorized to borrow upon the credit of the state not exceeding the sum of $31,000,000 and for said purpose may issue bonds and notes in the name of and on behalf of the state of New Hampshire in accordance with RSA 6-A. Payments of principal and interest on the bonds shall be made from the general fund of the state.

4 Powers of Governor and Council. The governor and council are hereby authorized and empowered:

I. To cooperate with and enter into such agreements with the federal government, or any agency thereof, as they may deem advisable, to secure federal funds for the purposes of this act.

II. To accept any federal funds which are, or become available for the project under section 1 of this act. The appropriation of state funds for this project for which federal funds are accepted shall be reduced by the amount of such federal funds, and the amount of bonding authorized by section 3 shall be reduced by the same amount.

8 Adjustment of Amounts, Figures, Estimates and Totals. The commissioner of administrative services shall adjust all amounts, figures, estimates and totals for 1997, 350, the 1998-1999 operating budget, as made necessary by the passage of this act.

The bill makes an appropriation to the department of corrections for the design and construction of the new medium security prison and for furnishings and equipment for inmates of the new prison.

The bill removes the population cap on and the July 1, 1998 closing date for the lakes region department of corrections facility.

The bill authorizes the commissioner of corrections to establish 2 additional halfway houses and appoint 10 additional probation and parole officers, within the limits of funds already appropriated.

The bill also makes adjustment to the operating budget for fiscal year 1999, for the purposes of this bill. Adopted.

SB 342, relative to capital appropriations for the Glencliff home for the elderly. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Paul I. LaMott for Public Works and Highways: The last capital budget appropriated funds for a new building at the Glencliff Home for the Elderly, but, unfortunately, the low bid for the project was higher than the appropriation. This bill transfers $490,000 from other Health & Human Services capital appropriations to allow the completion of this much needed facility at Glencliff. The transfer comes from three projects, $200,000 from the M & S and Thayer buildings at the NH Hospital, $200,000 for porch renovations at Glencliff, and $90,000 for flooring replacement also at Glencliff. The porch renovations and flooring replacement projects still need to be done at some future date, and undoubtedly will appear as requested items in the next capital budget. There are no immediate plans or needs to do the work at the M & S and Thayer buildings. The committee amendment requires that any state agency that wishes to lease any land, buildings or space for a period longer than five years shall be reviewed and approved by the Long Range Capital Planning and Utilization Committee prior to submission to the Executive Council, thus giving the legislative branch some input into long term leases utilized by state agencies. Vote 16-0.

Amendment (1299h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to capital appropriations for the Glencliff home for the elderly and relative to approval of certain leases by state agencies.

Amend the bill by replacing section 4 with the following:

4 New Section; Approval of State Agency Leases Exceeding 5 Years; Long Range Capital Planning and Utilization Committee. Amend RSA 4 by inserting after section 39-a the following new section:

4:39-b Approval of State Agency Leases Exceeding 5 Years. Any lease of land, buildings, or space to be used by any state agency, as defined in RSA 21-G:5, III, and which exceeds a term of 5 years, including all options, shall be reviewed and approved by the long range capital planning and utilization committee established in RSA 17-M prior to submission to the governor and council for approval.

5 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill changes certain capital appropriations to the department of health and human services to be used for the Brown building addition and renovation at the Glencliff home for the elderly.

The bill also requires approval by the long range capital planning and utilization committee of certain leases by state agencies.

Adopted.

Report adopted and referred to Finance.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Reps. D'Allesandro, Vaughn and Burling addressed the House.

Rep. Stone moved that the remarks made by Rep. D'Allesandro be printed in the Journal.

Adopted.

Rep. D'Allesandro: I was particularly impressed this morning that we honored two of our colleagues who have passed away. I want to speak very briefly about one of our colleagues and that is Charlie Ferguson. I came to this House in 1973 and had the privilege and the pleasure of meeting Charlie

Ferguson. In those days, Charlie was on Appropriations. I was a rookie in this House. It was my first term in the House of Representatives. Charlie was very helpful in pointing you in the way that you needed to go in terms of getting something done legislatively. Charlie had that million-dollar smile that was always apparent. He was intelligent. He was a person who was dedicated to what he was doing and he never, never missed an opportunity to help someone who needed help along the way. Charlie Ferguson was a great family man. But, more important to me, he was a person who made serving in this legislature worthwhile. He cared about legislation. He cared about people. He was always there to help. People like Charlie Ferguson who come here and spend 11 terms, spend 12 terms, dedicate their lives to public service, and it seems to be that by honoring Charlie Ferguson we honor ourselves in that we carry on the work that Charlie Ferguson began. In 1974, in the Special Session, I had a bill that had about a snowball's chance in heck of getting passed. It was the food stamp bill. It was opposed by everybody in the administration. But, with the help of people like Charlie Ferguson we got it passed and we did the work of the people of the State of New Hampshire and did it well. Charlie Ferguson's memory is firmly imbedded in my mind and I would hope that all of you who knew Charlie remember him for his quality as a human being, his dedication to public service and his respect and commitment to this House of Representatives. Thank you very much.

Rep. Weyler moved that the remarks made by Rep. Vaughn be printed in the Journal.
Adopted.

Rep. Vaughn: Thank you very much, indeed, Madam Speaker and my honorable colleagues and you are, indeed, all honorable, I rise today to mention the fact that the Veteran's Administration has designated April as Prisoner of War month. On this occasion, the Senator from Arizona, John McCain, is opening a POW museum in Andersonville, Georgia. Many of you will recall the great Civil War prison where many, many Union soldiers died of deprivation and starvation. I think that Senator McCain exemplifies the American spirit, a sense of freedom, for the seven years that he put in in the prison camp up in Hanoi. I also want to mention the fact that the Veteran's Administration here in the state of New Hampshire has a get-together here on the 17th of April and I will have that information later. But, let me read one statement in closing that I think all POWs remember and why so many of them give service to their state and nation. This is something that General Omar Bradley said in one of the books that he wrote, and I quote, "Of Athenians, in the end, more than they wanted freedom they wanted security. They wanted a comfortable life and they lost it all; security, comfort and freedom. When the Athenians finally wanted not to give to society but society to give to them and when the freedom they wished for most was freedom from responsibility, then Athenians ceased to be free." Thank you.

SB 337, relative to the order of distribution of claims from an insurer's estate. OUGHT TO PASS
Rep. Keith R. Herman for Commerce: A recent U. S. Supreme Court decision forces claims of the federal government to be paid immediately after administration costs and policyholder claims when an insurance company's assets are liquidated. New Hampshire statute lists the order in which liquidated assets are distributed. This bill simply changes the order to comply with the Supreme Court ruling. Vote 14-0.

SB 357, establishing a committee to study insurance coverage for infertility. OUGHT TO PASS
Rep. Martha Fuller Clark for Commerce: Treatment for infertility is a rapidly evolving science dealing with one of life's personal issues, the ability to have children. This is an issue which involves both women and men and has profound emotional, social and economic issues for individuals and for society. The cost of infertility treatment and the ability of insurance companies to provide or deny coverage of such services is also of critical concern. Opponents to the bill were anxious that such a study would automatically lead to another insurance mandate. The majority of the committee disagreed, believing that before any infertility legislation could be introduced, a comprehensive study of the issue, both within the state and nationwide, is essential. Vote 12-3.

SB 452-FN-L, allowing students to choose alternatives to dissection as part of a course exercise. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Stanley N. Searles, Sr. for Education: The committee feels that it is important to review the current statutory requirement regarding vivisection which is found in the criminal code as well as the provision of this bill relating to dissection and to place the provision within the context of education laws. In order to do this the education committee has asked the Department of Education to prepare a legislative proposal to address both vivisection and dissection. Vote 14-0.

SB 91-FN, relative to the water well board. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Howard C. Dickinson, Jr. for Executive Departments and Administration: This bill and the passage of HB 632 last year resolved previous problems between the water well board, the drillers and Department of Environmental Services. This also assures that the public have a vehicle to easily present difficulties or concerns they may have with faulty wells. Vote 14-0.

SB 310, relative to the licensure of micropigmentation practitioners. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE
Rep. Nancy C. Stickney for Executive Departments and Administration: Micropigmentation is another name for cosmetic tattooing. (That is placing inert, non-toxic dye under the skin of a living being). Licensing requirements, hygienic standards for establishments and practitioners are already in place under RSA 314-A with special rules in place for cosmetic tattooing, therefore, the committee decided this bill is not necessary. Vote 18-0.

SB 397, relative to the composition of the pharmacy board. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT
Rep. Sylvia A. Holley for Executive Departments and Administration: The amended senate bill would have increased the pharmacy board from six to nine members. Testimony before our committee indicated there were no problems with the current composition of the board. The committee decided, as it has with other licensing boards, that more public representation would be helpful. The amendment replaces the senate bill and adds one more public member to the board. Vote 18-0.

Amendment (1232h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Pharmacy Board; Public Member Added. Amend RSA 318:2 to read as follows:

318:2 Board. There shall be a pharmacy board consisting of [6] 7 members; including 5 practicing pharmacists and [one] 2 public [member] members, each to be appointed by the governor, with the approval of the council, to a term of 5 years. No member shall be appointed to more than 2 consecutive terms. Only board members provided for in this section shall have the authority to vote in board determinations.

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill adds a public member to the pharmacy board.

SB 431-FN-A, establishing a statewide database licensing program of the New Hampshire automated information system and making an appropriation therefor REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY Rep. Miriam D. Dunn for Executive Departments and Administration: This bill has full support of the committee with all testimony in favor. Interim study accomplishes two things: first by keeping the bill alive, the state library can continue its research relative to licensed program vendors for this data base, which will then be available to municipalities through libraries and schools, as well as to the general public. Savings will be realized when the data base replaces the need for subscriptions to newspapers, periodicals and other publications which now cost a considerable portion of library and school budgets. Secondly, although a one-dollar appropriation is in the bill, the fiscal impact projections are large. Interim study allows time for more realistic figures to be presented for implementation of the project. Vote 13-0.

SB 373, protecting quality assurance information of home health care providers from discovery. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Daniel M. Burnham for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: This bill extends the quality assurance process now provided hospitals to home health care providers. The process excludes the scrutiny of the legal profession from documents and records utilized during quality assurance procedures. Vote 12-0.

SB 311, establishing the Uniform International Wills Act. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Andrew R. Peterson for Judiciary and Family Law: The bill, which establishes the Uniform International Wills Act, is permissive legislation which allows New Hampshire residents the option to attach to their will a certificate which conforms to language agreed to by international convention. This would be particularly helpful to individuals who, for example, own real estate in other countries and wish to provide for expedited probate processes for their foreign-held assets. Vote 14-0.

SB 433-FN, relative to computing average weekly wages for the purpose of determining workers' compensation benefits, INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Wanda McNamara for Labor, Industrial and Rehabilitative Services: The committee found this bill inexpedient to legislate based on three factors. When HB 630 passed in 1985, it was the intent of the legislature to ensure that all of the people government depends on to serve and protect the public do not suffer financial loss if injured performing that service. People who serve part-time, or volunteer, are recognized in this law to receive maximum benefits. The administrative hearing that raised the issue that prompted SB 433, has been overturned by the Department of Labor Appeals Board which ruled that RSA 105:1 includes all police and fire-fighters, whether full or part-time. The Department of Labor and the Attorney General's Office both agreed that the original intent of the existing statute included part-time police and fire personnel. The committee has a letter from the Department of Labor stating that further rulings will be based on statutory intent. Therefore, this bill is not needed. Vote 14-0.

SB 73-FN, providing that telecommunications poles and lines be subject to the property tax. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Linda T. Foster for Local and Regulated Revenues: The amendment, which replaces the bill, upholds the House position on this issue. This position has passed the house twice as recommended by both the policy and finance committees. Vote 15-1.

Amendment (1283h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to municipal taxation of telecommunications poles and conduits.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Section; Property Taxation of Telecommunications Poles and Conduits. Amend RSA 72 by inserting after section 8 the following new section:

72:8-a Telecommunications Poles and Conduits. All structures, poles, towers, and conduits employed in the transmission of telecommunication or cable services shall be taxed as real estate in the town in which such property or any part of its is situated. Wires, fiber optics, switching equipment, and other telecommunications or cable services transmission devices and equipment owned by a person or corporation operating as a telecommunications or cable services provider shall not be taxable as real property.

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect April 1, 1998.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill clarifies the types of telecommunications property which are subject to property taxation by municipalities.

SB 332, requiring that the real estate transfer questionnaire be provided to the municipality in which the property is located. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Stephen G. Avery for Local and Regulated Revenues: This legislation will, with a minimum of effort, allow tax assessors and selectmen immediate access to the selling price of property and relevant conditions of the sale within their jurisdiction so that they may keep property assessments current. Vote 15-1.

SB 412, designating skiing as the official New Hampshire sport. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Robert J. Laflam for Resources, Recreation and Development: This bill designates skiing as the official New Hampshire sport. The Committee recognized the contribution of all forms of outdoor recreation to the economic development and quality of life to New Hampshire's residents and visitors. Recognizing the dynamic impact this sport has had over all the state for over 60 years from its youth outreach programs to its major contribution to economic development the committee concluded that the sport of skiing in our state was most worthy of being designated as our state sport. Vote 12-3.

SB 140, relative to the obligations of joint owners to the nuclear decommissioning finance fund. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Jeb E. Bradley for Science, Technology and Energy: This bill is the result of much hard work in both the Senate and House Committees. The bill came as a result of a Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) concern that one of the joint owners (Great Bay Power—12% share) of the Seabrook Power Plant does not have retail customers from whom decommissioning charges could be collected. Great Bay sells power into the wholesale market. The NRC gave Great Bay a one (1) year extension in which to solve this funding assurance problem which is of great concern also to members of the committee. Great Bay is currently up-to-date with all payments to the nuclear decommissioning fund. Great Bay has agreed, however, to accelerate funding for decommissioning on the basis of a 25-year life expectancy of the nuclear plant, rather than the current 36 years. The other joint owners will proportionally guarantee Great Bay's twelve percent (12%) share of Seabrook decommissioning costs under the terms of SB 140. The other joint owners have agreed to this accelerated funding mechanism for Great Bay. The other portion of the bill merges the contents of SB 341, which deals with the make-up of the Nuclear Decommissioning Finance Committee (NDFC). Currently, only members of the Fiscal Committee can serve on the NDFC. Under the proposed amendment, one member from each of the respective House and Senate policy committees would be appointed, as would one member from each body. The director of the Governor's Office of Energy and Community Services would replace a representative of the lead joint owners. There was no opposition to these changes in the composition of the NDFC at the public hearing. The Seabrook joint owners are also supporting this bill as amended. Vote 14-0.

Amendment (1421h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the obligations of joint owners to the nuclear decommissioning financing fund and relative to the membership of the nuclear decommissioning financing committee.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Public Safety and Welfare; Decommissioning of Nuclear Electric Generating Facilities; Committee Established; Composition. Amend RSA 162-F:15, II to read as follows:

II. Each committee shall consist of one person who is a resident of the town or city in which the facility is to be located and who shall be appointed by the selectmen of the town or the mayor and council of the city, the chairman of the public utilities commission, ~~[one senator, who is a member of the legislative fiscal committee]~~ 2 senators, at least one of whom shall be a member of the executive depart- ments and administration committee, or its successor, and one of whom shall be familiar with fiscal issues, to be appointed by the senate president, [one house member, who is a member of the legislative fiscal committee] 2 house members, at least one of whom shall be a member of the science, technology, and energy committee, or its successor, and one of whom shall be familiar with fiscal issues, to be appointed by the speaker of the house, the state treasurer or designee, the commissioner of the department of health and human services or designee, the commissioner of the department of safety or designee, and [a representative of the lead company as designated by the owner or owners of the facility] the director of the governor's office of energy and community services or designee.

2 Decommissioning of Nuclear Electric Generating Facilities; Guarantee of Payment; Default of Payment.

I. As used in this act, "joint owner of the facility without a franchise territory" means an owner of a facility, as defined in RSA 162-F:14, III, which does not have, either directly or indirectly through a subsidiary, affiliate, or contractual relationship, a retail electricity distribution franchise territory from which to collect decommissioning costs, on the effective date of this section.

II. The joint owners of a facility shall be proportional guarantors of the decommissioning obligations of any joint owner of the facility without a franchise territory.

III. The nuclear decommissioning financing committee shall designate the joint owners of a facility as proportional guarantors of any joint owners of the facility that are unable to meet their obligations as proportional guarantors of the decommissioning obligations of any joint owner of the facility without a franchise territory.

IV. If a joint owner of the facility without a franchise territory defaults on its decommissioning obligations, the committee shall require the remaining owners of the facility to submit for the committee's approval a plan for the fulfillment of the defaulting owner's decommissioning obligations. The plan shall be submitted within 30 days after the default. The plan may include the sale of the defaulting owner's share of the power generated by the facility, and the application of the proceeds of such sale to the defaulting owner's decommissioning obligations. For purposes of this section, "default" means the failure by an owner to make 2 consecutive payments to the fund required by RSA 162-F.

V. If there is no plan submitted and approved pursuant to paragraph III, the committee may prepare and implement a plan for recovering the decommissioning costs in default.

VI. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a utility that is required to pay a proportional share as guarantor pursuant to this section may charge all or some of the amount to customers on a per kilowatt hour basis only upon approval by the public utilities commission after a finding that such a charge is just and reasonable and in the public good.

VII. Any obligation incurred by an owner as a guarantor pursuant to this section shall be enforceable under the provisions of RSA 162-F.

3 Repeal. Section 2, relative to decommissioning of nuclear electric generating facilities, is repealed.

4 Contingency. Section 3 of this act shall take effect 30 days after the chairman of the nuclear decommissioning financing committee has certified to the secretary of state that comprehensive funding assurance for decommissioning has been implemented.

5 Effective Date.

I. Section 3 of this act shall take effect as provided in section 4.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill designates joint owners of a facility as guarantors of the decommissioning obligations of a joint owner without a franchise territory. This bill provides that the nuclear decommissioning finance committee shall require a plan for the fulfillment of the decommissioning obligations of a joint owner of a facility without a franchise territory that defaults. This bill also changes the membership of the nuclear decommissioning financing committee.

REGULAR CALENDAR

SB 308, relative to the board of directors of Delta Dental Plan of New Hampshire, Inc. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. John B. Hunt for Commerce: Delta Dental Plan of New Hampshire (DDPNH) was enabled by the Legislature through passage of Chapter 345 on 6/30/61. Accordingly, DDPNH is under the purview of the Legislature. DDPNH was incorporated on 7/26/66, recorded as a Voluntary Corporation under RSA 292 on 3/20/68, and was granted its tax exempt status on 2/21/73 as a 501c(4) organization.

In 1992, the Legislature enacted RSA 420-F which brought DDPNH's rate filing and other activities under the jurisdiction of the Department of Insurance. As a not-for-profit, DDPNH has a special obligation to promote the spread of affordable dental care to the citizens of New Hampshire. As documented recently by Michael DeLucia, Director of Charitable Trust, DDPNH's requirements for maintaining its tax exempt status include the promotion of "social welfare" – the activities of the organization must benefit the community as a whole, rather than merely benefiting the organization's membership.

Senate Bill 308, as passed by the Senate, was extremely controversial because it changed the election of board members by the dentists to the election of board members by the subscribers only, leaving the dentists out of the process.

After five(5) Public Work sessions, the Commerce Committee ("Committee of the whole") amended the original SB 308 to address concerns raised by both opponents and proponents of the Senate's version of SB 308.

The committee's amendment is a compromise now supported by the original proponents of the bill, the DDPNH Corporation, group purchasers, subscribers and dentist members, carefully crafted after over one month of negotiations. While retaining the current 7 dentist composition of the DDPNH board – everyone agrees that dentist input on the DDPNH board is important – an External Nominating Committee will now develop board candidates as terms expire and members of the board of directors will elect their own members from a slate developed by this impartial Nominating Committee. The board will no longer be elected by dentists in the state, eliminating perceived and potentially real conflict of interest in the current process. Dentists, however, retain their status as the sole members of the corporation and can approve DDPNH corporate by-laws by a majority vote. The by-laws also must be approved by 2/3 majority of the board. Vote 14-1.

Amendment (1409h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Definition Clarified. RSA 420-F:1, I(g) is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

(g) "Public member" means a member of the general public who may or may not be eligible for benefits under a Delta service plan, who shall not be in a position to make the dental plan purchasing decision for a group or be associated with the dental profession. Family members of persons in a position to make group dental plan purchasing decisions and family members of persons associated with the dental profession may not serve as public members.

2 New Subparagraph; Purchaser Member. Amend RSA 420-F:1, I by inserting after subparagraph (g) the following new subparagraph:

(gg) "Purchaser member" means an employer, association, union or other entity which is a current Delta group contract holder.

3 Board of Directors. RSA 420-F:2 is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

420-F:2 Directors.

I. The board of directors who shall manage the business and affairs of Delta shall be composed of 7 participating dentists, 4 public members, and 4 purchaser members.

II. A nominating committee composed of 2 participating dentists, one member of the general public and 2 purchasers, none of whom are members of the board, selected by a majority vote of the entire board, shall develop recommendations for board nominees, as board vacancies occur, which nominees shall be approved to serve on the board by a majority vote of the entire board. The nominating committee may use an outside consultant in selecting new board members as vacancies occur.

4 New Section; Bylaws. Amend RSA 420-F by inserting after section 2 the following new section:

420-F:2-a Bylaws. Any bylaw developed by the board of directors or developed by the members shall require approval of both 2/3 of the members of the board and a simple majority of all the members of Delta.

5 Initial Board Selection Committee. There shall be an initial board selection committee to select the members enumerated in section 3 of this act which shall be used as vacancies occur and until the provisions of section 3 are in place. The committee shall be composed as follows: the dentist members of the current board of directors, under RSA 420-F:2, shall select 2 participating dentists who are not board members, and Delta's senior management shall select one public member and 2 purchaser members none of whom are board members. In selecting the permanent board, the initial board selection committee shall use an outside consultant.

6 Applicability. The articles of agreement, bylaws, and all governing documents as they exist on the effective date of this act shall survive, except as expressly modified by this law; provided that there shall be no changes to existing bylaws or new bylaws made after March 17, 1998 until the new board is seated.

7 Effective Date. This act shall take effect July 1, 1998.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill modifies the qualifications of the board of directors of Delta Dental Plan of New Hampshire, Inc. and changes the composition of the board.

Adopted.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

HB 1663-FN, relative to rulemaking under the administrative procedures act. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Reps. Robert S. Mercer for Executive Departments and Administration: This amendment corrects most of the problems that the original bill addressed without taking away legislative oversight of the administrative rulemaking process: 1. The commissioner of administrative services has been given the responsibility to set up an administrative rules unit to train agencies, boards, and commissions in rule drafting procedures and to help these agencies, boards and commissions in the writing of proposed rules prior to the public hearings and before these rules are presented to the Joint Legislative Committee on Administrative Rules (JLCAR). 2. It directs the Commissioner of Administrative Services to complete his review of the rulemaking manual and to fulfill his obligation to have rules for all of his respective departments. 3. Several sections of the bill make technical changes to RSA 541-A which some agencies requested. These changes simplify and streamline the rule making process without jeopardizing legislative oversight, or the protection of the interests of the legislature, business, and the public. 4. To strengthen legislative oversight we included a "sunset provision" for agencies, boards and commissions that do not comply with the statutory authority to promulgate rules granted them by the legislature. 5 The original bill cut JLCAR staff by three people. This amendment leaves the staff intact and authorizes them to notify the chair of appropriate standing committees in the house and senate when agencies do not comply with 541-A or when JLCAR recommendations are made to agencies relative to legislation as a result of JLCAR's review of proposed or adopted rules. 6. JLCAR and its staff should be reviewing all proposed legislation dealing with rulemaking and assisting legislative policy committees in their consideration of such legislation. This will help policy committees draft proper rulemaking authority in pending legislation so that it is clear what authority will be given to the agency, board, or commission. 7. Finally, a legislative study committee is recommended to oversee the new responsibilities granted to the Commissioner of Administrative Services and to make recommendations for further changes to the rule making process if the need is justified. Vote 16-1.

Amendment (1318h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to rulemaking under the administrative procedures act and the responsibilities of the office of legislative services and the department of administrative services, and establishing a committee to study procedures in administrative rulemaking.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Findings and Purpose. It is the understanding of both the legislative and executive branches of state government that administrative rules and the rulemaking process are important and that both branches are committed to providing the necessary resources and expertise to prepare, review, and enforce administrative rules, with the understanding that rules have the force and effect of law and profoundly impact the lives and livelihoods of every citizen of New Hampshire.

2 Office of the Commissioner of Administrative Services; Number of Units Deleted. Amend the introductory paragraph of RSA 21-I:4 to read as follows:

21-I:4 Office Established. There is hereby established an office of the commissioner consisting of the following [5] units:

3 New Paragraph; Administrative Rules Unit. Amend RSA 21-I:4 by inserting after paragraph V the following new paragraph:

VI. Administrative rules.

4 New Section; Administrative Rules Unit. Amend RSA 21-I by inserting after section 7-b the following new section:

21-I:7-c Administrative Rules Unit.

I. There is hereby established in the office of the commissioner of administrative services an administrative rules unit. The commissioner is authorized to employ personnel as necessary.

II. The administrative rules unit shall be responsible for:

(b) Assisting all executive branch departments, boards, and commissions in drafting proposed rules under RSA 541-A.

(c) Carrying out the duties of the commissioner in developing a user friendly drafting and procedures manual pursuant to RSA 541-A:8 with the director of legislative services or staff of the office of legislative services and the joint legislative committee on administrative rules.

(d) Drafting all administrative rules required to be adopted by the commissioner of administrative services pursuant to RSA 541-A.

III. To carry out the responsibilities under subparagraphs II(a)-(c), the commissioner shall receive the full support and assistance of all executive branch departments, boards, and commissions, including but not limited to the use of personnel, equipment, and facilities.

5 New Paragraph; Definition Added; Department. Amend RSA 541-A:1 by inserting after paragraph V the following new paragraph:

V-a. "Department" means the department of administrative services.

6 Joint Legislative Committee on Administrative Rules. Amend RSA 541-A:2 to read as follows: 541-A:2 Joint Legislative Committee on Administrative Rules.

I. There is hereby created a joint legislative committee to be known as the joint legislative committee on administrative rules. The committee shall be composed of 10 members of the general court and 4 alternates to be appointed for 2-year terms ending on the first Wednesday in December of even-numbered years as follows: 5 members of the house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of the house in consultation with the minority leader, not more than 3 of whom shall be from the same party; 5 members of the senate, appointed by the senate president in consultation with the minority leader, not more than 3 of whom shall be from the same party; 2 alternate members of the house of representatives appointed by the speaker of the house in consultation with the minority leader, not more than one of whom shall be from the same party; and 2 alternate members of the senate, appointed by the senate president in consultation with the minority leader, not more than one of whom shall be from the same party. If a member of the committee is unable, for any reason, to attend a meeting or a portion of a meeting of the committee, the ~~[chairman]~~ chair shall designate an alternate member to serve ~~[in his place]~~ regardless of the number of other senators or representatives who attend the meeting. The committee shall elect a ~~[chairman]~~ chair and a ~~[vice-chairman]~~ vice-chair from among its members, provided that the ~~[chairmanship]~~ chair shall rotate biennially between the house and senate members.

II. The committee shall meet at least once each month and more often as necessary for the prompt discharge of its duties ~~[and may use the staff and services of the director of legislative services]. The director of legislative services shall provide services and shall employ full-time staff, including clerical support and specially designated committee legal counsel, in a division of administrative rules established within the office of legislative services, to the extent the committee deems necessary.~~ The committee shall adopt rules to govern its operation and organization. A quorum of the committee shall consist of 6 members. Members of the committee shall be entitled to legislative mileage as provided to members for attendance at sessions of the general court.

III. The committee may hold public hearings on a proposed or previously adopted rule on its own initiative. The committee shall give public notice of any hearing at least 7 days in advance in the rulemaking register. Any public hearing shall be scheduled at a time and place chosen to afford opportunity for affected persons to present their views. As appropriate, the committee may consult with the standing legislative committee having jurisdiction in the area of the rule under review.

IV. In addition to its ongoing review of proposed and adopted rules, the committee shall:

(a) Petition an agency under RSA 541-A:4 to adopt rules if the agency has clear rulemaking authority which it has not used.

(b) Review statutory passages granting rulemaking authority. On the basis of this review, the committee shall, before each regular legislative session, make written recommendations to the president of the senate and the speaker of the house as to how such passages should be amended to eliminate confusing, inefficient, or unnecessary statutory language.

(c) Make written recommendations, when appropriate, to the president of the senate and the speaker of the house as to how the legislative oversight of rulemaking might be improved. These recommendations may include proposed amendments to RSA 541-A.

(d) Have the authority to amend and provide the final approval of the drafting and procedure manual developed by the director of legislative services and the commissioner of administrative services under RSA 541-A:8.

(e) Notify the chairpersons of appropriate standing committees of the general court in writing when committee recommendations are made to agencies relative to legislation as a result of reviewing proposed and adopted rules.

(f) Make written recommendations, when appropriate, to the president of the senate, the speaker of the house of representatives, and the chairs of standing committees of the general court having jurisdiction over the subject matter of an agency concerning the amendment or repeal of the statutory authority of an agency that has enforced rules which are not effective or not otherwise valid, or that has not commenced rulemaking or adopted rules as required by statute.

7 Petition for Adoption of Rules. Amend RSA 541-A:4 to read as follows:

541-A:4 Petition for Adoption of Rules.

I. Any interested person may petition an agency to adopt, amend, or repeal a rule. Within 30 days of receiving the petition, the agency shall determine whether to grant or deny the petition and notify the petitioner. If the agency decides to deny the petition, the agency shall notify the petitioner of its decision in writing and shall state its reasons for denial. If the agency grants the petition, it shall notify the petitioner and commence the rulemaking proceeding by requesting a fiscal impact statement pursuant to RSA 541-A:5 within 120 days of receipt of the petition and continuing the proceeding as specified in RSA 541-A:3.

II. Notwithstanding paragraph I, if the committee petitions an agency to adopt, amend, or repeal a rule, and the agency does not notify the committee that rulemaking has commenced within one year of receiving the petition, or does not file a final proposal under RSA 541-A:12 within 2 years of receiving the petition, the committee may file legislation to repeal the agency's rulemaking authority or otherwise amend the agency authority.

8 Gender Neutral. Amend RSA 541-A:5, I and II to read as follows:

I. The agency shall provide the legislative budget assistant with adequate details of the intended action and supporting data to enable ~~him~~ the legislative budget assistant to prepare a fiscal impact statement.

II. The legislative budget assistant shall develop a form which shall specify the details and supporting data necessary ~~for him~~ to assess the fiscal impact of the proposed rule.

9 Gender Neutral. Amend the introductory paragraph of RSA 541-A:5, IV to read as follows:

IV. The fiscal impact statement issued by the legislative budget assistant shall not be limited to dollar amounts, but shall include a discussion of the methodology used ~~by him and the agency~~ to reach any stated amounts. In addition, the fiscal impact statement shall consist of:

10 Gender Neutral. Amend RSA 541-A:6, II and III to read as follows:

II. The director of legislative services may refuse to publish a notice if ~~he~~ the director determines that there is significant noncompliance with the requirements of paragraph I ~~above~~.

III. The agency shall send notice to the director of legislative services, to the president of the senate, to the speaker of the house of representatives, to the ~~chairman~~ chair of the fiscal committee, to the ~~chairmen~~ chairs of the legislative committees having jurisdiction over the subject matter, and to all persons who have made timely request for advance notice of rulemaking proceedings and to all persons regulated by the proposed rules who hold occupational licenses issued by the agency. Notice shall be made not less than 20 days before the first agency public hearing required by RSA 541-A:11. Notice to occupational licensees shall be by U.S. Mail, agency bulletin or newsletter, public notice advertisement in a publication of daily statewide circulation, or in such other manner deemed sufficient by the committee.

11 Drafting and Procedure Manual. Amend RSA 541-A:8 to read as follows:

541-A:8 Drafting and Procedure Manual.

I. Each agency shall conform to a drafting and procedure manual for rules, developed by the director of legislative services and the commissioner of administrative services, subject to amendment and final approval by the committee. The manual shall be submitted for approval by the committee no later than December 31, 1998. If no manual is submitted by such date, the committee shall have the authority to develop, and approve the manual. In either case, the committee shall provide final approval of the drafting and procedure manual no later than March 31, 1999. After March 31, 1999, the committee may propose further amendments to the manual. Any further amendments shall be subject to final approval by the committee.

II. The department shall assist an agency as often as necessary both prior to and during a rulemaking proceeding in drafting proposed rules to conform to the manual.

III. The director may require any agency to rewrite any rule submitted for filing to conform to this manual until that rule is adopted and filed under RSA 541-A:14 or RSA 541-A:19.

12 New Subparagraph; Rulemaking Register; List of Proposals. Amend RSA 541-A:9, I by inserting after subparagraph (i) the following new subparagraph:

(j) A list of proposals filed under RSA 541-A:12, I and proposed interim rules filed under RSA 541-A:19, II, and placed on the agenda for committee review at a regularly scheduled or special committee meeting.

13 Proposed Rule Text; Review by Department of Administrative Services. Amend RSA 541-A:10 to read as follows:

541-A:10 Filing of Proposed Rule Text.

I. At the same time the notice required by RSA 541-A:6, I is filed, the agency shall file the text of the proposed rule with the director of legislative services who shall provide copies for staff designated to the committee and to the department.

II. The department shall review the proposed rule for compliance with the drafting and procedure manual pursuant to RSA 541-A:8.

III. The text as filed shall not be changed or established as the text of the final proposal until after the conclusion of the public comment period established pursuant to RSA 541-A:11 and after certification by the department pursuant to RSA 541-A:12, II(f).

14 Submission of Materials to Board or Commission. Amend RSA 541-A:11, I to read as follows:

I. Each agency shall hold at least one public hearing on all proposed rules and shall afford all interested persons reasonable opportunity to testify and to submit data, views, or arguments in writing or, if practicable for the agency, in electronic format, in accordance with the terms of the notice and the provisions of this section. The legal counsel designated to the committee may provide oral or written comments on potential bases for committee objection under RSA 541-A:13, IV. Each agency shall require all materials submitted in writing to be signed by the person who submits them, and the agency shall transfer to hard copy, if practicable for the agency, all materials submitted as diskette, electronic mail, or other electronic format. Copies of the proposed rule shall be available to the public under RSA 91-A and at least 5 days prior to the hearing. For rules proposed by a board or commission, a period of at least [5] 7 days after the hearing shall be provided for the submission of [such written] materials in writing or electronic format, unless a shorter period is specified in the notice. If a shorter period is specified in the notice, the deadline for the submission of [written] such materials shall not be earlier than the scheduled conclusion of the public hearing. For rules proposed by an agency official, a period of at least [5] 7 days after the hearing shall be provided in all instances. If a hearing is continued or postponed as provided in paragraph III or IV of this section, the period for the submission of [written] materials in writing or electronic format shall be extended.

15 Public Comment; Extension of Deadlines. Amend RSA 541-A:11, III to read as follows:

III. To provide reasonable opportunity for public comment, the agency may continue a public hearing past the scheduled time or to another date, or may extend the deadline for submission of written comment. If the agency continues the hearing or extends the deadline, it shall notify the public by any means it deems appropriate, including notice in the rulemaking register whenever practicable.

16 New Paragraph; Filing Final Proposal; Placement on Agenda. Amend RSA 541-A:12, I to read as follows:

I. After considering fully public comment and any committee or designated legal counsel comments received pursuant to RSA 541-A:11, and any other relevant information, a quorum of the members of the agency or the agency official having rulemaking authority shall establish the text of the final proposed rule. After the text of the final proposed rule has been established, the agency shall file the final proposal no earlier than 21 days and no later than 150 days after the date of publication of the notice in the rulemaking register. If an agency is required to rewrite a rule in accordance with RSA 541-A:8, the agency shall have up to 180 days after the date of publication of the notice in the rulemaking register to file the final proposal. The agency shall file the final proposal with the director of legislative services, who shall provide copies to staff designated to the committee and to the department. Final proposals filed no later than ~~[14]~~ 28 days before a regularly scheduled committee meeting shall be placed on the agenda for that meeting. Final proposals filed fewer than ~~[14]~~ 28 days before a regularly scheduled committee meeting shall be placed on the agenda of the following regularly scheduled committee meeting, unless included on the agenda of an earlier meeting if the committee determines that such action is appropriate.

I-a. Legal counsel designated to the committee shall review the final proposal and identify potential bases for committee objection pursuant to RSA 541-A:13, IV. Legal counsel shall notify the committee and the agency filing the rule as soon as possible of any potential bases for objection.

17 New Paragraph. Amend RSA 541-A:12 by inserting after paragraph II (e) the following new paragraph:

(f) Certification from the department that the rule has been reviewed by the department and conforms to the requirements in the drafting and procedures manual under RSA 541-A:8.

18 Procedure Changed; Review by Joint Legislative Committee on Administrative Rules. RSA 541-A:13 is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

541 -A:13 Review by the Joint Legislative Committee on Administrative Rules.

I. Within 60 days of the filing of a final proposal with the director of legislative services, the committee may approve the rule or object under paragraph V. Objections to a rule may be made only once.

II.(a) After filing a final proposal pursuant to RSA 541-A:12, an agency may file a proposed amendment to the final proposal with the director for review by the committee and request that the committee approve the rule with the amendment. Both the request and the amendment shall be in writing and shall be filed at least 7 days prior to the regularly scheduled meeting or special meeting for which the final proposal has been placed on the agenda.

(b) The committee may:

(1) Approve the rule as originally filed pursuant to RSA 541-A:12;

(2) Approve the rule with the amendment; or

(3) Object under paragraph V.

(c) If the committee approves the rule as filed pursuant to RSA 541-A:12, or with the amendment, it shall notify the agency in writing of its approval.

(d) Failure to give take action under subparagraph II(a) by the end of the 60-day period shall be deemed approval.

III. If the rule is approved under subparagraph II(c) or (d), the agency may adopt the rule.

IV. The committee may object to a proposed rule if the rule is:

(a) Beyond the authority of the agency;

(b) Contrary to the intent of the legislature;

(c) Determined not to be in the public interest; or

(d) Deemed by the committee to have a substantial economic impact not recognized in the fiscal impact statement.

V. The following procedures shall govern committee objections:

(a) If the committee objects to the rule, it shall promptly send the agency a preliminary written objection stating the basis for the objection. A preliminary objection shall require the assent of a majority of the votes cast, a quorum being present.

(b) The agency shall respond to the preliminary objection by withdrawing the rule, by amending the rule to remove the basis for objection, or by making no change. The agency shall respond to a committee objection only once, except as provided in subparagraph V(d).

(c) The quorum of the board or commission or the agency official having rulemaking authority may respond in writing prior to the adjournment of the committee meeting during which the preliminary objection was made. The committee may address the response in the same meeting. The agency shall otherwise report its response in writing to the committee within 45 days of the committee's vote to make a preliminary objection. Failure to respond to the committee within

45 days shall mean the rulemaking procedure for that proposed rule is invalid; however, the agency is not precluded from initiating the process over again for a similar rule. After receipt of the agency response, the committee may modify its objections made under paragraph IV or approve the rule.

(d) After submitting its preliminary objection response and prior to the final committee vote on the final proposal, and in all cases, prior to the adoption of the rule by the agency, the agency may request the committee to approve the rule with further amendment or to issue a revised objection. The committee may approve the rule with further amendment only if the agency submits the request and proposed amendment in writing to the committee at least 7 days prior to the committee meeting at which the agency presents the rule. Submission of such a request shall not preclude the agency from requesting a revised objection if the committee does not approve the rule as requested.

(e) A revised objection may be made only once by the committee and may be made only at the request of the agency. The agency shall respond and the committee may review the response in the same manner as a preliminary objection. No further amendment may be made by the agency after it responds to the committee except as provided in RSA 541-A:14, II.

(f) If the agency responds but the basis for the committee's preliminary or revised objection has not been removed or the response creates a new basis for objection, the committee may, by majority vote of the entire committee, file a final objection. The final objection shall be filed in certified form with the director of legislative services, who shall publish the objection in the next issue of the rulemaking register.

VI. After a final objection by the committee to a provision in the rule is filed with the director under subparagraph V(f), the burden of proof shall be on the agency in any action for judicial review or for enforcement of the provision to establish that the part objected to is within the authority delegated to the agency, is consistent with the intent of the legislature, is in the public interest, or does not have a substantial economic impact not recognized in the fiscal impact statement. If the agency fails to meet its burden of proof, the court shall declare the whole or a portion of the rule objected to invalid. The failure of the committee to object to a rule shall not be an implied legislative authorization of its substantive or procedural lawfulness.

VII.(a) The provisions of this paragraph may be used by the committee as an alternative to or in addition to the final objection procedure employed by the committee in paragraph V.

(b) If an agency responds to a preliminary or revised objection but the basis for objection has not been removed or the response creates a new basis for objection, the committee may, within 45 days from the date on which the objection response was due and by majority vote of the entire committee, recommend legislative action through sponsorship of a joint resolution to implement its recommendation. Such vote shall prevent the rule from being adopted and filed by the agency for the period of time specified in subparagraph VII(c).

(c) If the committee votes to sponsor a joint resolution pursuant to subparagraph VII(b), the agency shall be prevented from adopting and filing such rule until final legislative action is taken on the resolution or the passage of 90 consecutive calendar days during which the general court shall have been in session, whichever occurs first. The 90 calendar day period shall commence on the date such joint resolution has been introduced. If the session of the general court adjourns prior to the sixtieth calendar day after such joint resolution has been introduced, then the agency shall be prevented from adopting and filing such rule until 90 calendar days, beginning with the next session of the general court, have passed.

(d) The provisions of this paragraph shall apply to only the portion of the agency's rule identified in the joint resolution. The provisions of this paragraph shall not prevent an agency from adopting and filing the remainder of the rules in the final proposal under RSA 541-A while the committee pursues legislative action under this paragraph, nor shall it prevent the committee from also voting to enter a final objection pursuant to paragraph V.

(e) Nothing in this section shall prevent the general court from introducing legislation which addresses any matter included in a joint resolution introduced under the provisions of this section.

(f) Notwithstanding any house or senate rules to the contrary, a joint resolution which the committee votes to sponsor under subparagraph VII(b) may be introduced at any time during the legislative session. It shall be subject to the same rules as any other bill introduced at the beginning of the legislative session.

19 Final Adoption of Rules. Amend RSA 541-A:14, I-II to read as follows:

I. An agency may adopt a properly filed final proposed rule after:

(a) The passage of ~~[45]~~ 60 days from filing of a final proposal under RSA 541-A:12 without receiving notice of objection from the committee;

(b) Receiving notice of approval from the committee under RSA 541-A:13;

(c) Passage of the ~~[45-day]~~ 60-day period for committee review of the preliminary objection response, or revised objection response, if applicable, provided that the committee has not voted to sponsor a joint resolution pursuant to RSA 541-A:13, VII; or

(d) Final legislative action, as defined in RSA 541-A:1, VI-a, is taken on the joint resolution sponsored pursuant to RSA 541-A:13, VII(b) or the passage of the 90 consecutive calendar days specified by RSA 541-A:13, VII(c), whichever occurs first.

II. The text of the adopted rule shall be the same as the text of the final proposed rule submitted under RSA 541-A:12, except that any specific change may be made by the agency in direct response to the committee's ~~[written]~~ preliminary or revised objection or as approved pursuant to RSA 541-A:13. The director of legislative services may refuse to accept for filing any final rule which contains changes, other than minor editorial changes, that are not specifically authorized in the committee's written objection. The agency shall identify each minor editorial change in writing to the director of legislative services.

III. The agency shall file 2 copies of all adopted rules with the director of legislative services, who shall provide copies to staff designated to the committee and to the department.

20 Administrative Rules; Publishing. Amend RSA 541-A:15, I to read as follows:

I. The director of legislative services shall compile, index, and publish, or require agencies to publish all effective rules adopted by each agency. The text of an adopted rule as filed with the director and which is effective shall be the official version of the rule, unless or until a version prepared for publication, which may have editorial changes not affecting the substance of the rule, is certified by the agency as the same in substance as originally filed. The certified version shall be the official version. The official version of the rule shall be available to the public by the agency and the director pursuant to RSA 541-A:14, IV.

I-a. The agency shall certify the rule under paragraph I within 120 days of the effective date of the rule. The 120-day deadline shall not apply to interim or emergency rules. A copy of each rule as filed and each as certified shall be sent by the director to the state library and the New Hampshire law library at the supreme court.

I-b. Compilations shall be supplemented, revised, or published as often as necessary. The compilation, indexing, or publishing of fiscal impact statements shall not be required. The director of legislative services, in consultation with state agencies, may enter into a contract for the preparation and publishing of the compilation of agency rules or any portion of it, or may certify a commercially prepared version of the compilation. Any version or portion of the code published under this section shall conform to all requirements of this chapter.

21 Application of Deadline; Commissioner Added. Amend RSA 541-A:16, IV to read as follows:

IV. If any deadline for action by an agency, the public, the commissioner, or the committee, imposed by this chapter falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or state legal holiday, the deadline for such action shall be extended to the next day that is not a Saturday, Sunday, or state legal holiday.

22 Time Limit; Reference to Manual Added. Amend RSA 541-A:17, I to read as follows:

I. No rule shall be effective for a period of longer than 8 years, but the agency may adopt an identical rule under RSA 541-A:5 through RSA 541-A:14, in conformance with the drafting and procedure manual.

23 Emergency Rules. Amend RSA 541-A:18, II to read as follows:

II. Notwithstanding RSA 541-A:16, III, emergency rules adopted under this section shall not remain in effect for more than 120 days from the date and time of filing with the director of legislative services, who shall provide copies to staff designated to the committee and to the department. An agency may propose a permanent rule on the same subject at the same time that it adopts an emergency rule, but it shall not adopt the same emergency rule when the emergency rule expires.

24 New Paragraph; Interim Rules. Amend RSA 541-A:19 by inserting after paragraph II the following new paragraph:

II-a. The director of legislative services shall provide copies of proposed interim rules to staff designated to the committee and to the department.

25 Committee Procedure on Interim Rules. Amend RSA 541-A:19, VIII to read as follows:

VIII. The following procedures shall govern committee objections:

(a) If the committee objects to the proposed interim rule, it shall notify the agency promptly by sending the agency a written objection stating the basis for the objection ~~[and recommending that the agency amend or withdraw the proposed interim rule]~~. An objection shall require the assent of a majority of the votes cast, a quorum being present.

(b) If the committee makes an objection to the proposed interim rule, the agency may cure the defect or withdraw the interim rule. The agency shall respond to a committee objection only once~~[-and]~~. The quorum of the board or commission or the agency official having rulemaking authority may respond in writing prior to the adjournment of the committee meeting during which the objection was made. The committee may address the response in the same meeting. The agency shall otherwise report its response in writing to the committee prior to its next regularly scheduled meeting. Failure to respond to the committee [in accordance with this subparagraph] prior to the next regularly scheduled committee meeting shall mean the rulemaking procedure for that proposed interim rule is invalid; however, the agency is not precluded from initiating the process over again for a similar rule, provided that the conditions in paragraph I are met.

(c) The committee shall review the response and vote to approve the response or continue the objection.

(d) The committee's objection shall not preclude the agency from adopting the substance of an interim rule by meeting the requirements of RSA 541-A:3.

26 Adoption of Proposed Interim Rule; Effective Period Increased. Amend RSA 541-A:19, X to read as follows:

X. No proposed interim rule shall be adopted unless the committee has voted to approve the proposed interim rule. An adopted interim rule shall be filed with the director of legislative services no later than 30 days following committee approval. The director shall provide copies of adopted interim rules to the designated staff of the committee and to the department. An interim rule shall be effective under RSA 541-A:16, III on the day after filing with the director of legislative services, or at a later date, provided the agency so specifies in a letter to the director of legislative services and the effective date is within 30 days following committee approval. Interim rules shall be effective for a period not to exceed ~~[+20]~~ 180 days. During the time an interim rule shall be in effect, the agency may propose a permanent rule to replace the interim rule once it expires, but it shall not adopt another interim rule to replace the expiring interim rule.

27 Gender Neutral; Executive Orders. Amend RSA 541-A:28 to read as follows:

541-A:28 Executive Orders and Opinions of the Attorney General. The secretary of state shall transmit each executive order received from the governor to the director of legislative services, who shall publish the text of the executive order in the register of notice of rulemaking proceedings. The attorney general shall transmit a copy of every non-confidential opinion relative to rulemaking or rulemaking authority issued by ~~[him]~~ the attorney general or in ~~[his]~~ the attorney general's name to the director of legislative services. The director shall publish such opinions in the rulemaking register.

28 Gender Neutral. Amend RSA 541-A:31, V(b) to read as follows:

(b) In order to facilitate proceedings and encourage informal disposition, the presiding officer may, upon motion of any party, or upon ~~[his]~~ the presiding officer's own motion, schedule one or more informal prehearing conferences prior to beginning formal proceedings. The presiding officer shall provide notice to all parties prior to holding any prehearing conference.

29 Gender Neutral. Amend RSA 541-A:35 to read as follows:

541-A:35 Decisions and Orders. A final decision or order adverse to a party in a contested case shall be in writing or stated in the record. A final decision shall include findings of fact and conclusions of law, separately stated. Findings of fact, if set forth in statutory language, shall be accompanied by a concise and explicit statement of the underlying facts supporting the findings. If, in accordance with agency rules, a party submitted proposed findings of fact, the decision shall include a ruling upon each proposed finding. Parties shall be notified either personally or by mail of any decision or order. Upon request, a copy of the decision or order shall be delivered or mailed promptly to each party and to ~~[his]~~ a party's recognized representative.

30 Gender Neutral; Suspension of Provisions. Amend RSA 541-A:40, I to read as follows:

I. To the extent necessary to avoid a denial of funds or services from the United States which would otherwise be available to the state, the governor may suspend, in whole or in part, one or more provisions of this chapter. When the governor determines that a suspension is no longer necessary to prevent the loss of funds or services from the United States, [he] the governor shall issue an order specifying the dates of termination of a suspension.

31 Validity of Existing Rules. All rules adopted and effective on the effective date of this act shall remain valid until amended, repealed, or expired.

32 Application of Procedure Changes in Rulemaking Process.

I. The provisions of sections 13, 14, and 17 of this act shall apply beginning on August 1, 1998.

II. The provisions of sections 16, 18, 19, 23, 24, and 26 of this act shall apply beginning on August 10, 1998.

33 Required Information By Department of Administrative Services. The administrative rules unit in the office of the commissioner of administrative services, established in RSA 21-I:7-c, as inserted by section 4 of this act, shall provide, as soon as possible, information to all agencies having rulemaking authority of the procedural and other changes required by this act in order to facilitate rulemaking by agencies.

34 Applicability of Rules Publication Changes. The provisions of RSA 541-A:15 as amended by section 20 of this act shall apply to rules filed and effective after the effective date of this act.

35 Study Committee Established. There is established a committee to study procedures in administrative rulemaking.

I. The members of the committee shall be as follows:

(a) Four members of the house of representatives, one of whom shall be a member of the joint legislative committee on administrative rules, appointed by the speaker of the house.

(b) Four members of the senate, one of whom shall be a member of the joint legislative committee on administrative rules, appointed by the president of the senate

II. Members of the committee shall receive mileage at the legislative rate when attending to the duties of the committee.

III. The duties of the committee shall include but not be limited to:

(a) Examining all relevant aspects of HB 1663-FN of the 1998 session.

(b) Exploring the ways that administrative rulemaking under RSA 541-A may be enforced.

(c) Recommending ways to improve the public notification of and involvement in pending rulemaking under RSA 541-A.

IV. The members of the study committee shall elect a chairperson from among the members. The first meeting of the committee shall be called by the first-named house member. The first meeting of the committee shall be held within 45 days of the effective date of this section. Five members of the committee shall constitute a quorum.

V. The committee, in each of the next 2 years, shall report its findings and any recommendations for proposed legislation to the senate president, the speaker of the house of representatives, the joint legislative committee on administrative rules, the senate clerk, the house clerk, the governor, and the state library on or before November 1, 1998, and November 1, 1999.

36 Effective Date. This act shall take effect July 1, 1998.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes an administrative rules unit in the office of the commissioner of administrative services and changes the rulemaking procedure for agencies under RSA 541-A. This bill also establishes a committee to study the procedures for administrative rulemaking.

Adopted.

Rep. Mercer yielded to questions.

Report adopted and referred to Finance.

SB 406, establishing a legislative task force to develop a state government restructuring plan. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. James P. Pilliod for Executive Departments and Administration: This bill suggests a task force to develop a state government restructuring plan in about six months with a report due on or before November 1, 1998. The committee considered carefully the merits of such a task force and despite many benefits that might accrue decided that the task assigned was too monumental to accomplish in such a short time. It was noted that a prior effort of a task force in 1991 and 1992 was not eminently successful. Documentation of spotty and early successes elsewhere were considered to be interesting but inconclusive. Many reforms that are needed could probably be initiated without new legislation. The makeup of the task force as proposed does not include members from the executive branch or the public. Vote 12-5.

Rep. Loren Jean requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being the adoption of the report.

SB 476-FN, relative to ambulatory surgical facilities. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT
 Rep. Alice Z. Calvert for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: After much collaboration an amendment replacing the entire bill was generated. Because the data from the two-year pilot program allowing 24-hour stay in an ambulatory surgical facility was not adequate to reach a conclusion, the pilot will be extended for two years. The facility will continue to offer two 24-hour beds. On October 1, 1999, the health services and review board will issue a report of findings and recommendations. The legislature can use these recommendations to further assure that public protection is in place. In July of 2000 ambulatory surgical centers, still under pilot program regulations, may offer 5 beds for 24-hour stays. As these facilities are already a part of our health care system, this bill will help assure consumer safety. Vote 12-3.

Amendment (1350h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

I Statement of Intent.

I. 1996, 299:4 created a 2-year ambulatory surgical facilities pilot program to study the need for and efficiency of overnight beds in ambulatory surgical facilities. The pilot program permits ambulatory surgical facilities licensed on or before July 1, 1996, to provide beds for the overnight stay of patients. The pilot program is due to terminate on July 1, 1998.

II. The general court recognizes that the pilot program established pursuant to 1996, 299:4 regarding overnight beds in ambulatory surgical facilities seeks to:

(a) Reduce health care costs to consumers, costs to third party payors, and aggregate costs to the public;

(b) Improve the standards of health care delivery; and

(c) Provide increased choices and/or access for patients.

III. The pilot program created by 1996, 299:4 began receiving data from some participating facilities pursuant to He-Hea 1500 (effective date 10/13/97) in December, 1997. Pursuant to RSA 126:25, hospitals report ambulatory surgical care data on a semi-annual basis, 6 months after the close of the reporting period.

IV. In order to avoid the discontinuation of the pilot program prior to the completion of the study, the general court wishes to extend the pilot program to July 1, 2000, and to include within the pilot program ambulatory surgical facilities licensed after July 1, 1996. The report on the extended pilot program will be due on or before October 1, 1999, to permit legislative action, if any is needed, during the 2000 session of the general court.

2 Ambulatory Surgical Facilities. Amend RSA 151-C:2-a to read as follows:

151-C:2-a Ambulatory Surgical Facilities.

I. An ambulatory surgical facility licensed ~~[on or before July 1, 1996]~~ by the state which is participating in the pilot program established pursuant to 1996, 299:4, as amended, may provide 2 beds for the overnight stay of patients, not to exceed 24 hours. An individual patient shall be discharged in an ambulatory condition ~~[without danger to the continued well-being of the patient]~~ or shall be transferred to a ~~[hospital]~~ health care facility.

II. An ambulatory surgical facility licensed ~~[after July 1, 1996]~~ by the state which is not participating in the pilot program established pursuant to 1996, 299:4, as amended, shall not provide beds or other accommodations for the overnight stay of patients. An individual patient shall be discharged in an ambulatory condition ~~[without danger to the continued well-being of the patient]~~ or shall be transferred to a ~~[hospital]~~ health care facility.

3 Pilot Program. Amend 1996, 299:4 to read as follows:

299:4 Ambulatory Surgical Facility Pilot Program. The health services planning and review board (board) shall establish ~~[a 2-year]~~ an ambulatory surgical facility pilot program to study ~~[the need for and efficiency of]~~ overnight beds in ambulatory surgical facilities. This pilot program shall terminate July 1, ~~[1998]~~ 2000. Ambulatory surgical facilities licensed by the state of New Hampshire ~~[on or prior to July 1, 1996]~~, which elect to provide overnight stays under RSA 151-C:2-a, I, shall participate in the pilot program by notifying the board and fulfilling licensure requirements established in accordance with RSA 151. The commissioner of health and human services shall adopt rules, pursuant to RSA 541-A, regarding quality and safety standards for overnight beds in ambulatory surgical facilities. The board shall require participating facilities to submit utilization and financial data in order for the board to complete its study. ~~[Upon completion of the pilot program]~~ On or before October 1, 1999, the board shall issue a report containing findings and recommendations to the governor, the president of the senate, the speaker of the house, the senate clerk, the house clerk, and the state library regarding ~~[the future need, if any, for overnight beds in ambulatory surgical facilities]~~:

I. Reduction in health care costs to consumers, costs to third party payors, and aggregate costs to the public;

II. Improvement in the standards of health care delivery;

III. Provision of increased choices and/or access for patients; and

IV. Need for and use of overnight stays in ambulatory surgical facilities.

4 Ambulatory Surgical Facilities. RSA 151-C:2-a is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

151-C:2-a Ambulatory Surgical Facilities. An ambulatory surgical facility may provide beds or other accommodations for the overnight stay of up to 5 patients not to exceed 24 hours from the time of admission. Thereafter, an individual patient shall be discharged in an ambulatory condition or shall be transferred to a health care facility. The rules adopted pursuant to 1996, 299:4 regarding quality and safety standards for overnight beds in ambulatory surgical facilities shall remain in effect.

5 Repeals.

I. 1996, 299:3 and 5, relative to ambulatory surgical facilities, are repealed.

II. 1996, 299:6, relative to the effective date of the prospective repeal of overnight stays, is repealed.

6 Effective Date.

I. Section 4 of this act shall take effect July 1, 2000.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect June 30, 1998.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill extends the ambulatory surgical facilities pilot program to July 1, 2000.

Adopted.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 309, relative to distributors and suppliers of bingo equipment. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. William J. Desrosiers for Local and Regulated Revenues: This bill would provide for a better tracking system of bingo paper sales in order to prevent possible illegal lost revenue to charitable organizations. Vote 13-3.

Adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 467-FN, requiring the department of transportation to construct sound barriers along certain streets in Nashua. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Gene G. Chandler for Public Works and Highways: This bill, if enacted, would require the Department of Transportation to construct sound barriers in two locations along the F.E. Everett Turnpike at an estimated cost of $800,000. Those two areas that are the focus of this bill are the Freshwater Court and Tempo Topaz developments. Testimony before the committee revealed that the Freshwater Court development came well after all hearings regarding the expansion of the turnpike, location of sound barriers, landscaping plans, etc., were finalized. In a letter to residents of the area from the Mayor of Nashua, he states that the New Hampshire Department of Transportation has the right-of-way to all land utilized in the turnpike expansion, and had the expansion plans, including sound walls, completed several years before Freshwater Court was developed. The Mayor also states that the Planing Board of Nashua took several steps to ensure that prospective homeowners were well aware of the turnpike expansion, and the city of Nashua allowed prospective purchasers to make their own decisions concerning the discounted house prices at Freshwater Court due to the location. The committee felt it would be setting a bad precedent to require after the fact sound barriers in the Freshwater Court area. The Tempo Topaz area is a different situation, as the turnpike expansion affected existing homes, and both the committee and the Department of Transportation felt there was an obligation to provide sound relief in this area. The Department met with residents of the area, and the outcome of those discussions was a commitment by the Department of Transportation to construct 1400 feet of treated timber fencing varying in height from eight to ten feet. In addition, further tree planting and landscaping will be done in both areas. The committee feels that both areas highlighted in SB 467 have been taken care of in an appropriate manner, and the bill is unnecessary at this time. Vote 11-5.

Reps. D'Allesandro and Gene Chandler spoke to the report.

Rep. Jane Clemons requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being the adoption of the report.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Rep. Root addressed the House.

Rep. Avery moved that the remarks made by Rep. Root be printed in the Journal.

Adopted.

Rep. Root: Thank you, Madam Speaker. A couple of weeks ago, we in this chamber were privileged to recognize those of Scottish heritage with the wearing of the tartans and kilts and the sound of bagpipes. A few weeks before that many of us celebrated our real or adopted Irish heritage on St. Patrick's Day. Personally, having visited Ireland and the town of Kilkenny, which was the home of my maternal great-grandmother, only last fall, St. Patrick's Day held a special significance for me this year. I think, Madam Speaker, it is appropriate to recognize that since we last met in this House, there has been a major break-through for peace in Northern Ireland and I'm sure that all of us prayed for its success. Today, as has been noted in eloquent debate, is April the 23rd, which is St. George's Day, the National Day of England, the land of my birth. I could mark this day by recounting the victories of English Armies or the heritage of law, of literature, of language and customs that England has given us. Let me tell you a little bit about my ancestors that first came to this country in 1637 and 1640, John and Thomas Root from the little village of Badby in Northamptonshire. Their ancestors and their descendants contributed to this wonderful country that we all enjoy here today. Two of their descendants ended up in the town of Plymouth, Ohio and they had a machine shop where they made farm implements and they developed an automobile that they named after the name of that town, the Plymouth. Unfortunately, they sold it to a man named Chrysler and the money went with it. But there was another famous Root, Elihu of Hamilton, New York who ended up being the Secretary of War and the Secretary of State for President Roosevelt and won the Nobel Peace Prize. I'm very proud of that. I didn't get to this country until 1952. Time will tell what contributions the family will make in the future. If you will indulge me for a few moments on this St. George's Day, I'd like to mark it by reciting to you the first verse of one of my favorite poems. A poem that reflects my pride in my English national heritage. It was written by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice who was England's Ambassador to the United States during the First World War. He wrote it at the Embassy in Washington on his very last night there as Ambassador. It is entitled, I Vow To Thee, My Country. I vow to thee, my country, all earthly things above, Entire and whole and perfect, the service of my love; The love that asks no question, The love that stands the test, That lays upon the altar the dearest and the best; The love that never falters, The love that pays the price, The love that makes undaunted the final sacrifice. Madam Speaker, these United States are now home to people from countries from all over the globe. President Franklin Delano Roosevelt once said, "we are all immigrants." So, I say to all of you, my colleagues, be as proud of your national heritage, whatever it may be, as I am of mine and thank you for allowing me these few brief moments to reflect upon it. Happy St. George's Day.

Rep. Rosen addressed the House.

Rep. Avery moved that the remarks made by Rep. Rosen be printed in the Journal.

Adopted.

Rep. Rosen: Thank you, Madam Speaker. This must be a day that we endure history class in this House. Last session, two weeks ago, we were treated to a strong display of Scottish pride on New Hampshire's Tartan Day. We heard the pipers in full uniform and we listened to Rep. Avery's eloquent recounting of the contributions to the state and nation of those men and women of Scottish ancestry. I would like to make a special note of one man, born in Scotland, he was not only of Scottish ancestry, he was born there. He was among a handful of genuine heroes who made possible the United State of America. To me, as to all others who have served in my former profession, a Naval officer, he is regarded as the father of the United States Navy. He is, of course, John Paul Jones. His daring exploits and successes against the vastly superior British fleet during the Revolutionary War have served as an inspiration to Naval personnel of all ranks since that struggle. His tomb, in Annapolis, is the Navy's most highly regarded shrine. Many books have been written about John Paul Jones covering not only his colorful career and tactical successes that he enjoyed, but also the guiding principles of conduct that he laid down in writing and by personal example. Incidentally, he was no stranger to New Hampshire. He took command of two ships at different times in Portsmouth, including the original Ranger. He ranged far and wide securing battle victories in capturing ships, not only in the western Atlantic but as far away as France and the coastal waters of Great Britain itself. Could we have won the war without him? I don't know. But if we were to make a short list of the founders of our country, John Paul Jones would certainly be on it. Thank you.

HOUSE JOURNAL No. 12

Thursday, May 7, 1998

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the Speaker.

Prayer was offered by Guest Chaplain, Reverend David Kerr, Pastor of the Wesley United Methodist Church in Concord.

Most gracious God, we pray that You would invoke Your blessings upon this legislative body. Inspire them, our Governor and all other elected officials with the spirit of truth, honor and integrity. May they be gracious in debate and dispute, may they hear one another in love and truth. Help them to use their position and power for the good of all; to see that justice is consistent and inclusive. Help them to act by conviction and with integrity by giving them guidance and wisdom that will allow for insight. May they face the issues of state and community without giving in to emotion or self-interest. Free them from the prisons of old patterns and ideas that do not speak to today's issues and dilemmas. May they have the resolution to act in the best interest of the citizenry, both present and future. In a world of half truths that are spoken with an air of sincerity, grant this body the ability to disseminate love, truth and equity. O Lord, may the actions of this august body help create better days and better ways for all. Give them the joy of seeing the fruits of their labors in a peaceful, just, and secure society. We pray all these things in Your holy name. Amen.

On May 20, 1998, a motion to print those remarks in the Journal was defeated.

(Speaker Sytek presiding)

The Speaker introduced Speaker Newt Gingrich who addressed the Joint Convention.

REMARKS

Speaker Gingrich: Thank you very much, Madam Speaker and Mr. President. It is a great honor to be here and I appreciate very much this warm welcome. I should confess that I was aware of your state amphibian because when Governor Sununu was Chief of Staff and I would go into a meeting with him he would routinely turn and say, "Well, the red spotted Newt has arrived." It is great to be here. It is true that when Bill Zeliff had me up and we were wandering around trying to find a moose, there was a brief period of desperation. My wife had come up a day earlier and had gone to the outlet stores and had a doubly successful day. She had done very well at the stores and she had seen a moose. She was about to get a T-shirt made that said, "I saw my moose. Where's Newt's?" Bill, who had promised me, guaranteed me, that we would see a moose, was desperate. In fact, at one point they had a stuffed moose available just to be able to say, "Look, we did the best we could. What can we tell you?" But, I think we ended up on that trip having helped the tourism industry up here a fair amount because it was a summer opportunity to explain why you should come up here to the beautiful North country. We ended up having a bus and a half full of photographers. These were all political photographers. You see them every four years because they come for the primary. I'd never realized, I think both Bill and I were shocked, these people had spent so much time shooting boring politicians in boring settings; that letting them out in the woods, running around looking for moose, they were like kids at summer camp. It was one of the most amazing things I've ever done. MaryAnn and I both have very, very fond memories and I'm delighted to be back.

I want to start with the notion that one of the reasons I really appreciate a chance to come and talk to you is that a major part of what we are trying to do, which I think is a real turning point in American political history, is we are trying to move back to a partnership with the state and local communities where you advise us. As I talk about a couple of major issues today, I hope you will feel that we are in the same business. We have to run for office, we have to win an election. We have to serve constituents. You are much closer to the people than we are, both by virtue of the fact that you get to go home regularly and you are in a situation where you actually have more members per thousand people than we do by a big margin. I think as a result you can come back and say to us, "Well, here are the nine things you ought to do at the federal level to make life easier in New Hampshire." I want you to know that unlike the politics of the past where the federal government showed up to tell you what to do, we really are serious and we've tried to develop a relationship with governors and legislatures and also with county commissions and school boards and city councils where you tell us what federal reporting makes no sense, let's cut it out; what federal regulations are actually counterproductive, let's eliminate them; what federal bureaucracies aren't doing their jobs, let's clean them up. So, you really become, in a sense, scouts for modernization where your various committees can look at the federal role and say, "Here is what you are doing." I'll give you one example. We have an absolute obligation - and this is something I want to particularly credit Charlie Bass and Senator Judd Gregg for - we have a particular obligation for the federal government to meet its commitment in funding the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act because it is not fair to have a federal mandate that crushes local communities when the federal government doesn't need to tell you what to do. That is an example of the kind of feedback where we learn from local communities right here in New Hampshire that the effect of the act, because of the nature of local schools, was really in some cases to virtually bankrupt the system when the act, with the best of intents, was designed to help people, when, in fact, it was forcing an enormous diversion of resources because the federal government had not met its obligation. It said it would fund 40 percent of the cost. It is only funding seven and we are making meeting that funding one of our highest priorities as we look at the budget this year. But, that sort of thinking will help us across the board.

Let me also say that on the way up this morning - I tried to get up last night and fog wouldn't let us get in so we came up very early this morning - on the way up I was looking at various newspaper reports. It was announced yesterday that the surplus in April alone, as people pay their taxes, is so large that the federal government is actually going to make a substantial down payment this month on paying down the federal debt for the first time, I think, in our life time. I confess that we have a long way to go in Washington to meet the New Hampshire standard of frugality. We have a very long way to go in Washington. We may never quite get as far as the New Hampshire standard. But we have started to move. We passed welfare reform and the result is today 2.2 million fewer people are on the tax rolls taking money and 2,200,000 more people are in the private sector earning a living and paying taxes. You have been a help. We did that in cooperation with the states. We saved medicare without raising taxes by focusing on additional choice for senior citizens, on preventive care for diabetes, breast cancer, colon-rectal cancer and prostate and the result is that we think for at least a decade we have saved medicare without a tax increase. We now have a commission to work on saving medicare for the baby boomers and their children, again without a tax increase. We want to provide better services through better choices, through better science. We don't want to just raise more taxes to hire more bureaucrats to have more control in Washington. It is a very different model than the one that we used to have. In addition, we did cut taxes and, in fact, to my delight, the morning newspapers indicate that one of the major reasons for the large surge in revenue is that the capital gains tax cut, once again as it always has, increased government revenue because a lower capital gains rate leads more people to cash in their capital gains and lower rate times more transactions is higher revenue for the government. So, I will be introducing in the near future a bill to cut capital gains to 15 percent to create even more revenue next year. We also, as part of our tax cuts last year, cut the death tax but that is not good enough. We will be introducing a bill to eliminate the death tax in this country. It is wrong to punish parents and grandparents who work all their lives to save for their children and grandchildren. A healthy society encourages parents and grandparents to care for their children and grandchildren. The fact is this is not just a dream. In California in 1982 when abolishing the inheritance tax was on the ballot, 65 percent of the people of California voted "yes" because they know that it is wrong to ask somebody to visit the undertaker and the IRS the same week. I believe we can abolish the inheritance tax and allow people to pass on their farms, their businesses and their personal estates to their children without having to pay a second tax on it. The result of all this effort is that we saved $600 billion. Here again, I want to commend Senator Smith and Senator Gregg and Congressmen Sununu and Bass because we had to work as a team. We saved $600 billion in entitlements; $100 billion in domestic discretionary spending. We made a commitment to the Federal Reserve that we would balance the budget as a result of which interest rates are two percentage points lower than they would have been at this stage of an economic cycle if we had run a deficit. Since the federal government is the largest interest payer in the United States, if you have lower interest rates - the United States Government, you the taxpayers, pay more for interest on the federal debt than you pay for the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps combined. So, lower interest rates mean the federal government pays lower interest payments. The combination of entitlement reform, discretionary cuts and lower interest payments with the additional economic growth of the capital gains cut - we did not get to a balanced budget in the year 2002, which is our promise in the Contract with America, we got to a balanced budget in 1998, four years ahead of schedule. We now have projected a balanced budget for the next ten years, the longest period since the 1920's that we've ever had a projection of a balanced budget. Our job, frankly, is to use that surplus wisely to get the money back home before anybody in Washington can figure out how to spend it.

So, building on the successes of the Contract with America, we are proposing four goals for our generation as the logical next positive stage. Three of the four goals really require that we work with you which is part of why I was so delighted to have a chance to come and talk with you because they are only going to succeed if we have a real involvement with state legislatures all over the country and with city and county governments. Let me mention them briefly and then I want to talk about each one for just a minute or two. I think the four goals we ought to establish as the next stage where we are going beyond the Contract with America are: first, to win the war on drugs and violent crime to save our children's future; second, to reform education and learning so we have the best system in the world and truly mean that, not just have a slogan but do what it takes to have the best system in the world; third, to take the surpluses and return them back home so that we save Social Security by increasing the retirement opportunities for the baby boomers and their children while guaranteeing that our parents get every penny they should get; and, fourth, work together to modernize and reform government on the principal that no citizen in a free society should have to work longer than Monday and half of Tuesday to pay taxes. In a free society in peacetime, you should be able to work the rest of the week for your family, your church or synagogue, your favorite charity, your own retirement. But that it is wrong in peacetime for a free society to take more than 25 percent from its citizens. That is state, federal, local combined. That would require a one-third cut in taxation and we in the federal government should lead the way to make that possible.

Let me start with the war on drugs and violent crime. Let me make two points as a history teacher. This really is why I love having a chance come out because my natural instinct is to be a teacher and to talk about lessons we can learn. I want to make two key points because this is not just some slogan. Under Ronald Reagan and George Bush, drug use in America dropped 72 percent. Over a 12-year period we brought down - I don't mean this as a partisan statement, just as a statement of fact - over a 12-year period, drug use came down 72 percent. That is an enormous change in the right direction. Over the last five and one-half years, drug use has gone back up. We have clear historic proof. We know we can bring it down because in our lifetime we brought it down. I met yesterday with the Vice Premier of Singapore where they have virtually no drug use because they are very strict. I'm not recommending that we become Singapore, but I'll tell you this, you look at 20,000 Americans a year dying from drugs and you have to do something. That understates the total damage. One of the members of my staff had her 19-year-old sister go out on a date, take a synthetic drug overdose, end up in a coma and that young girl has celebrated her 20th and 21st birthdays in a nursing home in a coma and will never recover. This is not an abnormal experience. If we lost 20,000 people a year in Bosnia or Iraq, we would have people in the streets every day. We lose 20,000 Americans a year according to federal statistics to drugs. That is how serious it is. So, one, we know historically we can bring it down because in our lifetime we have. Two, the way you win a war if you are Americans is you pay attention. Now, think about this. World War II for the United States was December 7, 1941 to September 1945. In less than four years we mobilized a country, defeated Nazi Germany, Fascist Italy and Imperial Japan and said, "Fine, the war is over let's go home." Now, that is less than four years. Because when it really matters Americans really pay attention. We have been piddling around with a so-called war on drugs with a so-called

Drug Czar in a way that is childish. We have a union work rule. If you cross the border and the customs agent thinks you have a person in your trunk, they don't open the trunk, they get a drug enforcement agent, border patrol. But if they think there is contraband, they open the trunk. I was thinking about this. These are both tax-paid federal employees. We know, for example, that triple fencing works. Triple fencing is simple. It is three fences but space is in between the fences. Along the San Diego border, the most heavily crossed border in the United States, they now have four miles of triple fence. They have zero people crossing the triple fence. There are another 90 miles they need to do and we are gradually doing it now because Congress and Duncan Hunter have insisted on it. He has gathered up all of the surplus airport mats from Desert Storm and that is what they are using to keep the cost down. Yet, we know that it is between 98 and 100 percent effective in stopping illegal immigration and stopping illegal drugs but we haven't done it. So you go place to place. Senator Lawton and I have a bill in that is very straightforward. If you cross the American border with a commercial quantity of illegal drugs and it is the first time you have done it, you get life without parole. If the jury decides you are a professional narcotics trafficker and you cross the border repeatedly, you get a mandatory death penalty. You will see a dramatic drop off in the number of people who show up in this country. By the way, this includes a commitment to have drug-free prisons. I talked to Sheriff Kirkland of Reno, Nevada who I saw on Sunday. He is a fabulous guy. Three years ago he became sheriff. The prisoners all work. One-third of their salaries go to pay compensation to the victims. One-third of their salary goes to pay for their own board and keep. They have to put 10 percent aside in a savings account so that when they leave prison they have both a work record and they have money to tide them over in the transition and they have to get a GED if they don't already have one, when they get to prison. He has drug dogs in the prison all day, every day and it is drug free. If he has any doubts, you get tested immediately. Now, it is a totally different model but you have prisons where the prisoners run the prison. If we can't have a drug-free prison, it is highly unlikely we are going to get a drug-free neighborhood. If all we are doing is putting drug-addicted prisoners back on the street, why should we be shocked that they show back up in prison seven months later having committed 37 crimes in between? We would love your help and your advice. You let us know what you think the federal role is in making sure that New Hampshire is drug free and I'll do everything I can to get the money, to get the resources, to get the changes in bureaucracy, the changes in regulations. But from education to rehabilitation, to interdiction, to going after the drug dealers overseas, to going after their money, we should do this full time with serious effort; make it our highest priority and win it. Then give our children a safe, much less violent and relatively drug-free America and I believe it is worth it.

Our second goal is to have a world-class system of education and learning for every American. Now, I am not going to get in the middle of all the excitement you all have had up here in being able to work on education. What one of the virtues of our federal system, the way we would do it is, you should actually run your system in New Hampshire the way you want to and not have Washington try to micromanage what happens in Manchester or Nashua or Concord or anywhere because the truth is no federal bureaucrat can educate a single child in New Hampshire and the real key is to have local schools, local teachers, local parents and local students find a local solution because if money were the answer the DC schools would be among the best in the country and the money just gets thrown away. I will be clear. I am very proud that last week we in the House passed a scholarship program to create 7,000 scholarships for the children of DC because that school system, your national capital school system, is so bad. It fails the children so miserably and it spends between $7,300 and $10,000 a child. Nobody actually knows because there is no accurate count of the number of children nor an accurate count of the number of teachers. This gives you some idea that the system is not particularly well run. But, here's how bad it is. Ted Forstman, a New York businessman who America has been very good to, decided he would give away 1,000 scholarships out of his personal money, went to Washington and announced it. They had 8,000 applicants for 1,000 scholarships. And, here is the catch, you had to put up $500 per child yourself to be eligible for the scholarship. You had welfare mothers and mothers working at minimum wage who were doing everything they could to gather together, by saving, by talking to their relatives, by going to their churches - they were pulling together $500 because they were so desperate to get their children out of the school. So, they had a free school over here that was failing and they were willing to put up $500 to save their child's life. Ted Forstman gave away 1,000 scholarships. They estimate next year they will have 25,000 applications out of a school system of 70,000. That is the context in which we passed the scholarships. My challenge to my friends who say, "Oh, that is a bad idea," you put your child in the DC schools. When I see politicians who send their children to private schools, who preach to the poor about why they have to be sacrificed on the altar of a bad system, there is something profoundly wrong. I think that we need to make sure that choice is an option in schools that are that terrible. We also need, frankly, to design a better system. Let me put this in context. I am a product of the public schools. My wife is a product of the public schools. Both of my daughters graduated from public schools and I taught in a public high school, as well as a public college. So, I am passionate about public education and public learning. But I think it has to be real. I have just three ideas for you all to consider and I said consider - no mandate, no federal law - consider. I am just here as a citizen. One, there is one standard that we ought to have that is pretty simple but it ought to be adopted at the state and local levels, but it is very simple. Every child ought to be able to read and write at the end of the first grade or they should be immersed totally in reading and writing. They should be able to read and write in English because it is the language of opportunity and prosperity for this country. Let me just suggest to all of you, you don't need a $70 million culturally norm, statistically accurate computerized test. That is make-work for statisticians. What you need is to be able to have an adult and the child with a book and if they can read the book the odds are fairly high they can read. If they can't read the book, even if they pass the computerized test, they can't read. We have had too much reliance on testing which leads to teaching to the test, which leads to studying for the test, so nobody knows anything after the test is over but, boy, did they score well for an hour and 12 minutes. We need to go back to the basics. Can you really read? Can you really write? I have a second proposal and this is probably less necessary up here because you all have been so different as a state than most of the states. But, in states that have big systems with big union contracts, I've been making the following proposal and it may not apply to New Hampshire at all. I've suggested that we adopt the principle that if your school is in the bottom 20 percent there is no tenure, there is no union contract, there is no bureaucracy, there is no credentialing. You have the right to change the school in the middle of the year if necessary as soon as you learn the children are being cheated because the only measure of a school should be whether or not the children are learning. Saving the children should take precedence over every other rule and regulation. Third, I have suggested, and I know in California they have adopted this, I don't know yet how they are implementing it, but I have suggested that we consider seriously making it a law at the state level, not federal, that every school, one day a year from 1st through 12th grade, spend an entire day studying the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence to learn how we became American and what it means to be American. Let me explain for just a minute why I think this is so vital. We are the only learned civilization in the world. You can be born Caucasian, you can be born African, you can be born Chinese. You become American. You can come from anywhere in the world and become American because to be American is to pursue happiness, to have the rule of law, the right to private property, free speech, free elections, independent judiciary. It is a collection of things which are learnable. But, if you don't teach it, why do you think anybody is going to learn it? I think the core document is the Declaration. If I might, just for a minute as a history teacher, I really want to share three points out of the Declaration that I think we need to emphasize and reemphasize and re-reemphasize. Maybe in Washington more than anywhere. First, the phrase, "We hold these truths to be self-evident." It is very important in the modern world. The founding fathers did not create the United States because they had a proposition, a theory, an idea. They believed these were discovered truths. The word truth mattered to them. They swore their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor and they meant it. They put an army in the field against the most powerful nation in the world for seven years. I would just suggest the word truth is one Washington could think about for a long time because it has real meaning. It is at the center of the society. Second, probably the most important single phrase in American civilization, "We are endowed by our Creator with certain unalienable rights among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." In the European model, power went from God to the King and was loaned to the citizens. This is why the Brussels bureaucracy in the end will be worse than the IRS. The center of power in Europe is the state. In the second model, tracing all the way back to the Magna Carta and the English Civil War, power goes from God to the citizen and the citizen loans power to the state. Which is why we get so mad at the IRS and other agencies. It is a very, very powerful difference in the nature of American society. The third point I would make is the word Creator. Every public school, every year, should have to wrestle with the question, "Where did American come from?" The founding fathers were unequivocal. Intellectuals will tell you, we have some great sophisticated intellectuals here, I had a wonderful time up at Dartmouth a couple of weeks ago and I am sure that on some campus, somewhere, there will be a faculty member who can tell you through deconstructionism that the word Creator actually meant large banana mythically in the sky doing something. That is just not true. It is an interesting theory and you can probably get tenure for it, but is not true. The fact is the founding fathers meant God. It was a very clear reference to God. Now, you will be told by some people, "Well, Jefferson wrote that and Jefferson was a Deist." Now, they actually don't know what Deist means, but they are confident it means he was not a Baptist and this assures them. Since I am a Baptist I am allowed to say that. But, I would just suggest to you to tell people to read Washington's first Inaugural, Washington's farewell address, Jefferson's second Inaugural, Lincoln's second Inaugural which is short enough to be engraved in stone in the Lincoln Memorial and refers to God 14 times. If they doubt that Jefferson believed in God tell them to go the Jefferson Memorial in Washington, DC. Around the top it reads, "I have sworn upon the altar of God Almighty, eternal hostility against all forms of tyranny over the minds of men," and ask them what do they think that Jefferson meant when he wrote, "I have sworn upon the altar of God Almighty." I am a conservative because I think Jefferson knew English remarkably well and he probably meant, "I have sworn upon the altar of God Almighty." But the reason this is central is not sectarian. It is not Baptist. It is not Catholic. It is not Jewish. It is not Moslem. It is the core difference in the nature of being human. If being human means we are randomly gathered protoplasm open to being exploited by anybody clever and more savage as long as they have a good trial lawyer, that's one model and that is the model of a jungle. If being human means we have been endowed by God and if you kill somebody you are killing a child of God; if you rape somebody you are raping a child of God; if you sell drugs to somebody you are, in fact, addicting a child of God. That is a totally different cultural model and they are antithetical to each other. For at least 35 years, we have been in a great struggle in this society between a situation ethic, exploit-each-other, get-away-with-it, say-what-you-need-to model, and, we truly do owe God for America's liberties and we truly had better figure out what that means. They are very different models. It is the second one, the belief in a Creator, which was at the heart of founding America. It is historically accurate to teach it that way and our kids ought to learn it that way.

Beyond education in the traditional sense, let me just say one word about learning in the information age. There is a great new program, a company called Netschools that we have been working with which has produced a child-proof computer. It is a personal computer in a magnesium case. You can slam it against the wall. You can stand on it. You can pour milk on it and it still works. It is designed for kids from first grade on. I've talked to one Governor who may propose that they quit issuing text books in their state and just issue PCs because they are the media centers of the 21st century. You have a great museum right on your border, the Montshire Museum of Science, which I visited recently. It is fabulous. It is part of the future. The reason our children now score 21st out of 29 countries in science is that somewhere between the fourth and the eighth grade we kill discovery, wonder, amazement and doing, and we replace them with facts and facts have nothing to do with science. Science changes all the time. Facts are the temporary place holders of the next breakthrough. When we get into a system where somebody who doesn't know any science and doesn't do any science, instead of teaching science teaches facts we bore the kids to death and they quit doing science. If you have never been to the Montshire, go visit it. But here is the bigger point. We can now build for rural America an Internet-based system which allows - I was the first electronic visitor to the Smithsonian - we are right at the edge of technologies where literally every school in this state could visit everywhere in the world, study it and then go see it. We are in a situation where we can bring the greatest experts in the world by distance learning to the smallest school. It is a totally different way of learning. And, when you start doing that, the learning is available seven days a week, 24 hours a day. The reason the PC matters is those kids can take that computer home so the poorest child in a school district now has a computer at home they plug into the telephone. They are now attached all summer long. They are attached every night. They are attached on a rainy Saturday. They have a chance to learn all the time. It is a totally different way about thinking about the future and it also means that adults get to learn. I met with Tony Trujillo who is the brilliant school superintendent of one of three systems in El Paso, Texas; 48,000 students, 80 percent Hispanic, 70 percent poverty level. His goal for that system is very simple. Every child, every child, will graduate fluently bi-lingual and be able to do college work in all major subjects: four years of math, four years of science, four years of English, all the way through and he means it. Their drop-out rate now is down to about 500 a year, which he says is too many and one of his tricks is to say to the principal, "Who has dropped out?" Not how many, but who. Did you personally visit their homes? Did you recruit them back in? It is a totally different model. But part of what he is doing is that he has computers that are going home to learn literacy because he has found out that the parents who are embarrassed to come in to a literacy class will sit at home with their children and learn. It is a very different model. He also requires the parents to enroll for summer school if the kids do. The parents have to come in one night a week for two hours if their children are going to be in summer school. The result is a totally different model. But I think we have a chance, particularly in rural areas, to make the world available electronically and then to make it available 24 hours a day and we'd love to work with you in places like the Montshire, with the American Museum of Natural History, the Smithsonian, to create an opportunity for the poorest neighborhood in the smallest school in the most rural place to have access to the entire world. I think we can do it in the next three or four years in a way that will be very, very exciting.

Let me just say one brief word about surpluses and Social Security. We are going to run a surplus this year at the federal level of somewhere between $40 billion and $80 billion. The biggest surplus in American history was $11 billion. The last surplus was in 1969. The last time we ran a decade of surpluses was the 1920's. I believe we will currently, barring a war, if we remain fiscally conservative, we will currently run a projected $1.3 trillion of surpluses over the next ten years. I believe it is vital to get that money out of Washington faster than they can figure out how to spend it. My recommendation is that we build a Social Security savings account for every FICA taxpayer, return their pro rata share of the surplus back home every October so you have a tax-free build up of an account you control which allows you to make sure you will have your share of retirement and you use the power of compound interest and the power of investment so that over your lifetime you actually retire with more money than you would get under the current system. So, we save Social Security for my mother and my mother-in-law. They get every penny. They are totally safe. But, for the baby boomers and their children we begin to give them a chance to have even better incomes that they control; that are not controlled by Washington. Let me just give you one example. A 20-year-old today who could take his Social Security tax and put it into this kind of account with the average paid by the stock market since 1920, including the great Depression, he would retire at average income, he would retire with $975,000 in his account which would give him a retirement income of $68,000 a year without drawing on capital. So, he could keep the $975,000 sitting there for a nursing home or medical emergency. If he didn't have such an emergency, when he passed away he would leave his children almost $1 million which in our model would be tax free since there would be no inheritance tax. The actuarial value for a 20-year old today given how long he will live is $1.7 million. By contrast the current system, which is terrific for my mother, mediocre for me and terrible for my two daughters who are in their thirties, if you are 20 today you get a minus 1.9 percent-a-year return. You lose money. So, you get $175,000 as the projected retirement for a 20-year-old under the current system, $1,700,000 is the projected system. I was up at Dartmouth. I asked the college students there if you had a choice of two checks, one for $1.7 million, one for $175,000 - I could tell liberalism had not set in yet because every single person wanted the bigger check. I think, frankly, we ought to move this year because the surpluses are so much bigger than anybody projected and so much faster that we need to set up a principle that money belongs to the American taxpayer. That money does not belong to the Washington bureaucrats and the Washington politicians.

Our fourth goal, I want to be honest, is meddling and I'm going to keep it fairly short for today but I want you to think about it very deeply. I believe you can take the principles of Peter Drucker and Edwards Deming. You can take the opportunities of the information age and you can dramatically improve government by creating schools of public entrepreneurship rather than schools of public administration. I believe the Max Weber, bureaucratic, civil service reform model of traditional paper bureaucracy is over and that there are virtually no governments that have figured out the solution. I'll give you an example. In Arizona, you can now buy your license tag on the Internet. What they have discovered is if people are at home on a Friday night, relaxed, and they decide to buy their license tags, they are more likely to buy vanity plates. I don't know why they are more relaxed when they are at home buying their vanity plates, but they seem to be. The result is, think about this result, at greater convenience to the taxpayer, with less bureaucracy, the state of Arizona is making more money because a higher percentage are buying vanity plates. That is a win, win, win system. But I want to give you just two examples of the scale of change we need. Let me ask you a test question. How many of you, since you are this close to Canada my guess is the answer is very high, how many of you have ever been outside the United States and used a credit card? Just raise your hand. Okay, most of you. When I was a child my Dad was stationed in Orleans, France in the U.S. Army. We were paid in U.S. scrip. We were not given greenbacks because the French franc was so weak. If I had gone around Orleans and said to people in 1958, "Someday you will show up with plastic, buy whatever you want, no cash will be exchanged", they would have thought I was nuts. What do we do nowadays? You go to five different countries, stay in five different hotels, go to five different restaurants, buy things in five different stores. Thirty days later you get a letter in the mail. You were in this country, in this town, at this hotel, you spent this amount translated into dollars, then you went to this restaurant that night and you spent this amount, then you went to this store and you bought this and you spent this amount. At the bottom, they have this number and they say send it in. Is this a common experience? I don't want to go any further if this is unusual and doesn't happen in New Hampshire. I was in Davos, Switzerland at the World Economic Forum with MaryAnn. We had a few minutes off in the afternoon. We walked down to this little village and we went into a very high quality German knife and scissors store. Now, those of you who shop a lot recognize that the term "very high quality" means expensive. The shopkeeper recognized me and we chatted and he brought out some extremely high quality, hand crafted German scissors with handles that were hand crafted to resemble a crane. My wife saw them and thought our two daughters each needed some and that she needed a whole bunch. Well, I was being gallant. I was in a good mood. It was a great time to be there. I whipped out my American Express card. I gave it to the shopkeeper, he walked over to the telephone, he ran it through the system, called American Express - I have a Marietta, Georgia address - he walked back over 40 seconds later with a funny look on his face, handed me the card and said, "Mr. Speaker, your card ran out three days ago." Luckily, MaryAnn had seven optional cards available, which, I might note, she has used in the outlet stores of New Hampshire, so she has done her share here at home, too. But, here is the point I want you to take back as you think about state and local government. Here, on the one hand, is an information system so sophisticated that in Davos, Switzerland a small store can ring up my account in Marietta, Georgia in real time while I am standing there. Then you call the Social Security Administration, the Healthcare Financing Administration, the Immigration and Naturalization Service, the IRS. The United States Government paid for the first computer ever built. We paid for the invention of software and we created the Internet as a government project and we have not been able to transform government from public administration to public entrepreneurship. We can get such breakthroughs if we are serious. If you will help us figure it out, we'll get breakthroughs that will save you administrative money and us administrative costs. One of my goals is to get state and local governments and school boards to say to us, "This paperwork is nonsense, let's cut it out." Then go system by system and modernize the entire system so that we reduce everybody's costs while improving the speed and proficiency and I think we can do it in a way that is quite remarkable. I want to work with you to do it so then we can lower taxes by a third so that no American ever pays more than 25 percent of his income in peacetime because I think in a free society you ought to be able to keep three-quarters of what you make in peacetime. You have a surge in wartime. That is different. But, in peacetime our freedoms are based on having money and resources so we can take care of our own children and our own neighborhood and our own community and be volunteers in our own.

Finally, let me just comment for a minute on the problem we have in Washington that I think relates directly to your state motto, "Live Free or Die." The United States was established in what was really a very long process. It goes back to the Magna Carta. It goes to the English Civil War. It goes to John Locke writing about the concept of freedom and contract in the 1690's. It goes to the entire Whig insurgency against the Tory government of Britain in the mid-eighteenth century. It goes to the evolution of people like George Mason, James Madison, Thomas Jefferson, John Adams, ultimately George Washington and Benjamin Franklin. It had a couple of core principles that I have begun to talk out about because I feel so deeply about what we are living through. Let me say up front, what I'm going to say here has nothing to do with scandals. I am as tired and as exhausted as any other American at the nightly gossip that is supposed to be news, at the salacious comments that are supposed to be news, at hints about sexuality that are supposed to be news. I think most of that stuff, frankly, ought to be just off the table and certainly off the airwaves, unless you are going to have an X-rated news program for adults only. I think a lot of that stuff was irrelevant to the running of the United States, but that is not what I am going to talk about. We have three principles that I think are at the core of our society. First, if a crime, notice crime, has been committed the American people have the right to know. Second, under our Constitution no one is above the law and that includes the President of the United States. Third, the President of the United States is the chief law enforcement officer of the United States. It is not good enough to be passive. The President has an active, positive obligation to get to the heart of crimes. I'll just give you one example to think about because I find this one out of many, but I find it very troubling. Web Hubbell was the chosen person to run the justice department. He did all the real running of that department. He had to resign to go to jail. Between resigning and going to jail he got $720,000 from 18 different sources including $100,000 from Indonesians. People can walk out, but what I am saying is a fact about a crime. Let me just say how sad I am about the people who just walked out. I don't remember Howard Baker ever walking out. I don't remember in 1973 anybody who said let's cover up the crime in the legislative branch. I don't remember at any of the Watergate hearings anything like we have been living through. I would not have spoken out now - many of you saw me on TV day-after-day - I got attacked from my own allies because I said day after day, be patient, wait for Judge Starr, don't get involved in this until you have the facts. Two weeks ago, by 18-0, the other party voted to block four witnesses from speaking in the U.S. Congress, four witnesses who had been cleared by the Clinton Administration's Justice Department, four witnesses to illegal foreign campaign contributions. Those are crimes and that is why I spoke out. I am very sad and I apologize if in any way I have offended the hospitality of this group by telling the truth about the problems we have in Washington, DC, but, when you learn that the Indonesians gave a senior justice department official $100,000-plus on the way to jail as a felon while the U.S. government is asking for $18 billion for the international monetary fund, much of which will go to Indonesia, you the American people, you the taxpayers - if Live Free or Die has any meaning, it has the meaning that you have the right to know what happened if a law is broken and you have the right to know that law will be applied equally to everybody. If that makes some people uncomfortable, than I don't know how to frankly serve as Speaker of the House and uphold my duty to the Constitution unless I speak out about the facts and the truth. I'm pretty comfortable telling the truth in a modest way and everything I just said everybody agrees is true. I have not made any allegations. I have not claimed any one person did this stuff, but I find the facts that I just gave you very troubling. All I would ask of all of you as citizens is to be for the rule of law and to be for the American public's right to know, not to prejudge anyone. But we are going decay and become Indonesia where every official is bribed, where corruption is rampant, if we don't insist on the rule of law. This is a grave time for our country and there are enormous things at stake. I could not have come here and spoken publicly without telling you about what I think is a challenge at the heart of our system and without talking about the rule of law.

I thank you for your kindness. I look forward to working with you on everyone of the issues I described earlier. I think we have a chance to give our children a safer more prosperous and freer America and I think that New Hampshire is one of the places that leads the way to that kind of freedom and safety. Thank you very, very much.

CONSENT CALENDAR

Rep. Wheeler moved that the Consent Calendar with the relevant amendments as printed in the day's House Record be adopted.

SB 465-FN, relative to the disposition of firearms which are voluntarily surrendered to the state. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Andrew Christie, Jr. for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: This bill amends RSA 159:25 by eliminating state agencies from the "voluntary surrender and destroy" firearms programs. Testimony indicated that only 3 or 4 firearms were surrendered to the state police in 1997. This is not a big problem. For those people who want their firearms destroyed, they can turn them in to their local police departments who do have the authority to destroy them. The committee also amended RSA 159:6-c, Appeal from Denial, Suspension, or Revocation of a Pistol Permit. Presently, if a permit is denied, suspended or revoked, a person may appeal the action to the district court within 30 days and after a hearing the court must issue its decision within 14 days. To this part of the statute, we added that "the burden shall be on the issuing authority to demonstrate by clear and convincing proof why any denial, suspension, or revocation was justified." Failure to do this will result in a court order to issue or reinstate the petitioners pistol permit. Vote 13-0.

Amendment (1470h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the disposition of firearms which are voluntarily surrendered to the state and relative to appeals from a denial, suspension, or revocation of a license to carry a loaded pistol or revolver.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 1 with the following:

2 Burden of Proof; Appeal From Denial, Suspension or Revocation. Amend RSA 159:6-c to read as follows:

159:6-c Appeal from Denial, Suspension, or Revocation. Any person whose application for a license to carry a loaded pistol or revolver has been denied pursuant to RSA 159:6 or whose license to carry a loaded pistol or revolver has been suspended or revoked pursuant to RSA 159:6-b may within 30 days thereafter, petition the district or municipal court in the jurisdiction in which such person resides to determine whether the petitioner is entitled to a license. The court shall conduct a hearing within 14 days after receipt of the petition [and]. During this hearing the burden shall be upon the issuing authority to demonstrate by clear and convincing proof why any denial, suspension, or revocation was justified, failing which the court shall enter an order directing the issuing authority to grant, or reinstate, the petitioner's license. The court shall issue its decision not later than 14 days after the hearing on whether the petitioner is entitled to a license.

3 Effective Date.

I. Section 2 of this act shall take effect January 1, 1999.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill prohibits state agencies from operating a firearm "voluntary surrender and destroy" program. Firearms which are voluntarily surrendered to state agencies shall be sold at public auction or kept by the state agencies for their own use.

The bill also places the burden of proof in an appeals hearing on the issuing authority to demonstrate, by clear and convincing evidence, why a denial, suspension, or revocation of a license to carry a loaded pistol or revolver is justified.

SB 448, establishing a committee to study joint maintenance agreements in school districts. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Susan B. Durham for Education: Joint maintenance agreements have not been used in the last 40 years. However, due to the interest shown by Barnstead and Pittsfield in this option in the last year, this is a good time to study such agreements. Implications of this option on cooperative school districts should be reviewed for such issues as governance, collective bargaining, and apportionment of costs. Vote 15-1.

SB 402, extending the reporting date for the pet overpopulation committee. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. William R. Phinney for Environment and Agriculture: This bill codifies the present pet overpopulation committee. It is changed from an appointed committee to a permanent committee with staggered terms of appointments and the committee becomes a permanent part of RSA 437-A. The committee is required to submit an annual report and include the House Environment and Agriculture Committee. Vote 13-0.

Amendment (1490h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT codifying the pet overpopulation committee.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

III. The members shall elect annually from among their number a chairperson. A member shall hold office until a successor has been appointed and qualified. The members shall serve without compensation; provided that the legislative members shall receive mileage at the legislative rate.

437-A:8 Duties. The primary duties of the committee shall be to study the economic, human, and public health impacts of cat and dog overpopulation in the state and the lack of compliance with dog licensing and rabies vaccination statutes. The committee shall make recommendations to reduce the number of stray and homeless cats and dogs in the state, to reduce the number of healthy cats and dogs killed in animal shelters and to increase compliance with dog licensing and rabies vaccination statutes.

437-A:9 Report. The committee shall submit an annual report its findings and recommendations, including any proposed legislation, to the speaker of the house, the house environment and agriculture committee, the president of the senate, and the governor beginning on or before November 1, 1998.

HB 1680-FN-A-L, relative to administration of retiree's health benefits by the New Hampshire retirement system and making an appropriation therefor. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT
Rep. Merton S. Dyer for Executive Departments and Administration: This bill will increase the number of unclassified positions at the New Hampshire retirement system. These two positions will process the paper work necessary for retirees who have health insurance with deductions from their annuity checks. The system is mandated by law to do this for the various political subdivisions and does this for retired state employees. The work load has increased tremendously since the system first started this function. The cost of these employees will be met through the administrative account. Vote 15-0.

Amendment (1403h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT authorizing positions for the administration of retiree's health benefits by the New Hampshire retirement system and making an appropriation therefor.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Positions Authorized. The New Hampshire retirement system is authorized to employ a program specialist I, salary grade 18, and a program assistant I, salary grade 11, for the purpose of the administration of health benefits of state agency retirees.

2 Appropriation. The sum of $74,850 is hereby appropriated for fiscal year 1999 to the New Hampshire retirement system for the purpose of salary, benefits, and equipment for the positions authorized in section 1 of this act. The appropriation made pursuant to this section shall be made from the general fund or other applicable state agency funding sources. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for any general fund sums out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect July 1, 1998.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

The bill allows the retirement system to hire 2 positions for the purpose of administering health care benefits for state agency retirees.

Referred to Finance.

SB 322, repealing the prospective repeal relative to an exemption for certain rules regarding the radiological health program from drafting and numbering requirements of the rulemaking process. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Robert E. Murphy for Executive Departments and Administration: In 1995, it was determined that in order to ensure compatibility between state and federal regulatory criteria for radioactive materials and timely licensing of the same for use by academic institutions, businesses, and industries, the rules of the division of public health services should be exempted from the drafting and numbering requirements of RSA 541-A. This was accomplished by the enactment of RSA 541-A:21 IV in 1994. Again, this section was repealed to be effective July 1, 1999 by SB 74, Chapter 179:3, Laws of 1995. This bill would re-instate the original exemption of the requirement for drafting and numbering of RSA 541-A at the request of the agency. Vote 14-0.

SB 352, relative to continuing education requirements for electrologists. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Mary Stuart Gile for Executive Departments and Administration: This bill addresses continuing education requirements for the renewal of licenses to practice electrology. The amendment requires applicants to complete continuing education hours related to the practice of electrology during the two years prior to application for renewal and specifies that half of such continuing education be in live courses. Vote 17-0.

Amendment (1368h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Electrologists; Continuing Education Requirements. Amend RSA 314:5 to read as follows:

314:5 Renewal of License; Continuing Education Requirement. Licenses issued under this chapter shall be subject to renewal every 2 years and shall expire unless renewed in accordance with rules adopted by the commissioner under RSA 314:8, IV, and upon payment of any fees required under RSA 314:10. Applicants for renewal shall also be required to complete 20 hours of continuing education related to the practice of electrology during the prior 2 years; provided that 10 hours of such continuing education shall be in didactic, live courses.

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

SB 364, establishing a committee to study the feasibility and advisability of consolidating building trades under a single licensing board. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Miriam D. Dunn for Executive Departments and Administration: It is most timely that this study committee be created to resolve inefficiencies and confusion for the public now present in multiple boards and multiple trades in the building industry. The feasibility of consolidating these trades should be considered, including consultation with the list of ten "non-voting" members stated in the bill. Vote 15-0.

SB 504-FN, relative to members of predecessor systems of the New Hampshire retirement system. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Merton S. Dyer for Executive Departments and Administration: There is one individual remaining in the predecessor systems to the New Hampshire retirement systems. This individual would now like to join the New Hampshire retirement system. This bill will allow this to occur with the payment of any accrued liability by the individual involved. There will be no cost to the state or political subdivisions involved. Vote 14-0.

Amendment (1404h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Section; Members of Predecessor Systems. Amend RSA 100-A by inserting after section 33 the following new section:

100-A:33-a Members of Predecessor Systems. Notwithstanding RSA 100-A:33 or any other provisions of law, any person who is a member of any predecessor system of the New Hampshire retirement system and is currently receiving benefits, or upon that person's retirement, death, disability, or termination, shall, upon the payment of any actuarially determined accrued liability cost, be considered to have been a full member of the New Hampshire retirement system for the entire period of creditable service in either system and shall receive all benefits to which he or she is entitled as a full member of the New Hampshire retirement system.

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill provides that members of predecessor systems of the retirement system, RSA 100-A, shall, after payment of certain costs, be considered full members entitled to benefits of the retirement system.

Referred to Finance.

HB 1672-FN-A-L, replacing the business profits tax and the business enterprise tax with a reform business tax and establishing a committee to recommend a rate for the reform business tax. REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY

Rep. Kenneth L. Weyler for Finance: This bill proposes to replace the business profits tax and business enterprise tax with a single tax. The sponsor was the only one who spoke in favor; one other spoke against. The sponsor admits the bill is a work in progress and requests further study. The Committee felt it was time to examine the dynamic of the two taxes. Vote 20-2.

SB 405-FN, relative to a specific time period by which the state is required to have an audited financial statement available to the public. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT
 Rep. Robert G. Holbrook for Finance: In the interests of good open government, the annual audit of the state's finances should be in a regular timely basis which this bill will require with an exception if a good cause of extension is approved by the Fiscal Committee. Vote 19-1.

Amendment (1294h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 1 with the following:

1 Audited Financial Report; Available to the Public. Amend RSA 21-I:8, I(h) to read as follows:

(h) Not later than 90 days after the close of the fiscal year, unless the governor and council for good cause shall extend such period, complete a comprehensive annual report concerning the preceding fiscal year that details the financial condition and operation of the state during that period in a manner consistent with generally accepted accounting principles. Said report shall subsequently be audited by the legislative budget assistant who may designate a certified public accountant not employed in the state service to conduct the annual audit and may accept the findings and report of the certified public accountant as fulfilling the provisions of this section provided that in either case said audit shall be conducted in accordance with prevailing standards and practices of governmental auditing specified by authoritative national standard setting bodies. The audited report shall be completed and available to the public by December 31 of each year unless for good cause the joint legislative fiscal committee shall extend such period.

SB 360, establishing a child and family resource group to study and make recommendations concerning the development and coordination of wellness and primary prevention programs. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Barbara C. French for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: This bill establishes a child and family resource group to study and make recommendations concerning the development and coordination of wellness and primary prevention programs. The intent of this bill is to provide input necessary to implement this program. Vote 13-0.

SB 383, establishing a committee to study the use of telemedicine. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Michael Morello for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: The use of telemedicine has great potential for the medical field. There was no opposition to the passage of this bill. It is an extension of current practice through use of new technology. However, further study of this technology is recommended. There are questions on establishing guidelines and/or licensing, questions on quality of care, liability and privacy. Vote 13-0.

Amendment (1517h)

Amend the bill by replacing paragraph I of section 2 with following:

I. The members of the committee shall be as follows:

(a) Three members of the senate, one of whom shall be a member of the public institutions, health and human services committee, appointed by the president of the senate.

(b) Three members of the house of representatives, one of whom shall be a member of the health, human services, and elderly affairs committee, appointed by the speaker of the house.

Amend the bill by replacing section 6 with the following:

6 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

SB 473-FN, relative to child day care providers. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Joseph P. Manning for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: This bill is the result of the study committee on SB 103, Chapter 64, Laws of 1997. It requires licensed providers to carry insurance or to disclose to parents that they are uninsured. It requires unlicensed providers who receive compensation from the state to register with health and human services and to provide a list of those in contact with children so that criminal checks can be made and corrective action taken, if needed. It further requires the commissioner to make certain changes in certification and safety requirements. Vote 13-0.

Referred to Finance.

SB 385, requiring the clerks of the superior courts to notify the appropriate regulatory board when a health care provider is convicted of a felony. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Sandra B. Keans for Judiciary and Family Law: This is a consumer oriented bill. It provides that any licensed practitioner who is convicted of a felony will have his or her name forwarded to the appropriate regulatory board to be placed on file. It would still be the client's responsibility to call the appropriate board to get any information on that practitioner. Vote 14-0.

SB 392, relative to requirements for law enforcement personnel who conduct interviews of minors. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Wayne T. Moynihan for Judiciary and Family Law: This bill modifies sections of RSA 169-C, the statute that establishes the civil process associated with the protection of children from abuse and neglect through the District court and DHHS/DCYF. Existing language in RSA 169-C:38 IV and V allows that, under certain circumstances, police or DCYF officials may interview a child "without the consent or notification of the parent or parents," and that in such cases "every effort" would be made to video-tape or record the interview. Significant evidence was presented to the committee establishing that under the existing language some interviews with children are only partially recorded; that video taping of such interviews is more possible today; that video taping is a more desirable public policy; and that complete taping or recording should be accomplished in all cases, regardless of whether the parents have or have not consented to the interview. The bill as amended corrects the problems that were demonstrated. Vote 15-1.

Amendment (1167h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Report to Law Enforcement; Child Interview. Amend the introductory paragraph of RSA 169-C:38, IV to read as follows:

IV. 2 Interview of Child; Video or Audio Recording Required. Amend RSA 169-C:38, V to read as follows:

V. For any interview conducted pursuant to paragraph IV, ~~[every effort shall be made to video-tape the interview with the child. If the interview cannot be video-taped, it shall be recorded]~~ the interview with the child shall be video-taped if possible. If the interview is video-taped, it shall be video-taped in its entirety. If the interview cannot be video-taped in its entirety, an audio recording of the entire interview shall be made.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect January 1, 1999.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill requires that when interviewing a minor, with or without the consent of such minor's parent or parents, law enforcement personnel make either a video tape or audio tape recording of the entire interview.

SB 394, providing for revocation of wills by divorce. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Wayne T. Moynihan for Judiciary and Family Law: This bill modifies RSA 551:13 on the "revocation of wills" by providing that, after a divorce of a married couple by a decree of the Superior Court, those portions of the parties' last will and testament that had been signed prior to the divorce and that left property to the former spouse are automatically revoked by law. If former spouses still wish to benefit the other former spouse by will, they may do so by signing a new will after the divorce. If a couple is legally separated, but not divorced, the revocation does not occur. If a divorced couple subsequently remarries, the terms of the will, if never changed, are revived. The majority concluded that, since the divorce process results in a just and generally equitable distribution of a married couple's real and personal property, it is good public policy to prevent the unintended windfalls that have and could again benefit a former spouse because a person neglected to promptly change their will after a divorce. The bill came to the House with the full support of the Senate Judiciary Committee. It was also endorsed by the ad hoc Probate/Trust Committee organized by the probate court. Vote 10-6.

SB 395, enacting certain provisions of the prudent investor act. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Marjorie K. Smith for Judiciary and Family Law: This bill updates trust investment law in recognition of the alterations that have occurred in investment practice. It provides more comprehensive guidelines for trustee conduct and provides those charged with oversight of such trustees with standards against which to measure the trustee's conduct. Vote 14-0.

SB 438, exercising the authority of the state of New Hampshire to elect out of the federal Volunteer Protection Act of 1997. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Marjorie K. Smith for Judiciary and Family Law: The federal statute permits a state to opt out of the Federal Volunteer Protection Act for those civil actions "in a state court against a volunteer in which all parties are citizens of the state". Existing New Hampshire law provides some protection from liability for non-economic loss, a protection which does not exist in federal law. The majority of the committee chooses to continue this protection. For cases that would be subject to the jurisdiction of the federal courts, the federal statute would govern. Vote 9-4.

SB 446, relative to estate planning by a guardian. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Sandra B. Keans for Judiciary and Family Law: This bill applies only to estate planning for guardianships of adults under RSA 464-A (incompetency) with the consent of the probate court. This would allow guardians of those individuals to plan for avoidance of federal taxes and future medical needs just as competent individuals now do with estate planning. Vote 15-0.

Amendment (1280h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 2 with the following:

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect July 1, 1998.

SB 498, clarifying the definition of "right of custody" with respect to the crime of interference with custody. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Sandra B. Keans for Judiciary and Family Law: This bill deals with interference of custody and makes it a felony if the non-physical custody parent knowingly takes the child from the state. The bill is to clear up any misunderstanding in the way courts interpret whether a non-physical custody parent must adhere to the visitation stipulations. Vote 15-0.

Amendment (1472h)

Amend the bill by inserting after section 1 the following and renumbering the original section 2 to read as 3:

2 Interference With Custody. Amend RSA 633:4, I and II to read as follows:

I. A person is guilty of a class B felony if:

(a) ~~He~~ such person knowingly takes from this state or entices away from this state any child under the age of 18, or causes any such child to be taken from this state or enticed away from this state, with the intent to detain or conceal such child from a parent, guardian or other person having lawful [charge of such child; and

(b) ~~He does not have a right of custody with respect to such child~~ physical custody or physical custodial rights as described in RSA 458:17, IV.

II. A person is guilty of a misdemeanor if:

(a) ~~He~~ such person knowingly takes, entices away, detains or conceals any child under the age of 18, or causes any such child to be taken, enticed away, detained or concealed, with the intent to detain or conceal such child from a parent, guardian or other person having lawful [charge of such child; and

(b) ~~He does not have a right of custody with respect to such child~~ physical custody or physical custodial rights as described in RSA 458:17.

SB 502-FN, allowing federal judges to perform marriages after obtaining a special license. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Peter F. Bergin for Judiciary and Family Law: Currently, a federal judge or federal magistrate cannot perform a marriage in the state of New Hampshire. This bill would extend a courtesy to any federal judge or magistrate to perform a marriage in the state of New Hampshire after obtaining a special license and paying a nominal fee. Vote 11-4.

Amendment (1491h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Solemnization of Marriages; Federal Judges and Magistrates Added. Amend RSA 457:31 to read as follows:

457:31 Who May Solemnize. Marriage may be solemnized by a justice of the peace as commissioned in the state; by any minister of the gospel in the state who has been ordained according to the usage of his or her denomination, resides in the state, and is in regular standing with the denomination; by any clergyman who is not ordained but is engaged in the service of the religious body to which he or she belongs, resides in the state, after being licensed therefor by the secretary of state; and within his or her parish, by any minister residing out of the state, but having a pastoral charge wholly or partly in this state; by judges of the United States appointed pursuant to Article III of the United States Constitution, or by United States magistrate judges appointed pursuant to federal law.

2 New Section; License and Fee; Judges of the United States. Amend RSA 457 by inserting after section 32 the following new section:

457:32-a Judges of the United States. The secretary of state may issue a special lifetime license to a judge of the United States residing in this state who is appointed pursuant to Article III of the United States Constitution, or to a United States magistrate judge residing in this state and appointed pursuant to federal law, to marry a couple within the state. There shall be a one time fee of $25 for such license and the secretary of state shall maintain a record of all special lifetime licenses issued. A copy of the marriage license of the couple proposed to be married shall be filed with the secretary of state who shall maintain a permanent record of all such marriage licenses and the name and residence of the judge or magistrate performing the ceremony.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

SB 441-FN-L, relative to the authority of and protections for fire chiefs. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Robert W. Brundige for Municipal and County Government: This bill grants authority to appointed fire chiefs, chief fireward or engineer to direct and control department employees. Further, in the event of suspension or dismissal, it provides for a hearing on the merits and reasonableness of the action in superior court in the county in which the municipality is located. These powers are identical to those granted to police chiefs under RSA 105:2-a. Vote 14-0.

SB 493, establishing a commission to determine the feasibility of a new public-private partnership to conserve New Hampshire's priority natural, cultural, and historical resources. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Rudolf A. Adler for Resources, Recreation and Development: This bill establishes a 19 member commission to determine the feasibility of a new public-private partnership to conserve New Hampshire's priority natural, cultural, and historical resources. A preliminary report will be due by November 30, 1998 with a final report, if necessary, due by November 30, 1999. Vote 13-0.

Amendment (1314h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 3 with the following:

3 Membership. The members of the commission shall be as follows:

I. Six members appointed by the president of the senate as follows:

(a) Two members of the senate; and

(b) Four public members who shall represent the following interests: natural resources; cultural resources; business and industry; and municipalities.

II. Six members appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives as follows:

(a) Two members of the house; and

IV. The commissioner of the department of environmental services, or designee.

The commission shall submit its final report of findings and recommendations for action to the senate president, the speaker of the house of representatives, and the governor on or before November 30, 1999.

REGULAR CALENDAR

SB 321-FN-L, relative to creating a joint maintenance high school in certain towns. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Marie N. Rabideau for Education: This bill, as amended, provides that if any combination of the towns of Barnstead, Gilmanston, and Pittsfield enter into a joint maintenance agreement (JMA), they will be considered a single cooperative school district for the purpose of obtaining building aid. The provision in statute enabling the formation of a JMA has not been used in almost 100 years. Perhaps this is why this type of joint venture has not been addressed relative to building aid, until now, when other types of agreements (i.e. Authorized Regional Enrollment Area [AREA's] or co-ops) do not meet their needs. (SB 448, an act establishing a committee to study JMA's is also offered to this body for consideration.) The committee felt that the long standing school building issues and needs in these towns are well served by passing this bill as amended. Vote 14-2.

Amendment (1560h)

Amend RSA 198:15-b, VI as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

VI. For the purposes of calculating a grant under this section, should the school districts of Barnstead, Gilmanston, and Pittsfield, or any combination thereof, enter into a joint maintenance agreement prior to July 1, 2003, to build a high school pursuant to RSA 194:21, any 2 or more such districts shall be considered a single cooperative school district in accordance with RSA 195.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill provides that if the towns of Barnstead, Gilmanston, and Pittsfield, or any combination thereof, enter a joint maintenance agreement to build a high school, any 2 or more such districts will be considered a single cooperative school district for the purposes of obtaining school building aid.

Adopted.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 451-FN-L, relative to the accessibility of pupil assessment materials and the anonymity of pupil assessment results. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Charles B. Yeaton for Education: This bill puts into statute what is currently being carried out by the state department of education permitting a parent to review test materials after the test has been administered. The amendment requires that the department of education formalize these procedures through the adoption of rules. Vote 15-0.

Amendment (1471h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Sections; Accessibility of Assessment Materials; Anonymity of Results. Amend RSA 193-C by inserting after section 9 the following new sections:

193-C:10 Accessibility of Assessment Materials. After the assessment results are released to the department, a pupil's parent or legal guardian shall have the right to inspect and review their child's assessment booklet and answer or response sheets. A parent or legal guardian shall direct their request for inspection or review to the department, and the department shall have no more than 45 days to comply with such request. The commissioner shall adopt rules, pursuant to RSA 541-A, to implement procedures for the review and inspection of assessment materials. These rules shall provide parents and legal guardians with the same rights accorded to them under the Family Educational and Privacy Rights Act, 20 U.S.C. 1232g.

193-C:11 Anonymity of Pupil Assessment Results; Parental Authorization Required. Individual pupil names or codes contained in the statewide assessment results, scores, or other evaluative materials shall be deleted for the purposes of records maintenance and storage of such results or scores at the department of education, unless a parent or legal guardian provides written authorization otherwise, or as required under federal law. Individual pupil results shall be made available to a parent, a legal guardian, or the pupil's school in accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act, 20 U.S.C. section 1232g.

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect January 1, 1999.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill guarantees parents and legal guardians the right to inspect and review a pupil's assessment materials within 45 days of a request made to the department of education. The bill also provides that assessment results obtained from the statewide education assessment and improvement program stored at the department of education shall not include individual pupil names or codes.

Adopted.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 505-FN, eliminating the separate fee for licensed master plumbers who are the sole shareholders of a plumbing corporation. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Robert K. Dodge for Executive Departments and Administration: The majority of the committee felt that sole proprietors should not be required to obtain a dual license if they choose to incorporate. Vote 8-6.

Adopted and ordered to third reading.

HB 1000-FN-L, relative to a 10-year transportation plan, authorizing construction on the Spaulding Turnpike, and relative to the radio system upgrade for the department of transportation. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Robert G. Holbrook for Finance: The Finance Committee applauds the work of the Public Works and Highways Committee in drafting the 10-year transportation plan and added an amendment to raise the bond limit to $586,050,000 as needed by this bill and added the appropriation clause for up-grading the Department of Transportation radio system. Vote 22-0.

Amendment (1496h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 3 with the following:

4 Revenue Bonds. Amend RSA 237-A:2 to read as follows:

237-A:2 Issuance of Revenue Bonds. The state may issue bonds under this chapter to be known as "turnpike system revenue bonds." The bonds may be issued from time to time for the purpose of financing the project costs of construction of any turnpike or of paying or refunding any bonds issued pursuant to RSA 237 or interest thereon. Any such bonds issued to pay or refund bonds issued pursuant to RSA 237 or interest thereon may be issued in sufficient amount to cover items described in RSA 237-A:7. Bonds issued hereunder shall be special obligations of the state and the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on all bonds shall be payable solely from the particular funds provided therefor under this chapter. The bonds shall be issued by the treasurer in such amounts as the governor and council shall determine, not exceeding in the aggregate [~~$550,000,000~~] $586,050,000. Bonds of each issue shall be dated, shall bear interest at such rate or rates, including rates variable from time to time as determined by such index, banker's loan rate or other method as may be determined by the treasurer, and shall mature at such time or times as may be determined by the treasurer, except that no bond shall mature more than 40 years from the date of its issue. Bonds may be made redeemable before maturity either at the option of the state or at the option of the holder, or on the occurrence of specified events, at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the treasurer prior to the issue of bonds. The treasurer shall determine the form and details of bonds.

Subject to RSA 93-A, the bonds shall be signed by the treasurer and countersigned by the governor. The bonds may be sold in such manner, either at public or private sale, for such price, at such rate or rates of interest, or at such discount in lieu of interest, as the treasurer may determine.

5 Appropriation. In addition to any other funds appropriated to the department of transportation, there is hereby appropriated to the department the sum of $311,600 for the biennium ending June 30, 1999, for the purposes of the radio system upgrade-statewide in 1995, 309:4, I, A as amended by 1997, 349:34, XXXVI. This appropriation shall be a charge against the turnpike fund.

6 Effective Date.

I. Section 5 of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

Adopted.

Rep. Franklin Torr yielded to questions.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 210-FN, relative to an exemption from licensing for day care in private homes. OUGHT TO PASS Rep. Joseph P. Manning for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: This bill exempts from licensure those who provide child care in a private home for their own children or those of relatives. Vote 11-2.

Adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 422-FN, establishing a study committee on the procedures for and affordability of open access to judicial records. MAJORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE. MINORITY: OUGHT TO PASS. Rep. Sandra B. Keans for the Majority of Judiciary and Family Law: The committee believes the scope of this bill is not focused enough. 99% of court records are currently open to the public. We recognize it is not inexpensive to get transcripts. However, the protections gained by requiring court proceedings to be done by a specialized court stenographer, while expensive, are important for all parties. There is a technical flaw in the bill in that the court modernization funds referred to are set to lapse on July 1. Lately, many members believed that a true study of this important topic should not be scheduled in the second year of the session when some members would not be returning and others members would have their time filled with campaigning. Vote 12-1.

Rep. David A. Bickford for the Minority of Judiciary and Family Law: Many members of the public feel the high cost of court records forces them to give up possible evidence; therefore feeling justice is unaffordable. Even a representative of the court acknowledged the problem. This bill was voted unanimous in the Senate and had no opposition in committee.

Rep. Bickford spoke against.

Rep. Bergin spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Cobbin requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being the adoption of the majority report.

SB 487, relative to the general powers and duties of a guardian over the estate of the minor. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Marjorie K. Smith for the Majority of Judiciary and Family Law: This bill is the result of a 1996 probate study committee. It applies in those situations where there is no will and therefore where the parents had not indicated their intentions. Under current law a guardian would necessarily be appointed to protect the minor and the minor's assets. This bill would give the guardian, with court authorization, the power to create and fund a trust for the benefit of the minor. The trust could terminate at some time after the termination of the guardianship but no later than the 25th birthday of the minor. The majority concluded that this flexible approach best balanced the possible competing forces of independence and responsibility. Vote 12-3.

Rep. Benjamin F. DePecol for the Minority Judiciary and Family Law: The minority of the committee believe that this is big government at its worst. This bill would allow the courts and guardians to deny a person, (who may be qualified to go to war or serve on a jury) access and discretion over funds properly left to that person until the courts or guardian decide that the person is qualified to control those funds. The court and/or guardian can deny this access and discretion until the person reaches the age of 25.

Amendment (1344h)

Amend RSA 463:19, II as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. Except as limited by statute or order of the court, the guardian of the estate shall have the power to perform, without court authorization, every act which persons of prudence, discretion, and intelligence, and exercising judgment and care as in the management of their own affairs, would perform, including but not limited to, the powers specified in the Uniform Trustee's Powers Act pursuant to RSA 564-A:3. The guardian of the estate, with court authorization, shall have the power to create and fund a trust, to terminate at some time after the termination of the guardianship, for the benefit of the minor into which all or part of such minor's estate may be transferred. Except in the case of a special needs trust as defined in RSA 564:23, II, the trust shall not continue beyond the twenty-fifth birthday of the minor.

Adopted.

Reps. Bickford and DePecol spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Cobbin spoke against.

Reps. Marjorie Smith and Pfaff spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Bickford requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

SB 374, relative to large water withdrawals and relative to exemptions from local planning and zoning requirements for public utilities. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Martin Feuerstein for Resources, Recreation and Development: New groundwater withdrawals amounting to 57,600 gallons (40 gallons per minute) or more in 24 hours from a well will have to give written notice to the municipalities of contribution. Department of Environmental Services is to adopt rules regarding these withdrawals. Public water utilities are exempt from local planning and zoning requirements. This will give towns a voice in new water withdrawals. Individual private wells are not affected by this legislation. Vote 9-4.

Adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 341, relative to the decommissioning finance committee. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Jeb E. Bradley for Science, Technology and Energy: The committee, after two public hearings and several long full committee work sessions, recommends passage of this bill which amends Chapter 374-F, the electric utility restructuring statute. (1) The amendment urges consideration of negotiated settlements. (2) The amendment calls for the Public Utilities Commission (PUC) to create an option for New Hampshire residents and businesses who choose not to choose a competitive electricity supplier. Under the amendment, this option called transition service, would be available for customers for two to four years. Transition service would be procured through competitive means and would have stable and predictable ceiling prices that are consistent with the near term rate relief principle. Those prices would rise over time in order to encourage customers to choose competitive suppliers. However, during the two to four year transition period, customers electing to take this service would have known electricity prices while they learn about the unfolding market and can assess their needs and options realistically. (3) The amendment also would exempt any new electricity generation facility from being a public utility. This amendment is intended to create a favorable regulatory climate for New Hampshire as many new gas generating plants are being proposed in New England and not all will be built. The amendment also allows existing generation units to be exempt from public utility status once divestiture of assets occurs. The amendment retains the PUC's authority to regulate electric generation facilities for reliability and safety purposes. (4) The amendment lastly allows the PUC to delay the electric utility restructuring implementation date passed July 1, 1998 if the PUC finds that delay is required due to events beyond their control of the commission, such as ongoing litigation. Vote 16-0.

Amendment (1531h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the implementation of electric utility restructuring.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Statement of Intent. The general court finds that:

I. Circumstances beyond the control of the public utilities commission may delay implementation of electric utility restructuring and customer choice beyond July 1, 1998. Further delay will harm the state's economy and cause a continued burden on the state's citizens, commerce, and industry.

II. Delays resulting from court orders have heightened the need to consider negotiated settlements to expedite restructuring, near term rate relief for customers, and customer choice.

III. The distinction between transition service and default service needs to be clarified.

IV. There should be a transition service procured through competitive means. The commission should ensure that the terms of transition service accomplish the principle of near term rate relief while taking into account the need for developing customer choice.

V. Procuring transition service through competitive means in RSA 374-F:3, V, as amended by this act, includes, but is not limited to:

(a) The option of establishing a ceiling price for transition service, separate from or in conjunction with the competitive sale of electric-utility-owned or affiliate-owned generation assets, entitlements, and power purchase contracts, whereby such ceiling pricing constitutes a fixed rate or price path, that rises over time; and

(b) The option of having transition service supplied by the current owner of such generation assets while the sale is pending and by the purchaser of such generation assets after the sale is closed, for the duration of the term that transition service is available.

2 New Section; Public Utilities; Definition of Terms; Utilities Exempted; Electric Generation Companies, When Public Utilities. Amend RSA 362 by inserting after section 4-b the following new section:

362:4-c Electric Generation Companies, When Public Utilities.

I. The term "public utility" shall not include any corporation, company, association, limited liability company, joint stock association, partnership or person, their lessees, trustees or receivers appointed by any court, solely by virtue of owning, operating, or managing any plant or equipment or any part of the same which has received a certificate of site and facility as an energy facility or as a bulk power supply facility pursuant to RSA 162-H after July 1, 1998, or are sold after July 1, 1998, for the generation or sale of electricity or for transmission of electricity from such a plant to an interconnection with the transmission grid. General or facility-specific safety and reliability standards established by the commission for electric generation facilities shall also apply to those facilities exempted from public utility regulation under this paragraph.

II. Any entity exempted by this section may seek public utility status from the commission if it so chooses.

3 New Paragraph; Public Utilities; Electric Utility Restructuring; Definitions; Default Service Added. Amend RSA 374-F:2 by inserting after paragraph I the following new paragraph:

I-a. "Default service" means electricity supply that is available to retail customers who are otherwise without an electricity supplier and are ineligible for transition service.

4 New Paragraph; Public Utilities; Electric Utility Restructuring; Definitions; Transition Service Added. Amend RSA 374-F:2 by inserting after paragraph IV the following new paragraph:

V. "Transition service" means electricity supply that is available to existing retail customers prior to each customer's first choice of a competitive electricity supplier and to others, as deemed appropriate by the commission.

5 Public Utilities; Electric Utility Restructuring; Restructuring Policy Principles; Universal Service; Transition Service and Default Service. Amend RSA 374-F:3, V to read as follows:

V. Universal Service.

(a) Electric service is essential and should be available to all customers. A utility providing distribution services must have an obligation to connect all customers in its service territory to the distribution system. A restructured electric utility industry should provide adequate safeguards to assure universal service. Minimum residential customer service safeguards and protections should be maintained. Programs and mechanisms that enable residential customers with low incomes to manage and afford essential electricity requirements should be included as a part of industry restructuring.

(b) As competitive markets emerge, customers should have the option of stable and predictable ceiling electricity prices through a reasonable transition period, consistent with the near term rate relief principle of RSA 374-F:3, XI. Upon the implementation of retail choice, transition service should be available for at least 2 but not more than 4 years after the start of competition, for customers who have not yet chosen a competitive electricity supplier. Transition service should be procured through competitive means and may be administered by independent third parties. The price of transition service should increase over time to encourage customers to choose a competitive electricity supplier during the transition period. Such transition service should be separate and distinct from default service.

(c) Default service should be designed to provide a temporary safety net and to assure universal access and system integrity. Default service should be procured through the competitive market and based on short-term market prices, and may be administered by independent third parties. The cost of administering default service should be borne by the customers of default service. If the commission determines it to be in the public interest, the commission may implement measures to discourage misuse, or long-term use, of default service. Revenues, if any, generated from such measures should be used to defray stranded costs.

(d) The commission should establish transition and default service appropriate to the particular circumstances of each jurisdictional utility.

6 Public Utilities; Electric Utility Restructuring; Implementation; Date. RSA 374-F:4, I is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

I. The commission is authorized to require the implementation of retail choice of electric suppliers for all customer classes of utilities providing retail electric service under its jurisdiction. The commission shall require such implementation at the earliest date determined to be in the public interest by the commission. However, in no event may the implementation be delayed beyond July 1, 1998 without legislative approval or a finding of public interest by the commission that delay is required due to events beyond the control of the commission. In addition, at the earliest practical date, the commission should make effective the unbundling of components of rates into at least distribution, transmission, and generation for each jurisdictional utility.

7 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes electric utility restructuring policy principles for default service and transition service. This bill also provides that implementation of electric utility restructuring may be delayed by a finding of the public utilities commission that delay is required due to events beyond the control of the commission.

Adopted.

Rep. Jeb Bradley yielded to questions.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

Rep. Joseph Foster declared a conflict of interest and did not participate.

SUSPENSION OF RULES

Rep. Edwin Smith moved that the Rules be so far suspended as to permit consideration at the present time of a non-germane amendment to SB 313, requiring compliance with the Military Selective Service Act as a condition to receiving certain state education and employment benefits.

On a division vote, 223 members having voted in the affirmative and 77 in the negative, the motion was adopted by the necessary two-thirds.

SB 313, requiring compliance with the Military Selective Service Act as a condition to receiving certain state education and employment benefits. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.

Rep. Dennis Fields for the Majority of State-Federal Relations and Veterans Affairs: This bill requires registration with the Selective Service Act in order to receive certain state education and employment benefits. Those students or individuals who do not register shall not be eligible to enroll in or to receive loans, grants or scholarships or other financial assistance at a state supported institution of post secondary or higher education. Currently, applicants for federal scholarships or student loans can automatically be registered when they submit their applications for financial aid by checking a "yes" box on the application. Federal law requires that an applicant for federal scholarships, grants or employment register before receiving such assistance or employment. The language of the bill follows a national model and was reviewed by the New Hampshire Selective Service Board prior to being submitted as legislation. To date, 21 states have passed similar laws. The General Counsel for the University System submitted testimony in full support of this bill. The proposed language for the application has already been drafted. State officials have determined that the state's obligations under this law will be fulfilled with the inclusion of the question on the application. The committee amendment corrects a wording problem with legislation passed last year. This technical change is necessary to allow continued payment of the Gulf War Veteran's bonus. Vote 9-5.

Rep. John M. Pratt for the Minority of State-Federal Relations and Veterans Affairs: The minority retains the Persian Gulf War bonus payments while stripping the Selective Service provisions from the bill. Four quick reasons for doing so: (1) No second chance: Once it had been discovered that a young man, who had been hired by the State or by any Town or City or by any school district, had failed to register for the draft, he would have to be fired immediately and NEVER EVER for the rest of his life be eligible to hold a State or local government job, or hold State or local office, or enroll (even at his own expense) in a state-supported institution of post secondary or higher education. Too Draconian. (2) Since the bill only applies to males, and the harsh punishments required under it will only affect males, it is clearly gender-based legislation. Too sexist. (3) Guess how much it will cost the State, the Towns, the Cities and all the school districts to "assure themselves" (Whatever that means??) that all applicants for employment or enrollment or financial aid are really registered for the draft???? Too expensive if done correctly. (4) The Selective Service Act is federal legislation. Why should we stick our noses into the Congress's Business? Let them determine the compliance requirements for their own laws. Too unnecessary.

Amendment (1450h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT requiring compliance with the Military Selective Service Act as a condition to receiving certain state education and employment benefits, and clarifying the procedure for making Persian Gulf War service bonus payments.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 1 the following and renumbering the original section 2 to read as section 3:

2 Persian Gulf War Service Bonus Payments; Manifest and Warrant Added. Amend RSA 115-A:10 to read as follows:

The director of the veterans council shall from time to time prepare a roster of the names of persons who have qualified for the bonus under RSA 115-A:9, and shall certify the same to the state treasurer, and prepare a manifest to authorize the state treasurer to make payments from funds not otherwise appropriated. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sums out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This act requires compliance with the Military Selective Service Act as a condition for receiving state educational and employment benefits including: state employment, enrollment in a state-supported institution of higher education, and the receipt of state funded educational assistance, including federally funded aid accepted by the state. This act also authorizes the governor to draw a warrant to pay Persian Gulf War service bonus payments to eligible veterans.

Adopted.

Rep. John Pratt offered the Minority amendment.

Amendment (1546h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT clarifying the procedure for making Persian Gulf War service bonus payments.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Persian Gulf War Service Bonus Payments; Manifest and Warrant Added. Amend RSA 115-A:10 to read as follows:

115-A:10 Roster. The director of the veterans council shall from time to time prepare a roster of the names of persons who have qualified for the bonus under RSA 115-A:9, and shall certify the same to the state treasurer, and prepare a manifest to authorize the state treasurer to make payments from funds not otherwise appropriated. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sums out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This act authorizes the governor to draw a warrant to pay Persian Gulf War service bonus payments to eligible veterans.

Reps. John Pratt and Bickford spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Reps. Lynott and MacAuslan spoke in favor.

Reps. D'Allesandro, James MacDonald and Edwin Smith spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Bickford requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being the adoption of the minority amendment.

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the Speaker.

Her Excellency, Governor Jeanne Shaheen, joined the Speaker on the podium for the day's opening ceremonies.

Prayer was offered by Guest Chaplain, Reverend Brent Carey, Curate of the Christ Episcopal Church in Exeter.

To the living God, known to us by many names, we give thanks today for the opportunity and privilege of serving the people of New Hampshire as elected representatives, appointed officials and administrators. This opportunity is a sacred one, something that we should keep in mind always and treasure in our hearts. We give thanks as well for the many resources available to us in New Hampshire today; remembering especially the natural beauty of our state and the creativity and energy of our residents, especially our children. As this deliberative body meets today, let each member be conscious of the burdens of elected office and be lifted up by the delight with which they serve. Grant to every member here a sense of clear purpose and fair play so that all decisions made are made in the spirit of compassion and love. Guide the members of the House to wise decisions to the glory of God and in service to the people of New Hampshire. Bless this state and all its people. Consent Calendar adopted.

SB 336, relative to small group and individual insurance. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT Rep. Keith R. Herman for Commerce: This bill defines the term "credible coverage" as it relates to health insurance in the RSA. The Insurance Department requested this legislation to address federal regulation changes. The committee amendment clarifies the definition and changes grammatical errors. Vote 11-0.

Amendment (1273h)

Amend RSA 420-G:2, III as inserted by section I of the bill by replacing it with the following:

III. "Creditable coverage" means any public or private health insurance or health benefit plan, whether insured or self-insured, unless that coverage consists solely of benefits excluded from the definitions of "health coverage" in paragraph IX or "individual health coverage" in paragraph XI. Notwithstanding the exclusion in paragraph IX, short-term, nonrenewable individual policies for medical, hospital, or major medical coverage issued pursuant to RSA 415:5, III or other law shall be considered "credible coverage."

SB 340, relative to the filing fee for securities in a combined prospectus offered for sale in New Hampshire by a mutual fund. REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY

Rep. Eric N. Lindblade for Commerce: This bill would require a filing fee only for funds offered for sale in New Hampshire. Filing fees are currently levied on all funds in a prospectus if that prospectus is distributed in New Hampshire. The committee felt that additional study was needed to determine how many funds would be affected and what impact this would have on the sale of funds in the state. Vote 13-2.

SB 372, relative to forms and rates for large scale commercial insurance policies. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. George Hurt for Commerce: This legislation authorizes a limited program of commercial liability insurance deregulation to enable large scale commercial insurance customers, particularly businesses operating in several states, to purchase packages of liability insurance specially tailored to their specific needs, and at negotiated prices, without approval from the Insurance Department for forms and rates that may be included in such packages. Further, and equally important, is the issue of premium tax payments. Large scale insurance customers will now be able to purchase affordable insurance without sacrificing coverage offered by insurance companies licensed to operate in this state. Moreover, this legislation now will encourage those large scale insurance customers to keep their businesses in New Hampshire and attract commercial insurance companies to underwrite these risks, thus enhancing the premium tax base. To the extent this legislation authorizes the Insurance Department to issue a bulletin to insurers in assisting the implementation of this program, it further requires that the Insurance Department monitor said program and report their results to the General Court within 6 months after the expiration of four years following the effective date of this act. Vote 10-1.

Amendment (1376h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

I New Paragraph; Exemption from Approval of Form. Amend RSA 412:2 by inserting after paragraph I the following new paragraph:

I-a.(a) The requirements of paragraph I shall not apply to policies covered by RSA 412:1 which are issued to a large scale commercial insured. The form of any policy issued to a large scale commercial insured pursuant to this paragraph shall be kept available by the insurer for inspection by the insurance commissioner, upon request.

(b) For the purposes of this paragraph, a large scale commercial insured is an insured certifying that it presently pays annual aggregate insurance premiums of $500,000 or more and meets any of the following additional criteria:

(1) Generates annual net revenues or sales in excess of $100,000,000.

(2) Employs more than 500 employees per individual insured or is a member of an affiliated group employing more than 1000 employees in the aggregate.

(3) Procures its insurance through use of a full time employee acting as an insurance manager or buyer, or through the services of a regularly and continuously retained qualified insurance consultant.

(4) Possesses a net worth in excess of $50,000,000.

(5) Is a not-for-profit organization or a public body or agency generating annual budgeted expenditures of at least $45,000,000.

(6) Is a municipality with a population in excess of 50,000 persons.

(c) Policies issued pursuant to this paragraph shall contain a disclaimer in language similar to the following: "The form of this policy has not been filed with or approved by the New Hampshire insurance department."

(d) The provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to policies governed by RSA 412:8.

(e) The insurance department may issue a bulletin to assist in and to monitor implementation of this paragraph, without limiting the provisions thereof.

2 New Paragraph; Exemption from Rate Filing Requirement. Amend RSA 414:4 by inserting after paragraph X the following new paragraph:

XI.(a) The requirements of this section shall not apply to policies of insurance which are issued to a large scale commercial insured. Information relating to classifications, rules and rates applicable to any policy issued to a large scale commercial insured pursuant to this paragraph shall be kept available by the insurer for inspection by the insurance commissioner, upon request.

(b) For the purposes of this paragraph, a large scale commercial insured is an insured certifying that it presently pays annual aggregate insurance premiums of $500,000 or more and meets any of the following additional criteria:

(1) Generates annual net revenues or sales in excess of $100,000,000.

(2) Employs more than 500 employees per individual insured or is a member of an affiliated group employing more than 1000 employees in the aggregate.

(3) Procures its insurance through use of a full time employee acting as an insurance manager or buyer, or through the services of a regularly and continuously retained qualified insurance consultant.

(4) Possesses a net worth in excess of $50,000,000.

(5) Is a not-for-profit organization or a public body or agency generating annual budgeted expenditures of at least $45,000,000.

(6) Is a municipality with a population in excess of 50,000 persons.

(c) Policies issued pursuant to this paragraph shall contain a disclaimer in language similar to the following: "The rates provided for in this policy have not been filed with or approved by the New Hampshire insurance department."

(d) The provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to policies governed by RSA 412:8.

(e) The insurance department is authorized to issue a bulletin to insurers to assist in and to monitor implementation of this paragraph, without limiting the provisions thereof.

3 Report of Insurance Department. Within 6 months after the expiration of 4 years following the effective date of this act, the commissioner of insurance shall report to the speaker of the house and president of the senate with recommendations on whether RSA 412:2, I-a and RSA 414:4, XI should be amended.

4 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill exempts policies issued to large scale commercial insureds from certain form and rate filing requirements.

The bill also requires the insurance department to report to the legislature 4 years after the effective date of this act concerning the changes made by this act.

SB 393, relative to health insurance deductibles. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. David T. Mittelman for Commerce: This bill provides a mechanism to preserve deductibles accrued by an insured in the event the insured's health carrier terminates business operations in the state. Vote 11-0.

SB 399, correcting a reference in the insurance laws. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Keith R. Herman for Commerce: This bill is a request of the Insurance Department. The bill simply changes a reference to current RSA. There was no opposition to this change. Vote 11-0.

SB 333, allowing any registered voter who is unable to vote in person, by reason of extended work hours, lack of transportation, or illness in the family, to vote by absentee ballot OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Susan W. Almy for Election Law: This bill, as amended, clarifies existing law by specifying that a voter absent from town during polling hours may have an absentee ballot. Vote 10-0.

Amendment (1629h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to absentee voting.

Amend the bill by replacing sections 1-2 with the following:

1 Absentee Voting; Eligibility; Unable to Appear Causes Added. Amend RSA 657:1 to read as follows:

657:1 Absence, Religious Observance, and Disability Absentee Voting. Any person who is absent during polling hours on the day of any state election from the city, town, or unincorporated place in which [he] the person is registered to vote or who cannot appear in public on any election day because of [his] the person's observance of a religious commitment or who is unable to vote there in person by reason of physical disability, may vote at such elections as provided in this chapter.

2 Town Elections; Official Ballot; Absentee Voting; Unable to Appear Causes Added. Amend RSA 669:26 to read as follows:

669:26 Absentee Voting. Every town which has adopted an official ballot system for town elections as provided in RSA 669:12 or 669:13 shall provide for absentee voting. Any registered voter or armed services voter who is absent from such a town during polling hours on the day of a town election, or who cannot appear in public on election day because of [his] the person's observance of a religious commitment, or who, by reason of physical disability, is unable to vote in person may vote at a town election in accordance with the provisions of this section and RSA 669:27-29.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill provides that a registered voter who is absent from the city, town, or place during polling hours may vote by absentee ballot.

SB 423-FN, relative to eligibility for cost of living adjustments for retired members or beneficiaries in the New Hampshire retirement system. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Merton S. Dyer for Executive Departments and Administration: This bill will make supplemental allowances, authorized by the fiscal committee, payable on the anniversary of a member's retirement starting 24 months after the members retirement. Vote 17-0.

Amendment (1594h)

Amend RSA 100-A:41-a, I as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

I. [~~On July 1, 1994, and on every July 1 thereafter,~~] Any retired member of the New Hampshire retirement system or any of its predecessor systems, who has been retired for at least 24 months, or any beneficiary of such member who is receiving an allowance, shall be entitled to receive supplemental allowances, also known as cost of living adjustments or COLA's, on the retired member's latest anniversary date. The amount of such supplemental allowances shall be limited to from one percent to 5 percent, with increments of no less than 1/2 of one percent.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill allows retired members or their beneficiaries in the retirement system to receive cost of living adjustments on the retired member's latest anniversary date.

Referred to Finance.

SB 501-FN-A, relative to authorizing an attorney for prosecutions by the board of medicine and making an appropriation therefor. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Nancy C. Stickney for Executive Departments and Administration: This bill will provide a full time attorney for the Board of Medicine. At present, the board has a backlog of over 50 cases awaiting adjudication. This backlog could be potentially dangerous because some of the practitioners are still in practice. The costs associated with this position will be funded by the Board of Medicine. Vote 14-0.

SB 497, relative to disbursement of tobacco settlement funds received by the state. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. William S. Belvin for Finance: The purpose of SB 497 as amended is to ensure that any tobacco-related funds from settlements with tobacco companies, or from taxes imposed by the Congress that come to the states, would require the legislature to appropriate these funds before they could be expended. This ensures that the executive branch would not gain access to major unappropriated funds, without legislative participation and approval. The amendment replaces the entire bill. As originally passed in the Senate, the only settlement funds referenced were the $368.5 billion in the 1997 proposed settlement between the tobacco companies and the states' attorneys general. The amendment broadens the language to include the previously referenced funds and any additional tobacco-related payments whether they come from a settlement or new federal legislation. Vote 24-0.

Amendment (1622h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to disbursement of tobacco-related funds received by the state.

Amend the bill by replacing section 1 with the following:

1 New Section; Disbursement of Tobacco-Related Funds. Amend RSA 124 by inserting after section 13-a the following new section:

124:13-b Disbursement of Tobacco-Related Funds. Any tobacco-related funds, including funds from settlements and grants, received by the state shall be subject to the same department and agency planning requirements as federal block grants under this subdivision. No tobacco-related funds shall be expended until specifically appropriated by the legislature. This section shall not apply to tobacco-related funds raised by the state of New Hampshire.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes requirements for the expenditure of any tobacco-related funds received by the state.

SPECIAL ORDER

Reps. Wheeler and Burling moved that HB 1075-FN-A-L, implementing the Advancing Better Classrooms program to provide a constitutionally adequate public education to all children of New Hampshire, be made a Special Order for the first order of business on the Regular Calendar.

Adopted.

REGULAR CALENDAR

HB 1075-FN-A-L, implementing the Advancing Better Classrooms program to provide a constitutionally adequate public education to all the children of New Hampshire. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Neal M. Kurk for Finance: This bill as amended establishes a legislative response to the Claremont II decision. It proposes a profound change in the way in which New Hampshire defines, delivers and finances primary and secondary public education. This change reflects the shared vision of the House Education and Finance committees.

There are three basic parts to the new education policy. First, an adequate education is defined as the essential knowledge and skills we expect high school graduates to have so they can pursue higher education and participate successfully in the workforce. These include English, mathematics, science, government, economics, geography, history, arts, languages, literature, wellness and technology.

Second, performance and accountability measures are established that continue local control. School districts must file local improvement and assessment plans with the Department of Education, which can comment on the plans but has no authority to approve them. An annual "report card" will rank districts and schools on statewide assessment and other tests. This will provide benchmarks for local school districts. As now, minimum standards must be met. Technical assistance is made available both to school districts which request it and to school districts which have been designated by the Department of Education as not meeting quality standards.

Third, the state will ensure that every school district has the funds necessary to provide an adequate education. A new statewide, uniform property tax will provide most of the necessary resources. The tax rate will be computed by dividing the total cost of providing an adequate education in the state by the total equalized property value in the state. Supplemental state aid will be provided to school districts that cannot raise the revenue necessary for an adequate education through the uniform education property tax rate. Communities where the amount raised by the tax rate exceeds the cost of an adequate education will receive abatements. A severability clause provides that, if these abatements are declared unconstitutional, the rest of the bill, other than certain study commissions, will be invalid. As a result, no funds will be redistributed from property-rich to property-poor school districts. The bill appropriates the funds necessary to make the supplemental payments.

The uniform education property tax will be phased in. For the tax year beginning April 1, 1999, a total of $161 million (including $95 million in new funds) will be distributed under the current foundation aid formula, primarily to property-poor school districts. The bill as amended appropriates this sum. Meanwhile, a study commission will report to the next session of the General Court its recommendations on a formula to determine the cost of an adequate education and the method of distributing grants to school districts. $50,000 is appropriated to the commission to pay for necessary consultants. On the basis of the report, it is expected that an appropriate formula will be adopted by the General Court, and the uniform education property tax will be implemented in the tax year beginning April 1, 2000.

Should that not happen, the bill as amended contains a back-up formula which would go into effect at that time. In general terms, the back-up formula establishes a per pupil cost of an adequate education at the elementary, middle and high school levels. State grants to school districts are based on the number of pupils at each level. The grants include the costs of special education, vocational education, pupil support services, instructional support services, plant operations and administration costs. In addition to those grants, the back-up formula provides for the continuation of catastrophic aid, building aid and kindergarten aid. The current foundation aid program is terminated, but no district will receive less money under the back-up formula than it will under the 1998/9 foundation aid distribution. The back-up formula requires a total of $189 million (including $123 million in new funds) in supplemental state aid. The bill as amended appropriates this sum.

Other important parts of the bill as amended allow school districts to spend more money than is required to provide an adequate education. School districts are not required to provide programs or services identical to other districts, but they must appropriate at least the amount required to provide an adequate education. However, appropriations for current operational expenses (including contingency accounts) and transfers to reserves or trust funds count, and appropriations to contingency, which are not in fact spent, lapse to surplus. This reduces the property tax rate the next year.

Several significant study and oversight mechanisms are established. A legislative oversight committee will continually examine the goals, operation and financing of the program and report its findings every two years. Another committee will study special education issues and report by December 1, 1998. A study of public school facilities and the distribution of building aid will be commissioned. A report on new school accounting standards will be made by December 1, 1999. And an on-going review of minimum standards will be undertaken.

Finally, the bill as amended makes appropriations to administer its provisions. Two positions are established in the Department of Education this biennium at a cost of $115,000 to carry out financial and educational reporting requirements. And the Department of Revenue Administration is appropriated $240,000 to fulfill its additional responsibilities this biennium. Vote 19-6.

Amendment (1631h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Preamble.

In December 1997, the New Hampshire supreme court declared that the right to an adequate education is a fundamental right of all New Hampshire children. Furthermore, the supreme court determined that it is the state's duty to define and to provide a constitutionally adequate education. The supreme court held that, under part II, article 5, of the New Hampshire constitution, all taxes levied by the state, with respect to funding a constitutionally adequate education, must be proportional in substance and just and reasonable in application. The supreme court reaffirmed that, under the principles of separation of powers, the legislature has wide latitude in choosing the means by which the funding of a constitutionally adequate education is to be achieved.

An educated populace is essential to the long-term health and prosperity of the state. Recognizing that it is the state's obligation to provide a constitutionally adequate education, this act establishes a framework to ensure that the children of New Hampshire will have the opportunity to acquire the knowledge and skills necessary to prepare them for successful participation in society.

Local control of public schools is the best method of ensuring parental and community involvement in the education of the children of New Hampshire. The use of property value as a base for the calculation of the contribution of New Hampshire citizens to support their schools encourages and nurtures local and parental interest and participation in the education of children. That participation is a crucial component of effective schools. The roles of the state board of education and the state department of education are to work with local officials, parents, and other members of the community to ensure that the public schools provide children with the best education possible.

The use of the total statewide equalized value of real property is reasonable to establish the base rate of a tax on property to fund a constitutionally adequate education for all public school students of the state. Any legislative application of the supreme court's decision that uses real property taxed at an equal base rate must, in order to be just and reasonable, include a constitutionally valid state tax policy which incorporates and provides exemptions for the elderly, veterans, the legally blind, and the totally and permanently disabled; abatements to avoid inequitable tax burdens; and assessments for current use to support the conservation of our precious land. Rational exceptions dictated by sound public policy will minimize the effect of the single tax rate and will avoid undue and unjust burdens on New Hampshire's citizens.

Furthermore, the state recognizes that the provision of a constitutionally adequate education to the children in the cities and towns whose property base is insufficient to support the funding of such an education is an obligation of all citizens of the state of New Hampshire, and not solely the responsibility of the citizens of those cities and towns whose property base is more than sufficient to provide such an education. Accordingly, this act provides state grants in order to ensure each child a constitutionally adequate education funded in a just, fair, and reasonable manner.

2 New Chapter; Providing Constitutionally Adequate Public Education to All the Students of New Hampshire. Amend RSA by inserting after chapter 193-D the following new chapter:

CHAPTER 193-E

ADVANCING BETTER CLASSROOMS

193-E:1 Policy and Purpose.

I. It is the policy of the state of New Hampshire that public elementary and secondary education shall provide all students with the opportunity to acquire the knowledge and skills necessary to prepare them for successful participation in the social, economic, scientific, technological, and political systems of a free government, now and in the years to come; an education that is consistent with the curriculum and student proficiency standards specified in state school approval rules and New Hampshire curriculum frameworks.

II. Respecting New Hampshire's long tradition of community involvement, it is the purpose of this chapter to ensure that appropriate means are established to provide a constitutionally adequate education through an integrated system of shared responsibility between state and local government. In this system, the state establishes, through school approval and student proficiency standards and curriculum guidelines, the framework for the delivery of educational services at the local level. School districts then have flexibility in implementing diverse educational approaches tailored to meet student needs.

193-E:2 Criteria for a Constitutionally Adequate Education. A constitutionally adequate education shall provide all students with the opportunity to acquire:

I. Skill in reading, writing, and speaking English to enable them to communicate effectively and think creatively and critically.

II. Skill in mathematics and familiarity with methods of science to enable them to analyze information, solve problems, and make rational decisions.

III. Knowledge of the biological, physical, and earth sciences to enable them to understand and appreciate the world around them.

IV. Knowledge of civics and government, economics, geography, and history to enable them to participate in the democratic process and to make informed choices as responsible citizens.

V. Grounding in the arts, languages, and literature to enable them to appreciate our cultural heritage and develop lifelong interests and involvement in these areas.

VI. Sound wellness and environmental practices to enable them to enhance their own well-being, as well as that of others.

VII. Skills for lifelong learning, including interpersonal and technological skills, to enable them to learn, work, and participate effectively in a changing society.

193-E:3 Methodology for Calculating the Per Pupil Cost of an Adequate Education.

I. In this section:

(a) "Total statewide aggregated cost" means the total of the costs of delivering an adequate education at the elementary school level as calculated in subparagraph II(a).

(b) "Adjusted total statewide aggregated cost" means the total statewide aggregated cost at the elementary school level adjusted by deducting certain revenue as explained in subparagraph II(b).

(c) "Statewide total average daily membership in residence" means the state total number of students as calculated in RSA 189:1-d, IV.

(d) "Elementary school" has the same meaning as in RSA 189:25.

(e) "Recognized middle or junior high school" has the same meaning as in RSA 189:25.

(f) "High school" has the same meaning as in RSA 194:23.

II.(a) For the biennium beginning July 1, 1999, the department of education shall calculate the statewide per pupil cost of an adequate education at the elementary school level based on district-level financial information reported to the department of education for the 1996-1997 school year and aggregated for the state as a whole. The cost factors to be aggregated shall be: instruction, including regular, special, and vocational education; pupil support services; instructional support services; other support services; operations and maintenance of plant; and administrative costs capped at 8 percent of the total costs. This amount shall be designated the total statewide aggregated cost. The following formula represents this calculation:

Total statewide aggregated cost = [total cost of instruction + total cost of pupil support services + total cost of instructional support services + other support services + total cost of operations and maintenance of plant] \div 0.92.

(b)(1) The total statewide aggregated cost shall be adjusted by deducting the amount of the following revenues attributable to the elementary school level:

(A) Tuition fees counted as revenue by receiving districts.

(B) Other revenue from local sources, except food service revenue and sale of fixed food service assets.

(C) Revenue from state except for foundation aid, school building aid, vocational school transportation, vocational school building, and child nutrition.

(D) Cost of operating restricted federal grant programs except child nutrition deducted on the basis of revenue.

(E) Unrestricted grants and other revenue from the federal government.

(2) This amount shall be designated the adjusted total statewide aggregated cost. The following formula represents this calculation:

Adjusted total statewide aggregated cost = total statewide aggregated cost - [tuition fees + other revenue from local sources except food service revenue and sale of fixed food service assets + revenue from state except for foundation aid, school building aid, vocational school transportation, vocational school building, and child nutrition + revenue from federal sources except revenue for child nutrition].

(c) The statewide per pupil cost of an adequate education at the elementary school level for the biennium shall be calculated by dividing the adjusted total statewide aggregated cost by the state total average daily membership in residence at the elementary school level calculated by the department of education for the 1996-1997 school year. The following formula represents this calculation:

Statewide per pupil cost of an adequate education at the elementary school level = adjusted total statewide aggregated cost \div statewide average daily membership in residence at the elementary school level.

III. For each subsequent biennium, the statewide per pupil cost of an adequate education at the elementary school level shall be adjusted by the change in the New England Consumer Price Index.

IV. In calculating the state education tax rate pursuant to RSA 76:3-a and in determining the state grants to municipalities for education under RSA 193-E:7, the average daily membership in residence shall be adjusted in accordance with the weights calculated by the department of education which reflect the proportional costs determined using the same cost factors and methodology provided in paragraph II for educating students at the elementary, recognized middle or junior high, and high school levels.

V.(a) The governing body of each school district or the board of trustees of approved public academies shall ensure that the information needed by the department of education, as specified in RSA 198:4-d and RSA 189:28, to calculate the statewide per pupil cost of an adequate education is submitted to the department of education and to the department of revenue administration on or before September 1 of each year.

(b) When a school district is audited by an independent public accountant, the information required under this section shall be reviewed during the school district's annual audit and shall be commented on by the auditor.

VI. The commissioner of the department of education shall report the figures for the statewide per pupil cost of an adequate education, the statewide average daily membership in residence, and the average daily membership in residence for each municipality to the commissioner of the department of revenue administration by December 1 of each year.

193-E:4 Delivery of a Constitutionally Adequate Education. In order to implement New Hampshire's policy of providing all students with the opportunity to acquire a constitutionally adequate education, each school district shall implement the following quality standards:

I. By June 30, 2000, and every 3 years thereafter, each school district, through a process involving parents, teachers, employers, and other community members, shall prepare and implement a local education improvement and assessment plan and file such plan with the department of education. The department of education shall comment to the district on the plan in a timely fashion. Districts may reference the statewide education improvement and assessment plan established in RSA 193-E:5, I, in preparing the district plan. At a minimum, the plan shall include:

(a) Curriculum and achievement standards for all students.

(b) School and district performance goals based on reported data on educational indicators listed in paragraph II.

(c) Procedures for aligning curriculum, instructional practices, and student and programmatic assessments, including annual reporting of results.

(d) Local assessment measures which focus on individual student performance.

(e) Role of support services and programs.

(f) Role of instructional leadership.

(g) Strategies to promote family and community involvement.

(h) Staff supervision and evaluation and performance-based professional development.

II. By April 1, 2000, and annually thereafter, each school district shall report to the department of education its data for the previous 12 months on its school and district performance indicators. The requirements for data keeping and the form of the report shall be established in accordance with rules adopted by the state board of education.

(a) Performance indicators shall include the following areas:

(1) Attendance and drop-out rates.

(2) School environment indicators, such as safe-schools data.

(3) Proportion of graduating students going on to post-secondary education, military service, and the workplace.

(4) Performance on state tests administered pursuant to RSA 193-C and other standardized tests administered at local option.

(b) In addition, local districts shall report on locally developed performance indicators and assessment measures.

(c) These indicators and assessment measures shall be reported along with other data collected and analyzed by the department of education in the annual report on the condition of education established in paragraph V.

III. Each elementary, middle, junior high, and/or high school in the school district shall meet the standards for school approval adopted by the state board of education.

IV. Beginning December 1, 2001, and annually thereafter, the commissioner of education shall determine the extent to which each school district is meeting the quality standards established in paragraphs I, II, and III. Any school district that does not meet the quality standards shall be designated by the commissioner of education as a district in need of assistance. The commissioner of education, annually, shall provide a report of such determinations to the department of revenue administration.

V. No later than December 1, 2000, and annually thereafter, the department of education shall issue a report on the condition of education statewide and on a district-by-district and school-by-school basis. This report shall include demographic and student performance data including, but not limited to, school and district performance on state tests administered pursuant to RSA 193-C, other standardized tests administered at local option by at least 25 percent of school districts, data provided under paragraph II, as well as other relevant statistics. Comparisons with state averages and with the condition of each district and school in comparison with previous years shall be provided, including, but not limited to, statewide rankings of each district and school on the state tests administered pursuant to RSA 193-C and on other standardized tests administered at local option by at least 25 percent of school districts. The report shall be organized and presented in a manner that is easily understood by the public and that assists each school district with the identification of trends, strengths, and weaknesses and the development of its local education improvement and assessment plan.

VI. Within 45 days of the issuance of the annual report on the condition of education, each school district shall provide an opportunity for public discussion of the report at a meeting of the governing body called for the exclusive purpose of reviewing the report. At least 7 days advance public notice shall be given.

VII. A school district that meets or exceeds the quality standards shall receive formal recognition from the state board of education and the governor. Any school district, school, or teacher that demonstrates a best practice worthy of recognition shall also receive formal recognition from the state board of education and the governor. Such school districts, schools, or teachers may be eligible to receive funds from a special projects and district improvement fund administered by the department of education. Such funds shall be used to disseminate best practices throughout the state.

VIII.(a) A school district, in response to the annual report on the condition of education, may request from the department of education the assistance available under paragraph IX.

(1) If a school district requesting assistance has not been designated as a school district in need of assistance pursuant to paragraph IV, then the assistance requested under this section and provided by the department of education shall be based on availability of resources as determined by the commissioner of education.

(2) If a school district requesting assistance has been designated as a district in need of assistance, then that school district shall receive the assistance it requests from the department of education in accordance with subparagraph IX(a)(3).

(b) If a school district has received notice pursuant to paragraph XI, then that school district shall receive assistance from the department of education in accordance with subparagraph IX(a)(3).

IX. The department of education and the state board of education shall work cooperatively with either a school district requesting assistance or a school district designated as a district in need of assistance as follows:

(a)(1) Within one month of a school district's request for assistance pursuant to subparagraph VIII(a)(1), the commissioner of education may appoint a quality assurance team to review the educational programming and effectiveness of the school district. In cooperation with local officials, the team shall prepare and present a report at a regularly scheduled public meeting of the local school board and to the state board of education. This report shall be issued within 4 months of the team's appointment. Based on this report, the local school board and superintendent shall, within 6 months of the issuance of the report, prepare a corrective action plan and submit it to the state board of education for approval. The school district may decide to implement its corrective action plan on its own, through the use of a technical assistance advisor, or through the use of a peer review team. Any such decision shall be included in the corrective action plan.

(2) Within one month of a school district's request for assistance pursuant to subparagraph VIII(a)(2), the commissioner of education shall appoint a quality assurance team to review the educational programming and effectiveness of the school district. In cooperation with local officials, the team shall prepare and present a report at a regularly scheduled public meeting of the local school board and to the state board of education. This report shall be issued within 4 months of the team's appointment. Based on this report, the local school board and superintendent shall, within 6 months of the issuance of the report, prepare a corrective action plan and submit it to the state board of education for approval. The school district may decide to implement its corrective action plan on its own, through the use of a technical assistance advisor, or through the use of a peer review team. Any such decision shall be included in the corrective action plan.

(3) Within one month of the issuance of a notice to a school district pursuant to paragraph XI, the commissioner of education shall appoint a quality assurance team to review the educational programming and effectiveness of the school district. In cooperation with local officials, the team shall prepare and present a report at a regularly scheduled public meeting of the local school board and to the state board of education. This report shall be issued within 4 months of the team's appointment. Based on this report, the local school board and superintendent shall, within 6 months of the issuance of the report, prepare a corrective action plan and submit it to the state board of education for approval. The school district may decide to implement its corrective action plan on its own, through the use of a technical assistance advisor, or through the use of a peer review team. Any such decision shall be included in the corrective action plan. If the state board of education does not approve a corrective action plan, then the commissioner of education shall work with the school district to revise its corrective action plan. If the school district fails to revise its corrective action plan or the state board of education does not approve the revised corrective action plan, then the commissioner of education shall submit a corrective action plan, including methods for implementing it, to the state board of education for approval without further action of the school district.

(b) If an approved corrective action plan includes the use of a technical assistance advisor, then the commissioner of education shall appoint a technical assistance advisor who is authorized to access the state special projects and district improvement fund to provide assistance to the local school district staff in the implementation of the corrective action plan until the goals of the corrective action plan are met.

(c) If an approved corrective action plan includes the use of a peer review team, then the commissioner of education shall name a peer review team consisting of an appointee of the local school district, an appointee of the state board of education, and a third member chosen by the local and state appointees to advise the school district's superintendent and the local school board relative to the implementation of the corrective action plan until the goals of the corrective action plan are met.

X. If, by the time of the annual school district meeting in a town or by April 30 in a city, the governing body of a school district that has been designated a district in need of assistance in accordance with paragraph IV has not submitted a request for assistance under paragraph VIII, then the legislative body of the school district may vote to direct the governing body to submit a request for assistance under paragraph VIII. If a majority of the legislative body votes in favor of requesting assistance, then that assistance shall be requested and provided in accordance with paragraphs VIII and IX.

XI. A school district shall have one year from the date of the designation as a district in need of assistance pursuant to paragraph IV to remedy identified problems at the local level. If a school district is designated as a district in need of assistance and that school district does not request assistance under paragraph VIII within one year of that designation, then on December 1 of the year following the designation, if that school district continues to be designated as a district in need of assistance, the commissioner of education shall issue a notice to that school district and shall initiate a process for assistance pursuant to subparagraph IX(a)(3), without further action of the school district.

XII. School districts are authorized to dedicate additional resources to schools and to develop educational programs beyond those required for a constitutionally adequate public education.

XIII. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to entitle any student to educational programs or services identical to those received by students in the same or any other school district.

193-E:5 Assistance to Local School Districts. In order to assist local school districts, the department of education shall implement the following:

I. By June 30, 2000, and every 3 years thereafter, the state board of education shall review and update the statewide education improvement plan developed in accordance with RSA 193-C that describes how the department of education will help schools and school districts improve student achievement, through a process that provides opportunities for public input from parents, employers, educators, and other citizens. The plan shall include goals and strategies for the delivery of technical assistance and professional development, the sharing of best practices, the modification or expansion of existing programs, and the establishment of new programs.

II.(a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no later than June 30, 2001, and every 5 years thereafter, the state board of education shall review and update school approval standards based on input from parents, employers, educators, and other citizens.

(b) The state board of education shall work with a joint select committee of the house and senate education committees, whose members shall be appointed by the speaker of the house and the president of the senate, to identify amendments that should be made to the school approval standards to reflect the provisions of RSA 193-E. Further, any proposed amendments should be reviewed by the house and senate education committees, which may submit comments on the proposed amendments to the state board of education. The state board of education shall consider such comments in revising proposed amendments to the school approval standards.

III. Beginning no later than January 1, 1999, the commissioner of education shall ensure that the state curriculum frameworks adopted pursuant to RSA 193-C shall be reviewed on a staggered, 5-year cycle such that no more than 2 frameworks are being reviewed at the same time.

PROTEST

Pursuant to Part 2, Article 24 of the New Hampshire Constitution, Rep. Cobbin requested that his protest be entered on the Journal.

The proponents of this bill claim to support local control. However, this amendment eviscerates local control and begins a process of consolidating education into a centralized command and control regimen. As such, I am compelled to protest the vote of the House which strikes a mortal blow to the core principle of this republican government: that this republican government was founded to insure the people have a representative government. The vote of the House replaces representative government at the local level with bureaucrats whose jobs are well insulated from the vote of the people. Secondly, the House elects to cede legislative power to an unrelated cartel of education bureaucrats and interests and agrees to limit severely the power of the House to oversee the behavior of state agents and officers. In the end, I cannot support the amendment nor the bill as they remind me of the difference between fascism and communism: the difference being without any degree, shall we be shot or stabbed.

MOTION TO LAY ON THE TABLE

Rep. McGough moved that HB 1075-FN-A-, implementing the Advancing Better Classrooms program to provide a constitutionally adequate public education to all the children of New Hampshire, be laid on the table.

Rep. McGough requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being the motion to lay on the table.

The Alger floor amendment failed.

Rep. Hemon offered a floor amendment.

Floor Amendment (1755h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 1 with the following:

1 Preamble.

From article 83, part II of the New Hampshire constitution: "Knowledge and learning, generally diffused through a community, being essential to the preservation of a free government, and spreading the opportunities and advantages of education through the various parts of the country, being highly conducive to promote this end..."

as well as for continued economic health of the state of New Hampshire, it is good and necessary, that the general court from time to time study and investigate thoroughly existing educational policies and funding relative to the current needs, as well as of the future, and make suitable changes if necessary. This act establishes a framework to ensure, that the mandate and command of article 83, part II of the New Hampshire constitution is carried out, such that opportunity to acquire the knowledge and skills necessary to prepare the children of this state for successful participation in the political and economic life of the state of New Hampshire in their future lives, shall be assured.

A free people participating in a government of the people, by the people, and for the people can accept nothing less than a total commitment to education, that is adequate and even excellent, this being the foundation for the survival of any civilization.

Local control of public schools is the best method of ensuring parental and community involvement in the education of the children of New Hampshire. The use of property value as a base for the calculation of the contribution of New Hampshire citizens to support their schools encourages and nurtures local and parental interest and participation in the education of children. That participation is a crucial component of effective schools. The roles of the state board of education and the state department of education are to work with local officials, parents, and other members of the community to ensure that the public schools provide children with the best education possible.

The use of the total statewide equalized value of real property is reasonable to establish the base rate of a tax on property to fund a constitutionally adequate education for all public school students of the state. Any legislative application, that uses real property taxed at an equal base rate must, in order to be just and reasonable, include a constitutionally valid state tax policy which incorporates and provides exemptions for the elderly, veterans, the legally blind, and the totally and permanently disabled, abatements to avoid inequitable tax burdens, and assessments for current use to support the conservation of our precious land. Rational exceptions dictated by sound public policy will minimize the effect of the single tax rate and will avoid undue and unjust burdens on New Hampshire's citizens.

Furthermore, the state recognizes that the provision of a constitutionally adequate education to the children in the cities and towns whose property base is insufficient to support the funding of such an education, is an obligation of all citizens of the state of New Hampshire, and not solely the responsibility of the citizens of those cities and towns whose property base is more than sufficient to provide such an education. Accordingly, this act provides state grants in order to ensure each child a constitutionally adequate education funded in a just, fair and reasonable manner.

Under no circumstances must the general court seek an advisory opinion on HB 1075 from the supreme court as article 5, part II states:

"And further, full power and authority are hereby given and granted to the said general court, from time to time, to make, ordain, and establish, all manner of wholesome and reasonable orders, laws, statutes, ordinances, directions, and instructions, either with penalties, or without, so as the same be not repugnant or contrary to this constitution."

Article 5, part II gives complete legislative control and authority to the general court, which must be free and without coercion, from whatever source and under all circumstances. Similarly, the taxing authority granted by article 28, part I is the sole prerogative of the general court, that should be exercised freely and without coercion, from whatever source and under all circumstances. Anything other than this results in an infringement and violation of article 37, part I of the New Hampshire constitution, separation of powers as defined above, and therefore unconstitutional and is an exercise of arbitrary power and oppression.

Article 10, Part I of the New Hampshire Constitution:

"...The doctrine of nonresistance against arbitrary power and oppression, is absurd, slavish, and destructive of the good and happiness of mankind."

Rep. Hemon spoke in favor.

The Hemon floor amendment failed.

Rep. Holt requested a quorum court. The Speaker declared a quorum present.

Rep. Jane Clemons offered a floor amendment.

Floor Amendment (1745h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 5 with the following:

5 Interim State Grants to Municipalities for Education.

I. Notwithstanding the calculation for the state grants to municipalities for education in RSA 193-E:7 and in lieu thereof, for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1999, distributions shall be made pursuant to this section.

II. The sum of $123,455,798 is hereby appropriated to the department of education for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1999, for distribution to municipalities through the foundation aid formula. Such sum shall be in addition to any other moneys appropriated to the department. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for such sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

III. The sum of $38,037,758 is hereby appropriated to the department of education for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1999, for distribution to the municipalities through the foundation aid formula. Such distribution shall take place after the distribution in paragraph II has been completed. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for such sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

IV. The distribution provided for in paragraphs II and III shall be paid at the time provided for under RSA 198 and shall be in lieu of the amounts provided therein.

V. No municipality shall receive less money under the distribution provided for in paragraph II than it would under the foundation aid formula funded at the level provided for in fiscal year 1999.

VI. No expenditure of funds received by a municipality under paragraphs II and III in excess of the level provided for in the state biennial budget for the fiscal years 1998-1999 shall be made unless approved by the legislative body of the local school district to which such funds are apportioned. Notwithstanding RSA 197:3, a special school district meeting may be held pursuant to RSA 197:2 for this purpose without court approval.

Rep. McGuirk requested a quorum count. The Speaker declared a quorum present.

Reps. Jane Clemons, Boutin, McGuirk and Holt spoke in favor.

Rep. Franks spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Kurk spoke against and yielded to questions.

Reps. DeStefano and Henderson spoke against.

Rep. Dawe requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being the adoption of the Jane Clemons floor amendment.

PROTESTS

Pursuant to Part 2, Article 24 of the New Hampshire Constitution, Reps. Hall and Below requested that their protest, and that of the undersigned members, be entered on the Journal.

May 14, 1998

We the undersigned Members of the New Hampshire House of Representatives, whether voting in favor of or opposition to the committee report on HB 1075, move to have our protest, or dissent, with the following reasons, entered on to the House Journal, pursuant to our right under Article 24, Part II of the State Constitution.

We are concerned that Section 15 of HB 1075, establishing abatements or exemptions to the state property tax created in Section 9-15, is unconstitutional and inequitable. Under Section 15, taxpayers residing in towns with taxable property wealth per pupil greater than the approximate state average will enjoy abatements or exemptions from the state education tax not enjoyed by residents and taxpayers in communities with less than average property wealth per pupil, regardless of the particular circumstances or ability to pay of each individual taxpayer. In fact, the greater the property wealth per student that a town enjoys, the greater the abatement or exemption from taxation and less proportionate burden the taxpayers in those towns bear. Our concern is that this provision appears to fly in the face of the requirements for equal protection of the law and proportionate and reasonable taxation established under Articles 1, 10 and 12 of Part I and Article 5 of Part II of our New Hampshire Constitution. The following excerpts from prior opinions of the Supreme Court of New Hampshire indicate the basis of our concern.

OPINION OF THE JUSTICES, 4 N.H. 565 (1829)

"... the taxes, laid upon inhabitants, and residents, and upon estates are not only to be proportional, but 'reasonable.' The word 'reasonable,' in this clause of the constitution, seems to be used as having the same meaning with the word just, and the sense of the clause to be, that taxes shall be laid, not merely proportionally, but in due proportion, so that each individual's just share, and no more, shall fall upon him. ... No tax is ever imposed upon a single county by the General Court ... No tax is ever imposed upon a single town by the legislature. ... The taxes imposed by the legislature for the support of schools do not form an exception. For these are, in their nature, state taxes, and fall in due proportion upon every town in the state."

MORRISON V. MANCHESTER 58 N.H. 538 (1879)

"The supreme legislative power, vested in the senate and house of representatives by the second article of the constitution, includes the power of taxation, which is the power of causing a constitutional division to be made, among the members of the community, of the public expense, of which each one is, by the twelfth article of the bill of rights, bound to contribute his share. Each one is bound to contribute his share of the expense incurred by all in protecting the life, liberty, and property of each, and promoting the common welfare. What each is bound to contribute being a debt of constitutional origin and obligation, no part of the share of one can be constitutionally exacted of another. And as any one's payment of less than his share leaves more than their shares to be paid by his neighbors, his non-payment of his full share is a violation of their constitutional right."

GOULD V. RAYMOND 59 N.H. 260 (1879)

"The right of the tax-payers of a town to contribute no more than their share of the public expense would not be a constitutional right, if the obligation of other towns to contribute their shares could be evaded by verbal ingenuity. Constitutional equality would have no meaning, if [a] burden ... could be put upon some towns, and not upon all. ... the principle of local self-government ... does not authorize an unequal division, among New Hampshire tax-payers, of a non-local expense ... [To put upon] some towns ... a burden not put upon others [is] an act of unequal taxation."

"The power of requiring the tax-payers of every town to pay their share of [a] tax, ... does not include a power of requiring one town to pay their share, and not requiring others to pay theirs. ... The difference between a law that requires them all to perform a common and justly apportioned duty, and a law that submits to each the question whether they will perform their part or not, is the difference between equality and inequality. The principle of local self-government allows, between towns, much inequality of taxation for local purposes, but not for purposes not local. ... The obligation of every member of the community to contribute his share of the public expense, is a part of the foundation which neither branch of the government is authorized to remove."

RAILROAD v. THE STATE, 60 N.H. 87 (1880)

"The unconstitutionality of unequal taxation is too plainly declared by our constitution, and too well settled by repeated decisions made during the last fifty-three years, to be debatable. A disproportional, unequal assessment, so far as it is disproportional and unequal, is an act, not of taxation, but of confiscation destitute of that element of equal rights which, under our constitution, is an essential part of the definition of law. "Equality is the corner-stone of every just and wholesome system of taxation. Every departure from this principle, no matter what the pretext may be, shifts upon one class a share of the burden of taxation that belongs to another." Rep. Tax Com'rs (1878), p. 10."

"Taxation requires a uniform valuation and a uniform rate. The expenditures of some towns and counties being greater than those of others, taxes must be higher in some than in others. But the rule of uniformity is coextensive with the territory to which a tax applies, and prevents unjust discriminations. A state tax must be uniform throughout the state, a county tax throughout the county, a town tax throughout the town."

STATE v. EXPRESS CO., 60 N.H. 219 (1880)

"... the true constitutional idea and basis of all taxation is equality and justice; and that each person and his estate shall bear his proportional and reasonable share of the public burdens. ... The unconstitutionality of an unequal division of public expense among New Hampshire tax-payers has been settled too long, and by too many decisions, to be a subject of debate or doubt. The difficulty of dividing public expense into the shares which the members of the community are bound to contribute, does not insert in their contract a power of imposing the share of one man, family, or class of men upon another man, family, or class."

SOCIETY v. MANCHESTER, 60 N.H. 342 (1880)

"The right of the legislature to make a partial exemption rests "upon the same basis as its right to make a total exemption. Every exemption is an indirect tax upon other property, and can only be justified where a direct tax upon other property in its behalf would be within the power of the legislature."

"The supreme power [of taxation, lodged in the representative body of the people is] limited only to equality and proportion in assessment. ... No exclusion of any individuals, classes, or property of any kind was made; but it was explicitly set forth, that "every member of the community" "is bound to contribute his share," and that the legislature had "full power and authority" to impose the "proportional and reasonable assessments" upon "all the inhabitants and residents" and "all the estates" within the state."

STATE v. PENNOYER, 65 N.H. 113 (1889)

"The law cannot discriminate in favor of one citizen to the detriment of another. The principle of equality pervades the entire constitution. ... All taxation must be equal. ... This is merely an example of the universal equality of right which the constitution secures to all. ... No one citizen or class of citizens can by law be charged with the performance of duties or subjected to burdens not by law made incumbent upon all other citizens in the same circumstances. ..."Equality of protection," says Field, J., "implies ... equal exemption with others in like condition from charges and liabilities of every kind."

STATE v. GRIFFIN, 86 N.H. 609 (1894)

"A state law selecting a ... municipal collection of persons for favors and privileges withheld from others is at war with a principle which this court is not authorized to surrender. ... There is no limit to the injustice and tyranny that can be practiced if uniformity and equality are not essential parts of law."

Pursuant to Part 2, Article 24 of the New Hampshire Constitution, Reps. Weber and Cobbin requested that their protest be entered on the Journal.

It is with great regret this experiment in democracy we have experienced these last couple of centuries is all but over. People, in whom we have entrusted our freedom, seek through lies and a perversion of the rules of government and humanity to deliver us to slavery. Many members of this House have, without thought, without reason or philosophy, trusted a leadership whom through their action clearly and ardently work for the evolution of the totalitarian state, which today is certain. These people will certainly be remembered in posterity for the plague against reason they have incubated this day. Certainly, there is no defense for these actions, fifty years ago Nuremberg taught us all that lesson. Those who support this de-evolution of democracy will not be spared judgment of time or Providence.

This bill which passes this House this day seeks to create a state indoctrination plan for our children. In order for the Fascist to rule, they must first corrupt the minds of the young, destroying truth and the ability to reason. In this scheme hatched out by the henchmen and women of evil, our singular identity, that which makes us human, our God given existence, our purpose for being, will be completely destroyed. All will live to serve only the state. In the end, those among us who will surely never surrender, will die or be rounded up like cattle and taken to the concentration camps, these creatures who hate humanity will surely build. This day we say these words not because they are popular and common, we say them because they are true.

RECONSIDERATION

Having voted with the prevailing side, Rep. Root moved that the House reconsider its action whereby it ordered to third reading HB 1075-FN-A-L, implementing the Advancing Better Classrooms program to provide a constitutionally adequate public education to all the children of New Hampshire. Reconsideration failed.

APPEAL

Rep. Sapareto requested that a House Resolution be drafted and introduced requesting an Opinion of the Justices on the constitutionality of HB 1075-FN-A-L, implementing the Advancing Better Classrooms program to provide a constitutionally adequate public education to all the children of New Hampshire.

The Speaker ruled that a two-thirds vote was necessary for drafting and introduction.

Rep. Wallin appealed the ruling of the Chair; sufficiently seconded.

The question now being shall the ruling of the Chair be sustained.

Rep. Wallin spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Sapareto spoke against.

Reps. Burling and Henderson spoke in favor.

Rep. Lessard requested a roll call; not sufficiently seconded.

On a division vote, 232 members having voted in the affirmative and 120 in the negative, the ruling of the Chair was sustained.

PROTEST

Pursuant to Part 2, Article 24 of the New Hampshire Constitution, Rep. Cobbin requested that his protest be entered on the Journal.

The vote in support of the Chair is a vote for anarchy. Clearly and on the face of them, the Rules support Rep. Sapareto. Rep. Dickinson clearly and correctly pointed this out. The legislature has devolved into a session of raw political power. While I disagree with the substance, I defend the right as a member.

MOTION TO PRINT REMARKS

Rep. Fuller Clark moved that the debate on House Bill 1075 be printed in the journal and spoke in favor.

Reps. Burling and Cobbin spoke in favor.

Rep. Carson spoke against.

On a division vote, 166 members having voted in the affirmative and 178 in the negative, the motion failed.

MOTION TO DRAFT AND INTRODUCE LEGISLATION

Rep. Sapareto moved that a House Resolution be drafted and introduced requesting an Opinion of the Justices on the constitutionality of HB 1075-FN-A-L, implementing the Advancing Better Classrooms program to provide a constitutionally adequate public education to all the children of New Hampshire.

Rep. Sapareto requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being the motion to draft and introduce a House Resolution.

SB 409-FN, relative to long-term care and extending the moratorium on new nursing home beds. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Lawrence A. Emerton for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: This bill is a result of over two years of work by the health and human services department and considerable work by the Senate. After extensive deliberation by our committee at several meetings, the numerous interested parties proposed over 40 amendments. The committee felt that the bill would be better if kept intact, rather than add amendments at this time.

This legislation is an initial step towards rebalancing the long term care continuum by adding more resources and support to the home and community based service infrastructure to make it more responsive to increased consumer demand. The long term care system, which provides a variety of personal care and other supportive services to the frail elderly and physically disabled or chronically ill adult populations, needs to be rebalanced. To a great extent, the current system relies on nursing facilities to provide this kind of care. While the quality of care provided in New Hampshire's nursing facilities is superior to other states, an increasing elderly and disabled population and decreasing public financial resources are causing the state to re-evaluate how long term care services are provided. Moreover, many long term care consumers and potential consumers have expressed that they prefer to be cared for at home or in other less acute settings. Because we spend far more on nursing facility care than on home and community based care, there is an inherent dichotomy between the state's present long term care system and consumer choice.

The major components of this very complex bill are: 1) A determination by the department of health and human services of the most cost effective and clinically appropriate level of residential long-term care services. The assessment shall be voluntary for all applicants, except for those who have applied for or have been determined to be eligible for medicaid benefits. 2) Extends the moratorium on new nursing homes from December 31, 1998 to December 31, 2001. 3) Establishes an adult family care program to provide services to elderly and disabled persons. 4) Changes the ratio of reimbursement funds required by the counties and state for nursing home care. 5) Requires the department of health and human services to establish an acuity-based reimbursement system for nursing homes.

Finally, this bill provides that the new long term care reimbursement system between the state and county will "sunset" in five years. Vote 16-1.

Rep. Emerton spoke in favor.

Rep. Kurk spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Adopted and referred to Finance.

Rep. Merritt declared a conflict of interest and did not participate.

SUSPENSION OF RULES

Reps. Wheeler and Burling moved that the Rules be so far suspended as to allow the reporting date for all bills in the House be extended to May 28, 1998 and that June 4, 1998 be established as the deadline for action on all bills.

Adopted by the necessary two-thirds.

MOTION TO DIVIDE THE QUESTION

Rep. Weyler moved that the third reading motion be divided and that HB 1075-FN-A-L, implementing the Advancing Better Classrooms program to provide a constitutionally adequate public education to all the children of New Hampshire, be considered separately.

The Speaker ruled that the question was divisible.

RESOLUTION

Rep. Wheeler offered the following: RESOLVED that the business of the late session be in order at the present time and that HB 1075-FN-A-L, implementing the Advancing Better Classrooms program to provide a constitutionally adequate public education to all the children of New Hampshire be read a third time and passed.

On a division vote, 243 members having voted in the affirmative and 83 in the negative, House Bill 1075 was read a third time and passed.

LATE SESSION

Third reading and final passage

HB 1075-FN-A-L, implementing the Advancing Better Classrooms program to provide a constitutionally adequate public education to all the children of New Hampshire.

PROTEST

Pursuant to Part 2, Article 24 of the New Hampshire Constitution, Rep. Mirski requested that his protest be entered on the Journal.

In order to preserve the taxing authority reserved to the people of New Hampshire by the state constitution and in order to preserve the power granted the legislature to represent the interests of the people, the New Hampshire House and Senate must set aside the aspects of the Claremont I and Claremont II rulings which require the state to “guarantee” funding of a constitutionally adequate education. Article 28 of Part I of the New Hampshire Constitution asserts that: “No subsidy, tax, import or duty, shall be established, fixed, laid or levied, under any pretext whatsoever, without the consent of the people, or their representatives in the legislature, or authority derived from that body.”

For the New Hampshire House to accede to the court’s Claremont I ruling, reaffirmed in Claremont II, that the state “guarantee” funding of a constitutionally adequate education would be to affirm that sums equivalent to two-thirds or more of local (municipal) appropriations and taxes be formally earmarked for education before the first tax dollar could be raised and appropriated for any other purpose. To bow to the court would be to concede that education spending should preempt spending for public safety, public health, disaster relief, public welfare, job creation, infrastructure improvements, criminal justice, the judiciary and the courts, pollution control, recreation, natural resources and the environment, public parks and the administration of government itself. To concur that education funding be “guaranteed” by the state would be to agree that about $1.1 billion dollars of public spending be removed from the meaningful public debate. To concur with the court would be to deny the people’s constitutional right, under Part I, Article 28, to vote on which of those services of government are most important to them and to determine to what extent elected services are worthy of financial sacrifice. To agree with the court’s order that the people and their elected representatives must approve education funding mandated by the Supreme Court would be to preside over the extinction of representative government in New Hampshire.

As constitutional officers, members of the New Hampshire House and Senate are compelled to support the constitution of New Hampshire. We are compelled to maintain constitutional separation of powers and to insure that the cost of government not be imposed on the people without their consent. The court’s holding that the state “guarantee” education funding irresolvable conflicts with Part I, Article 28.

If allowed to stand, the Supreme Court’s rulings will materially affect the separation and balance of power among the three branches of government in ways which transcend taxes and spending. The court’s rulings shift government power from the people to the Governor and to the courts. As the debate over what constitutes educational adequacy plays out, judges will define and redefine what constitutes educational adequacy. Judges are appointed by the Governor. The Governor also appoints members of the State Board of Education. The Governor, through the State Board of Education, administers and directs the state’s educational bureaucracy. Since education funding and content will effectively be beyond control of the legislature, the Governor will gain enormous influence over the disposition of what presently amounts to more than a billion dollars of spending statewide. The political leverage which will accrue to the Governor as a result of influence over such significant sums will diminish the power of the House and Senate to control taxes and spending. The House, where all money bills must originate, will find its tax and spending options substantially curtailed by the demands of education funding. It will also find its policy options in all other areas of government materially affected by the preemptive demands of the education lobby. The court’s requirement that “adequate education’s” appetite for appropriations be satisfied before the needs of any other state or municipal service will cause the funding demands of “adequate education” to dominate virtually all public and legislative debate. Since funding of education will be required regardless of the state of the economy, during recessions educators and educrats will be guaranteed their livelihoods while taxpayers suffer lost jobs. During recessions or whenever state revenues fail to meet expectations, in order to guarantee education funding, state taxes and fees will either have to be increased or state services cut. State employees in all areas of government other than education will be laid off or dismissed in order to accommodate funding shortfalls, no matter how well meaning, by elevating educators to privileged economic status, the supreme court aborts the fundamental intent of government articulated in Part I, Article 10 of the New Hampshire Constitution which states that “Government...” is “...instituted for the common benefit, protection, and security, of the whole community and not for the private interest or emolument of any one man, family or class of men...” If permitted to stand, the “state must guarantee funding” component of the Claremont I and II decision’s will convert the New Hampshire House of Representatives, the most representative legislature in the world, to an institution utterly subservient to forces beyond its control.

A resolution to the education funding disparities which exist between New Hampshire towns and cities must be found. Property tax inequities must also be resolved. No resolution of either of these problems can be considered appropriate however, if the fundamental right of the people to control government is sacrificed in the process. The Claremont I and II rulings of the New Hampshire Supreme Court usurp the right of the people to determine how and for what purposes they may elect to tax themselves. The Claremont rulings abrogate the right of the people to representative government and they violate the separation of powers provisions of the state constitution. For these reasons the court's requirement that education funding be "guaranteed" must be formally rejected by the New Hampshire House and Senate. The passage of House Bill 1075 enshrines the wrong-headed rulings of the court to the great detriment of the people of the great state of New Hampshire and to the detriment of the honorable House of Representatives.

RESOLUTION

Rep. Wheeler offered the following: RESOLVED, that the House now adjourn from the early session, that the business of the late session be in order at the present time, that the reading of bills be by title only and resolutions by caption only and that all bills ordered to third reading be read a third time by this resolution, and that all titles of bills be the same as adopted, and that they be passed at the present time, and when the House adjourns today it be to meet Wednesday, May 20, 1998 at 10:00 a.m. Adopted.

SB 316, authorizing insurance companies to give discounts to drivers over 55 years of age who complete an approved driver safety course. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. John B. Hunt for Commerce: This bill, as written, was simply enabling legislation and did not mandate anything. Since the committee is concerned about helping elderly drivers become more aware of their declining driving skills, it was decided that a study committee was the best way to find new incentives for the elderly to take appropriate courses. Vote 10-1.

Amendment (1635h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing a committee to study participation in driver training programs for older drivers.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Committee Established. There is established a committee to study the creation of incentives for participation in driver training programs for older drivers.

2 Membership and Compensation.

I. The members of the committee shall be as follows:

(a) Three members of the house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of the house.

(b) Three members of the senate, appointed by the president of the senate.

II. Members of the committee shall receive mileage at the legislative rate when attending to the duties of the committee.

3 Duties. The committee shall explore and develop methods of encouraging older drivers to participate in driver training programs designed specifically for older drivers. Incentives developed by the committee shall not include any requirement that insurance companies provide discounts upon the successful completion of an approved driver safety course. The committee shall solicit input from the commissioner of the department of safety, or designee.

4 Chairperson; Quorum. The members of the study committee shall elect a chairperson from among the members. The first meeting of the committee shall be called by the first-named house member. The first meeting of the committee shall be held within 45 days of the effective date of this section. Four members of the committee shall constitute a quorum.

5 Report. The committee shall report its findings and any recommendations for proposed legislation to the senate president, the speaker of the house of representatives, the senate clerk, the house clerk, the governor, and the state library on or before November 1, 1998.

6 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes a committee to study participation in driver training programs for older drivers.

SB 370-L, establishing an international trade corridor and border crossing planning and development advisory committee. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Toni M. Crosby for Commerce: This bill establishes an advisory committee to coordinate efforts among New Hampshire, Maine and Vermont, as these states work toward creating an international trade corridor across northern New Hampshire and look at cross border planning and development opportunities for each state. In addition, the committee will study the feasibility of creating an east-west highway among the three states using Rte 2. The amendment includes the appointment of a Public Works and Highways committee member. Vote 11-0.

Amendment (1634h)

Amend paragraph I(c) as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(c) One member of the house public works and highways committee, appointed by the chairperson of the committee.

SB 427-FN, establishing a revolving fund for loans for intrastate energy pipeline facilities improvements. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Keith R. Herman for Commerce: The amendment calls for a report to be made, in each bien-nium, to the Governor, House and Senate. This report will detail the status of the fund and the extent of projects undertaken. This bill will generate economic growth and activity by expanding the infrastructure of energy pipelines with no cost to the state. Vote 11-0.

Amendment (1676h)

Amend RSA 162-I:3-b as inserted by section 4 of the bill by inserting after paragraph VII the following new paragraph:

VIII. The state treasurer shall submit a report by December 1 of each even-numbered year to the governor, to the chairperson of the house commerce committee, and to the chairperson of the senate economic development committee. The report shall be prepared in consultation with the executive director of the business finance authority and shall describe the activity of the revolving loan fund established pursuant to this section.

Referred to Finance.

SB 304, allowing juvenile case and court records to be unsealed in certain cases. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. L. Randy Lyman for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: This bill covers the issue of confidentiality of juvenile case and court records for the purposes of sentencing. This bill then converts the records to "public records". This subject was thoroughly dealt with earlier this session under HB 1101. Currently, the judges have access to prior records when sentencing. ADULT case and court records are not public records. It could be determined to be discriminatory if a record became public only because of a past history of a juvenile activities. The majority of the committee is in agreement that to break the law of confidentiality would be a detriment to rehabilitation. In cases of "serious" crime juveniles are generally tried as adults. Vote 15-0.

SB 319, establishing a committee to study the parole system and methods to increase its efficiency. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. L. Randy Lyman for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: This bill as amended creates a committee of seven to study the adult parole system. Due to the demands on time for all parties and the importance of the subject matter, it was the consensus of the committee and the sponsor that an increase to the size of the committee would be in order. The amended version does this. Two members of the senate and five members of the house will constitute the study committee. Vote 14-0.

Amendment (1418h)

Amend subparagraph I(b) as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(b) Five members of the house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of the house. Amend the bill by replacing section 4 with the following:

4 Chairperson. The members of the study committee shall elect a chairperson from among the members. The first meeting of the committee shall be called by the first-named senate member. The first meeting of the committee shall be held within 45 days after the effective date of this section. Rep. Kenneth MacDonald declared a conflict of interest and did not participate.

SB 387, expanding the attorney general's authority to record communications in criminal investigations. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. L. Randy Lyman for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: This bill expands the ability of law enforcement, through the attorney general's office, to apply to a judge of the superior court for an order authorizing or approving the interception of telecommunications or oral communications. The expansion would include "attempt or criminal solicitation of certain offenses, first degree assault, endangering welfare of a child". The consensus of the committee was that the requested expansion was too broad. Questions such as "at what point would something be considered an "attempt" that could rise to the level to justify a "wire tap"? First degree assault is quite often a spontaneous action... when could it rise to the level to justify a "wire tap" or an "oral recording". The right of privacy is a serious one and should not be taken away lightly. Vote 13-2.

SB 396, requiring the commissioner of the department of youth development services to submit a quality assessment report to the legislature and to the juvenile justice commission. OUGHT TO PASS
Rep. Doris R. MacIntyre for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: This bill expands the duties of the commissioner of the department of youth services to include a report to the speaker of the house and president of the senate no later than November 1, each year in addition to a requirement to send a quality assurance report to the juvenile justice commission. The report shall include an analysis of the youths served by the department during the year categorized by age, race, gender and recidivism rates and an analysis of those issues involving staffing and the ability to deliver necessary services. The committee agrees that these reports are needed. Vote 15-0.

SB 418-FN, making a person driving under the influence of a controlled drug subject to an administrative loss of license. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. L. Randy Lyman for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: This bill would extend the penalty of "mandatory loss of license" pursuant to RSA 265:91 for persons who refused to submit to a test that would disclose the use of controlled drugs other than a controlled drug which has been legally prescribed. The sponsors intentions are commendable and the committee agrees wholeheartedly that the impaired drivers, whether impaired by alcohol, drugs or a medical incident, are a danger to the public safety. It was acknowledged that some "over the counter" medications can cause a person to become an "impaired driver". Invasion of privacy, the determination of the number of drugs to be screened, the cost of the testing, what type of information would be disclosed by the screening, the number of individuals who would have access to a medical report, were all issues of serious concern to the committee. The majority consensus of the committee was that this type of enhancement to the DWI provisions of the law would have little effect on determent of "impaired driving" caused by a medical situation. Vote 13-2.

HB 1673-FN-L, requiring the state board of education to establish a uniform salary schedule for public school teachers. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Warren C. Henderson for Education: The committee did not feel that discarding the current system where local school boards negotiate with the teachers of the district to set local salaries in favor of salaries negotiated statewide by the state board of education was wise. The existing system is superior to that which this bill would enact. Vote 13-1.

SB 400, relative to withdrawal of a school district from an area district. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Marie N. Rabideau for Education: This bill changes the procedures whereby a school district may withdraw from an area district. This bill also provides for the expiration and extension of area school plans, and deletes certain exceptions to the tuition obligations of school districts for pupils attending schools in other districts. The amendment creates a level of state board involvement in the withdrawal process which insures that the interests of all affected parties will be considered. The committee felt the bill as amended significantly improves on current statute by balancing power between sending and receiving districts. Vote 16-1.

Amendment (1738h)

Amend RSA 195-A:3, XI as inserted by section 3 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

XI. An area plan adopted by the voters of the sending and receiving districts shall be valid for a period of 10 years from the date of its adoption, amendment, or the withdrawal of a district. The area plan may be renegotiated at the request of a sending or receiving district or extended for additional 10-year periods upon a mutual vote of each sending and receiving school district legislative body 2 years prior to the expiration of the area plan. An area plan approved prior to the effective date of this paragraph shall remain effective until July 1, 2008.

Amend RSA 195-A:14, III as inserted by section 4 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

III. After the third anniversary of the date of operating responsibility a sending or receiving school district, at an annual or special school district meeting, may vote to undertake a study of the feasibility and suitability of a withdrawal from the area. The study shall be conducted by a committee composed of 2 school board members from each district of the AREA, the superintendent of schools, and 2 members of the town or city governing body from the school district requesting the study. Within 120 days after the date of its formation, the committee shall submit to the state board of education either a report that withdrawal is not feasible or suitable or a report that includes a withdrawal plan prepared in accordance with paragraph IV. If the committee determines that withdrawal is not feasible or suitable, the district which voted to undertake the study may submit a minority report at the same time as the committee report is filed with the state board of education. If the committee report does not include a withdrawal plan, the minority report may include a withdrawal plan prepared in accordance with paragraph IV.

Amend RSA 195-A:14, VII as inserted by section 4 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

VII. The committee established pursuant to paragraph III shall submit a copy of all reports, including any minority reports, to the state board of education. If a report includes a plan for withdrawal, the state board of education shall review the proposed plan to determine whether or not the proposed plan meets the requirements of paragraph IV. If, in the opinion of the state board, the requirements have been properly addressed, the state board shall recommend for or against its adoption based on its assessment of the plan's feasibility. If, in the opinion of the state board, the requirements have not been properly addressed, the deficiencies shall be noted and the plan shall be promptly returned for revision. When the plan is resubmitted, the state board shall promptly review the revised plan, return the plan, and make a recommendation for or against its adoption based on its assessment of the plan's feasibility. The state board's recommendation shall be reported to the legislative body of the area districts. The state board shall forward the plan for withdrawal to the school board of the withdrawing school district. The school board shall publish the withdrawal plan once in a newspaper generally circulated within the area districts. The school board shall file the plan for withdrawal with the clerk of the withdrawing district and shall insert the plan in the warrant for the next annual meeting. The article in the warrant for the district meeting and the question on the ballot to be used at the meeting shall be in substantially the following form:

"Shall the school district accept the provisions of RSA 195-A:14, as amended, providing for the withdrawal of the sending (or receiving) district of _____ from the _____ area in accordance with the provisions of the proposed withdrawal plan filed with the school district clerk?"

Yes _____ No _____

If a majority of the voters present and voting shall vote in the affirmative, the clerk of the school district shall forthwith send to the state board of education a certified copy of the warrant, certificate of posting, evidence of publication, and minutes of the meeting. If the board finds that a majority of the voters present and voting have voted in favor of the withdrawal plan, it shall be conclusive evidence of the withdrawal of the district and the continuation of the area or the dissolution of a 2-district area.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 4 with the following:

5 Education; Area Schools; Review of Area Plan and Withdrawal of Districts; Area School Plan Review Board. Amend RSA 195-A:14, I to read as follows:

I. After the third anniversary of the date of operating responsibility [~~a joint board meeting held under RSA 195-A:5 may vote to establish~~], if requested by either a sending or receiving district governing body, an area school plan review board shall be established. The review board shall consist of 3 members from the school board of each school district which belongs to the area plan, and such members shall be selected by and from their respective school boards. The review board may also include 3 members from the school board of each of any one or more school districts located in proximity to the authorized regional enrollment area. The review board shall organize by the election of a chairman and a clerk, and may adopt rules for the calling and conduct of its meetings. It shall be the duty of the review board to consider the effectiveness of the area school plan as a method for providing improved educational services. If the review board by a majority vote of all its members determines that the area school plan should be modified, it shall submit an amended area school plan to the state board for its approval. An amended area school plan may provide for the addition of one or more new sending districts, the withdrawal of one or more sending districts, the withdrawal of the receiving district [and], the substitution of a different district as the receiving district, a change in the grades covered by the area plan, or any combination of the foregoing, or for the dissolution of the area; and it shall provide for the equitable adjustment of the rights and responsibilities of each member of the plan, whether present or prospective, with respect to area school facilities. If such provisions include payments from one school district to another, they may be made over a period of not more than 10 years, but the obligation to make such payments shall not be deemed indebtedness of the obligor school district for the purpose of determining its borrowing capacity under RSA 33. In addition to the foregoing powers, an area school plan review board may act as a cooperative school district planning board pursuant to RSA 195-A:15; and instead of submitting an amended area school plan, the review board may prepare and recommend the adoption of articles of agreement for a cooperative school district.

6 Applicability. Section 3 of this act shall apply to all area plans adopted before and after its effective date.

7 Effective Date.

I. Section 3 of this act shall take effect July 1, 1998.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

SB 439-L, relative to the adoption of policies by local school district governing bodies concerning pupil discipline and behavior. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Stanley N. Searles for Education: Current law, within the state's minimum educational standards and school approval process, has policies and procedures on discipline, suspension, and expulsion. Maintaining the discipline needed today is a legitimate concern of the committee. Better implementation of existing law, standards, and policy is supported by the committee. This legislation did not remedy the need for consistent, sound educational practices and policy. Vote 13-2.

SB 335-L, relative to hours of polling in towns with a population of less than 3,000. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Raymond C. Buckley for Election Law: This bill, as amended, allows all communities to adopt more appropriate voting hours for their situation. The amendment calls for the vote to change the hours to be placed on the November ballot as it was in 1994. The committee believes this bill, as amended, is a responsible solution to the concerns expressed by many small communities throughout the state. Vote 14-0.

Amendment (1719h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to polling hours in towns.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Pre-Election Procedure; Warrant; General Election; Reference Modified. Amend RSA 658:1 to read as follows:

658:1 General Election. At least 14 days before any state general election, the selectmen shall post a warrant at all the polling places and at the office of the town or city clerk or at the town hall. Said warrant shall prescribe the hour the polls are to open and the hour before which they may not close as provided in ~~[RSA 659]~~ RSA 659:4 and RSA 659:4-a. It shall also state all offices and questions which are to be voted on and the location of the central polling place and of any additional polling places. If the selectmen neglect to issue a warrant for the state general election, or if they neglect to cause copies of such warrant to be posted agreeably to any vote of the town, they shall for each offense be guilty of a violation and any fines collected shall be remitted to the town.

2 New Section; Election Procedure; Hours of Polling; Change of Polling Hours in Towns. Amend RSA 659 by inserting after section 4 the following new section:

659:4-a Change of Polling Hours in Towns.

I. At any annual town meeting, any town may vote to place a question on the state election ballot to change the hours at which polls shall open, provided that the polls shall not open later than 11 o'clock in the morning and shall not close earlier than 7 o'clock in the evening. Such vote shall be under an article inserted into the warrant pursuant to RSA 39:3. The wording of the question shall be as follows:

"Polling hours in the town of _____ (name of town) are now _____ (hour at which polls now open) to _____ (hour at which polls now close). Shall we place a question on the state election ballot to change polling hours so that polls shall open at _____ (proposed hour at which polls would open) and close at _____ (proposed hour at which polls would close) for all regular state elections beginning _____ (next state election)?"

II. Upon an affirmative vote on the question in paragraph I, the governing body of the town shall notify the secretary of state, by the filing deadline established in RSA 655:14, of the approved times for the question to be printed on the next state general election ballot. The secretary of state shall place the following question on the next state general election ballot in the form prescribed by RSA 656:13:

"Polling hours in the town of _____ (name of town) are now _____ (hour at which polls now open) to _____ (hour at which polls now close). Shall we change polling hours so that polls shall open at _____ (proposed hour at which polls would open) and close at _____ (proposed hour at which polls would close) for all regular state elections beginning _____ (next state election)?"

III. In a town with a town council as the legislative body, the town council may vote to place a question on the state election ballot to change the hours at which polls shall open, provided that the polls shall not open later than 11 o'clock in the morning and shall not close earlier than 7 o'clock in the evening. The governing body shall notify the secretary of state of the question to be placed on the ballot in accordance with the requirements of paragraph II.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill allows towns to vote to change polling hours.

SB 362, relative to classification of certain department of corrections personnel in the retirement system. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Merton S. Dyer for Executive Departments and Administration: This bill will provide an appeal process for certain positions within the department of corrections that were de-certified from group II in 1989. The director of personnel de-certified certain positions in 1989 in response to legislation passed in 1988. The director of personnel will review the job descriptions as well as the supplemental job descriptions for those positions de-certified in 1989 as well as any other positions within the same job classifications series that have been added since the last review. The director of personnel will report the results of the review to the board of trustees of the New Hampshire retirement system. The trustees will review the information and, subject to RSA 100-A:3, IX, will determine whether the person holding the job is an employee/teacher, in group I or a permanent policeman/fireman in group II as defined in RSA 100-A:1. Any changes in the retirement groups will be prospective at the date of the final determination by the trustees. The trustees shall report their actions in this matter to the president of the senate and the speaker of the house. Vote 17-0.

Amendment (1670h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Purpose. This act is intended to provide a process for appeal of the decision in 1989 by the director of personnel, division of administrative services, to not certify certain positions within the department of corrections as meeting the qualifications of RSA 100-A:1, VII. The provisions of this act are limited only to those positions which were decertified in 1989. All other positions and any future positions require legislation to be included in group II of the New Hampshire retirement system.

2 Certain Department of Corrections Personnel; Determination by Director of Personnel. The director of personnel, department of administrative services, shall review and determine within 3 months of the effective date of this act whether certain line personnel jobs within the department of corrections that were previously approved as group II jobs and were subsequently certified by the director of personnel as group I jobs, are properly certified as group I jobs. The review and determination of certification shall specifically address the requirements of RSA 100-A:1, VII(b). The director of personnel shall report any such determination and any findings on those previously certified jobs to the board of trustees of the retirement system. The department of corrections shall provide any information required by the director of personnel in making the determination.

3 Certain Department of Corrections Personnel; Determination by Board of Trustees of Retirement System. Notwithstanding the provisions of the introductory paragraph of RSA 100-A:1, VII, the board of trustees of the retirement system shall determine within 6 months of the effective date of this act whether certain line personnel jobs within the department of corrections that were certified by the director of personnel as group I jobs are properly certified as group I jobs. If the board of trustees by a 2/3 vote determines that a person holding such a job meets the requirements of RSA 100-A:1, VII(b), such person shall be prospectively classified as a group II member. The board of trustees shall report its determination to the speaker of the house and the senate president. The department of corrections shall provide any information required by the board of trustees in making the determination. Any person determined to be classified as a group II member shall be entitled upon retirement to split benefits as provided under RSA 100-A:19-a through RSA 100-A:19-h.

4 Effective Date. This act shall take effect July 1, 1998.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill requires the director of personnel to review and determine the certification of certain department of corrections jobs and to report to the board of trustees of the retirement system for classification within the retirement system.

SB 486, relative to old age and survivors' insurance. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Merton S. Dyer for Executive Departments and Administration: This bill updates the old age and survivors' insurance act that was passed in 1951. There have been many changes in the terminology since that time. Certain sections that apply to the predecessor systems of the New Hampshire retirement system that are now not relevant will be repealed. Vote 13-0.

SB 379, establishing an immunization registry. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Alice Z. Calvert for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: The bill establishes an immunization registry. Participation is optional for patients or their parents or guardians. Registry access is limited to primary care physicians, nurses and other appropriate health care providers. The registry information tracks immunization rates, helps ensure registrants receive all recommended immunizations on time, and aids in controlling communicable disease outbreaks. Vote 10-1.

SB 443-L, establishing a committee to study the delivery of and funding for in-home support services for children with disabilities and their families. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Alice Z. Calvert for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: This bill establishes a committee to study the delivery of, and funding for, in-home support services for children with disabilities and their families. This is an attempt to fill a gap in funding for respite care. Funding has been scant to nil so it is hoped the committee will be able to make better use of funds available and perhaps find more. Additional funds would help prevent children from having to be placed outside the home. Vote 12-0.

SB 306-L, relative to municipal officials and their discretion over the use of traffic devices and the purchase of liability insurance. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Wayne T. Moynihan for Judiciary and Family Law: This bill proposed the codification into statute of the degree of immunity from lawsuits that the New Hampshire Supreme Court has found to exist in certain cases. These are cases of governmental entities and their officials, when complaints are filed concerning their decisions regarding design and placement of traffic-control devices. The committee had objections to the language of the bill which included reference to specific opinions of the Supreme Court in the language of the statute itself. This form implied legislative deferral to, or dependence upon, opinions of the Court. Furthermore, the committee concluded that the concerns or problems raised by the proponents of the bill, as justification for it, were not supported by actual evidence or experience. Given the unclear need for the bill, and the unclear degree of expanded immunity included within it, the public interest would not be served by passage. Vote 12-0.

SB 367, relative to the public protection fund administered by the New Hampshire Bar Association. REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY

Rep. Paul M. Mirski for Judiciary and Family Law: The majority of the committee wishes to further examine whether or not the Supreme Court possesses constitutional authority to impose financial assessments upon members of the unified bar. Article 28, Part 1 of the Constitution suggests not. Further study may conclude that the legislature must provide statutory authority for the Supreme Court to make such assessments. If so, legislation may be recommended for consideration in the next biennium - in order to confer such authority on the court. In the meantime, the present system of assessing members of the bar, by the court, will remain in place without alteration. Vote 8-6.

Rep. Moynihan declared a conflict of interest and did not participate.

SB 464-FN, relative to limitations from civil liability for volunteers and relative to special license plates and related fees for volunteer emergency personnel with 2-way radio equipment in their vehicles. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Sandra B. Keans for Judiciary and Family Law: Part one of this bill as amended eliminates the cumbersome process whereby volunteers are required to sign a form prior to any activities on behalf of a non-profit organization. Instead it requires that the organization maintain an updated file of volunteers. This will be especially helpful in times of natural disasters when time is of the essence. The second part stresses the need for state agencies to take strong responsibility and affirmative actions to bring their data systems into compliance for the year 2000 computer problem. It reiterates that the commissioner of Administrative Services will continue to monitor the various agencies and publish his findings on a quarterly basis. The purchase of non-compliant equipment may be suspended. Vote 13-0.

Amendment (1743h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to limitations from civil liability for volunteers and relative to state agency preparedness for the year 2000 computer problem.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

I Volunteers; Nonprofit Organizations; Liability Limited. Amend RSA 508:17, I to read as follows:

I. Any person who is a volunteer of a nonprofit organization or government entity shall be immune from civil liability in any action brought on the basis of any act or omission resulting in damage or injury to any person if:

(a) ~~[The volunteer had prior written approval from the organization to act on behalf of the organization]~~ The nonprofit organization or government entity has a record indicating that the person claiming to be a volunteer is a volunteer for such organization or entity; and

(b) The volunteer was acting in good faith and within the scope of his official functions and duties with the organization; and

(c) The damage or injury was not caused by willful, wanton, or grossly negligent misconduct by the volunteer.

2 Repeal. RSA 508:17, I-a, relative to the form of written approval for volunteers, is repealed.

3 Responsibilities of State Agencies, Boards, Departments, and Commissions; Year 2000 Computer Preparedness.

I. The management of each agency, board, department, and commission of the state (collectively referred to as agencies) is responsible for assessing its year 2000 preparedness and bringing its essential systems into compliance, or devising replacement and contingency plans for insuring smooth operations through the turn of the century. Agencies shall also protect their essential systems from imports of other systems' data which are not year 2000 compliant.

II. Agencies shall develop a year 2000 project work plan in accordance with guidelines furnished by the department of administrative services. The work plan shall contain an assessment of year 2000 compliance, and shall outline strategies for ensuring that no critical state program experiences disruption because of the year 2000 problem. Work plans shall identify additional resources, with estimated costs, that will be required to ensure completion of all project tasks, including testing. Agencies shall make maximum practical use of existing resources. Work plans shall be submitted to the department of administrative services by September 1, 1998.

III. Each agency shall cooperate fully in carrying out the policies and practices of the state, and shall report to the department of administrative services such information as the department may require.

4 Year 2000 Computer Preparedness; Reporting by Commissioner of Administrative Services.

I. The commissioner of administrative services shall publish a year 2000 noncompliance report by October 1, 1998. The report shall list all state agencies that have not demonstrated adequate year 2000 computer compliance, including testing, and shall estimate any anticipated computer-related costs which cannot be absorbed by the state agency within its current budget. Copies of the report shall be forwarded to the governor, the president of the senate, the speaker of the house of representatives, the chairman of the house finance committee, the chairman of the science, technology and energy committee, and the legislative budget assistant.

II. After publishing this report, the commissioner of administrative services shall monitor and require quarterly update reports from every state agency which has not yet demonstrated year 2000 computer compliance, including testing. The commissioner of administrative services shall publish quarterly year 2000 noncompliance reports until such time that all agencies demonstrate adequate year 2000 compliance.

III. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the commissioner of administrative services may suspend any new purchases of computer hardware, software, or services for agencies, boards, departments and commissions until such time they demonstrate adequate year 2000 compliance.

5 Effective Date.

I. Section 3-4 of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect January 1, 1999.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill removes a requirement that a volunteer have written approval to act on behalf of an organization from RSA 508:17, which limits liability for volunteers of nonprofit organizations.

This bill requires state agencies to demonstrate adequate year 2000 compliance. The bill requires reporting relative to the year 2000 problem by state agencies and by the commissioner of administrative services. The bill also allows the commissioner of administrative services to suspend new purchases of computer hardware, software, or services for state agencies until they demonstrate adequate year 2000 compliance.

SB 457-FN, relative to the eligibility of employment program participants for workers' compensation. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Robert E. Clegg, Jr. for Labor, Industrial and Rehabilitative Services: This bill provides protection for the state and employer/sponsor under Workers' Compensation statutes in reference to the alternative employment experience program which is part of the welfare reform in the state. Any Workers' Compensation will be paid out of the Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) funds. Vote 16-0.

Amendment (1408h)

Amend RSA 167:91-a, IV as inserted by section 2 by replacing it with the following:

IV. Participants in the alternative employment experience program administered by the state shall be considered employees of both the state and the sponsor for workers' compensation purposes only, and any claims for workers' compensation thereunder shall be charged to the temporary assistance to needy families program. The state and the sponsor shall both be entitled to the exclusivity of remedy provisions of RSA 281-A:8. For purposes other than workers' compensation, the state shall not be vicariously liable for the actions or omissions of the sponsor and the sponsor shall not be vicariously liable for the actions or omissions of the state. Nothing in this section shall prohibit any direct contractual liability between the state and the sponsor.

Referred to Finance.

SB 317, relative to the time for consideration of applications to planning boards. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Betsey L. Patten for Municipal and County Government: The intention of this bill is to clarify the practical process of "submitting" an application, determining "complete" or "incomplete" giving a time limit on planning board action and deleting the word "designee" from RSA 676:4, I, c. In this bill the local planning board is required to determine if a submitted application is "complete" according to the board's regulation and shall vote on the application's "acceptance" at their next regular board meeting or within 30 days following the delivery of the application, for which notice can be given. If an application is considered "incomplete" according to the board's regulation, that information and required remedies to make the application "complete" will be given to the applicant. Once the local planning board has determined that a "submitted" application is "complete" they must approve, conditionally approve or disapprove within 45 days. Vote 11-2.

Amendment (1605h)

Amend RSA 676:4, I(c) as inserted by section I of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(c)(1) The board shall ~~[begin formal consideration of the application within 30 days after receipt of the completed application by the board or its designee]~~, at the next regular meeting or within 30 days following the delivery of the application, for which notice can be given in accordance with the requirements of subparagraph (b), determine if a submitted application is complete according to the board's regulation and shall vote upon its acceptance. Upon determination by the board ~~[or its designee]~~ that a submitted application is incomplete according to the board's regulations, the board ~~[or its designee]~~ shall notify the applicant of the determination in accordance with RSA 676:3, which shall describe the information, procedure, or other requirement necessary for the application to be complete. ~~[The board]~~ Upon determination by the board that a submitted application is complete according to the board's regulations, the board shall begin formal consideration and shall act to approve, conditionally approve as provided in subparagraph (i), or disapprove within ~~[90]~~ 65 days ~~[after receipt of the completed application by the board or its designee]~~, subject to extension or waiver as provided in subparagraph (f). Upon failure of the board to approve, conditionally approve, or disapprove the application, the selectmen or city council shall, upon request of the applicant, immediately issue an order directing the board to act on the application within 30 days. If the planning board does not act on the application within that 30-day time period, then within 40 days of the issuance of the order, the selectmen or city council shall certify on the applicant's application that the plat is approved pursuant to this paragraph, unless within those 40 days the selectmen or city council has identified in writing some specific subdivision regulation or zoning or other ordinance provision with which the application does not comply. SB 349, enabling a town or school district moderator to postpone the deliberative session of a meeting because of a weather emergency. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT
Rep. Norma Sabella for Municipal and County Government: During the voting process a weather emergency may happen that makes attending the deliberative session or voting day a hazardous duty. This bill allows the moderator, up to two (2) hours prior to the scheduled session, to postpone and reschedule the deliberative session or voting day to a date, place and time certain. In municipalities that have adopted RSA 40:13, the postponement shall not delay the deliberative session more than 72 hours because of the time restraint for the printing of absentee ballots. The moderator shall employ whatever means necessary to inform the citizens of the postponement and rescheduling. Vote 14-0.

Amendment (1592h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT enabling a town or school district moderator to postpone the deliberative session or voting day of a meeting because of a weather emergency.

Amend RSA 40:4, II as inserted by section I of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. In the event a weather emergency occurs on or before the date of a deliberative session or voting day of a meeting in a town, which the moderator reasonably believes may cause the roads to be hazardous or unsafe, the moderator may, up to 2 hours prior to the scheduled session, postpone and reschedule the deliberative session or voting day of the meeting to another reasonable date, place, and time certain. The date originally scheduled shall continue to be deemed the deliberative session or voting day of the meeting for purposes of satisfying statutory meeting date requirements; provided, that in towns or districts that have adopted RSA 40:13, the postponement shall not delay the deliberative session more than 72 hours. The moderator shall employ whatever means are available to inform citizens of the postponement and the rescheduled deliberative session or voting day.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill enables a town or school district moderator to postpone and reschedule the deliberative session or voting day of a meeting because of a weather emergency.

SB 485-L, exempting catastrophic aid payments and revenues from the municipal budget law. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Paul A. McGuirk for Municipal and County Government: The sponsors of this bill requested that catastrophic aid payments and revenues be exempt from the municipal budget law (RSA 32). The problem is that currently catastrophic special education aid is reimbursed to school districts the year after the expense is incurred. Sometimes this payment does not occur in a timely manner. The committee felt the process needs attention and further recognized that HB 1075 will set up a commission on special education that will review and analyze special education issues. A letter will be sent to the commission stating the issue of reimbursement and asking them to address the problem. In light of this action, the committee voted to ITL. Vote 15-0.

SB 421-FN, relative to timber harvesting and penalties for timber trespass. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Michael W. Downing for Resources, Recreation and Development: This amended Senate Bill corrects a law that the Attorney General's Office feels is currently unworkable. It raises the culpable state of mind from negligently to recklessly and adds a criminal penalty for theft of timber or deceptive forestry practices. The changes will allow the state to assist where a landowner is not remunerated for timber cut from their own land, while leaving the civil penalties intact. This bill has the support of the Attorney General's Office, Department of Resources and Economic Development Division of Forest and Lands and the Department of Revenue Administration. Vote 16-0.

Amendment (1661h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to timber harvesting and penalties for timber trespass and deceptive forestry practices.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Notice of Intent to Cut; Violation for Starting Before Official Signature. Amend RSA 227-J:5 to read as follows:

2 Section Heading; Timber Trespass; Civil Penalties. Amend the section heading of RSA 227-J:8 to read as follows:

4 New Subparagraphs; Deceptive Forestry Practices; Penalty Changed. Amend RSA 227-J:15, I to read as follows:

I. A person is guilty of a class B felony if the loss is greater than $1,000 or otherwise guilty of a misdemeanor who in the course of buying and selling of a forest product, as defined under RSA 227-G:4, VII:

SB 429-FN, relative to the confidentiality of drivers' motor vehicle records. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Robert J. Letourneau for Transportation: This bill, as originally presented to the committee, had very broad language that would have opened up motor vehicle records to a wide range of individuals who, under current law, are not allowed access. This bill, as amended, will tighten up the laws to prevent access by individuals who are considered ineligible to access these records. The committee felt very strongly about the citizens' privacy issues during the lengthy discussion of this bill. The Department of Safety is working to streamline the process in order to help the private investigators who legitimately need access for their work. Vote 16-0.

Amendment (1651h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Motor Vehicle Records and Certification; Availability of Information. Amend RSA 260:14, III to read as follows:

SB 440-FN-L, relative to fines payable to the division of motor vehicles; allowing civil bench warrants for defaults on such fines; authorizing bail commissioners to receive certain civil fines and fees, and authorizing the division of motor vehicles to report those in default to a consumer reporting agency. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Gordon E. Bartlett for Transportation: This bill clarifies procedures for payment of fines by mail to the Department of Motor Vehicles and allows payment by credit card. At the present time, court defaults are in the $6 - $8 million dollar range, and it is hoped this will speed the collection of money that is in default. This money is to be deposited in a special fund, and will be used to pay costs of law enforcement to make arrests under bench warrants per RSA 263:56-d. Vote 18-0.

Amendment (1532h)

Amend RSA 263:56-a, II(b) as inserted by section 4 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(b) The director shall ~~[not]~~ purge the record of ~~[any suspension under this section during the defendant's lifetime until the defendant's driver's license or driving privilege is reinstated]~~ violations in default, related suspensions, and all fees and fines assessed against these defaults and suspensions under this section that have been on file for more than 7 years; provided, however, that the director shall not purge such records for a violation of RSA 265:79, RSA 265:82, RSA 265:82-a, RSA 265:115, RSA 265:117, and any offense which is a misdemeanor or felony during the defendant's lifetime until the defendant's driver's license or driving privilege is reinstated. Payments collected by the court under RSA 597:38-b shall be deposited into a special fund, known as the ~~[DWI]~~ default bench warrant fund. The commissioner may draw on such fund to pay the cost of state, county and local law enforcement officials who make arrests pursuant to bench warrants issued for persons improperly at large for ~~[driving while intoxicated]~~ driving-related offenses up to a maximum amount of $100 per bench warrant. The commissioner shall adopt rules, pursuant to RSA 541-A, relative to the disbursement of moneys from the ~~[DWI]~~ default bench warrant fund to pay the costs related to law enforcement officials and bench warrants. The commissioner may also draw upon such fund to pay the cost of breath analyzer machines, upon the recommendation of the advisory committee on breath analyzer machines pursuant to RSA 106-G:1.

II. Section 3 of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill clarifies the procedures for payments of fines by mail to the division of motor vehicles. The bill allows civil bench warrants for defaults on such fines.

The bill authorizes bail commissioners to receive certain civil fines and fees and allows payment by credit card of fines and fees which are payable by mail.

The bill authorizes the director of the division of motor vehicles to report those in default of an appearance, a fine, or an order issued by the division or a court to a consumer reporting agency.

The bill also changes the DWI bench warrant fund to the default bench warrant fund and allows moneys from the fund to be used to pay the costs of making arrests pursuant to bench warrants issued for driving-related offenses and to pay the costs of breath analyzer machines.

SB 445, relative to penalties for personal use of walking disabled motor vehicle plates or placards by persons not issued the plates or placards. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT
Rep. George N. Katsakiores for Transportation: Complaints continue to reach the legislature for action. This bill addresses those concerns. The Senate amendment added the specific language making illegal handicap parking a violation. The committee added a minimum fine of $250 upon conviction. Hopefully, this effort will reduce abuses. The Department of Safety has agreed to stamp the handicap accessibility symbol on licenses of qualified holders and to issue ID cards to those who qualify but have no license. Vote 18-0.

Amendment (1562h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 1 with the following:

1 Parking Privileges for the Walking Disabled; Penalties. Amend RSA 265:74 to read as follows:

265:74 Parking Privileges for Persons with Walking Disability. Any motor vehicle carrying the special plates or hanging windshield placard issued to a person with a walking disability under RSA 261:88, or a similar license plate displaying the international accessibility symbol shall be allowed free parking in any city or town, including any state or municipal parking facility where a fee is charged. Each city or town shall have the discretion to set the time periods using guidelines which shall be provided by the governor's commission on disability. The free parking shall only be allowed if the person who qualifies for the special plates or hanging placard is being transported in the vehicle to or from the parking place. Parking places designated for persons with walking disabilities shall be utilized only if a person with a walking disability is being transported in the vehicle to or from the parking place. Notwithstanding the provisions of any local ordinance which has been adopted to regulate parking in places designated for persons with walking disabilities, any person who is convicted under this section shall be guilty of a violation and fined not less than $250.

SB 344, clarifying requirements regarding certain trusts. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT
Rep. David T. Mittelman for Commerce: Currently, a court can only remove a trustee if that trustee is insane or incompetent. This bill expands the reasons for removal to include a variety of reasonable and rational factors. The amendment removes a provision that would have allowed trustees of charitable trusts to draw compensation from both income and principal. The committee believes that retaining the current income-only standard will better serve to act as a check on the amount of fees charged. Vote 9-2.

Amendment (1704h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to trustees.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Removal or Replacement of Trustee. RSA 564:9 is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:
564:9 Removal or Replacement.

I. A trustee who, in the opinion of the judge, becomes incompetent, unsuitable, or who shall neglect or refuse to comply with the provisions of this chapter may be removed following a hearing which is preceded by notice to the trustee, all known beneficiaries, and such other persons determined by the judge to be interested in the trust.

II. A beneficiary or co-trustee of a trust who believes that the existing trustee should be replaced by a more suitable trustee may petition the court for such replacement. Upon receiving such a petition, and upon the court's determination that all other known beneficiaries have been notified, the court may remove the existing trustee and appoint a replacement trustee when, upon considering all relevant factors, the court finds that a change in trustee would be in keeping with the intent of the grantor, provided further that in deciding whether to replace a trustee, the court may consider the following additional factors in making such determination:

(a) It would substantially improve or benefit the administration of the trust.

(b) The relationship between the grantor and the trustee as it existed at the time the trust was created.

(c) Changes in the nature of the trustee since the creation of the trust.

(d) The relationship of the trustee with the beneficiaries.

(e) The responsiveness of the trustee to the beneficiaries.

(f) The experience and level of skill of the trustee.

(g) The investment performance of the trustee.

(h) The charges for services performed by the trustee.

(i) Any other reasonable factors pertaining to the administration of the trust.

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect January 1, 1999.

SB 371, requiring health carriers to provide certain information to health care providers and consumers. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Sheila T. Francoeur for Commerce: This bill provides that a consumer or health care provider who requests information concerning an adverse determination from a health carrier, will receive a written statement explaining the adverse determination, as well as, the name and credentials of the individual responsible for that determination. The issue of proprietary information as an obstacle to release of information relating to an adverse determination was a concern to the committee, but the health carriers gave assurance that such proprietary information would not obstruct a written explanation. Vote 11-0.

Adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 377, authorizing the organization of merchant banks to provide equity financing and related services to small businesses and exempting certain New Hampshire banks from the aging requirement of the interstate acquisition and merger laws. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY.

Rep. Sheila T. Francoeur for the Majority of Commerce: This bill allows for the creation of merchant banks whose primary purpose is assisting small business. A merchant bank may be organized by one or more New Hampshire Financial Institutions as a non-depository trust company. Merchant banks will be an asset to those companies who are currently not helped by commercial banks or venture capitalists. These banks will be in a position to assist entrepreneurs and as a result, will be an important factor in economic development for the state of New Hampshire. Vote 6-5.

Rep. David T. Mittelman for the Minority of Commerce: Proponents of this bill claim that "merchant banks" will infuse venture capital into small businesses unable to obtain loans. This bill, unfortunately, will not achieve that goal. As written, this bill contains sweeping language that essentially allows commercial banks to establish subsidiaries to engage in any type of investment activity, whether or not it truly assists small businesses. Granting such broad powers does a disservice to small businesses and endangers the safety and soundness of commercial banks. Indeed, this bill contains few safeguards to protect depositors, whose funds are invested by banks, and taxpayers, who are called upon to bail out banks when those investments fail. The simple truth is that commercial banks already can establish "small business investment companies," supervised by the Small Business Administration, to infuse venture capital into small businesses unable to obtain loans. New Hampshire should encourage these efforts, rather than allowing the unproven entities envisioned in this vaguely-worded bill. Maine is the only other state that allows "merchant banks" and that state has zero "merchants banks". Moreover, Congress is on the verge of enacting a financial services proposal that could render any New Hampshire "merchant bank" law irrelevant, inadequate, or invalid. As such, the prudent course for this "merchant bank" bill is to refer it for interim study. Additional study of "merchant banks" will serve the interests of small businesses, depositors, and taxpayers.

Amendment (1724h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT authorizing the organization of merchant banks to provide equity financing and related services to small businesses.

Amend the bill by replacing section 1 with the following:

I Purpose. The purpose of RSA 392-A as inserted by section 2 of this act is to address a need for the investment of equity capital and subordinated loans in small businesses. Small businesses play a vital role in the economy by creating jobs and wealth, but do not have access to capital and subordinated loans to the same extent as their larger counterparts. RSA 392-A as inserted by section 2 of this act authorizes financial institutions to invest in small businesses through separately chartered merchant banks that are specifically empowered to engage in such activity and serve as financial intermediaries to facilitate the investment in small businesses by other types of investors. Amend RSA 392-A:1 as inserted by section 2 of this bill by inserting after paragraph III the following:

IV. "Small business" means a "smaller business" or term of like import as defined in the rules and regulations of the United States Small Business Administration relating to small business investment companies, as amended from time to time.

Amend RSA 392-A:2, III as inserted by section 2 of this bill by replacing it with the following:

III. Any New Hampshire financial institution is authorized to invest in a merchant bank organized under this chapter. The amount of the investment shall not exceed 25 percent of the New Hampshire financial institution's capital and surplus, except that if the New Hampshire financial institution owns all or a majority of the voting shares of the merchant bank, its investment shall not exceed the investment limitation set forth in RSA 384:16-b, I for service corporations which is 10 percent of its savings deposits or capital funds, whichever may be greater. One or more accredited investors may participate in the organization of, and invest in, a merchant bank, provided that at least a majority of the voting rights of the merchant bank are controlled at all times directly or indirectly by one or more New Hampshire financial institutions. The organizers of the merchant bank shall submit a list of all investors in the bank and the amount of their respective investments. This list shall be accompanied by a certificate signed by each investor attesting to its eligibility to invest in the merchant bank, as part of the petition submitted under RSA 392:5.

Amend RSA 392-A:4-6 as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing them with the following:

392-A:4 Business of Merchant Banks. Except as provided in this chapter, a merchant bank has all the powers of and is entitled to engage in the business of a trust company, including without limitation, powers with respect to investments, loans, and fiduciary and trust functions and transactions. In furtherance of assisting small businesses, a merchant bank may provide commercial and investment banking services, act as a securities broker or dealer or an investment advisor, underwrite securities, invest in the equity or debt securities of any company and, in general, engage in any financial service activity which assists, supports, or benefits small businesses. A merchant bank shall comply with applicable federal and state securities laws. A merchant bank shall not solicit, receive, or accept money or its equivalent as a savings deposit, time deposit, demand deposit, or any other type of instrument or facility of like character or nature. No initial investment by the merchant bank in a small business shall constitute "control" as such term is defined in the rules and regulations of the United States Small Business Administration with respect to investments of small business investment companies, as amended from time to time, except as is permitted in such rules and regulations. No financial institution which is an owner of an interest in a merchant bank shall condition the extension of credit to a small business that meets its ordinary underwriting standards on a requirement that the merchant bank be allowed to invest in, or obtain rights with respect to the equity capital, of the small business.

392-A:5 Policy for Business Activities. The board of directors of a merchant bank if it is a corporation, or its equivalent governing body if it is any other type of business entity, shall establish a written policy under which the merchant bank's business activities are conducted. The policy shall also address conflicts of interest and shall preclude a merchant bank from making an investment in a small business if the effect is to create the potential of a conflict in interest with a person having an ownership interest in the merchant bank. The policy for business activities shall be reviewed and ratified by the board of directors or equivalent governing body at least annually and shall be submitted to the bank commissioner. If the bank commissioner finds that the policy does not adequately regulate the business activities of the merchant bank, the bank commissioner may require the board of directors or equivalent governing body to take corrective action.

392-A:6 Reports; Change in Control. In addition to any reports that are required to be submitted by a trust company under state laws and regulations, a merchant bank shall submit a quarterly report to the bank commissioner describing its business activities for the quarter. The merchant bank shall also submit an annual report to the bank commissioner listing all of the investors in the bank and the amount of their respective investments and voting rights, which report shall be accompanied by a certificate signed by each investor who has not previously submitted a certificate to the bank commissioner attesting to its eligibility to invest in the merchant bank. No change in control of a merchant bank shall occur without the prior approval of the bank commissioner. The term "change of control" shall mean the direct or indirect acquisition by a person or group of persons acting in concert of 10 percent or more of the beneficial ownership or control of the voting shares. The person or group seeking to acquire control of the merchant shall submit an application to the bank commissioner for approval which shall contain such financial, business, experience and other information as the bank commissioner shall require to determine whether such person or group is suitable to exercise control of a merchant bank. Upon receipt of a complete application, the bank commissioner may hold a hearing on such application and shall make a decision within 60 days after receipt of the application.

Amend the bill by deleting sections 3-4 and renumbering the original section 5 to read as 3.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill authorizes the organization of merchant banks in this state to provide equity financing and related services to small businesses. The bill grants the bank commissioner rulemaking authority relative to such merchant banks.

Adopted.

Rep. Hunt offered a floor amendment.

Floor Amendment (1817h)

Amend RSA 392-A:3 as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

392-A:3 Capital; Other Funds. A merchant bank shall maintain capital at a level which is commensurate with the risk undertaken in connection with its loans, investments, and other activities, as determined by its board of directors, if it is a corporation, or its equivalent governing body if it is any other type of business entity, but in no event shall its capital be less than 6 percent of its assets. The initial capital of a merchant bank shall consist of common stock in the amount of at least $2,500,000 paid in the form of cash or its equivalent. The balance of any capital required by the board of trust company of incorporation may consist of preferred stock or other equity capital, subordinated notes, or debentures, as approved by said board. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the capital structure of a New Hampshire financial institution that reorganizes into a merchant bank may continue in the same form and amount as existed at the time of reorganization, provided that the capital is at least $2,500,000. A merchant bank may borrow funds to engage in the merchant banking business only from accredited investors. Following the organization or reorganization of a merchant bank, if the bank commissioner finds that the capital is inadequate based on the risk profile of its investments, the bank commissioner may require that the capital be increased by an amount necessary to protect the safety and soundness of the merchant bank.

Amend RSA 392-A:4 as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

392-A:4 Business of Merchant Banks. Except as provided in this chapter, a merchant bank has all the powers of and is entitled to engage in the business of a trust company, including without limitation, powers with respect to investments, loans, and fiduciary and trust functions and transactions. In furtherance of assisting small businesses, a merchant bank may provide commercial and investment banking services, act as a securities broker or dealer or an investment advisor, underwrite securities of small businesses, and invest in the equity or debt securities of any small business. A merchant bank shall comply with applicable federal and state securities laws. A merchant bank shall not solicit, receive, or accept money or its equivalent as a savings deposit, time deposit, demand deposit, or any other type of instrument or facility of like character or nature. No initial investment by the merchant bank in a small business shall constitute "control" as such term is defined in the rules and regulations of the United States Small Business Administration with respect to investments of small business investment companies, as amended from time to time, except as is permitted in such rules and regulations. No financial institution which is an owner of an interest in a merchant bank shall condition the extension of credit to a small business that meets its ordinary underwriting standards on a requirement that the merchant bank be allowed to invest in, or obtain rights with respect to the equity capital, of the small business.

SB 490-FN, relative to life and accident and health insurance and relative to certain salaries.

MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Keith R. Herman for the Majority of Commerce: This bill defines "indebtedness" as it relates to credit life insurance, changes salary scales for two positions in the Insurance Department and clarifies current law regarding utilization review for mental health purposes. There was much debate about the mental health portion of the bill. Three years ago, this legislature mandated that health insurers allow five visits to a mental health provider, prior to utilization review. The Insurance Department requested we clarify the scope of legislative intent as it related to this provision. The intent was to have these five visits occur in each contract year. The amendment makes this clarification. The committee was asked to look into expanding the mandate to seven visits, to allow a patient to change provider without impacting the five visits. Under the current law, the patient can already have two separate diagnostic visits with two different mental health providers. The majority feels an expansion of benefits, at this time, is not necessary since New Hampshire is recognized as having one of the best mental health systems in the country. Vote 7-4.

Rep. Martha Fuller Clark for the Minority of Commerce: Although the bill as amended improves existing legislative language by making it clear that the limitation of five pre-utilization review visits for mental health care is applicable in each contract year, those voting in the minority believe the amendment did not go far enough. Currently, there is no legislative language which addresses the issue of how to handle pre-utilization visits when and if a client changes his or her mental health care provider. The minority believes that the same pre-utilization model of two diagnostic visits and three treatment visits should be available at least one additional time if and when a patient needs to seek a different therapist. Those opposing such language believed such cases, which are not that frequent, would be an unwarranted expansion of visits. Needless to say, the minority disagreed because the current limitation is potentially punitive to a patient who gets a "false" start.

Amendment (1541h)

Amend RSA 420-B:8-b, I(b) as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(b) In addition to the requirements of subparagraph (a), every health maintenance organization offering such benefits shall provide to its subscribers a list of psychiatrists and mental health care providers within the organization's network. The health maintenance organization shall allow its subscribers 2 visits for diagnosis followed by up to 3 treatment visits in each contract year. Subsequent visits within the contract year may be subject to utilization review. The policy shall also include a statement that a primary care physician may refer an enrolled participant to a psychiatrist or other mental health care provider within the organization's network. There shall be no economic penalty to the primary care physician for such a referral.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

- (1) Clarifies the definition of indebtedness with respect to credit life insurance.
- (2) Clarifies the coverage for mental and nervous conditions under health maintenance organizations.
- (3) Changes certain salaries.

On a division vote, 196 members having voted in the affirmative and 59 in the negative, the majority amendment was adopted.

SB 500, relative to obtaining automobile and homeowners insurance. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Sheila T. Francoeur for Commerce: The original bill would have prohibited the use of credit reports for automobile or homeowners insurance. The committee heard testimony that although rates were higher for some because of bad credit reports, for the majority of consumers, the rates were lower as a result of good credit reports. At this time, only two insurance companies are using credit reports to raise rates. Because it is a valid tool and additional companies will be using these reports, the committee felt that the Insurance Department should establish guidelines and regulations regarding the use of this information. All credit scoring models will be subject to approval by the Insurance Department. Rules will also be established by the department to afford consumer protection and confidentiality. Vote 11-3.

Amendment (1643h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the use of credit data for certain insurance purposes.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Section; Use of Credit Reports, Credit Histories, and Credit Scoring Models in Underwriting and Rating. Amend RSA 412 by inserting after section 14 the following:

412:14-a Use of Credit Reports, Credit Histories, and Credit Scoring Models in Underwriting and Rating. The use of information contained in credit reports, credit histories, and credit scoring models for underwriting or for rating purposes shall be based upon objective, documented, and measurable standards and shall be used in a manner which affords appropriate consumer protections, including consumer notice provisions and confidentiality protections. The insurance commissioner shall, pursuant to RSA 541-A, adopt such rules as may be necessary to regulate the use of such information in the underwriting and rating of motor vehicle insurance. Underwriting models and rate filings which rely upon information in credit reports, credit histories, or credit scoring models shall be subject to express approval by the insurance department.

2 New Paragraph; Use of Credit Reports, Credit Histories, and Credit Scoring Models in Underwriting and Rating. Amend RSA 414:3 by inserting after paragraph VIII the following new paragraph:

IX. The use of credit reports, credit histories, and credit scoring models for underwriting and rating purposes shall be based upon objective, documented, and measurable standards and shall be used in a manner which affords appropriate consumer protections, including consumer notice provisions and confidentiality protections. The insurance commissioner shall, pursuant to RSA 541-A, adopt such rules as may be necessary to regulate the use of such information in the underwriting and rating of homeowners insurance. Underwriting models and rate filings which rely upon information in credit reports, credit histories, or credit scoring models shall be subject to express approval by the insurance department.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes procedures for the use of credit data for certain insurance purposes.

SB 428-FN, relative to firearm lock boxes in state facilities. REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY
 Rep. Andrew Christie, Jr. for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: This bill originally required any state facility that currently offers use of firearm lock boxes to law enforcement personnel to also offer such lock boxes to members of the general public who lawfully carry firearms. The bill passed the criminal justice and public safety committee and was referred to the finance committee who thought the bill would be in conflict with RSA 159:19, courtroom security. An amendment was drafted to clarify "areas used by a court" and a 1985 courtroom security study was unearthed that was the basis for the creation of RSA 159:19. Members of the court and the sheriffs who currently provide security at the state's courts had difficulty accepting and implementing a bill that affected all the courts noting that all courts have different security concerns. The committee voted to study the matter further. Vote 9-6.
 Adopted.

SB 471-FN, creating the presumption that a juvenile charged with a driving while intoxicated felony offense, shall be certifiable as an adult. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT
 Rep. L. Randy Lyman for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: This bill in it's amended state adds "negligent homicide as defined in RSA 630:3,II "as an offense that permits a minor to be charged as an adult providing certain criteria is met. This type of expansion places the "burden of proof" on the minor (acting through his attorney) to show why the "minor should not be charged as adult" rather than placing the "burden of proof" on the state through the prosecutor. Before a minor can be charged as an adult the prosecutor has to petition the courts for approval, the judge of district court reviews petition and has to address eight specified issues in law, then transfers the petition to the superior court where the same eight issues are reviewed again and the decision made. The process is the same regardless of whether or not the state or the minor has the "burden of proof". The majority of the committee was in agreement that "negligent homicide," a charge dealing with the taking of a life, was consistent with other offenses in this category. Vote 9-6.

Amendment (1707h)

Amend RSA 169-B:24, IV as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

IV. When the felony offense charged is first degree murder, second degree murder, attempted murder, manslaughter, first degree assault, second degree assault (except when the allegation is a violation of RSA 631:2, I(d)), aggravated felonious sexual assault, kidnapping, criminal restraint, robbery punishable as a class A felony, a violation of RSA 318-B:26, I(a) or (b), or negligent homicide under RSA 630:3, II, or when the minor is charged with any felony and, prior to the filing of the felony petition, the minor has been petitioned to the court on 4 or more occasions and adjudicated delinquent in 4 separate adjudicatory hearings which alleged misdemeanor or felony offenses, and the minor commits the act after the minor's fifteenth birthday, there shall be a presumption that the factors listed in RSA 169-B:24, I support transfer to the superior court.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 2 the following and renumbering the original section 3 to read as 4:

3 New Subparagraph; Criminal Responsibility of Juvenile Offenders; Negligent Homicide Added.
 Amend RSA 628:1, II by inserting after subparagraph (h) the following new subparagraph:

(i) Negligent homicide as defined in RSA 630:3, II.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill proposes the "Brooke Blanchard Act" which would create the presumption that a juvenile charged with negligent homicide shall be certifiable as an adult.

On a division vote, 181 members having voted in the affirmative and 108 in the negative, the report was adopted.

CACR 49, relating to rights of parents to nurture and educate their children. Providing that the right of parents to nurture and educate their children is a natural right, that the legislature and courts shall respect local control of education, and that a local legislative body may promote and fund education through taxes that are reasonable and proportional throughout its jurisdiction. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. William A. Riley for Education: The right of parents to nurture and educate their children is already in the New Hampshire Constitution (Part I Art. 2). The majority of the committee agreed that the language in CACR 49 concerning local control and funding of education is being actively addressed in other CACRs within the Finance Committee. HB 1660-FN-L, relative to defining educational adequacy within the public school system. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Amanda A. Merrill for Education: The committee addressed the issue of defining educational adequacy through its recommendations on HB 1075, all of which were incorporated into that legislation. Vote 13-2.

Adopted.

HB 1678-FN-L, authorizing school districts to establish local educational standards and perform local education program assessments. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Stanley N. Searles, Sr. for Education: As desirable as local control is to the districts, some provisions of this bill are questionable as to constitutionality due to Claremont II Supreme Court decision. Though educational standards are addressed locally, this bill would allow for different standards and different assessments throughout the state without any uniformity and without any direction. It would make professional standards, safe school zones, assessment, home schooling, record keeping, accreditation and rules only advisory to the local school district, therefore jeopardizing the accreditation process, local record keeping, and educational programs. Vote 11-3.

Rep. Alger spoke against.

Rep. O'Hearn spoke in favor.

Adopted.

SB 301, relative to teacher renomination and the application of teacher professional and performance standards. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Elizabeth K. Hoadley for Education: Under this bill, a first year teacher shall be an employee at will. Further, a school district will not be required to provide a reason to a probationary teacher for his/her non-renewal. Accordingly, any rights to have such a reason provided to probationary teachers will be voided. Grievances from such non-renewal shall not be subject to arbitration or any other binding resolution. The bill, however, holds in place dismissal of any teacher found to be immoral or incompetent. Also unchanged are the rights of experienced teachers to notification, hearings and grievance procedures. Vote 11-5.

Adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 456, enabling school districts to allow full parental choice in education. REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY

Rep. Susan B. Durham for Education: There are many questions on how this pilot parental choice proposal would be carried out on the local level. Members of the committee had concerns about who should get vouchers and how they should be used in the school systems. The topic needs more time, thus the vote for interim study. Vote 14-4.

Rep. Rabideau spoke against.

Rep. Durham spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Weber spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. O'Hearn spoke in favor.

Rep. Mary Brown requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being the adoption of the report.

SB 481-FN-L, relative to the availability of school building aid for year-round schools. REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY

Rep. Susan B. Durham for Education: There needs to be a discussion of year round schools in conjunction with extending the school year and with better educational use of our school buildings. This bill will be the vehicle for such discussion along with the use of building aid as an incentive for either option. Year round schools is accepted as good policy but further study of year round schools is needed. Vote 11-1.

Adopted.

SB 191, relative to mental health providers. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Maurice E. Goulet for the Majority of Executive Departments and Administration: This bill will establish a new Board of Mental Health, consisting of 2 public members and one each of the following: psychologist, clinical social worker, marriage and family therapist, pastoral counselor and mental health counselor. It replaces the previous board of 11 members. The bill will not impact psychiatrists (M.D.s) or psychiatric nurse practitioners (A.R.N.P.). The amendment also provides that alternative mental health practitioners may elect to register with the Board of Mental Health Practice at no cost. At the request of the attorney general's office, we have retained the current statutory language regarding violations. This bill will protect the public and provide a strong message to practitioners. Vote 11-8.

Reps. Sylvia A. Holley, Howard, C. Dickinson, Jr., Jon P. Beaulieu, Ray F. Langer, Benjamin E. Moore, Kipp A. Cooper, Robert K. Dodge, James P. Pilliod for the Minority of Executive Departments and

Administration: This bill has eleven pages of amendments, and, among many things, calls for licensure of a diverse group of mental health professionals that differ widely in terms of education and training; calls for a new Board along with board subcommittees numbering 25 people; and allows the registration of "alternative providers" without providing a "gatekeeper". With only 6 complaint calls coming in to the board's office a month, no adjudicative hearings necessary so far in 1998, (only 2 in 1997) and no public testimony in favor of the bill for consumer protection, the minority felt total board reorganization and licensure of the big "5" was not justified at this time.

Amendment (1433h)

Amend RSA 330-A:2, I as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

I. "Alternative provider" means a person who, for remuneration, engages in any aspect of mental health practice as defined in RSA 330-A:2, VI, but does not hold a license issued under this chapter to practice as a licensed psychologist, pastoral psychotherapist, clinical social worker, clinical mental health counselor, or marriage and family therapist, and who may elect to be registered with the board.

Amend RSA 330-A:2, IV as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

IV. "Former client" means a person who was given psychotherapy within the previous 7 years.

Amend RSA 330-A:2, VI and VII as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

VI. "Mental health practice" means the observation, description, evaluation, interpretation, diagnosis, and modification of human behavior by the application of psychological and systems principles, methods, and procedures for the purpose of preventing or eliminating symptomatic, maladapted, or undesirable behavior and of enhancing interpersonal relationships, work and life adjustments, personal effectiveness, behavioral health, and mental health, as well as the diagnosis and treatment of the psychological and social aspects of physical illness, accident, injury, or disability. Mental health practice may include, but shall not be limited to, those services based on diagnosis and treatment of mental and emotional disorders and psycho-educational or consultative techniques integral to the treatment of such disorders when diagnosis is specified in the most current edition of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, published by the American Psychiatric Association, or an equivalent of such manual as determined by the licensing boards. Notwithstanding any other provision to the contrary, no person licensed or registered under this chapter shall assess the need for medications, prescribe medications, or otherwise practice medicine as defined in RSA 329.

VII. "Mental health practitioner" means persons licensed under this chapter as psychologists, pastoral psychotherapists, clinical social workers, clinical mental health counselors, or marriage and family therapists. For purposes of this chapter, the term clinical social worker shall include independent clinical social worker.

Amend RSA 330-A:2 as inserted by section 1 of the bill by deleting paragraph VIII and renumbering the original paragraphs IX - XI to read as VIII - X, respectively.

Amend RSA 330-A:3 as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

330-A:3 Board.

I. There shall be a board of mental health practice composed of the following members: one licensed psychologist, one licensed pastoral psychotherapist, one licensed clinical social worker, one licensed marriage and family therapist, one licensed clinical mental health counselor, and 2 public members. The members shall be appointed to a term of 3 years by the governor with the approval of the council. The members of the board shall elect a chairperson on an annual basis. No discipline's representative and no public member shall serve as chairperson for consecutive terms.

II. The board members shall not serve more than 2 consecutive 3-year terms.

Amend RSA 330-A:4, II as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. The advisory committees shall be composed of at least 3 persons and no more than 5 persons, including the chair, all of whom shall be licensed in their applicable professions. No advisory committee member shall serve more than 2 consecutive 3-year terms.

Amend RSA 330-A:10, XII as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

XII. Procedures, standards, and supervision requirements for candidates for licensure as a member of one of the licensed mental health disciplines, consistent with the standards established by the advisory committee for each of the licensed mental health disciplines. All candidates for licensure shall be documented with the board.

Amend RSA 330-A:10, XVII - XXII as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

XVII. The content of the materials and information to be distributed under RSA 330-A:14.

XVIII. Requirements to be met by licensees relative to the disclosure of information to patients and the general public concerning the nature of mental health care and the responsibilities of mental health practitioners to clients in RSA 330-A:15.

XIX. The establishment of all fees required under this chapter. There shall be no fee for the registration of alternative providers.

XXI. Procedures for the registration of alternative providers of mental health care electing to register under this chapter. Such procedures shall include at a minimum that applicants for registration provide a description of the type of mental health therapy which they practice.

Amend RSA 330-A:14 as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

330-A:14 Information on Sexual Misconduct. The board shall inform all applicants for licensure under this chapter that the board deems sexual misconduct as provided in RSA 330-A:36 to be unethical, unprofessional, and dishonorable conduct subject to disciplinary action by the board. The board shall make available to all licensees, or persons applying for licensure, under this chapter information and materials, as determined by the board, pursuant to rules adopted under RSA 541-A, regarding such sexual misconduct.

Amend RSA 330-A:20, I as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

I. The board shall issue a provisional clinical mental health counselor license to any person who has at least 5 years demonstrated clinical mental health experience and has a master's degree with a concentration in the field of counseling or psychology from a regionally accredited institution, but who may not meet all of the requirements of RSA 330-A:19. This provisional license shall expire on July 1, 2001 unless the provisional licensee successfully completes the remainder of the 60 hours of graduate credit in RSA 330-A:19, I, and passes the clinical mental health counselor's examination of the National Board for Certified Counselors, Inc., if permitted by such board to take the examination. If the provisional licensee successfully completes the 60 hours of graduate credit and is not allowed by the National Board for Certified Counselors, Inc. to take the examination, then the provisional licensee shall be granted a clinical mental health counselor license.

Amend the introductory paragraph of RSA 330-A:22, I, as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

Amend RSA 330-A:23, I as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

The license or the registration of such person shall be current and valid. It shall be unlawful for any person to practice as or to refer to oneself as a psychologist, a pastoral psychotherapist, a clinical social worker, a clinical mental health counselor, or a marriage and family therapist, or use the word "psychotherapist," or any variation of, in such person's title unless that person is licensed by the board or working as a candidate under the direct supervision of a person licensed by the board. Psychiatrists licensed under RSA 329 and psychiatric nurse practitioners licensed under RSA 326-B:10 may refer to themselves as psychotherapists.

Amend RSA 330-A:23, III as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

III. Any person whose license under this chapter has been suspended or revoked by the board for disciplinary action under RSA 330-A:27 or sexual misconduct under RSA 330-A:36 shall not engage in mental health practice as defined in RSA 330-A:2, VI unless and until the suspension or revocation of the license has been lifted.

Amend RSA 330-A:26 - RSA 330-A:39 as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing them with the following:

330-A:26 Applicants From Other States. The board may license any applicant who is licensed in any other state, provided the other state's licensure requirements are substantially equivalent to or higher than those of this state.

330-A:27 Disciplinary Action.

I. The board may, for just cause, undertake an investigation or disciplinary proceedings:

(d) Unfitness or incompetency by reason of negligent habits or other causes, or negligent or willful acts performed in a manner inconsistent with the health or safety of persons under the care of the licensee.

(e) Addiction to the use of alcohol or other habit-forming drugs to a degree which renders the licensee unfit to practice under this chapter.

(f) Mental or physical incapacity to practice under this chapter, as established by an independent medical or psychiatric evaluation.

(g) Willful or repeated violation of the provisions of this chapter.

(h) Suspension or revocation of a license or registration, similar to one issued under this chapter, in another jurisdiction and not reinstated.

III. The board may take disciplinary action in any one or more of the following ways:

(a) By reprimand.

(b) By suspension, limitation, or restriction of a license for a period of up to 5 years.

(c) By revocation of license.

(e) By assessing administrative fines in amounts established by the board which shall not exceed $2,000 per offense, or, in the case of continuing offenses, $200 for each day not exceeding $2,000.

IV. No civil action shall be maintained against the board or any member of the board or its agents or employees with regard to any action or activity taken in the performance of any duty or authority established by this chapter. No civil action shall be maintained against any organization or its members or against any other person for or by reason of any good faith statement, report, communication, or testimony to the board or determination by the board in relation to proceedings under this chapter.

V. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to restrict the right of appeal under RSA 541.

330-A:28 Investigations and Complaints.

I. The board may investigate possible misconduct by licensees and other matters within the scope of this chapter. Investigations may be conducted formally, after issuance of a board order setting forth the general scope of the investigation, or informally without such an order. In either case, board investigations and the information gathered in such investigations shall be exempt from the public disclosure provisions of RSA 91-A, except to the extent such information may later become the subject of a public disciplinary hearing. The board may disclose information acquired in an investigation to law enforcement or health licensing agencies in this state or any other jurisdiction, or in response to specific statutory requirements or court orders. A licensee under this chapter shall be promptly informed of the nature and scope of any pending investigation.

II. The board may employ or retain hearing officers, legal counsel, medical advisors, mental health advisors, or investigators to assist with any investigation and with the conduct of hearings. Members of the board are not eligible for retention.

III. The form taken by an investigation is a matter reserved to the discretion of the board. The board may, with just cause, conduct investigations on an ex parte basis only if there is an imminent danger to life or health of a client.

IV.(a) The board or its designee may administer oaths or affirmations, preserve testimony, and issue subpoenas for witnesses and for documents and objects only in a formal investigation or an adjudicatory hearing, except that subpoenas for mental health records as provided in paragraph V may be issued at any time.

(b) The board may serve a subpoena on a licensee by certified mail in accordance with the procedures and fee schedules used in superior court.

(c) Any subpoena related to appearance at a hearing or investigatory proceeding issued by the board shall be annotated "Fees Guaranteed by the New Hampshire Board of Mental Health Practice" in order to be valid.

(d) A minimum of 48 hours' notice shall be given for compliance with a subpoena issued under this chapter.

V. The board may, with just cause, at any time subpoena mental health records from its licensees and from hospitals and other health care providers licensed in this state. Such subpoenas shall be served by certified mail or by personal delivery to the address shown on the respondent's current license. A minimum of 15 days' advance notice shall be allowed for complying with a subpoena duces tecum issued under this paragraph.

VI. All licensees shall have the duty to notify the board of their current business and residence addresses, and shall notify the board of any change to either address within 30 days of the change.

VII. On its own motion, with just cause, or in response to a complaint received by one of the advisory committees, the board shall informally mail a copy of a complaint to any licensee who is the subject of the complaint, and require the licensee to provide a detailed and good faith written response to the allegations identified by the board. The licensee shall provide complete copies of the licensee's office records concerning any patient identified in the complaint. The licensee shall respond to such request within a reasonable time period of not less than 15 days, as the board shall specify in its written request.

VIII. Any person may file a written complaint with the board which charges that a person licensed under this chapter has committed misconduct. The board may dismiss complaints when the undisputed allegations do not warrant disciplinary actions and may settle complaints informally with the consent of the licensee. Some or all of the allegations in a complaint may be consolidated with another complaint or with issues which the board chooses to investigate or hear on its own motion. If an investigation of a complaint results in an offer of settlement by the licensee, the board may settle the allegations against the licensee without the consent of a complainant, provided that the complainant is given an opportunity to comment on the terms of the proposed settlement.

330-A:29 Hearings.

I. Any complaint not dismissed or settled informally shall be heard by the board. Such hearing shall be an open public hearing. Any member of the board shall have the authority to preside at such a hearing and to issue oaths or affirmations to witnesses.

II. The board shall furnish the respondent and the complainant, if any, at least 15 days' written notice of the date, time and place of a hearing, except as otherwise provided in this chapter. Such notice shall include an itemization of the issues to be heard, and, in the case of a disciplinary hearing, a statement as to whether the action has been initiated by a written complaint or upon the board's own motion, or both. If a written complaint is involved, the notice shall provide the complainant with a reasonable opportunity to intervene as a party.

III. The board may, before or after the commencement of an adjudicatory hearing, dispose of disciplinary or licensure allegations arising under this chapter by order of dismissal, settlement, default, consent order or summary judgment order. In disciplinary hearings, the board may hold prehearing conferences which shall be exempt from the provisions of RSA 91-A, but all final disciplinary actions, including those which occur without holding a public hearing, shall be publicly released at the time they are served upon the parties.

IV. The respondent shall be heard in his or her defense either in person or by counsel and may produce witnesses and testify in his or her behalf. A stenographic record of the hearing shall be taken and preserved. The hearing may be adjourned from time to time.

V. Every final disciplinary action and other adjudicatory decisions made final by the board shall be reduced to writing and served upon the parties. Such decisions shall not be public until they are served upon the parties.

VI. The board shall have no obligation or authority to appoint or provide an attorney to any person appearing at a board hearing or investigation.

VII. Final licensure and disciplinary actions of the board may be appealed to the supreme court under the procedures set forth in RSA 541. However, no sanction imposed by the board shall be stayed during appeal.

330-A:30 Temporary Suspension Where Imminent Threat. In cases involving imminent danger to life or health, the board may order suspension of a licensee pending hearing for a period of not more than 90 days. In such cases, the basis for the board's finding of imminent danger to life or health shall be reduced to writing and combined with a hearing notice which complies with RSA 330-A:28, II. A licensee may be allowed additional time to prepare for a hearing, but any additional time for preparation shall result in an extension of license suspension commensurate with the additional time extended.

330-A:31 Expirations and Renewals. Licenses shall be valid for a period of 2 years and shall become invalid on the expiration date unless renewed. It shall be the duty of the board to notify every person licensed by the board under this chapter of the date of expiration of the license and the amount of the fee that shall be required for its renewal for 2 years. Such notice shall be mailed at least one month in advance of the date of expiration of such license. Renewal shall be conditional upon filing a timely and complete renewal application and payment of the fee as set by the board.

330-A:32 Privileged Communications. The confidential relations and communications between any person licensed under provisions of this chapter and such licensee's client are placed on the same basis as those provided by law between attorney and client, and nothing in this chapter shall be construed to require any such privileged communications to be disclosed, unless such disclosure is required by a court order. Confidential relations and communications between a client and any person working under the supervision of a person licensed under this chapter which are necessary and customary for diagnosis and treatment are privileged to the same extent as though those relations or communications were with the supervising person licensed under this chapter, unless such disclosure is required by a court order. This section shall not apply to hearings conducted pursuant to RSA 135-C:27-54 or RSA 464-A.

330-A:33 Prior Certification. Any psychologist, pastoral psychotherapist, clinical social worker, marriage and family therapist, or clinical mental health counselor who was certified on July 1, 1998, under the provisions of former RSA 330-A, shall be issued a license in the respective discipline by the board.

330-A:34 Persons Exempted. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to limit:

I. The psychotherapy activities, services, or use of official title of a person in the employ of a federal, state, county, or municipal agency, other political subdivision, or duly chartered educational institution, insofar as such activities and services are a part of the duties of such person in that salaried position.

II. The psychotherapy activities and services of a student, intern, or resident in a mental health discipline regulated by the board, who is pursuing a course of study approved by a regionally accredited degree-granting institution or at another training site approved as providing qualifying training and experience constituting a part of the supervised course of study.

III. The counseling activities and services of rabbis, priests, ministers, Christian Science practitioners, clergy, or members of religious orders when their counseling activities are within the scope of the performance of their regular or specialized ministerial duties and are performed under the auspices or sponsorship of an established and legally recognized church or denomination.

IV. The psychotherapy activities and services of any other person providing mental health services as an employee of or consultant to an institution, facility, or nonprofit institution or agency which provides clinical mental health services and which provides clinical supervision of its staff and which assumes professional, ethical, and legal responsibility for such mental health services.

V. The psychotherapy activities and services of physicians licensed under RSA 329, and advanced registered nurse practitioners, licensed under RSA 326-B:10.

VI. This chapter shall not be construed to prevent or restrict the mental health practice activities of individuals who volunteer their services to non-profit charitable organizations and receive no remuneration for their services.

Duty to Warn of Violent Acts of Clients

330-A:35 Civil Liability; Duty to Warn.

I. Any person licensed under this chapter has a duty to warn of, or to take reasonable precautions to provide protection from, a client's violent behavior when the client has communicated to such licensee a serious threat of physical violence against a clearly identified or reasonably identifiable victim or victims, or a serious threat of substantial damage to real property.

II. The duty may be discharged by, and no monetary liability or cause of action shall arise against, any person licensed under this chapter if the licensee makes reasonable efforts to communicate the threat to the victim or victims, notifies the police department closest to the client's or potential victim's residence, or obtains civil commitment of the client to the state mental health system.

III. No monetary liability and no cause of action may arise concerning client privacy or confidentiality against any person licensed under this chapter for information disclosed to third parties in an effort to discharge a duty under paragraph II.

Sexual Misconduct

330-A:36 Sexual Misconduct Subject to Disciplinary Action. Sexual relations with a client or a former client shall be considered sexual misconduct and shall be subject to disciplinary action under RSA 330-A and the duty to inform established in RSA 330-A:37.

330-A:37 Sexual Misconduct; Duty to Inform.

I. If, during the course of mental health therapy a client alleges that a person licensed under this chapter has engaged with the client in sexual misconduct as defined in RSA 330-A:36, the person licensed under this chapter shall have a duty to inform the client in the manner provided for in paragraph II.

II. The duty may be discharged by, and no monetary liability or cause of action may arise against, any person licensed under this chapter, if the licensee informs the client of the unethical, unprofessional, and dishonorable conduct of the previous psychotherapist's actions. Any person licensed under this chapter shall also advise the client that such sexual misconduct is cause for disciplinary action by the board.

III. No civil or criminal liability shall arise concerning client privacy or confidentiality against a person licensed under this chapter for information disclosed to the board or any other statutorily created medical occupational licensing board conducting disciplinary proceedings in discharging the responsibilities established under this subdivision, provided that such information is disclosed in good faith.

IV. No civil action shall be maintained against any board member, the board or its agents or employees, or against any organization or its members, including, but not limited to, any member of a professional standards review organization listed in RSA 507:8-c, I, or against any other person for or by reason of any statement, report, communication or testimony to the board, or determination by the board in relation to disciplinary proceedings under this section provided that such statement, report, communication, or determination is made in good faith.

V. If the client decides to report such sexual misconduct to the board, the person licensed under this chapter shall provide, either directly or indirectly through referral, support and advocacy to such client in reporting the incident to the board.

Amend the bill by replacing section 3 with the following:

3 Cross Reference Revised. Amend RSA 135-C:19-a to read as follows:

135-C:19-a Disclosure of Certain Information.

I. Notwithstanding RSA 329:26 and RSA ~~[330-A:19]~~ 330-A:32, a community mental health center or state facility providing services to seriously or chronically mentally ill clients may disclose information regarding diagnosis, admission to or discharge from a treatment facility, functional assessment, the name of the medicine prescribed, the side effects of any medication prescribed, behavioral or physical manifestations which would result from failure of the client to take such prescribed medication, treatment plans and goals and behavioral management strategies to a family member or other person, if such family member or person lives with the client or provides direct care to the client. The mental health center or facility shall provide a written notice to the client which shall include the name of the person requesting the information, the specific information requested and the reason for the request. Prior to the disclosure, the mental health center or facility shall request in writing the consent of the client. If consent cannot be obtained, the client shall be informed of the reason for the intended disclosure, the specific information to be released and the person or persons to whom the disclosure is to be made.

II. Notwithstanding RSA 329:26 and RSA [330-A:19] 330-A:32, when the medical director or designee determines that obtaining information is essential to the care or treatment of a person admitted pursuant to RSA 135-C:27-54, a designated receiving facility may request, and any health care provider which previously provided services to any person involuntarily admitted to the facility may provide, information about such person limited to medications prescribed, known medication allergies or other information essential to the medical or psychiatric care of the person admitted. Prior to requesting such information the facility shall in writing request the person's consent for such request for information. If the consent cannot be obtained, the facility shall inform the person in writing of the care providers who have been requested to provide information to the facility pursuant to this section. The facility may disclose such information as is necessary to identify the person and the facility which is requesting the information. No care provider who discloses otherwise confidential information to a designated receiving facility following a request made pursuant to this section shall be held civilly or criminally liable for disclosing such information.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 15 with the following:

17 Initial Appointments to Board; Limit on Terms of Members of Existing Board. Any term served on the board of examiners of psychology and mental health practice prior to the effective date of this act by a person appointed to the board of mental health practice shall apply to the limitation on consecutive terms required under RSA 330-A:3, II.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Rep. Teschner addressed the House.

Rep. Trelfa moved that the remarks made by Rep. Teschner be printed in the Journal.

Adopted.

Rep. Teschner: Thank you, Madam Speaker. As I thought about standing here today, the well-known passage from Ecclesiastes came to mind: "To everything there is a season, and a time for every purpose under heaven."

These past ten years as a member of this House have been very special, but heart and mind tell me it is time for a new season.

I have never been a big fan of term limits, believing that, while voters have the ultimate power, we legislators should limit ourselves. So, after five terms, I will not be filing for re-election. It is time to give someone else the opportunity to serve.

Sitting in this hall in recent weeks, I've done a lot of thinking about this great institution, about those who have served before and those who will come in the future.

Back when I was a freshman on the Environment and Agriculture Committee, there was a contentious fight over a gravel bill. Leadership was pushing for passage, but committee members had concerns. I asked a lot of questions, and remember George Musler, then vice chair, telling me, "Doug, it's new blood that keeps this place honest."

I always remembered that. I think it speaks to something important. The members of this House change, people come and go, and yet the process carries forward and the questions do get asked. There is a great Native American saying: "The first thing you need to do in life is to find a sacred place to live." I chose to live in Pike, a village in the Town of Haverhill, a beautiful area where Connecticut River dairy farms bump up against the White Mountains.

When I first ran for the House back in 1988, I was little known in town. That's one of the strengths of our 400-member citizen legislature - just about anybody who works at it can get elected. I don't think that's true in a lot of other states, and I believe it enhances our connections to people at the local level. For me, constituent work has been the most rewarding aspect of this job, more important than any legislation I authored or shepherded through committee.

As you all know, people call us with their problems, and often this leads to a kind of intimate involvement in their lives. Sometimes it feels like a window opening into people's souls. I think especially of a foster parent couple I worked with, over many years, through a complicated adoption and many trials and tribulations with DCYF.

There was the elderly man who flagged down my pickup truck to thank me, and the woman who wrote a letter to the editor after I intervened on a health insurance problem involving her elderly mother.

My constituents from Haverhill, Piermont, Orford and Bath have enriched my life, giving more than I could have given them. I am grateful for their advice, their friendship and, of course, their votes.

With respect to legislation, the bills that directly impacted my district, like the Lake Tarleton project and the Woodsville technical college program, are the most memorable. I recently attended groundbreaking at Bedell Bridge State Park and Glencliff Home for the Elderly, where I was given a golden shovel. I even got Terry Morton to autograph it!

These were tough battles and many people helped, too many to name, I'm afraid. We would be here all day. You can't pass legislation without an awful lot of help. Thank you all.

This legislature is a great place to learn and grow. My predecessor, Ezra "Bart" Mann, taught me my first legislative lesson. Shortly after being elected, I was having a problem with a government agency as chair of the local Red Cross chapter. Representative Mann advised me, "You have a boot, use it!" I accomplished a lot using Bart's boot!

Crow Dickinson, in a moment of my despair over a lost amendment important to my district, you showed me how to get a bill introduced and passed in both houses on the same day! I have had a lot of great teachers, people like Merle Schotanus, Gene Chandler and Dave Scanlan. Also, Executive Councilor Ray Burton, a great public servant, who taught me almost everything I know about constituent work. I hope I was able to help new members half as much as some of these people helped me.

One thing I learned early on is that it is critical to have a good working relationship with your state senator. Ned Gordon, an outstanding senator, and Wayne King before him, have stood by me on local projects through thick and thin. Both were former House members and I think that helps.

Sometimes, as you know, politics can be a pretty tough business. Winston Churchill once said, "In war, you can only be killed once, but in politics many times."

I have never been in combat, but I have been in some pretty intense mountaineering situations, including a time, in the winter of 1983, when I found a dead man and his severely injured partner on Mt. Washington. So I think I know a little something about this subject. I like to say that "politics is the only blood sport with no visible blood."

As I look back on ten years in this House, I remember some of the more intense battles and the relationships and bonds forged in those fights, of people who, when they made a commitment, stood their ground and didn't cut and run when the going got tough.

Jeb Bradley, you and I have been there. And, Terry Pfaff, you have the heart of a warrior. I am also grateful for the many opportunities that came because I was a legislator. Like jumping out of an airplane with Loren Jean and Gary Gilmore, attending the GOP convention in San Diego and being selected as a Council of State Governments Toll Fellow. By the way, congratulations to Terry Pfaff who learned yesterday that he will represent our state this fall in the Toll Fellows Class of 1998.

And I remember the time I went to a Lenten lunch with Secretary of State Bill Gardner and unexpectedly became guest speaker, a last-minute fill in for the absent governor.

These and so many other experiences never would have happened if I hadn't been a member of this House. What a gift, what a blessing, what a privilege this has been!

I recall the great quote from Thoreau, "I wanted to live deep and suck all the marrow out of life." I compare legislative service to my time in the Peace Corps. You really have to experience it to understand it. You just can't explain it, or read about it in a book.

I also want to thank my family, including my mother, my wife Marte and sons, Ben and Luke, who put up with so many night meetings and the weekends I worked to make up for lost time while at the State House. I also want to thank my employer, Riverbend Community Mental Health, which gave me flexibility without which I never could have served.

It has been quite a challenge, balancing work, family and the House, but it has been more than worth it. Lastly, I want to say one word of caution, echoing the words of Representative D'Allesandro from a few weeks ago. The level of civility among members has declined in recent years. This seems to be happening at all levels of government and, indeed, throughout society. We can show people a better way. Earlier, I talked about living in a sacred space. Well, this House, this chamber, is a sacred place, too.

I am not sure what the future holds for me. I have confidence there will be new challenges and new mountains to climb. Maybe I'll even run again someday. I don't know.

But wherever I go, whatever I do, I will cherish these past ten years. They have become a vital part of who I am.

It's time to pass on Bart's boot. I'm sure the next person will use it well and give a few swift kicks! Thank you all. God bless you and God bless this House.

Rep. Pfaff, Sen. Barnes for the Committee

SB 320, relative to notice by a state agency to certain persons of proposed rulemaking activity. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Ray F. Langer for Executive Departments and Administration: This bill revises the requirement that notices of rulemaking proceedings need be sent to the president of the senate, the speaker of the house, the chairman of the fiscal committee and chairman of legislative committees having jurisdiction over the subject matter unless if they requested such notice. It provides that all others affected by the rulemaking procedures shall continue to receive notice automatically. Vote 14-2. Adopted and Ordered to third reading.

SB 444-FN, requiring the New Hampshire real estate commission to notify licensees of proposed rules and any changes adopted to rules. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Maurice E. Goulet for the Majority of Executive Departments and Administration: This bill, as amended, will require the Real Estate Commission to distribute a newsletter to all licensees regarding any changes to statutes or rules, as they pertain to real estate issues. This will provide greater information to licensees, similar to other major licensing boards. Vote 14-1.

Rep. Robert K. Dodge for the Minority of Executive Departments and Administration: The committee recognizes the intent of the legislation, however, RSA 541-A-6III does allow the agency to notify the licensees of any rulemaking proceedings, by various means at their disposal. In addition "Webster" <http://www.state.nh.us> will be carrying the rulemaking register. The rulemaking register RSA 541-A-9III is available upon request at prices fixed by the director of legislative services to cover mailing and publication costs.

SB 331, eliminating work certificates for 16 and 17 year old youths OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Robert E. Clegg, Jr. for Labor, Industrial and Rehabilitative Services: Youth employment certificates will no longer be required of youths 16 or 17 years old. Testimony from the study committee which met last summer, and from hearings in the House and Senate this year, showed the certificates were not useful to schools in assuring academic excellence since revocations of certificates were always overridden by parents. Permission slips from parents or legal guardian will now be required to be held on file by the employer. This requirement was added to keep parents informed of where their child worked as well as to allow parents to revoke permission to work when necessary. Vote 14-2.

MOTION TO LAY ON THE TABLE

Rep. Mears moved that SB 331, eliminating work certificates for 16 and 17 year old youths, be laid on the table.

Rep. Daniels requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

I. Providing a time line for May meetings.

II. Clarifying procedures in the event an operating budget is not adopted.

III. Providing a mechanism for correcting procedural defects.

Adopted.

Rep. Dokmo yielded to questions.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 365, relative to including the upper and lower Merrimack Rivers, the Lamprey River, the Swift River, and the mainstream and north branch of the Contoocook River under the shoreland protection act and deleting the deadline for local approval of the designation of the Exeter River as a rural river. MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Paula E. Bradley for the Majority of Resources, Recreation and Development: This Senate Bill will include the upper and lower Merrimack Rivers, The Lamprey River, The Swift River, and the main stem and north branch of the Contoocook River under The Comprehensive Shoreland Protection Act (CSPA). In recent years our rivers, lakes and coastal areas have come under increasing pressure from use and development. The CSPA sets minimum standards necessary to protect our waters for future generations. The shoreland buffer created by CSPA is essential to protect these rivers from nonpoint sources of pollution. Thereby preserving the economic benefits of these waters to the state. The Resources, Recreation and Development Committee received overwhelming support for this bill from DES, Conservation Commissions, Boards of Selectmen, Local River Advisory Committees, and individuals throughout the state. This legislation will bring the above rivers into the CSPA along with others that already receive this protection. Vote 10-7.

Rep. David D. Kibbey for the Minority of Resources, Recreation and Development: There is currently a rivers management law on the books in NH. During testimony of this proposal it became apparent that bureaucrats were not gaining control of our riverfront owners property at a fast enough pace. There is not scientific or statistical data to support this governmental expansion to these riverfront land owners. Nor was there any demonstration of riverfront degradation necessitating this action. In fact, the DES publication-Status of Surface Waters of NH, 1996 states that "There are about 10,881 miles of rivers and streams in NH. The overall quality of fresh surface water in NH is excellent, with 99.4% of all freshwater rivers and streams fully supporting all uses." There was no testimony from actual riverfront owners asking to have their rights diminished. Only bureaucrats and river protection groups spoke in favor seeking more government control of private property. This bill will remove some rights of riverfront property owners and subject them to fines or jail for using and enjoying their property. One day law abiding, conscientious people and the next, lawbreakers. When one day you can use and enjoy your property and the next day you can't, or else be subject to fines and jail, you have lost something. That is a taking. And without compensation. These special riverfront property owners are being subjected to land use law and restrictions unique to them and not subjected to all citizens of the state under the guise of "protecting our natural resources". Environmental laws should be equitable and fair to all tracts and not to limited classes of people. Please support the minority and strive to have ALL properties participate in the state's environmental protection.

Reps. Camm and Kibbey spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Donald White spoke against.

Reps. Jeb Bradley, Dickinson and Merritt spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Camm requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being the adoption of the majority report.

SB 403, relative to mooring on Spofford Lake. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Loren J. Jean for Resources, Recreation and Development: The input in the public hearing on this bill was roughly 5-1 opposed. Testimony was heard by safety and law enforcement personnel that did not support the safety concerns cited by the sponsor. The Committee felt that the mooring laws should be revisited as a whole, but this bill was not a timely vehicle to accomplish this. The Resources, Recreation and Development Committee will visit the mooring laws and lack of mooring laws on all bodies of water held in the public trust. Vote 12-5.
Adopted.

SB 354, requiring insurance coverage for hospitalization and anesthesia for dental procedures for certain patients. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Keith R. Herman. for Commerce: This bill has been referred to as the "dental anesthesia" bill. This bill defines under what conditions health insurers must reimburse for dental care performed under anesthesia. Generally, insurers won't reimburse for dental benefits unless the dental care requires surgery in a hospital or outpatient facility. There are cases where young children and persons with severe mental/physical disabilities cannot receive care in a dentist's office. This bill is needed to address these sensitive issues and the amendment ensures minimal impact on health costs and increasing utilization by defining what situations will be affected by this legislation. Vote 11-0.

Amendment (1716h)

Amend the bill by replacing sections 1-4 with the following:

1 Statement of Purpose.

I. The general court finds that:

(a) Denial of medical benefits otherwise payable just because dental procedures are performed is inherently unfair when the justification for general anesthesia is the same regardless of the procedure.

(b) Denial of medical benefits effectively eliminates the option of general anesthesia for most families. Children and persons with disabilities suffer most. There are no comparable alternatives to general anesthesia for this group. Comparable results and outcomes are not obtained when general anesthesia is denied.

(c) General anesthesia is the accepted standard of care for this population group. General anesthesia for dental treatment is available under federal medicaid guidelines, but effectively unavailable for private patients. Care under general anesthesia is supported by the American Dental Association, the American Academy of Pediatric Dentistry, the American Medical Association, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, and most other professional dental and medical organizations.

(d) There is little consistency in the insurance industry concerning such benefits. Benefits are often extended to one insured and denied to others insured by the same company and even under the same policy. Policy holders are unlikely to be aware of these exclusions at the time of policy purchase. Aggressive and determined parents are sometimes able to force the payment of benefits that the majority of less well-connected, well-educated, or financially well-off parents are denied.

(e) Pediatric dentists estimate overwhelmingly that parental acceptance of general anesthesia would increase if artificial financial barriers were removed. When over 1500 members of the American Academy of Pediatric Dentistry responded to a 1995 survey, they reported that when general anesthesia was indicated and denied, comparable treatment results could be achieved in less than half their cases. In fully 60 percent of these cases, patients either received compromised outcomes or were denied treatment altogether.

II. Therefore, the general court hereby requires insurance coverage when dental care is provided under general anesthesia.

III. This act is not intended to encourage the administration of general anesthesia in any medical setting as a substitute for sound patient management practices.

2 New Sections; Coverage for Dental Procedures; Medical or Hospital. Amend RSA 415 by inserting after section 18-f the following new sections:

415:18-g Coverage for Dental Procedures; Medical or Hospital; Group.

I. Each insurer that issues or renews any policy of group or blanket accident or health insurance providing benefits for medical or hospital expenses, shall provide to each group, or to the portion of each group comprised of certificate holders of such insurance who are residents of New Hampshire, coverage for the medically necessary hospital or surgical day care facility charges and administration of general anesthesia administered by a licensed anesthesiologist or anesthetist for dental procedures performed on a covered person who:

(a) Is a child under the age of 4 who is determined by a licensed dentist in conjunction with a licensed physician to have a dental condition of significant dental complexity which requires certain dental procedures to be performed in a surgical day care facility or hospital setting; or

(b) Is a person who has exceptional medical circumstances or a developmental disability as determined by a licensed physician which place the person at serious risk.

II. All of the terms and conditions of the covered person's policy shall apply to these services.

415:18-h Coverage for Dental Procedures; Dental Offices.

I. Each dental insurer or other similar entity, including Delta under RSA 420-F, that issues or renews any policy of group insurance providing benefits for oral surgical procedures, shall provide to each certificate holder who is a resident of New Hampshire coverage for the administration of general anesthesia administered by a licensed dentist for dental procedures performed in a dentist's office on a covered person who:

(a) Is a child under the age of 4 who is determined by a licensed dentist in conjunction with a licensed physician to have a dental condition of significant complexity which requires the child to receive general anesthesia for the treatment of such condition; or

(b) Is a person who has exceptional medical circumstances or a developmental disability as determined by a licensed physician which place the person at serious risk.

II. All of the terms and conditions of the covered person's policy shall apply to these services.

3 New Section; Coverage for Dental Procedures. Amend RSA 420-A by inserting after section 17-a the following new section:

420-A:17-b Coverage for Dental Procedures.

I. Every health service corporation and every similar corporation licensed under the laws of another state that issues or renews any group policy or blanket accident or health insurance providing benefits for medical or hospital expenses, shall provide to each covered individual or certificate holder who is a resident of New Hampshire coverage for the medically necessary hospital or surgical day care facility charges and administration of general anesthesia administered by a licensed anesthesiologist or anesthetist for dental procedures performed on a covered person who:

(a) Is a child under the age of 4 who is determined by a licensed dentist in conjunction with a licensed primary care physician to have a dental condition of significant dental complexity which requires certain dental procedures to be performed in a surgical day care facility or hospital setting; or

(b) Is a person who has exceptional medical circumstances or a developmental disability as determined by a licensed primary care physician which place the person at serious risk.

II. All of the terms and conditions of the covered person's policy shall apply to these services.

4 New Section; Coverage for Dental Procedures. Amend RSA 420-B by inserting after section 8-e the following new section:

420-B:8-ee Coverage for Dental Procedures.

I. Every health maintenance organization and every other similar corporation licensed under the laws of another state that issues or renews any group policy or blanket accident or health insurance providing benefits for medical or hospital expenses, shall provide to each covered individual or certificate holder who is a resident of New Hampshire coverage for the medically necessary hospital or surgical day care facility charges and administration of general anesthesia administered by a licensed anesthesiologist or anesthesiologist for dental procedures performed on a covered person who:

(a) Is a child under the age of 4 who is determined by a licensed dentist in conjunction with a licensed primary care physician to have a dental condition of significant dental complexity which requires certain dental procedures to be performed in a surgical day care facility or hospital setting; or

(b) Is a person who has exceptional medical circumstances or a developmental disability as determined by a licensed primary care physician which place the person at serious risk.

II. All of the terms and conditions of the covered person's policy shall apply to these services.

Adopted.

Adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 358-L, relative to the term physician in health care provider contracts. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Keith R. Herman for Commerce: This bill clarifies in law the current practice of contractual relationships between health providers and health insurers. The bill states that the term "physician" cannot be used to deny a contract with a provider. Health insurers now contract, regularly, with providers who are not physicians as defined by statute. This will have minimal impact on provider networks. The amendment adds a sentence to clarify the legislature's intent. Vote 11-0.

Amendment (1721h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Section; Use of Term Physician in Provider Contracts. Amend RSA 415-A by inserting after section 2-a the following new section:

415-A:2-b Use of Term Physician in Provider Contracts. No contract shall use the term physician for the purpose of allowing a health care insurer to avoid contracting with other health care professionals for health care services. A physician shall mean a person licensed to practice medicine under RSA 329. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require a health care insurer to contract with a health care provider.

2 New Paragraph; Preferred Provider Agreements; Use of Term Physician. Amend RSA 420-C:5-a by inserting after paragraph II the following new paragraph:

III. No contract shall use the term physician for the purpose of allowing a health care insurer to avoid contracting with other health care professionals for health care services. A physician shall mean a person licensed to practice medicine under RSA 329. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require a health care insurer to contract with a health care provider.

3 New Paragraph; Provider Contract Standards; Use of Term Physician. Amend RSA 420-J:8 by inserting after paragraph V the following new paragraph:

VI. No contract shall use the term physician for the purpose of allowing a health carrier to avoid contracting with other health care professionals for health care services. A physician shall mean a person licensed to practice medicine under RSA 329. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require a health carrier to contract with a health care provider.

4 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

Adopted.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 404, relative to home care. REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY

Rep. Martha Fuller Clark for Commerce: This bill is a very important and legitimate piece of legislation which will guarantee New Hampshire residents of continuing care facilities who are enrollees of a Medicare HMO, the right to return home and receive covered care at the in-house nursing facility within their own retirement community. The vote for interim study is in support of this legislation and will provide the needed time to work on both technical and substantive issues within the bill which could not be amply addressed within the current legislative time frame. Vote 11-0.

Adopted.

SB 472-FN-L, relative to filing security interests under the Uniform Commercial Code. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Sheila T. Francoeur for Commerce: This bill makes certain changes relative to filing security interests under the Uniform Commercial Code. Filings will be able to be made with the clerk of any city or town participating in the centralized filing system administered by the Secretary of State. This bill will allow Uniform Commercial Code filings to be electronically filed. The Secretary of State's office will co-ordinate and provide training for town and city clerks to transition to this system commencing July, 2001. Vote 11-0.

Amendment (1667h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Paragraph; Liability for Loss or Damages. Amend RSA 382-A:9-401 by inserting after paragraph (6) the following new paragraph:

(7) The secretary of state, county recorders, city or town clerks, and their employees and agents shall not be liable for any loss or damages arising from errors in or omissions from information entered into the records maintained under this chapter, nor for any errors or omissions in indexing such information.

2 Place of Filing. Amend RSA 382-A:9-401 to read as follows:

382-A:9-401 Place of Filing; Erroneous Filing; Removal of Collateral.

(1) The proper place to file in order to perfect a security interest is as follows:

(a) ~~[when the collateral is equipment used in farming operations, or farm products, or accounts or general intangibles arising from or relating to the sale of farm products by a farmer, or consumer goods, then in the office of the clerk of the town where the debtor resides or if the debtor is not a resident of this state then in the office of the clerk of the town where the goods are kept, and in addition when the collateral is crops growing or to be grown in the office of the clerk of the town where the land is located;~~

(b) when the collateral is timber to be cut or is minerals or the like (including oil and gas), accounts subject to subsection (5) of Section 9-103, or manufactured housing as defined in RSA 674:31, or when the financing statement is filed as a fixture filing (Section 9-313) and the collateral is goods which are or are to become fixtures, then in the office where a mortgage on the real estate would be filed or recorded;

~~[(c)] (b) in all other cases, in the office of the clerk of any city or town participating in the centralized filing system administered by secretary of state [and in addition, if the debtor has a place of business in only one town of this state, also in the office of the clerk of such town, or, if the debtor has no place of business in this state, but resides in the state, also in the office of the clerk of the town in which he resides].~~

(2) A filing which is made in good faith in an improper place ~~[or not in all of the places required by this section]~~ is nevertheless effective with regard to any collateral as to which the filing complied with the requirements of this Article and is also effective with regard to collateral covered by the financing statement against any person who has knowledge of the contents of such financing statement.

(3) A filing which is made in the proper place in this state continues effective even though ~~[the debtor's residence or place of business or]~~ the location of the collateral or its use, whichever controlled the original filing, is thereafter changed.

(4) The rules stated in Section 9-103 determine whether filing is necessary in this state.

(5) Notwithstanding the preceding subsections, and subject to sub-section (3) of Section 9-302, the proper place to file in order to perfect a security interest in collateral, including fixtures, of a transmitting utility is the office of the secretary of state. This filing constitutes a fixture filing (Section 9-313) as to the collateral described therein which is or is to become fixtures.

(6) For the purposes of this section, the residence of an organization is its place of business if it has one or its chief executive office if it has more than one place of business.

(7) The secretary of state, county recorders, city or town clerks, and their employees and agents shall not be liable for any loss or damages arising from errors in or omissions from information entered into the records maintained under this chapter, nor for any errors or omissions in indexing such information.

3 Financing Statement Amend RSA 382-A:9-402 to read as follows:

382-A:9-402 Formal Requisites of Financing Statement; Amendments; Mortgage as Financing Statement.

(1) A financing statement is sufficient if it gives the names of the debtor and the secured party, is signed by the debtor, gives an address of the secured party from which information concerning the security interest may be obtained, gives a mailing address of the debtor and contains a statement indicating the types, or describing the items, of collateral. A financing statement may be filed before a security agreement is made or a security interest otherwise attaches. When the financing statement covers crops growing or to be grown, the statement must also contain a description of the real estate concerned. When the financing statement covers timber to be cut or covers minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or accounts subject to subsection (5) of Section 9-103, or when the financing statement is filed as a fixture filing (Section 9-313) and the collateral is goods which are or are to become fixtures, the statement must also comply with subsection (5). A copy of the security agreement is sufficient as a financing statement if it contains the above information and is signed by the debtor. ~~[A carbon, photographic or other reproduction of a security agreement or a financing statement is sufficient as a financing statement if the security agreement so provides or if the original has been filed in this state.]~~

(2) A financing statement which otherwise complies with subsection (1) is sufficient when it is signed by the secured party instead of the debtor if it is filed to perfect a security interest in

(a) Collateral already subject to a security interest in another jurisdiction when it is brought into this state, or when the debtor's location is changed to this state. Such a financing statement must state that the collateral was brought into this state or that the debtor's location was changed to this state under such circumstances; or

(b) Proceeds under Section 9-306 if the security interest in the original collateral was perfected. Such a financing statement must describe the original collateral; or

(c) Collateral as to which the filing has lapsed; or

(d) collateral acquired after a change of name, identity or corporate structure of the debtor (subsection (7)).

(3) A form substantially as follows is sufficient to comply with subsection (1):

Name of debtor (or assignor) _____

Address _____

Name of secured party (or assignee) _____

Address _____

1. This financing statement covers the following types (or items) of property:

(Describe) _____

2. (If collateral is crops) The above described crops are growing or are to be grown on: (Describe Real Estate) _____

3. (If applicable) The above goods are to become fixtures on* *Where appropriate substitute "The above minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or accounts will be financed at the wellhead or minehead of well or mine located on _____"

(Describe Real Estate) _____ and this financing statement is to be filed for record in the real estate records. (If the debtor does not have an interest of record) The name of a record owner is _____

4. (If products of collateral are claimed) Products of the collateral are also covered.

Signature of Debtor (or Assignor)

(use whichever is applicable)

Signature of Secured Party (or Assignor)

(4) A financing statement may be amended by filing a writing signed by both the debtor and the secured party. An amendment does not extend the period of effectiveness of a financing statement. If any amendment adds collateral, it is effective as to the added collateral only from the filing date of the amendment. In this Article, unless the context otherwise requires, the term "financing statement" means the original financing statement and any amendments. On and after July 1, 2001, any amendment to a financing statement filed in a city or town or with the secretary of state under section 401(a) or (c) of this article prior to July 1, 2001 shall only be filed with the clerk of a city or town participating in the centralized filing system administered by the secretary of state.

(5) A financing statement covering timber to be cut or covering minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or accounts subject to subsection (5) of Section 9-103, or a financing statement filed as a fixture filing (Section 9-313) where the debtor is not a transmitting utility, must show that it covers this type of collateral, must recite that it is to be filed for record in the real estate records, and the financing statement must contain a description of the real estate. If the debtor does not have an interest of record in the real estate, the financing statement must show the name of a record owner.

(6) A mortgage is effective as a financing statement filed as a fixture filing from the date of its recording if

(a) The goods are described in the mortgage by item or type; and

(b) The goods are or are to become fixtures related to the real estate described in the mortgage; and

(c) the mortgage complies with the requirements for a financing statement in this section other than a recital that it is to be filed in the real estate records; and

(d) The mortgage is duly recorded.

No fee with reference to the financing statement is required other than the regular recording and satisfaction fees with respect to the mortgage.

(7) A financing statement sufficiently shows the name of the debtor if it gives the individual, partnership or corporate name of the debtor, whether or not it adds other trade names or names of partners. Where the debtor so changes his name or in the case of an organization its name, identity or corporate structure that a filed financing statement becomes seriously misleading, the filing is not effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the debtor more than four months after the change, unless a new appropriate financing statement is filed before the expiration of that time. A filed financing statement remains effective with respect to collateral transferred by the debtor even though the secured party knows of or consents to the transfer.

(8) A financing statement substantially complying with the requirements of this section is effective even though it contains minor errors which are not seriously misleading.

4 What Constitutes Filing. Amend RSA 382-A:9-403(3) and (4) to read as follows:

(3) A continuation statement may be filed by the secured party within six months prior to the expiration of the five year period specified in subsection (2). Any such continuation statement must be signed by the secured party, identify the original statement by file number and state that the original statement is still effective. A continuation statement signed by a person other than the secured party of record must be accompanied by a separate written statement of assignment signed by the secured party of record and complying with subsection (2) of Section 9-405, including payment of the required fee. Upon timely filing of the continuation statement, the effectiveness of the original statement is continued for five years after the last date to which the filing was effective whereupon it lapses in the same manner as provided in subsection (2) unless another continuation statement is filed prior to such lapse. Succeeding continuation statements may be filed in the same manner to continue the effectiveness of the original statement. Unless a statute on disposition of public records provides otherwise, the filing officer may remove a lapsed statement from the files and destroy it immediately if he has retained a microfilm, electronic, or other [photographic] record conforming to the requirements of section 410 of this article, or in other cases after one year after the lapse. The filing officer shall so arrange matters by physical annexation of financing statements to continuation statements or other related filings, or by other means, that if he physically destroys or electronically erases the financing statements of a period more than five years past, those which have been continued by a continuation statement or which are still effective under subsection (6) shall be retained. On and after July 1, 2001, any continuation statement to a financing statement filed in a city or town or with the secretary of state under section 401(a) or (c) of this article prior to July 1, 2001 shall only be filed with the clerk of a city or town participating in the centralized filing system administered by the secretary of state.

(4) Except as provided in subsection (7) a filing officer shall mark each ~~[statement]~~ filing with a file number and with the date and hour of filing and shall hold the statement or a microfilm or other ~~[photographic copy]~~ record thereof satisfying the requirements of RSA 382-A:9-410 for public inspection. SB 494, establishing the voluntary small employer health insurance purchasing alliance. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Anthony Syracuse for Commerce: The bill as presented would create an innovative opportunity to expand the availability of health care insurance to small business groups. The complexities associated with organizing this new structure, in conjunction with session time restraints, dictates the use of chapter study committee to ensure it is done properly. Vote 11-0.

Amendment (1722h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing a committee to study the feasibility of allowing private nonprofit small business health care insurance purchasing groups to form and conduct business in New Hampshire.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Committee Established. There is established a committee to study the feasibility, efficacy, and potential impact on the state's health care insurance system of allowing private nonprofit small business health care insurance purchasing groups to form and conduct business in New Hampshire.

2 Membership and Compensation.

I. The members of the committee shall be as follows:

(a) Four members of the house of representatives, one of whom shall be from the commerce committee, one of whom shall be from the finance committee, and one of whom shall be from health, human services and elderly affairs committee, appointed by the speaker of the house.

(b) Three members of the senate, one of whom shall be from the insurance committee, one of whom shall be from the finance committee, and one of whom shall be from the public institutions, health and human services committee, appointed by the president of the senate.

II. Members of the committee shall receive mileage at the legislative rate when attending to the duties of the committee.

3 Duties.

I. The committee shall study the feasibility, efficacy, and potential impact on the state's health care insurance system of allowing private nonprofit small business health care insurance purchasing groups to form and conduct business in New Hampshire. The committee's study shall include, but not be limited to the following issues:

(a) The statutory modification required to allow small business purchasing groups to form in New Hampshire for the sole purpose of creating a private nonprofit small employer health care insurance purchasing alliance that is dedicated to assisting small employers in obtaining health care coverage for their employees.

(b) The extent to which this new health care insurance purchasing entity will need to be regulated by the department of insurance as well as the department's additional cost to administer and regulate the new entity.

(c) Enrollment requirements that may be required for a nonprofit small employer purchasing alliance to be successful taking into consideration experiences of other states that have allowed nonprofit private health care purchasing alliances.

(d) The modifications that may be requested to the state's small group health care reforms that could result in greater health care insurance cost savings to private nonprofit small business alliance members.

(e) The ability of small business health care insurance purchasing alliances to increase bargaining power and provide meaningful statistical information about health care that will benefit all small employers taking into consideration the experience of other states and their application in New Hampshire.

(f) The impact on the small businesses that do not participate in a health care insurance purchasing alliance taking into consideration the experience of other states and their application in New Hampshire.

II. The committee may seek input from outside sources including state agencies.

4 Chairperson; Quorum. The members of the study committee shall elect a chairperson from among the members. The first meeting of the committee shall be called by the first-named house member. The first meeting of the committee shall be held within 45 days of the effective date of this section. Four members of the committee shall constitute a quorum.

5 Report. The committee shall report its findings and any recommendations for proposed legislation to the speaker of the house of representatives, the senate president, the house clerk, the senate clerk, the governor, and the state library on or before November 1, 1998.

6 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 30 days after its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This amendment establishes a study committee to collect and analyze information regarding the value and efficacy of allowing private nonprofit voluntary small employer health care insurance purchasing alliances to form and operate in New Hampshire.

Adopted.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 506-FN, requiring certain reports relative to independent review under managed care. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Martha Fuller Clark for Commerce: The committee, having heard considerable testimony over the past several years on the issue of grievances and managed care, especially with regard to grievances from individuals with developmental disabilities, chronic illness and mental illness, unanimously agreed that the reports generated by SB 506 from the Department of Insurance would provide important information essential to determining whether or not an external grievance procedure is needed in New Hampshire. Vote 11-0.

Adopted and ordered to third reading.

Rep. Vaillancourt moved that SB 376, relative to animal cruelty, be made a Special Order for May 28, 1998, and spoke in favor.

Rep. David Welch spoke in favor.

Rep. Vaillancourt moved that SB 437-FN, requiring a one year mandatory prison sentence for a third DWI conviction, be made a Special Order for May 28, 1998, and spoke in favor.

HB 1667, to place a question concerning electronic gaming machines to the voters on the November 1998 state general election ballot. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. David E. Larrabee, Sr. for Education: We do not legislate by referendum because we are elected to make these tough decisions. Towns and communities have opportunities to place issues like this as an article in town warrants and on ballots in an effort to determine community positions. A state law is not necessary to make these types of determinations. The wording of this bill is general and subject to different interpretations and therefore confusing. Vote 14-0.

Rep. Guay spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Henderson spoke in favor.

Rep. Teschner requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being the adoption of the report.

SB 420, preventing a child from being required to have visitation with a parent incarcerated for the murder of the other parent. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Barbara Hull Richardson for Judiciary and Family Law: There are situations where a child should be allowed to visit a parent incarcerated for the murder of the other parent such as when one parent kills the other in self protection for severe domestic violence. The child may be placed with the parents of the murdered partner. These grandparents may not want the child to visit the imprisoned parent, but if visitation were prevented, both child and parent would be deprived of an important relationship. Currently, the judge decides whether visits should take place, based on circumstances and information from the guardian ad litem and other parties. Vote 9-3. Adopted.

SCR 7, supporting economic security in retirement of all Americans. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Robert Letourneau for State-Federal Relations and Veterans Affairs: This bill is crafted to send a message to our congressional delegation that we the citizens of New Hampshire are concerned about the security of our retirement system. (Social Security System) Further, this bill challenges the Federal Government to reform our current system in a way that it would not be vulnerable to changing demographics and to be fiscally sound. Vote 11-0.

Reps. Burling, John Pratt and Dolan spoke against.

Reps. Edwin Smith and Wheeler spoke in favor.

Rep. Edwin Smith requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

Any lease of land, buildings, or space to be used by any state agency, as defined in RSA 21-G:5, III, and which exceeds a term of 5 years, including all options, shall be reviewed and approved by the long range capital planning and utilization committee established in RSA 17-M prior to submission to the governor and council for approval.

6 Department of Administrative Services; Use of Appropriated Funds for Certain State Office Building. The commissioner of administrative services is authorized to expend any unused balance of funds originally appropriated by 1991, 355:115 to be used for the study, design, and necessary renovation of the state office building located in Concord at 61 South Spring Street for state office space. Funds shall not be spent, obligated, or encumbered for renovations until the commissioner submits an action plan for approval by the capital budget overview committee.

7 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

I. Changes certain capital appropriations to the department of health and human services to be used for the Brown building addition and renovation at the Glencliff home for the elderly.

II. Changes certain capital appropriations to the department of safety for certain projects.

III. Requires approval by the long range capital planning and utilization committee of certain leases by state agencies.

SB 391-FN-A, exempting personal property which is subject to taxation under the legacies and successions tax from the 2 percent tax on transfers of personal property of nonresident decedents. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Charles L. Vaughn for Finance: This bill repeals obsolete statute RSA 89:1 which imposed a tax on personal property located in the state belonging to persons whose domicile is without the state which shall, upon the death of the owner, be subject to a tax of 2% of its value. This tax is difficult to effectively administer by the Department of Revenue Administration because only honest individuals comply with the law. About $37,000 a year in general fund revenues will be lost, offset to some extent by reducing the workload required to review and audit the tax returns. Vote 17-0.

SB 447-FN, exempting siblings of a decedent who are unable to engage in substantial gainful employment from the legacies and successions tax. REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY
Rep. Paul J. Dwyer, Sr. for Finance: To correct technical and policy issues, this bill needs to be studied along with HB 108, studying the legacies and succession tax in its entirety. Vote 16-0.

SB 504-FN, relative to members of predecessor systems of the New Hampshire retirement system. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Arthur P. Klemm, Jr. for Finance: This bill would allow one member of the old teachers' retirement system to transfer to the New Hampshire Retirement System. The amendment says that the accrued liability cost of $22,000 shall not be a draw on any state funds. Therefore there is no fiscal impact to the state. Vote 19-0.

Amendment (1740h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Section; Members of Predecessor Systems. Amend RSA 100-A by inserting after section 33 the following new section:

100-A:33-a Members of Predecessor Systems. Notwithstanding RSA 100-A:33 or any other provisions of law, any person who is a member of any predecessor system of the New Hampshire retirement system and is currently receiving benefits, or upon that person's retirement, death, disability, or termination, shall, upon the payment of any actuarially determined accrued liability cost, be considered to have been a full member of the New Hampshire retirement system for the entire period of creditable service in either system and shall receive all benefits to which he or she is entitled as a full member of the New Hampshire retirement system. Any funds made available for payment of such accrued liability cost shall not be a draw on any state funds.

SB 507, establishing a committee to study pharmaceutical assistance for the elderly. OUGHT TO PASS
Rep. Peter L. Batula for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: This bill recommends the formation of a study committee to address the pharmaceutical assistance needs for the elderly. There is no question that some seniors are forced by monetary circumstances to make choices on whether or not to buy medications. Medicaid assists some of our elderly on this matter, but too many are left in dire need of assistance. Vote 12-0.

SPECIAL ORDERS

HB 1677-FN-A-L, authorizing towns and cities to determine the method of local taxation used to support public education. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. John J. O'Connell for Local and Regulated Revenues: While some members of the committee felt the legislation had merit, the majority of the committee believes this bill would most likely create confusion in the individual towns and cities of New Hampshire. Vote 9-3.

Rep. Alger spoke against.

Rep. Linda Foster spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Wallin spoke against and yielded to questions.

MOTION TO LAY ON THE TABLE

Rep. Alger moved that HB 1677-FN-A-L, authorizing towns and cities to determine the method of local taxation used to support public education, be laid on the table.

The motion failed.

The question now being the adoption of the report.

Rep. Hess spoke in favor.

On a division vote, 252 members having voted in the affirmative and 52 in the negative, the report was adopted.

SB 376, relative to animal cruelty. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. William V. Knowles for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: This legislation allows the court to prohibit any person convicted of animal cruelty from having future ownership or custody of other animals for any period of time the court deems reasonable for the protection of the animal. Vote 14-1.

Amendment (1473h)

Amend RSA 644:8, IV as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

IV. In addition to being guilty of crimes as provided in paragraphs III and III-a, any person charged with cruelty to animals may have his or her animal confiscated by the arresting officer and, upon said person's conviction of cruelty to animals, the court may dispose of said animal in any manner it decides. Courts shall give cases in which animals have been confiscated by an arresting officer priority on the court calendar. The costs, if any, incurred in boarding and treating the animal, pending disposition of the case, and in disposing of the animal, upon a conviction of said person for cruelty to animals, shall be borne by the person so convicted. In addition, the court may prohibit any person convicted of animal cruelty from having future ownership or custody of other animals for any period of time the court deems reasonable or impose any other reasonable restrictions on the person's future ownership or custody of animals as necessary for the protection of the animals.

Adopted.

Rep. Mirski offered a floor amendment.

Floor Amendment (1907h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 1 with the following:

1 Prohibition Added. Amend RSA 644:8, IV to read as follows:

IV. In addition to being guilty of crimes as provided in paragraphs III and III-a, any person charged with cruelty to animals may have his animal confiscated by the arresting officer and, upon said person's conviction of cruelty to animals, the court may dispose of said animal in any manner it decides. Courts shall give cases in which animals have been confiscated by an arresting officer priority on the court calendar. The costs, if any, incurred in boarding and treating the animal, pending disposition of the case, and in disposing of the animal, upon a conviction of said person for cruelty to animals, shall be borne by the person so convicted.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill provides that a court shall give cases in which animals have been confiscated priority on the court calendar.

Rep. Mirski spoke in favor.

Reps. Hill and Knowles spoke against.

On a division vote, 32 members having voted in the affirmative and 258 in the negative, the floor amendment failed.

Rep. William V. Knowles for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: If a person is convicted of a third DWI offense after having completed the 7 day multiple offender program previously, such person shall be sentenced to imprisonment for one year. IV. Directs the commissioner of health and human services not to require more stringent health and safety requirements for licensed day care agencies with regard to school-age children than exist for public schools.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 483-FN, exempting certain businesses from the electronic filing requirement under the meals and rooms tax. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Charles L. Vaughn for Finance: This bill, as amended, permits returns from the meals and rooms tax to be filed by mail or through electronic data submission. Electronic data submission has proved most successful. Nonetheless, small entrepreneurs and renters of summer cottages prefer, at this time, to file by mail. The amendment stipulates that if filing is done by mail, business persons shall forfeit any amounts retained pursuant to RSA 78-A: 7 III - the 3 percent refund. One person currently processes the tele-file returns and would continue to do so, without additional expense to the state under the bill as amended. Vote 15-2.

Rep. Kurk moved Recommit to Committee and spoke in favor.

Adopted.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Rep. Ann Torr addressed the House.

Rep. Jeb Bradley moved that the remarks made by Rep. Ann Torr be printed in the Journal.

Adopted by acclamation.

Rep. Ann Torr: Thank you, Madam Speaker. A little more than 14 years ago, I stood before this body for the first time feeling the nervousness of a freshman on her first bill. It is with considerable sadness that I stand before you today to tell you that I plan to retire from serving in the New Hampshire House following the end of this legislative session. It has been a great 14 years.

Having served under four House Speakers and four Governors, I learned the ways of parliamentary procedure and how to recite the third reading motion — really fast. More notably, I have served the citizens of New Hampshire alongside some of the finest people I have ever known. We shared our wisdom, some sage advice and many responsibilities. And although we did not all agree on the matters of the day, friendships, in this chamber, are never indefinitely postponed.

In saying thank you to my peers here today, and those in the past, I want to recognize the precedent that you, Madam Speaker, and Governor Jeanne Shaheen have set for the women of New Hampshire. And in acknowledgment of your responsibility and tenacity, I wish you many years of continued success.

Unfortunately, fate has led me down a path of degenerative eyesight. As my vision continues to diminish with time, I have decided to devote my pursuits to the other loves I have besides serving in the Legislature. By that I mean my family, my wonderful husband, Frank, my grandchildren, and my enjoyment of travel and antique collecting.

Having hoped for nothing when entering this chamber years ago, through hard work, dedication, and honesty, I was able to experience many positions of responsibility for which I am truly grateful and proud. It is a misfortune to undergo a continued loss of sight at this stage in my life but I am not sad. In these chambers, I received more than I had ever hoped for and for that I feel richly blessed.

As I stand here for the final time in this cherished well, I feel compelled to thank each and every one of you for your love, your respect, and the wonderful memories. It has indeed been a privilege. Thank you.

CONSENT CALENDAR

Rep. Wheeler moved that the Consent Calendar with the relevant amendments as printed in the day's House Record be adopted.

SB 417-FN, continuing the court modernization fund and its source of funding from penalty assessments. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Robert G. Holbrook for Finance : This bill re-establishes the Court Modernization Fund until June 30, 2001 and the amendment appropriates $59,780 to the Department of Administrative Services for maintenance of the new judicial branch administration building as it appears to be ready for occupancy earlier than expected. Vote 18-0.

Amendment (1890h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT continuing the court modernization fund and its source of funding from penalty assessments and making an appropriation for maintenance of the new judicial branch administration building.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 3 with the following:

4 Appropriation; Administrative Services. The sum of $59,780 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1999, is hereby appropriated to the department of administrative services to provide funding for maintenance of the new judicial branch administration building. This sum shall be utilized for the following purposes: $4,000 for current expense; $47,880 for utilities; $1,000 for building security safety; and $6,900 for building and grounds maintenance. This appropriation shall be in addition to any other sums appropriated to the department of administrative services. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

5 Effective Date.

I. Section 4 of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect June 29, 1998.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill continues the court modernization fund and its source of funding from penalty assessments until July 1, 2001.

The bill also makes an appropriation to the department of administrative services for maintenance of the new judicial branch administration building.

SB 423-FN, relative to eligibility for cost of living adjustments for retired members or beneficiaries in the New Hampshire retirement system. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Arthur P. Klemm, Jr. for Finance: This bill allows COLAs on the members' latest anniversary date of their retirement. The amendment changes the waiting period a person must be retired before they are eligible for a COLA from 24 months to 12 months. The reason for this is that as of June 30, 1997 there was $234.6 million in the special account with the expected balance as of June 30, 1998 to increase to $267 million. The cost of a COLA depending upon the percentage of increase would be between $1 million and $5 million. The Committee felt that, since this was the members' own money, they should be allowed a COLA after 12 months instead of 24. Vote 17-0.

Amendment (1841h)

Amend RSA 100-A:41-A, I as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

I. ~~[On July 1, 1994, and on every July 1 thereafter,]~~ Any retired member of the New Hampshire retirement system or any of its predecessor systems, who has been retired for at least ~~[24]~~ 12 months, or any beneficiary of such member who is receiving an allowance, shall be entitled to receive supplemental allowances, also known as cost of living adjustments or COLA's, on the retired member's latest anniversary date. The amount of such supplemental allowances shall be limited to from one percent to 5 percent, with increments of no less than 1/2 of one percent.

SB 457-FN, relative to the eligibility of employment program participants for workers' compensation. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Robert G. Holbrook for Finance: This bill clarifies certain statutory provisions whereby participants in the New Hampshire employment program are eligible for workers' compensation benefits. The participants are to be considered employees of the state and the sponsor for workers' compensation purposes only. There is no fiscal effect on the state budget. Vote 19-0.

SB 490-FN, relative to life and accident and health insurance and relative to certain salaries. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Arthur P. Klemm, Jr. for Finance: This bill as it came over from the Senate clarified the definition of indebtedness with respect to credit life insurance, clarifies the coverage for mental and nervous conditions under HMO's and swaps the salary grades of two positions in the Department of Insurance. Since the salary level of the two positions was approved in the current budget, there is no additional fiscal impact to this bill. Vote 19-0.

SB 503-FN, relative to the New Hampshire community technical college system. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. David J. Alukonis for Finance: This bill initiates the first step in assisting the regional community technical college system to attain a greater level of independence from the state in accordance with the recommendations made by the joint legislative university oversight committee. The bill will allow greater flexibility in the operation of the college system while allowing the legislature to maintain its current level of budgetary control. The bill will also exempt instructional staff from the hiring freeze which affects the current biennium. This exemption will impact the general fund by a maximum of $60,000 during the last six months of FY 1999. Vote 19-0.

SB 346, establishing a task force to study the foster care system. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Daniel M. Burnham for Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs: This bill establishes a task force to study the foster care system, including the issues of overall efficiency, retention, foster parent training, and monetary reimbursement within the system. Vote 16-0.

REGULAR CALENDAR

SB 312, relative to the health care transition fund. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Neal M. Kurk for Finance: This bill is intended to protect the principal of the Health Care Transition Fund. The Committee amendment provides that, after the current biennium, the principal in the fund cannot be diminished except by separate legislation whose content relates to the fund only. A non-germane amendment, on which a public hearing was held, was added to the bill. Through it, the legislature approves a settlement of a suit by the NH Health Care Association against the state. This is required by RSA 14:35-b for any settlement the value of which exceeds 1/4 of one percent of state general fund revenues. The settlement involves the payment in FY 1998 of some $2.6 million to private and county nursing homes and provides for two 3% nursing home rate increases in the future. The Department of Health and Human Services states that current appropriations in their budget's nursing home line are sufficient to cover the cost of the settlement in this biennium. Vote 13-6.

Amendment (1914h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the health care transition fund and approving the settlement between the department of health and human services and the county nursing homes.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Paragraphs; Limitations Added. Amend RSA 167:74 by inserting after paragraph III the following new paragraphs:

IV. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary and beginning with the fiscal biennium ending June 30, 2001, the amount of principal in the health care transition fund established in RSA 167 shall remain at least the same at the end of each biennium as it was at the beginning of the biennium, unless specifically authorized by both houses of the general court in separate legislation, specifically containing only legislation relative to the health care transition fund established in RSA 167.

V. Notwithstanding paragraph IV or any other law to the contrary, the cap on the health care transition fund shall be $100,000,000

2 Legislative Approval of Settlement. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the agreement executed by and between the New Hampshire department of health and human services, Terry L. Morton, commissioner, the New Hampshire Health Care Association by and on behalf of all its members and member facilities and the New Hampshire Association of Counties by and on behalf of all of its members and member facilities, in resolution of the dispute between them including all issues related to the amendments to the New Hampshire Medicaid state plan implemented in October 1995 and October 1996 and the lawsuit entitled The New Hampshire Health Care Association on behalf of all its association members, Petitioner v. Terry L. Morton, individually and as he is the Commissioner of the Department of Health and Human Services of the State of New Hampshire and the State of New Hampshire, Department of Health and Human Services, Respondents (Docket No. 97-E-0106), is a settlement of a court claim against the state requiring the approval of the legislature pursuant to RSA 14:35-b and the legislature hereby approves such settlement.

3 Effective Date.

I. Section 1 of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

The bill requires the principal in the health care transition fund to remain at least the same amount at the end of each biennium as at the beginning of such biennium, unless specifically authorized by the general court. The bill caps the fund at $100,000,000.

The bill also establishes that the agreement by and between the department of health and human services and the county nursing homes is a settlement of a court claim which, if it is in excess of $\frac{1}{4}$ of one percent of the total reported general fund revenues for the previous fiscal year, shall be subject to the approval of the legislature and that the legislature approves such settlement.

Rep. Kurk yielded to questions.

On a division vote, 219 members having voted in the affirmative and 96 in the negative, the amendment was adopted.

Report adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 462-FN, relative to any general fund surplus at the close of the current biennium. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Robert G. Holbrook for Finance: This amended bill creates three study commissions as described in HB 1075, dealing with the cost of a constitutionally adequate education, special education and school facilities. $55,000 is appropriated to the commissions to facilitate this work. These studies need to be started this year. Also, the sum of $163,000 is appropriated to the New Hampshire Veterans' Home for unanticipated expenses, especially medical expenses and utility costs. Vote 16-2.

Amendment (1892h)

2 Creation of a Commission to Study Special Education Issues.

I. Within 14 days after the effective date of this section, a commission shall be established to review and analyze special education issues. 4 Appropriation; New Hampshire Veterans' Home. The sum of $163,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1998, is hereby appropriated to the New Hampshire veterans' home. This appropriation shall be in addition to any other sums appropriated to the New Hampshire veterans' home. Of this $163,000, $153,000 is appropriated to PAU 05, 02, 01 to fund unanticipated increases in the costs of prescription drugs and medical supplies, the payment of holiday pay for the remainder of the fiscal year, and the payment of compensatory pay for direct care personnel accumulated for more than one year, and $10,000 is appropriated to PAU 05, 02, 02 to fund higher than expected utility costs. UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Rep. Schotanus addressed the House.

Rep. Teschner moved that the remarks made by Rep. Schotanus be printed in the Journal. Adopted.

Rep. Schotanus: Thank you, Madam Speaker. This is something new to me. I have never taken Unanimous Consent before, but I feel deeply enough about this to take it this time to express my very deep appreciation for the 14-year journey that I have taken through the legislative process as a member of this House. As you know, this is my last session. I am going to seek a seat in the upper chamber. So, six months from now I am either going to be a retired representative or the senator from the fifth district. But, I am not here to talk to you about where I intend to go, I am here to talk to you about where I have been and to express my very deep appreciation for this long and wonderful journey that I've had since 1985 when my good friend Ann Torr and I were freshmen.

My days started on the Environment and Agriculture committee. In those days we used to call it the cows and garbage committee. Unfortunately, we had more garbage then we did cows. In fact, we were such a close knit committee in those days that we had a little gold lapel button that we wore to identify ourselves as members of the committee. It was a gold garbage can, with cover on. We worked under the tutelage of the grand dame of today's environmental policy in this great state, a woman who has since passed to heaven, Representative Betty Greene from Rye. We were very busy in those days setting solid waste laws. We had just gotten into the air emissions problem. We were talking about superfund, current use, pesticides and a whole array of other problems, and she gave me a piece of advice which I took heed to and it made me recall something that happened to me 30 years earlier. She said, "Merle, as a freshman the best advice that I can give you is to learn how the system works before you decide how you are going to work the system." That was good advice that was given to me 30 years earlier when I reported to the Pentagon in Washington as a young Army officer on the Army General Staff. Some crusty old two-star general said the same thing and it came back to me in a rush. So, I didn't do much the first year but the second year I began to work the system. I cut my teeth in floor debate the second year on a subject very close to my heart, the historic rehabilitation of the Cornish covered bridge over the Connecticut River. I went to the floor and debated that and I won the debate. Of course I did. I was the only one that spoke. I requested a roll call vote and in those days it didn't take so many seconds because in those days we didn't use the roll call vote so frequently as we do today. I got as close to a perfect roll call vote as anybody I've ever seen. I got a 350 to 1 vote which passed the bill. What I was really trying to do was to set-up a situation where I could take the bill over to then-Senator Torr, in the Senate Capital Budget committee and convince him that this was the way we ought to go on the Cornish-Windsor bridge. After the debate that day, I found out who was the one dissenting vote. It was Maurice Doucette of Manchester. I walked up to him and asked him why he thought he didn't like my position. He said, "Well, it's very simple. You just talked too long." Well, folks, I must tell you I learned a lesson that day but I also made a friend and that was the beginning of the rest of the journey. It went from there to eight years on the Appropriations committee, what is now called the Finance committee and to my present position on the Public Works committee. Through those remaining ten years I have crossed many, many milestones in many, many subjects including building four biennial budgets and a capital budget and a ten-year highway plan and highway fund diversions, shoreland protection, dams and dam fees, firetowers and you name it, many, many more and kindergarten incentive and wound up here with the ABCs. I still remember what Betty Greene told me in those days, the system and how it works. I can tell you that I would not have ever been able to successfully negotiate that wonderful trip without the support or the advice and the guidance of the hundred or so folks that we call our legislative staff. I'd like to take an opportunity to thank personally Madam Clerk who was also a classmate of mine in 1985 and her outstanding staff; and Mr. Callahan who works for her and has an uncanny talent of committing puddles of purple passion to house resolutions which he wrote many of for me. Ann Fitzgerald and her house research staff who, without the work of that staff, the committees could not function. Rob Johnson and his hardworking staff who take care of protocol, security and keeps the bills moving. The LBA which always kept me straight on financial data whether I liked it or not and a couple of committee assistants, Ruth Page from the Finance committee and Anna Mae Twigg from Public Works and all of the other committee assistants that make the engines of this legislature run, that is the committees.

Now, many of you who are finishing up your freshman year, in fact of those who are probably in your second year, have probably reached that time of the year when the frustration levels have gone up because we are, after all, into the hardball season. You are beginning to have some doubts about the efficiency of the place, the number of bills we're required to pass, the size, the pay and everything else that goes with it. I think you need to know that the Legislature of the State of New Hampshire enjoys one of the best reputations in the country among our other 49 legislative bodies. I can tell you that with some confidence because I had the pleasure of serving this state as its representative on a standing committee of the National Conference of State Legislatures. I can tell you that they stand in awe of us. They stand in awe of us because they can't understand how we can work so hard for so little pay. They also hold us in great esteem because of the efficiency with which this 400-member body works. I can tell you that New Hampshire was one of the first states in the nation to computerize its legislative process thanks to the leadership of this House and thanks to Stan Kelley and his absolutely outstanding computer staff. In fact, bills that this state produces are held up as examples of the right way to do things. I can tell you that reputation is in no small measure due to the efforts of a couple of our own representatives. I'd like to thank personally our Majority Leader Emeritus and my very good friend from Dover, Ann Torr, who spent three years on the Executive Committee of the NCSL, and our Madam Speaker who now serves on the Executive Committee of that body. It is due to their leadership that we are in, in great part, that we hold the reputation that we do. So, those folks who are frustrated, take heart, stick around, stay tuned. There is a lot more to come and it is all good, I can guarantee that. So, whatever happens come November, folks, I can assure you of one thing. I can assure you that I know where my legislative roots are and I shall not forget them. Thank you.

Reps. Buckley, Benjamin Moore, Lefebvre and Mirski addressed the House.

Rep. Katherine Rogers addressed the House.

Rep. Jeb Bradley moved that the remarks made by Rep. Katherine Rogers be printed in the Journal. Adopted.

Rep. Katherine Rogers: Thank you, Madam Speaker and thank you, members of the House, for giving me a few moments. I rise today to take my last opportunity to speak to this body. I am resigning my seat representing Merrimack District 22 as of June 12th in order to take a seat on the Merrimack County Board of Commissioners. It is with great anticipation and excitement for the work ahead that I take this step. However, it is with genuine sadness and regret that I leave the New Hampshire House of Representatives.

I came to the New Hampshire House full of ideas and plans for great change. I also came here with many prejudices and great impatience. I believed that most issues were partisan and every issue was black and white. I believed there would never be a difficult choice to make and that anyone who was my friend would always vote with me and my enemies would always vote against me. Since that beginning, I have changed and become more realistic and yes, even more impatient. I now know that my support, my guidance, and my impatience come from the most unexpected places.

I want to thank certain individuals for helping me to evolve into what, I hope, is a better public servant. First, Rep. Gene Chandler. On my first day in the New Hampshire House, I understood that my committee chairman went to the then-Speaker and asked why he was being punished with me as a member of his committee. I was contentious, argumentative, and downright difficult, and this was just when we were talking about committee procedures. I am still contentious, argumentative and difficult, but now, thanks to Rep. Chandler, I know how to do all this without stepping on every single toe in the room. Gene, thank you for your fairness, your patience and your lessons in vote counting.

Rep. Neal Kurk, I never thought I would find myself in the position of agreeing with you, much less actually working with you on anything. You have taught me that allies come in the strangest places. I thank you for your continued words of encouragement when others shied away or suggested I back off. Thank you, Neal, for your lessons in informed judgment, civil and thoughtful disagreement, and your willingness to listen, not agree, but listen.

To my greatest teacher, Rep. Jean Wallin. You are one of the bravest, most determined and persistent people I have ever known. You have listened to my ideas, challenged me to be better and taught me that true courage never backs away from a fight or lacks humor.

The Democratic Leader, Rep. Peter Burling, I admire your determination, your loyalty and your willingness to let everyone be heard. You have the knack of making everyone feel part of the solution and bringing us all together to make us better than our separate selves could ever be. Thank you for your leadership and your support.

The former Democratic Leader and my dear friend, Rick Trombly. Rick taught me never to give up, never to back down and to believe in my judgment. In short, Rick taught me to be strong in the face of difficult odds. I have missed him this term in the House.

And finally, my best friend, Rep. Raymond Buckley, who has known me for more years than either of us want to mention, then you would know how old we really are. Raymond has taught me much in this House as in my life. Thank you, Raymond, for sticking by me even when I wanted to move trees. And, thank you for teaching me that "it is never the wrong time to do the right thing."

I want to leave this House by quoting a Democratic President of the United States, Andrew Jackson. Mr. Jackson was a man who often spoke for those not considered to be "civilized members of society", my kind of folks. He once said, "Every man is equally entitled to protection by laws; but when laws undertake to add...exclusive privileges to make the rich richer and the potent more powerful, the humble members of society who have neither the time nor the means of securing like favors to themselves, have a right to complain of the injustice of their government."

This Legislature has the opportunity and the responsibility to correct the injustices thrust upon the citizens of New Hampshire and my biggest impatience with this body has been its continued willingness to put off action in the hope that problems will be forgotten. I have fought that in my time here and hope that others will continue to fight that inaction in the future.

And, lastly, in light of what I've usually said up here, I hope that you will remember the words of the great radical thinker, Karl Marx: "The philosophers have only interpreted the world in various ways. The point, however, is to change it."

I leave this body as I entered, committed to change and committed to equity and justice in all things. Thank you and goodbye.

COMMUNICATIONS

May 26, 1998

Donna Sytek, Speaker

It is with mixed emotions that I submit to you my resignation from the House of Representatives, effective June 17, 1998.

When I retired from 30 years of service to my country in the United States Air Force, my wife and I decided that for ten years we would return to New Hampshire in order to allow me to pursue my passion for political activism. After that we agreed we would seek a warmer climate and the company of many former military friends in the hill country north of San Antonio, Texas. That time has now come. I leave with a sense of having done my duty, and of having held fast to my convictions. I know that there are things that I would have liked to have done, but time and circumstances did now allow it. I leave them to others and to the future.

Rest assured that I will stay involved. I have already asked Rep. Charlie Bass to introduce me to Rep. Lamar Smith, his colleague on the House Budget Committee and the Congressman representing the district in which I will reside. Likewise, I will continue my active membership on the board of directors of the Education Leaders Council, the new reform-minded national group that I was privileged to help establish three years ago. Service to my community, state and nation is part of my very nature. I cannot let it go.

I have and will continue to hold a very special place in my heart for the great state of New Hampshire, its people and this House. It has been an honor and privilege to serve them all.

John M. Root, Graf. 8

The Speaker accepted the resignation with regret.

June 5, 1998

Donna Sytek, Speaker of the House

By this letter, I write to inform you that I will resign my seat representing Merrimack County District 22 in the New Hampshire House of Representatives, effective at noon on Friday, June 12, 1998.

This action is necessitated by the fact that I will be sworn in as a member of the Merrimack County Commission at 1:00 p.m. on that same date.

I look forward to the many challenges ahead, and will remember my service in the House with great fondness.

Thank you for your attention to this correspondence.

Katherine D. Rogers, Merr. 22

The Speaker accepted the resignation with regret.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Rep. Wheeler moved that the Consent Calendar with the relevant amendments as printed in the day's House Record be adopted.

SB 427-FN, establishing a revolving fund for loans for intrastate energy pipeline facilities improvements, removed by Rep. Alger.

HB 1680-FN-A-L, authorizing positions for the administration of retiree's health benefits by the New Hampshire retirement system and making an appropriation therefor. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Stephen T. DeStefano for Finance: This bill would allow the retirement system to hire two new persons. The Committee felt the addition of new personnel should be addressed through the budget process. Vote 15-0.

SB 440-FN-L, relative to fines payable to the division of motor vehicles; allowing civil bench warrants for defaults on such fines; authorizing bail commissioners to receive certain civil fines and fees, and authorizing the division of motor vehicles to report those in default to a consumer reporting agency. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Arthur P. Klemm, Jr. for Finance: This bill deals with fines payable to the Division of Motor Vehicles. The bill would allow the Division of Motor Vehicles to contact the 80,000 default violators that are currently outstanding and notify them that they can now pay their fines by credit card by dialing an 800 number. The Department feels that they will be able to collect on 10,000 of the default warrants which would translate to $1,500,000 into the General Fund. The bill also changes the name of the DWI Bench Warrant Fund to the Default Bench Warrant Fund. The fund will be funded by the default bench warrant penalty assessment money and will be used to systematically replace the 66 breath analyzer machines across the state over the next three years. The fund will also be used to reimburse the costs related to law enforcement officials enforcing bench warrants. Vote 16-1.

Amendment (2033h)

Amend RSA 502-A:19-b, III(c) as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(c) A person arrested pursuant to this section shall be given the option to pay the outstanding fine and fees in full to a bail commissioner. Upon such payment, the matter shall be deemed closed, and the civil bench warrant vacated. All payments received by bail commissioners pursuant to this section shall be transmitted to the court or the division of motor vehicles within 5 business days. The bail commissioner shall be entitled to a fee for services as set forth in RSA 597:20.

SB 483-FN, exempting certain businesses from the electronic filing requirement under the meals and rooms tax. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Kenneth L. Weyler for Finance: The Department of Revenue Administration is attempting to have all meals and rooms tax filers use electronic filing by 2002. This bill exempts filers collecting $25,000 or less in meals and rooms revenue from losing the 3% administrative fee if they continue to file paper returns. All others collecting revenue above $25,000 will lose the 3% if they do not file electronically. Since the $25,000 is a tenfold increase over the original small business exemption, there could be several hundred filers going back to paper filing. This would increase administrative costs at the DRA. The amendment increases their budget by $33,000 to print new forms, instruction books and hire an additional clerk. Should the level of paper filing not increase substantially, most of this appropriation will not be spent. If a large number of filers, collecting more than $25,000 each, choose to file by paper and give up the administrative fee, then the tax revenue will increase proportionally. Vote 17-0.

Amendment (2008h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT exempting certain businesses from the electronic filing requirement under the meals and rooms tax and making an appropriation therefor.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 3 with the following:

4 Appropriation. The sum of $33,000 is hereby appropriated to the department of revenue administration for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1999, for the purposes of this act. Such sum shall be in addition to any other funds appropriated to the department. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

5 Effective Date. This act shall take effect July 1, 1998.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill allows businesses to choose to file their meals and rooms tax returns by mail or by electronic data submission. Those businesses that choose to file by mail shall forfeit any amounts retained as commission to cover the costs of manual paper filing. Businesses with under $25,000 in meals and rooms taxable revenue in the prior calendar year shall be exempt from the forfeiture.

The bill also make an appropriation to the department of revenue administration.

SB 488-FN, directing the department of environmental services to create a model for managing the flow of water in the Winnepesaukee River watershed and creating an advisory committee. OUGHT TO PASS

Rep. Robert G. Holbrook for : This bill directs the Department of Environmental Services to develop and implement a model for managing the flow of water in the Winnepesaukee River. To aid in the planning of the model, this bill establishes a Winnepesaukee River Watershed Advisory Committee to report annually on the 31st of December. Any implementation shall be certified by the Department of Environmental Services to the General Court and Governor. The estimated $200,000 cost will be funded in the next biennial capital budget. Vote 17-0.

SB 326, relative to representation and costs in utility rate proceedings. REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY
Rep. Jeb E. Bradley for Science, Technology and Energy: This bill came late in the session. As proposed, the bill would allow intervenors at the Public Utility Commission to recover the costs of intervention at any PUC proceeding. An intervenor could recover costs only if it helped to achieve ratepayer savings and this cost recovery was deemed reasonable by the Commission. During the public hearing several problems were identified in the bill including; (a) that there was no monetary cap, (b) that it applied to any PUC proceeding, (c) that it could create additional regulatory costs and burdens to New Hampshire consumers. Through the interim study process, the committee will determine if this is good public policy and if so, how to implement in a way that protects the interests of all parties that appear before the PUC. Vote 16-0.

REGULAR CALENDAR

SB 324-FN, relative to entertainers on premises of an on-sale liquor licensee and relative to penalties for manufacture, sale, and possession of false identification. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Andrew Christie, Jr. for Criminal Justice and Public Safety: The committee amendment makes it a misdemeanor to manufacture or sell phony photographic identification cards and increases the penalty to a class B felony for a third or subsequent offense or for a person who is engaged in the business of manufacturing phony identification cards. It is a misdemeanor to possess a phony identification card. A person under the age of seventeen is prohibited from being employed as an entertainer in a cocktail lounge where liquor is sold. Vote 11-0.

[V:] VI. Licensees shall not allow gambling or wagering on their premises.

[V:] VII. The use of darts shall be allowed in clearly defined areas.

2 New Section; Manufacture, Sale, and Possession of False Identification. Amend RSA 179 by inserting after section 61 the following new section:

SB 409-FN, relative to long-term care and extending the moratorium on new nursing home beds.
REFER FOR INTERIM STUDY

Rep. William S. Belvin for Finance: This bill addresses the vital concern of long term care primarily for the impoverished elderly and those that are physically disabled or chronically ill. The bill's core objectives are twofold: to provide individuals with choices that serve their needs from among several appropriate alternative levels of care in addition to nursing homes, and to set in place shared state and county financial responsibility based on sustainable and affordable costs. While there was unanimous committee agreement on the bill's concept, the linkages between the broad objectives and actual application to eligible individuals, long term care facilities, counties and the state were the subject of numerous amendments and policy concerns.

It is clear that very few, if any, persons seek nursing home care because of its institutional environment and loss of autonomy. It is also clear that the $191.6 million of expenditures (FY 1999) in support of these entitled needy persons for nursing home and home nursing care will likely grow with the aging of the state's population. Consequently it is very important that the eligibility requirements, methodologies, and state/county cost share formulas, and their long term consequences, be thoroughly understood and agreeable to all parties if we are to achieve the variety of quality care needed and desired by our elderly at an affordable cost. Given the bill's late arrival in the House, and despite expedited efforts by both the Health and Human Services and Finance committees, the issues involved could not be resolved in the time allowed, and the bill was voted Interim Study. Going forward, both committees will collaborate in the interim study and will begin the effort early in the summer. Vote 17-0.

Rep. Kurk spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

SB 475-FN-L, relative to medicaid reimbursement rates and dental care. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. William S. Belvin for Finance: This bill came to the House dealing with medicaid reimbursement rates for children's dental care. It mandated an increase in the reimbursement rates from 65% to 73% of the "usual and customary charges." The Finance Committee amendment sets up a two-year pilot program for the next biennium and requires the Department of Health and Human Services to report on how effective the higher dentist reimbursements are in increasing the number of children receiving dental care. The estimated cost is $875,000 in FY 2000 and $1.3 million in FY 2001.

Two additional issues were added as amendments after public hearings. One amendment deals with significant separation of powers concerns relating to the authority to define eligibility for programs tied to the Federal poverty level. At present, the executive branch may unilaterally expand eligibility for such programs or create new ones, such as the proposed children's health insurance program, setting the stage for higher future appropriations. The Committee believes some legislative participation is required to balance the executive branch's authority, and the amendment requires that any such expansion first be approved by the legislative Fiscal Committee.

The other amendment is an appropriation of $1,532,500 as the required state match for the Federal funds received as a result of the January 1998 ice, snow and wind storms and their associated damage. Vote 11-6.

Amendment (2034h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to medicaid reimbursement rates and dental care, relative to eligibility levels for certain programs, and making an appropriation to the office of emergency management.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Intent. The legislature finds that it is the state's responsibility to ensure that the greatest number of children possible receive adequate dental care. Therefore, this act provides that, as of July 1, 1999, the medicaid reimbursement rates for dental services to children shall be not less than 73 percent of the usual and customary charges for such services.

2 Medicaid Reimbursement. For the period of July 1, 1999 through June 30, 2001, medicaid reimbursement rates for dental services to children shall be not less than 73 percent of the usual and customary charges for such services.

3 Funding; Department of Health and Human Services. The department of health and human services shall include in its next biennial budget the costs of funding medicaid reimbursement rates for dental services to children at not less than 73 percent of the usual and customary charges for such services.

4 Report. The department of health and human services shall, on or before January 1, 2001, submit a report to the governor, the senate president, and the speaker of the house which analyzes the effect of the percentage increase in section 2 of this act on the number of children who participate in the dental care program. This report shall include, but not be limited to, identifying barriers to participation by children in the medicaid reimbursed dental care program and recommending approaches to address those barriers in future programs or legislation.

5 New Section; Eligibility Levels. Amend RSA 126-A by inserting after section 5 the following new section:

126-A:5-a Eligibility Levels. Notwithstanding RSA 126-A, RSA 167 or any other provision of state law to the contrary and to the extent allowed by federal law, percentage eligibility levels under any new and existing programs administered by the department of health and human services or any other department which are partially or fully funded by state general funds and which are tied to the federal poverty guidelines as set by the United States Department of Health and Human Services shall not be raised from their levels as approved by the federal government as of May 22, 1998 without the prior approval of the legislative fiscal committee.

6 Appropriation; Emergency Management. The sum of $1,532,500, of which $250,000 shall be a charge against the highway fund, for the biennium ending June 30, 1999, is hereby appropriated to the office of emergency management to provide a state match for federal funds received as a result of damages sustained from severe ice storms, high winds, and snow in the month of January 1998. This appropriation shall be in addition to any other sums appropriated to the office of emergency management. Said sum may be a charge against any appropriate fund. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

7 Repeal. Sections 1-4 of this act, relative to the medicaid reimbursement rate for dental services to children and a report, are repealed.

8 Effective Date.

I. Sections 1-4 of this act shall take effect July 1, 1999.

II. Section 7 of this act shall take effect June 30, 2001.

III. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill requires medicaid reimbursement rates for dental service for children to be at least 73 percent of the usual and customary charges for such services for the period of July 1, 1999 to June 30, 2001.

This bill freezes eligibility levels for certain programs.

This bill also makes an appropriation to the office of emergency management to match federal funds received as a result of January 1998 storms.

Rep. Amanda Merrill requested that the amendment be divided. The Speaker ruled that the question was divisible.

Rep. Amanda Merrill moved that Section 5 of the amendment be voted on separately.

The remainder of the amendment was adopted.

The question now being the adoption of Section 5 of the amendment.

Reps. Jacobson and Manning spoke against.

Reps. Kurk and Ann Torr spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Wheeler requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being the adoption of Section 5 of the amendment.

RECESS

(Speaker Sytek in the Chair)

SUSPENSION OF RULES

Reps. Wheeler and Burling moved that the Rules be so far suspended as to permit consideration at the present time, beyond the deadline and without the proper notice, of SB 363-L, relative to notification and jurisdiction of municipalities concerning governmental use of property.

Adopted by the necessary two-thirds.

SB 363-L, relative to notification to and jurisdiction of municipalities concerning governmental use of property. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Merle W. Schotanus for Public Works and Highways: This bill as amended is intended to strengthen existing law relative to notification to municipalities regarding government use of property. The bill makes clear that private use of government property does not enjoy the same exemption from local regulation that government uses do. The Public Works & Highways committee amendment specifies lead time required for notification and exempts installation of fiber optics facilities and apparatus in highway and railroad rights of ways. Vote 13-6.

Amendment (2070h)

Amend RSA 674:54, II as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. The state, university system, county, town, city, school district, or village district shall give written notification to the governing body and planning board, if such exists, of a municipality of any proposed governmental use of property within its jurisdiction, which constitutes a substantial change in use or a substantial new use. Written notification shall contain plans, specifications, ~~[and]~~ explanations of proposed changes available at the time, a statement of the governmental nature of the use as set forth in paragraph I, and a proposed construction schedule. Such notification shall be provided at least 60 days prior to the beginning of construction. [A] Either the governing body or planning board of the municipality ~~[or its designated land use board]~~ may conduct a public hearing relative to the proposed governmental use. ~~[If the municipality chooses to hold a hearing, the]~~ Any such hearing shall be held within 30 days after receipt of notice by the ~~[municipality]~~ governing body or planning board. A representative of the governmental entity which provided notice shall be available to present the plans, specifications, ~~[or]~~ and construction schedule, and to provide explanations. The ~~[municipality shall provide]~~ governing body or planning board may issue nonbinding written comments relative to conformity ~~or nonconformity of the proposal~~ with normally applicable land use regulations to the sponsor of the governmental use within 30 days after the hearing.

Amend RSA 674:54, III as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

III. This section shall not apply to:

(a) The layout or construction of public highways of any class, or to the distribution lines or transmission apparatus of governmental utilities, provided that the erection of a highway or utility easement across a parcel of land, shall not, in and of itself, be deemed to subdivide the remaining land into 2 or more lots or sites for conveyance for development purposes in the absence of subdivision approval under this title. For purposes of this subparagraph, "transmission apparatus" shall not include wireless communication facilities.

(b) The erection, installation, or maintenance of poles, structures, conduits and cables, or wires in, under, or across any public highways under RSA 231, or licenses or leases for telecommunication facilities in, under, or across railroad rights of way. For purposes of this subparagraph, "structures" shall not include wireless communications facilities.

Adopted.

Rep. Gene Chandler spoke in favor.

Adopted and ordered to third reading.

SB 427-FN, establishing a revolving fund for loans for intrastate energy pipeline facilities improvements. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Charles L. Vaughn for Finance: This bill, as amended, establishes a revolving loan fund of $10 million to permit natural gas companies which create and expand intrastate pipelines to obtain financing at reduced interest rates through tax-exempt bonds issued by the Business Finance Authority (BFA). These nonpolluting energy projects will tap into the 30-inch gas pipeline coming into the state from southwestern states, western Canada and from the huge Sable Island gas field off the coast of Nova Scotia. Tax-exempt financing lowers costs for current and future industrial, commercial and residential users of natural gas. Gas utilities requesting loans under the bill would be required to receive applicable local, state and federal permits. Further, these utilities must pass muster with the BFA which would determine credit-worthiness, and terms and conditions of any loan. The Public Utilities Commission also reviews improvements and expansions of pipelines. Finally, Governor and Council must approve loans. The state treasurer indicated that this bill would not adversely affect the state's bonding capacity, as BFA bonds create self-supporting debt. Vote 17-0.

Amendment (1924h)

Amend the bill by replacing section 4 with the following:

4 New Section; Public Safety and Welfare; Business Finance Authority Revenue Bonds; Intrastate Energy Pipeline Facility Revolving Loan Fund. Amend RSA 162-I by inserting after section 3-a the following new section:

162-I:3-b Intrastate Energy Pipeline Facility Revolving Loan Fund.

I. There is hereby established in the office of the state treasurer a fund to be known as the intrastate energy pipeline facility revolving loan fund which shall be kept separate and distinct from all other funds. Moneys in the fund shall be nonlapsing and shall be continually appropriated to the authority, and shall be used to provide loans for the construction of intrastate energy pipeline facilities in the state in order to increase the state's ability to meet the energy needs of its citizens and businesses at the lowest reasonable cost, while providing for the reliability and diversity of energy sources. The intrastate energy pipeline facilities shall be eligible for the revolving funds upon the operator receiving all applicable local, state, and federal permits. Loans provided to operators of intrastate energy pipeline facilities shall be approved by the governor and council.

II. The operator of the intrastate energy pipeline facility provided a loan under this section shall furnish assurance to the authority by a signed agreement that the facility intends to operate as an intrastate energy provider for the life of the capital improvement for which the funds are loaned.

III. The operator of the intrastate energy pipeline facility shall repay any loan made pursuant to this section upon such terms and conditions as are required by the authority. The term of the loan shall be no less than 5 years and no longer than 20 years, and shall to the extent possible consistent with this section be determined so as to match the useful life of the improvements funded by the loan. The terms and conditions shall be contained in the binding agreement between the state and the operator of the intrastate energy pipeline facility and shall be sufficient to fully reimburse the state for the principal and interest payments on that portion of the bonds authorized to fund the loan. The authority shall execute all such binding agreements on behalf of the state. All money received through reimbursement shall be deposited by the state treasurer in the intrastate energy pipeline facility revolving loan fund.

IV. In addition to such other terms and conditions that the authority may impose with regard to collateral for a loan, a lien on the property and equipment of the operator of the intrastate energy pipeline facility, including the improved property or equipment, shall be created in favor of the state in an amount which equals the sum of principal and interest to be repaid by the operator of the intrastate energy pipeline facility. The lien shall be recorded in the registry of deeds of the county or counties in which the improved property is situated and shall not supersede any pre-existing lien created by a mortgage, bond indenture, or similar form of security instrument affecting such property. The lien shall expire only when the loan has been fully repaid.

V. To provide funds for the revolving loan fund established pursuant to this section, the state treasurer, as may be requested from time to time by the authority, is authorized to borrow from time to time upon the credit of the state such amounts so that the aggregate principal amount of the bonds outstanding at any time shall not exceed $10,000,000 and for said purposes may issue bonds and notes at such time in the name and on behalf of the state of New Hampshire in accordance with the provisions of RSA 6-A. The authority shall request and the treasurer shall issue bonds only for such amounts from time to time as are required for the purposes of this section and provided that the principal and interest payments can be satisfied from sums in the fund established in paragraph I.

VI. The payments of principal and interest on the bonds issued under paragraph V shall be made when due from the special fund established by paragraph I.

VII. While the authority shall administer the fund as set forth in this section, and shall have the authority to charge borrowers to whom funds are loaned a fee to reimburse the authority for the services provided by it and costs incurred by it, the authority shall have no financial responsibility for the bonds issued under this section, said bonds being the obligation of the state as set forth in this section.

VIII. The operator of the intrastate pipeline facility shall reimburse the state treasurer for any expenses incurred in connection with the issuance of bonds under this section.

IX. The state treasurer shall submit a report by December 1 of each even-numbered year to the governor, to the chairperson of the house commerce committee, and to the chairperson of the senate economic development committee. The report shall be prepared in consultation with the executive director of the business finance authority and shall describe the activity of the revolving loan fund established pursuant to this section.

Recommendation:

That the Senate recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the House amendment, and concur with the House amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the House, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 4 with the following:

5 School Employee and Volunteer Background Investigations. Amend RSA 189:13-a to read as follows:

189:13-a School Employee and Volunteer Background Investigations.

I. The employing school administrative unit, school district, or charter school shall complete a background investigation~~[, including]~~ and a criminal history records check~~[.]~~ on every selected applicant for employment in any position in the school administrative unit, school district, or charter school prior to a final offer of employment. A school administrative unit, school district, or charter school may extend a conditional offer of employment to a selected applicant after completing a background investigation, with a final offer of employment subject to a successfully completed criminal history records check. No selected applicant may be extended a conditional offer of employment unless the school administrative unit, school district, or charter school has initiated a criminal history records check. The school administrative unit, school district, or charter school shall not be held liable in any lawsuit alleging that the extension of a conditional or final offer of employment to an applicant, or the acceptance of volunteer services from a designated volunteer, with a criminal history was in any way negligent or deficient, if the school administrative unit, school district, or charter school fulfilled the requirements of this section.

II. The selected applicant for employment or designated volunteer with a school administrative unit, school district, or charter school shall submit to the employer a notarized criminal history records release form and a complete set of fingerprints taken by a qualified law enforcement agency or an authorized employee of the school administrative unit, school district, or charter school. In the event that the first set of fingerprints is invalid due to insufficient pattern and a second set of fingerprints is necessary in order to complete the criminal history records check, the conditional offer of employment shall remain in effect. If, after 2 attempts, a set of fingerprints is invalid due to insufficient pattern, the school administrative unit, school district, or charter school may, in lieu of the criminal history records check, accept police clearances from every city, town, or county where an applicant has lived during the past 5 years.

III. The school administrative unit, school district, or charter school shall submit the criminal history form to the New Hampshire state police which shall conduct a criminal history ~~[record inquiry]~~ records check through its records and through the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Upon completion of the background investigation, the state police shall examine the list of crimes constituting grounds for non-approval of employment, or non-acceptance of volunteer services in that school administrative unit, school district, or charter school, and shall report the presence or absence of any such crime to the school administrative unit, school district, or charter school. Under no circumstances shall the criminal records be released to the school administrative unit, school district, or charter school.

IV. The school administrative unit, school district, or charter school may require the selected applicant for employment or designated volunteer to pay the actual costs of the background investigation ~~including~~ and a criminal history records check.

V. Any person who has been convicted of murder, child pornography, aggravated felonious sexual assault, felonious sexual assault, or kidnapping in this state, or under any statute prohibiting the same conduct in another state, territory or possession of the United States, shall not be hired by a school administrative unit, school district, or charter school. By decision of the appropriate governing body, a school administrative unit, school district, or charter school may deny a selected applicant a final offer of employment if such person has been convicted of any felony in addition to those listed above. The governing body may adopt a policy stating that any person who has been convicted of any felony, or any of a list of felonies, shall not be hired.

VI. This section applies to any employee ~~or~~, selected applicant for employment, or designated volunteer with private businesses and agencies, or volunteer organizations which contract with school administrative units, school districts, or charter schools to provide services, including but not limited to cafeteria workers, school bus drivers, custodial personnel, or any other service where the contractor or employees of the contractor provide services directly to students of the district or charter school. The cost for background investigations, including criminal history records checks, for employees or selected applicants for employment with such contractors shall be borne by the contractor.

VII. The school administrative unit, school district, or charter school shall not be required to complete a background investigation or a criminal history records check on volunteers, provided, however, that the governing body of a school administrative unit, school district, or charter school, may adopt a policy designating certain categories of volunteers as "designated volunteers" who may be required to undergo a background investigation and a criminal history records check.

6 School Employee and Volunteer Background Investigations. Amend RSA 189:13-a to read as follows:
189:13-a School Employee and Volunteer Background Investigations.

GOVERNOR'S VETO MESSAGE ON HOUSE BILL 1414

June 5, 1998

To the Honorable Members of the General Court:

I have this day vetoed House Bill 1414, An Act relative to review of non-renewal of teacher contracts. Professional improvement of our state's teaching corps is a high priority of my administration. Research has shown that the single most important measurable cause of increased student learning is teacher quality. Since I have become Governor, the State Board of Education has already taken steps to institute higher standards for people entering the teaching profession. These include a new competency testing requirement that will go into effect in September and a new content testing requirement that will go into effect next July. In addition, the State Board of Education is undertaking a complete review of professional standards for the recertification of all educators, including teachers, instructional specialists, and administrators. Their report is due in two weeks.

My administration is working on a Best Schools initiative that will be aimed at the professional development of teachers and administrators employed in our public schools to arm them with state-of-the-art skills and knowledge in educational leadership and instructional practices. By placing our children in the care of a better trained educational workforce, we can expect to see positive gains in student achievement.

The Advancing Better Classrooms legislation I submitted this session includes measures to improve performance and accountability in our schools. If enacted into law, the ABC Plan will require the State Department of Education to issue an annual report card evaluating schools and school districts. Several states have found that this type of report card is the most effective motivator for improved performance of teachers and administrators, even more so than financial incentives. The ABC Plan will also require local school districts to develop local school improvement plans with the involvement of parents, employers, and other community members. Districts that do not make progress toward the goals set in their local school improvement plans will receive technical assistance from the State.

A lengthy and costly process for terminating ineffective teachers does not serve anyone. It does not serve our children, who deserve only highly competent teachers. It does not serve teachers themselves, who deserve to teach in a professional environment where they are surrounded by colleagues who strive to excel. Teachers should have no expectation of life-time tenure.

H.B. 1414, however, offers a simplistic response to the complicated problem of ensuring good teachers.

H.B. 1414 would prohibit local school districts and local teachers' associations from agreeing to include binding arbitration as a means of resolving disputed teacher terminations in future collective bargaining agreements. As such, H.B. 1414 would conflict with our long tradition of local control.

H.B. 1414 fails to address the need for sound teacher evaluation policies and does nothing to streamline the non-renewal process in districts that currently do not use binding arbitration.

Fewer than half of New Hampshire school districts currently have binding arbitration terms in their collective bargaining agreements. Therefore, H.B. 1414 does nothing to streamline the process for teacher termination in most of our school districts.

All of the participants in our public school system must be made more accountable if we are to improve education in New Hampshire. Parents, students, teachers, administrators, local school boards, and the State all share the responsibility for ensuring that the education we offer our children is excellent.

While it is teachers who provide direct instruction to our students, it is the responsibility of administrators to ensure the performance of teachers and other staff and the responsibility of local school boards to set standards and hire teachers and administrators.

H.B. 1414 fails to address the responsibilities of administrators and school boards to ensure that only the best teachers are in our classrooms. School districts in New Hampshire that have sound teacher evaluation systems experience few challenges to their decisions to terminate teachers. When a school district has good teacher evaluation policies and administrators who carry out those policies, carefully monitoring and documenting the performance of teachers, teachers who are non-renewed understand and accept the reason for their termination.

A sound teacher evaluation system expedites the process of teacher non-renewal. When teacher evaluations are not done or if the evaluations are not conducted well, ineffective teachers remain in the classroom. It is the children who bear the burden when sound school management and governance practices are not in place.

I recognize that there is more we can and should do to make sure that only qualified, competent teachers are in our classrooms. We need to find a more effective way to address the issues of streamlining teacher termination and the need for sound teacher evaluation policies. To accomplish this, I will ask a committee of New Hampshire citizens consisting of representatives of all concerned parties to work on this problem over the next several months and make recommendations for necessary changes in state law.

H.B. 1414 simply does not address the real problems in teacher performance, but rather diverts attention away from those real problems. Therefore, today I am vetoing House Bill 1414.

Jeanne Shaheen, Governor

The question being, notwithstanding the Governor's veto, shall HB 1414, relative to review of nonrenewal of teacher contracts, become law.

Rep. Yeaton spoke against.

Rep. O'Hearn spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Rep. Keans spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Hoadley spoke in favor.

Rep. Burling requested a quorum count. The Speaker declared a quorum present.

Rep. Joseph Foster spoke against.

Rep. Henderson spoke in favor.

As required by the State Constitution, a roll call was taken.

COMMITTEE ASSIGNMENT

Rep. E. Albert Weare on Election Law

GOVERNOR'S VETO MESSAGE ON HB 1310

June 26, 1998

To the Honorable Members of the General Court:

I have this day vetoed House Bill 1310, An Act relative to legislative approval of expenditure of federal and other funds and relative to proportionate share payments for county nursing homes.

The citizens of New Hampshire are fortunate that some of their needs are met through gifts, bequests, and grants that are made to the State. Under current law, the approval of the governor and council is required before any such gifts, bequests or grants can be accepted.

H.B. 1310 would impose yet another layer of bureaucracy to the process of the State accepting such gifts, bequests or grants by requiring the approval of the Fiscal Committee for any with a value in excess of $100,000.

This legislation is bad public policy for a number of reasons.

By requiring that the acceptance of outside funding be approved by the Fiscal Committee, the process will be slowed considerably by this new and unnecessary level of bureaucratic intervention.

Let me illustrate how H.B. 1310 would operate in practice. Many federal grants require that the governor designate one state agency to apply for and administer grants that are intended to support the work of more than one state agency. The Office of the Attorney General, for example, administers many federal grants that support the work of other state criminal justice agencies. Under H.B. 1310, the Attorney General would not only have to get the approval of the governor and council to accept the federal grants and distribute them to other state agencies, as is required under current law, but would also have to get the approval of the Fiscal Committee to both accept and distribute the grants to other state agencies. Then, under the provisions of H.B. 1310, the other state agencies would also be required to obtain Fiscal Committee approval to accept the money from the Office of the Attorney General. This makes no sense.

H.B. 1310 will complicate what is already a time-consuming and labor intensive approval process for state agencies. This will unnecessarily interfere with executive agencies' efforts to seek new and creative sources of revenue enhancement in order to stretch limited state general funds, and will increase the time period before federal and private funds are available to serve the public. H.B. 1310 merely adds another layer of bureaucracy without any apparent corresponding benefit to the public. Legislation should be aimed at making government more efficient, not adding layers of bureaucratic review, paperwork and time for no compelling reason.

In addition, H.B. 1310 expands the role of the legislative Fiscal Committee into the day-to-day management of executive branch operations. The legislature now has overall policy authority over executive branch expenditures through the budget process. The provisions of H.B. 1310 skew our system of checks and balances by vesting inordinate day-to-day management authority in the legislative branch. This is unacceptable, and may well violate the separation of powers doctrine enshrined in our State Constitution.

Moreover, I believe H.B. 1310 would result in an unconstitutional delegation of the authority of the General Court to just a sole committee thereof.

I recognize that H.B. 1310 was amended in the senate to include the provisions regarding Medicaid proportionate share payments to counties for county nursing homes. It is estimated that if these provisions were enacted $787,130 in total additional dollars would be shared by our ten county governments. I would support the enactment of the proportionate share provisions into law. It is unfortunate that these provisions were amended onto H.B. 1310, particularly since my administration had made known my opposition to H.B. 1310.

Our constitutional system of government is based upon a clear division of authority among the three branches and upon the principle that legislation is to be enacted only after consideration of the full General Court. In furtherance of my duty to uphold these constitutional mandates, I have found it necessary to veto House Bill 1310.

Jeanne Shaheen, Governor

The question being, notwithstanding the Governor's veto, shall HB 1310, relative to legislative approval of expenditure of federal and other funds and relative to proportionate share payments for county nursing homes, become law?

Reps. Linda Foster and Burling spoke against.

Reps. Wheeler and Kurk spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

As required by the State Constitution, a roll call was taken.

GOVERNOR'S VETO MESSAGE ON HB 1384

June 26, 1998

To the Honorable Members of the General Court:

I have this day vetoed House Bill 1384, An Act making an appropriation to the department of cultural affairs for the purpose of funding participation of the state in the Smithsonian Festival of American Folklife.

I support the work of the New Hampshire Commission on the Smithsonian Festival of American Folklife. I believe that New Hampshire's selection by the Smithsonian Institute to be featured "on the mall" in Washington D.C. next summer is an honor that all the citizens of New Hampshire can be proud of and will benefit from. I would like to personally congratulate all of those who are working so hard to raise from the private sector the dollars necessary to share New Hampshire with the world next summer in our nation's capital. I hope that many of our residents will visit our nation's capital to join in this celebration of New Hampshire's cultural history and folklife.

I, however, cannot support the funding of this important effort by the diversion of $200,000 from our strategic travel and tourism marketing program. We have just begun what is forecasted to be our busiest summer tourism season ever, and we need to make every effort to ensure that this level of tourism activity continues.

My administration recognizes the importance of the travel and tourism industry to the people and economy of New Hampshire. Since I became Governor, the State has targeted unprecedented resources toward developing and promoting this industry. The biennial budget passed last year included an increase of one million dollars per year for advertising and marketing. These additional dollars are earmarked to fund a strategic promotional campaign to introduce new markets to the New Hampshire secret and are necessary to increase our meals and rooms tax revenues to the levels projected in the biennial budget. I believe that to interrupt this program by siphoning off a full twenty percent of its funding is penny wise but pound foolish.

Just this spring I convened the first ever Governor's Summit on Travel and Tourism. Of the many recommendations made by the more than seventy-five participants representing all sectors of the New Hampshire economy, one that rang the loudest was the need for continued and additional support for promotion and advertising of what New Hampshire has to offer to tourists from around the country and the world. The benefits to New Hampshire are tremendous. Recent studies show that for every dollar spent in tourism advertising over eight dollars are raised in state and local revenues and fees. Additionally, every new dollar introduced by the travel and tourism industry turns over more than 75 times in the New Hampshire economy. Promoting New Hampshire is a good investment.

Promoting New Hampshire as a travel and tourism destination and the Smithsonian Festival of American Folklife are not mutually exclusive, however, and should and will complement each other. The Office of Travel and Tourism Development has identified more than $50,000 in contracted and in-kind services which it will provide to the Commission during fiscal year 1999. The chair of the Smithsonian Commission and the private sector fundraising leadership team welcome this alternative approach as they, too, recognize the importance of preserving the integrity of our existing marketing and promotion plan.

Following New Hampshire's presentation "on the mall" in Washington, the exhibit will come home for all of us to enjoy and appreciate. I am committed to seeing that there are state funds available in the next biennial budget to aid in the re-staging of this exhibit.

Because there is a more fiscally sound way for the State to participate in the work of the Smithsonian Commission, I am, today, vetoing H.B. 1384.

Jeanne Shaheen, Governor

The question being, notwithstanding the Governor's veto, shall HB 1384, making appropriation to the department of cultural affairs for the purpose of funding participation of the state in the Smithsonian Festival of American Folklife, become law?

Rep. Avery spoke against.

As required by the State Constitution, a roll call was taken.

Adopted by the necessary two-thirds.

CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL 643-FN

The pending question is the adoption of the committee amendment.

Amendment (0291h)

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Chapter; Industry Average Performance System for Air Pollution Control. Amend RSA by inserting after chapter 125-K the following new chapter:

CHAPTER 125-L
INDUSTRY AVERAGE PERFORMANCE SYSTEM FOR AIR POLLUTION CONTROL

125-L:1 Purpose.

I. The general court finds that the general level of air pollution in New Hampshire is greater than desirable for public health and ecological integrity, and that considerable reduction of air pollutant emissions from current levels, at a rate consistent with the continued well-being of the state's economy, is a desirable goal.

II. The general court further finds that based on current scientific evidence, there is no threshold level at which air pollution reduction ceases to be of benefit. Therefore, the goal of the state's air pollution control strategy shall be to provide for continual improvement in air quality and continuing reduction in air pollutant emissions at an appropriate rate given the relative costs and benefits of air pollution emission reductions, rather than setting specific goals and terminating programs upon reaching those goals.

III. The purpose of this chapter is to establish a cost-effective system of air pollution control which can provide for continual improvement in air quality and maximize air pollution emission reductions for every dollar spent.

IV. The legislature has identified two categories of pollution sources, electric utilities and light motor vehicles, which produce more total pollution than other categories of pollution sources, and where cost-effective pollution reductions can be achieved. Even though future legislation would be necessary to add additional categories of pollution sources, it is the intent of the legislature that no additional categories of pollution sources be added, due to interstate considerations, until similar pollution reduction initiatives are adopted in other states.

125-L:2 Definitions. In this chapter:

- I. "Commissioner" means the commissioner of the department of environmental services.
- II. "Light motor vehicle" means a motor vehicle of less than 8,500 pounds gross vehicle weight.
- III. "Major air pollutant" means:
 - (a) Carbon monoxide;
 - (b) Nitrogen oxides; or
 - (c) Sulfur dioxide.
- IV. "Nitrogen oxides" means nitric oxide (NO) or nitrogen dioxide (NO₂).
- V. "Ton" means 2,000 pounds.

125-L:3 Principles and Goals.

I. To provide cost-effective flexibility for air pollution emission reductions, and to allow for differing circumstances, differing existing equipment, and differing available pollution reduction options, polluters shall be allowed the option of reducing pollution from their own sources or paying into a fund that will directly or indirectly pay for air pollution reductions by others. To provide maximum benefit for every dollar spent, all economic incentives shall be strictly connected to actual physical reductions in amounts of air pollutant emissions. An integrated system shall be established for regulating all air pollutants, so that air pollution control expenditure decisions for all pollutants can be considered as a package.

II. Because under this chapter the state collects and distributes funds within individual categories of polluters, the legislature may choose to include separate categories of polluters in this regulatory system one at a time.

III. The goal for improvement in air pollutant emissions is 3 to 5 percent compounded reduction per year. At this rate, air pollutant emissions will be halved every 15 to 25 years. Pollution control fee rates shall be set to achieve overall emission reduction of that magnitude.

IV. The pollution control fee rates for various major air pollutants should be based on the best available scientific data for relative damage done by the major air pollutants. Such evidence may include, but shall not be limited to, federal Environmental Protection Agency standards for the various major air pollutants, current levels of air pollution concentrations, other public health data, and other environmental and ecological integrity data.

V. The pollution control fee rates shall be set by the legislature.

VI. Since many air pollution controls require significant capital expenditures with sizable life-times, the state hereby adopts a stable, slowly changing air pollution control regulatory system. New major air pollutants shall be added only after they have been accepted as a serious problem for several years, and after their relative toxicities have been established by repeated scientific research. Pollution control fee rate ratios among major air pollutants should be adjusted slowly, and only on the basis of repeated scientific research. Changes shall be announced in advance so that adequate time is available to plan and execute additional pollution reduction measures prior to the change. The goal of this regulatory system of economic incentives is to encourage air pollution reduction, not to collect reparations.

125-L:4 Pollution Control Fee Rate.

I. A pollution control fee rate shall be established for each major air pollutant, in terms of dollars per ton to the nearest whole dollar. The rate shall be calculated by multiplying the base pollution control fee rate of paragraph II by any automatic adjustments in accordance with paragraph III, and multiplying the total by the inflation adjustment provided for in paragraph IV.

II. The base pollution control fee rate for each major air pollutant shall be:

- (a) For carbon monoxide, $175 per ton.
- (b) For nitrogen oxides:
 - (1) $2,275 per ton during the months of May through September, inclusive; and
 - (2) $775 per ton during the months of October through April, inclusive.
- (c) For sulfur dioxide:
 - (1) $455 per ton during the months of May through September, inclusive; and
 - (2) $275 per ton during the months of October through April, inclusive.

III. If the actual total annual major air pollutant emissions in any odd-numbered year, starting in 2001, calculated in dollars based on the pollution control fee rates listed in paragraph II, exceed the target upper limit for any year, specified in paragraph V, then all base pollution control fee rates shall be permanently increased by the ratio of the actual total annual major air pollutant emissions for that year to the target upper limit for that year.

IV. Whenever the commissioner determines that the cost of living, as measured by the federal CPI-U index, or its successor, as determined by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, shall have increased by 5 percent or more from January 1, 1998, or from the date used for the previous adjustment under this paragraph, the commissioner shall establish a corresponding inflation adjustment which shall take effect at the beginning of the next calendar month.

V.(a) The target upper limit for the year 2001 shall be the total of the following amounts, evenly distributed by month throughout the year, calculated in dollars based on the base pollution control fee rates listed in paragraph II:

- (1) 300,000 tons of carbon monoxide,
- (2) 56,000 tons of nitrogen oxides, and
- (3) 48,000 tons of sulfur dioxide.

(b) The target upper limit for any odd-numbered year after 2001 shall be 92 percent of the target upper limit for the year 2 years prior to that year.

125-L:5 Categories of Polluters; Implementation.

I.(a) There is established a retail electricity pollution control fund for the purposes of collecting money from electricity generation sellers who generate electricity within New Hampshire and distributing all money collected to end-user consumers of electricity within the state on a monthly basis.

(b) The commissioner shall determine emissions for all electricity generation sellers who generate electricity within New Hampshire and 1996 average emission rate levels for each facility in New Hampshire. For facilities without continuous emission monitoring, emission rates shall be determined based on the scientifically best available data.

(c) All electricity generation sellers who generate electricity within New Hampshire shall pay into the fund the amount determined in RSA 125-L:4 for all emissions in New Hampshire on or after the date that money may be collected and distributed from the fund pursuant to subparagraph I(g), less the following credits and exemptions:

(1) A credit against this payment shall be allowed for existing electricity generation sellers who generate electricity within New Hampshire. For the Public Service Company of New Hampshire, or its assignees or successors in interest, the total of credit per month for all facilities shall be, for each of the following periods, calculated in dollars based on the pollution control fee rates established in RSA 125-L:4 for that month:

May, 1999 through April, 2000	900 tons of nitrogen oxides and 4300 tons of sulfur dioxide
May, 2000 through April, 2001	880 tons of nitrogen oxides and 4200 tons of sulfur dioxide
May, 2001 through April, 2002	860 tons of nitrogen oxides and 4100 tons of sulfur dioxide
May, 2002 through April, 2003	840 tons of nitrogen oxides and 4000 tons of sulfur dioxide
May, 2003 through April, 2004	820 tons of nitrogen oxides and 3900 tons of sulfur dioxide
After April, 2004	800 tons of nitrogen oxides and 3800 tons of sulfur dioxide

(2) Any unused credits may be carried over to future months, without expiration date, and may be transferred or assigned to any other entity. They may only be used as credits against payments to the fund established in subparagraph I(a).

(3)(A) Between the effective date of this chapter and the day before the date that money may be collected and distributed from the fund pursuant to subparagraph I(g), any facility that reduces its emission rate from 1996 average emission rate levels shall receive a credit against future payments due under this chapter.

(B) The credit earned for any day for a facility shall be equal to the number of kilowatt-hours sold from that facility's production, times the credit earned per kilowatt-hour sold. The credit earned per kilowatt-hour sold shall be the amount by which the emissions payment per kilowatt-hour sold, calculated under RSA 125-L:4, based on actual emissions, is less than the emissions payment per kilowatt-hour for that facility, calculated for that day under RSA 125-L:4, if its emissions were 90 percent of its average emissions per kilowatt-hour sold during the year 1996, or 90 percent of its maximum allowable emissions per kilowatt-hour sold under current federal and other state regulations, whichever is less.

(4) Any facility existing as of May 21, 1996 that, as of that date, was selling 50 percent or more of its annual output under a qualified facility rate order or contract pursuant to RSA 362-A shall be exempt from making any payments into the retail electricity pollution control fund for the duration of that rate order, contract, or any renegotiated arrangement thereto approved by the public utilities commission. Between the effective date of this chapter and the expiration of that rate order, contract, or arrangement, any such facility that reduces its emission rate to less than 90 percent of its 1996 average emission rate levels shall receive a credit against future payments under this chapter, calculated as provided in subparagraph I(c)(3)(B), which may be transferred in accordance with subparagraph I(c)(2).

(d) All amounts received by the retail electricity pollution control fund each month shall be distributed to all end-user consumers of electricity within the state based on consumption during that month. Funds shall be distributed as a lump sum to each electricity distribution service provider for all of its customers and applied as a credit against customer bills.

(e) The commissioner shall be responsible for determining all amounts due to the fund, and for notifying the public utilities commission of these amounts. The public utilities commission shall be responsible for calculating all amounts due from the fund.

(f) The public utilities commission shall be responsible for collecting all amounts required by this paragraph, depositing them to the retail electricity pollution control fund, and distributing the funds in accordance with this chapter.

(g) No money shall be collected or distributed from the retail electricity pollution control fund until any rules required to be adopted to implement this paragraph become effective, or May 1, 1999, whichever is later.

(h) All payments made pursuant to this paragraph by a public utility shall be recoverable to the same extent and subject to the same conditions as any environmental expenditure mandated by law.

II.(a) There is established a light motor vehicle pollution control account for the purpose of accounting for all net funds collected from any increases or discounts established pursuant to this chapter from all motor vehicle registrations of light motor vehicles under RSA 261:141, III(g).

(b) The commissioner of the department of safety, after consulting with the commissioner, shall determine the dollar amount of discounts in motor vehicle registration fees for different categories of light motor vehicles in accordance with the pollution control fee rates and other provisions of this chapter. This determination shall include procedures for handling different weight classes which have been assigned differing emission limits under the federal Clean Air Act.

(c) Any light motor vehicle manufactured to a standard less stringent than 1998 federal standards shall be treated for purposes of this chapter the same as a vehicle meeting the 1998 federal standards.

(d) The commissioner of the department of safety shall provide that emissions category information be added to the motor vehicle registration form of light motor vehicles to identify categories of vehicles with pollution emissions at rates less than 1998 federal standards.

(e) The commissioner of the department of safety shall determine the necessary increase in the motor vehicle registration fee for light motor vehicles not qualifying for a discount. This increase shall be sufficiently large to accommodate the discounts determined in subparagraph II(b) and retain a positive or zero balance in the light motor vehicle pollution control account, and may be large enough so that registration fees will not need to be changed more often than once every 12 months. The commissioner of the department of safety shall then determine the necessary dollar amount adjustments in motor vehicle registration fees under RSA 261:141, III(g) in accordance with this chapter. All adjustments in motor vehicle registration fees shall be in multiples of $.60 per year ($.05 per month).

(f) Light motor vehicle registration fees shall not be changed pursuant to this chapter until after the effective date of any rules required to be adopted to implement this chapter; or the date on which the commissioner of the department of safety certifies that at least 10 percent of all light motor vehicles registered in New Hampshire, or at least 50 percent of all light motor vehicles of a completed model year registered in New Hampshire, qualify for a registration fee discount of at least $5 per year; or April 1, 2000, whichever is latest.

125-L:6 Rulemaking Authority; Contingent Authority for Chapter.

I. The commissioner may prepare draft rules, pursuant to RSA 541-A:

(a) For the determination of emissions for each facility generating electricity pursuant to RSA 125-L:5, I(b).

(b) To calculate payments and credits, and determine amounts due to the retail electricity pollution control fund.

3 Initial Report by the Department of Environmental Services. In addition to the requirements of RSA 125-L:8, the department of environmental services report due October 31, 1998 shall include specific recommendations on:

I. The practicality and desirability of making pollution control fee rates for nitrogen oxides depend on outdoor air temperature rather than just the month of the year.

II. The current state of knowledge regarding differences among different physical and chemical components of particulate matter and differences among volatile organic compounds, and the additional information needed before they could be considered for addition to the list of major air pollutants.

III. The current state of knowledge regarding mercury and the additional information needed before it could be considered for addition to the list of major air pollutants.

4 Legislative Intent; Report of Department of Environmental Services Due October 31, 2001. It is the intent of the legislature that the credits described in RSA 125-L:5, I(c)(1) for the periods following April, 2004 are subject to legislative review. The department of environmental services, in the annual report due October 31, 2001 pursuant to RSA 125-L:8, shall include specific recommendations for appropriate dollar amounts for the credits for the periods following April, 2004.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Reps. Amanda Merrill and Merritt addressed the House.

Rep. Lockwood moved that the remarks made by Rep. Amanda Merrill be printed in the Journal. Adopted.

Rep. Amanda Merrill: Thank you, Madam Speaker. I have found a song called "Turn Around" coming into my head lately as I try to get used to the idea of no longer being a member of the House. I guess that is not surprising since it is a song about the passage of time and about change. If I had the voice of some of my colleagues, like the Senator from Durham, Sen. Wheeler, or Rep. Kurk, I might sing a few bars for you, but, I don't. So, instead I'll just share the first few words of the song. "Where are you going my little one, little one? Where are you going my baby, my own? Turn around and you're two. Turn around and you're four. Turn around and you're a young girl going out of the door."

Ten years ago, an old high school friend who was serving in the legislature called me to see if I might be interested in running. I continue to thank Rep. Cushing for that recruiting effort. Back then, Mary Chambers who was the Democratic Leader, followed up with a call of her own reassuring me that it didn't matter if I wasn't much for making speeches because there were already plenty of people in Concord who were. So I filed. My daughter was two.

She went door-to-door with me campaigning, charming voters from her stroller. Today, she is a young girl, soon a young woman and she is often going out the door. My son went off to first grade when I went off to my first primary election. In two years, he will leave us for college. Unless perhaps, UNH reinstates baseball.

It has been a decade of great learning and change for all of us. I have learned in my five terms that there are indeed House members who can give a great speech. I have marveled at others who know just how to ask the right question at the right time. I have to come to appreciate still others who keep a committee working with their good humor and patience. Ours is a House of many talents and thank goodness because we need them all. I've learned something about radioactive waste and lobbying laws, air pollution and adequacy in education. Like all of you, I've had boundless opportunity to learn, combined always with the responsibility of applying those lessons to decisions that matter. It has been a privilege and a joy to be entrusted with that duty.

For letting me have such an opportunity, I, of course, thank the voters of Durham and since I started out before redistricting also the folks of Madbury and Lee. I thank the voters also for providing me with wonderful delegation friends. For making these past ten years such a rich experience, I have many of you to thank as well as colleagues of the past. My first chairman on the old Science, Technology and Energy Committee was Bill Hatch and our ranking Democrat was Susan Spear. I learned quickly about the great differences of opinion in that one undersized committee room. I put in my first research request at Legislative Services and got back my first cover letter from Rich Lambert ending with the now familiar quote, "Please do not hesitate to contact me if I can be of further assistance." I've taken Rich and his colleagues up on their offers many times since. That first term I also found a home away from home in the Democratic office, enjoying ever since the excellent care and advice of Donald Manning, Kay Cushman and the others who have joined them over the years. I shared many laughs with my carpooling companion, Rep. Gilmore whom some of you remember and once progress brought Dunkin Donuts to Route 4, a few chocolate frostedds that I didn't need, too. I had the good fortune to succeed my good friend, Rick Trombly, on the Environment and Agriculture Committee where Betty Greene and George Musler served as co-chairmen with great fairness and faith in their committee members and our researcher, Joel Anderson, kept us all organized.

I learned the satisfactions of working together toward consensus and coming up with something to be proud of. I got to experience that sense of committee purpose and achievement again this year with the members of the Education Committee. Madam Speaker, I remember that during my first or second term a student from UNH worked with me for a while as part of a course she was taking. She wanted to interview people around the State House and she asked in particular if I could suggest a woman legislator whom I considered to be especially effective. I sent her to you, Madam Speaker, as I would today. My admiration and best wishes go to you. Finally, I turn to thank a fellow member of the legislative class of 1988, my friend and colleague, Peter Burling. It has been quite a two-year ride, especially the spin in the Corvette. Peter represents the Democratic Caucus with style, skill and dedication. He respects and relishes the differences of opinion and outlook that is the hallmark of our caucus. He has worked twice as hard as I these past two years and yet has the generosity of spirit to always greet me in the office or on the phone with, "Hey, partner." I will miss that partnership as I shall miss the community of this House. I thank you all for being such an important part of my life and in the words of another song about time, "See you in September," if not sooner.

Donna Sytek, Speaker of the House

I must, according to Part Second, Article 14 of the New Hampshire Constitution, cease my role as Representative from District 14, Grafton County.

Please accept this as my resignation from the New Hampshire House of Representatives as of September 2, 1998.

I wish you well with your role in the difficult times we are living with. I hope to be back next year if the voters of Grafton 10 are kind to me.

Donna Sytek, Speaker of the House

It is with regret that I must tender my resignation from the New Hampshire House of Representatives effective noon on September 9, 1998. From such a distance, I no longer feel able to fully represent Hillsborough District 37. Please convey my gratitude to my fellow House colleagues for their wisdom, insight and friendship.

RECONSIDERATION

Having voted with the prevailing side, Reps. Wheeler and Burling moved that the House reconsider its action of June 10, 1998, whereby it Referred to Interim Study SB 409, relative to long-term care and extending the moratorium on new nursing home beds.
Adopted.

The question now being the adoption of the committee report of Refer to Interim Study on SB 409, relative to long-term care and extending the moratorium on new nursing home beds.
On a division vote, 98 members having voted in the affirmative and 255 in the negative, the report failed.

Rep. Kurk moved Ought to Pass with Amendment on SB 409, relative to long-term care and extending the moratorium on new nursing home beds.

SB 409-FN, relative to long-term care and extending the moratorium on new nursing home beds.
OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Neal M. Kurk for Finance: This bill, as amended, is an initial step toward incrementally rebalancing the state's long-term care system and expanding choices available to recipients. It reflects a joint, summer-long effort by the Finance Committee, members of the Health and Human Services Committee and members of the Senate in conjunction with officials from the Department of Health and Human Services. The bill provides elderly and chronically ill adults who are Medicaid-eligible for nursing home services with a continuum of care more appropriate to their needs and more affordable to the state and its taxpayers. It adds mid-level care, such as assisted living and residential care services, to the currently available nursing home and home-and-community-based care services and affirmatively establishes the right to consumer choice among these options, subject to reasonable cost controls. A community-based information and referral network will be set up so all citizens will be more knowledgeable about long-term care options, and $4 million is set aside from proportionate share funds to develop the necessary community infrastructure to improve long-term care services.

The bill, as amended, also establishes an acuity-based reimbursement system for nursing homes and a comprehensive needs assessment process to assure that appropriate services will be provided. Program management and cost controls require separate class lines in the biennial budget for each level of service and limit the average cost of mid-level and home-based care to a percentage of the cost of nursing home care.

A new cost-sharing partnership between the counties and the state is established, if approved by the legislative delegation of each of the counties, as required by Art. 28-a of the state constitution. The counties will see their proportions of the non-federal share of nursing home costs reduced from 61 percent to 50 percent but that percentage will now also be applied to provider payments, mid-level care and home-and-community-based care in excess of $2 million per year. County liability for these costs is capped at specified dollar amounts each year until 2003, at which time these new cost-sharing provisions sunset. The committee recommends this bill as an important first step for the state and its counties to take in providing more appropriate and more cost-effective long-term care services to a rapidly growing elderly population. Vote 18-1.

Amendment (2370h)

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to long-term care.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Chapter; Long-Term Care. Amend RSA by inserting after chapter 151-D the following new chapter:

CHAPTER 151-E LONG-TERM CARE

151-E:1 Purpose.

I. The purpose of this chapter is to provide medicaid eligible elderly and chronically ill adults with a continuum of care appropriate to their needs and affordable to the state and its taxpayers.

II. To a great extent, the current system relies on nursing facilities to provide care for this group. While the quality of this care is high, an increasingly elderly and disabled population and a constrained public financial resource base require the state to reevaluate how long-term care services are provided. Moreover, many long-term care recipients and potential recipients prefer to be cared for at home or in other settings less acute than a nursing facility. Because far more may be spent on nursing facility care than on home and community-based care, there is an inherent difference between the state's present long-term care system and what recipients prefer.

III. This chapter is an initial step toward incrementally rebalancing the long-term care system and expanding choices available to recipients. It increases the continuum of care by adding mid-level care, including but not limited to, assisted living and residential care services. Through an acuity-based reimbursement system and a comprehensive needs assessment process, it encourages those eligible for medicaid nursing facility services to consider more appropriate, less costly mid-level services and home and community-based care. In this way, the state intends to serve this increasing medicaid eligible population more appropriately and more economically.

151-E:2 Definitions. In this chapter:

I. "Assisted living facility" means a facility with individual living units where medical and social support services are provided on the basis of an individualized plan of care and which provides other common social support services.

II. "Congregate housing" means public housing providing congregate services as defined in RSA 161-F:36.

III. "Department" means the department of health and human services.

IV. "Home-based care" means a range of medical and supportive services provided under the medicaid waiver to persons in their own homes or in the home of a relative or other person.

V. "Nursing facility" means an institution or facility, or a distinct part of an institution or facility, whether proprietary or non-proprietary, which is primarily engaged in providing 24-hour care for residents needing:

(a) Skilled nursing care, medical monitoring, and related services;

(b) Rehabilitation services for the rehabilitation of injured chronically disabled or sick;

(c) Medication administration or instruction and supervision; or

(d) On a regular basis, health-related care and services (above the level of room and board) which can be made available to them only through institutional facilities which provide 24-hour care.

VI. "Medicaid waiver" means the medicaid home and community-based care waiver for the elderly and the chronically ill.

VII. "Mid-level care" means care provided in an assisted living facility, congregate housing, or residential care facility under the medicaid waiver.

VIII. "Residential care facility" means a facility, including a supported residential care facility, which provides services to 2 or more individuals, beyond room and board care, in a residential setting, as an alternative to nursing facility care, which offers residents home-like living arrangements, social, health, or medical services, including but not limited to, medical or nursing supervision, or medical care or treatment by appropriately trained or licensed individuals, assistance in daily living, or protective care.

151-E:3 Eligibility.

I. A person is medicaid eligible for nursing facility services if the person is:

(a) Clinically eligible for nursing facility care because the person requires 24-hour care for one or more of the following purposes, as determined by the department:

(1) Medical monitoring and nursing care;

(2) Restorative nursing or rehabilitative care;

(3) Medication administration or instruction and supervision of self-medication for discharge purposes only; or

(4) Assistance with 2 or more activities of daily living; and

(b) Financially eligible as either:

(1) Categorically needy, if monthly income is equal to or less than $1,250 and resources are equal to or less than $1,500, as calculated pursuant to rules adopted by the department under RSA 541-A; or

(2) Medically needy, if income is equal to or less than the medicaid rate of the nursing facility and resources are equal to or less than $2,500, as calculated in accordance with rules adopted by the department pursuant to RSA 541-A.

II. A person is eligible for services under the medicaid waiver if the person has been determined eligible under RSA 151-E:3, I.

151-E:4 Consumer Choice. A person who has been determined to be medicaid eligible for nursing facility services in accordance with RSA 151-E:3 shall have the right to receive nursing facility services; however, the person may choose to receive services in a less restrictive setting if such services are available and do not result in costs to the state and counties in excess of the limitations set forth in RSA 151-E:11, II. Such choice shall be subject to limitations imposed by federal and state laws and regulations.

151-E:5 Information and Referral. The department shall establish a system of community-based focal points that provide information and referral services to elderly and chronically ill adults. The information and referral network established under this section shall not be used for the purpose of political or legislative advocacy.

151-E:6 Acuity-Based Reimbursement System.

I. The department shall pursue as expeditiously as possible the development and implementation of a reimbursement system for nursing facility services based primarily on the acuity level of patients consistent with state and federal law and all appropriate notice requirements. All nursing facilities shall use best efforts to provide all information and data requested by the department in the course of its development of such a system and to assist the department in any manner reasonably requested by the department.

II. Unless otherwise required by state or federal law, the acuity-based reimbursement system developed by the department shall not create separate classifications for county and non-county facilities and shall be based on the concept of the cost of operating an efficient facility rather than actual costs.

III. The department shall implement the acuity-based reimbursement system on or before January 1, 1999 or as soon thereafter as practicable.

151-E:7 Needs Assessment for Applicants for Nursing Facility Services.

I. In order to determine the most cost effective and appropriate level of long-term care services, the department shall assess the clinical eligibility of each applicant to a nursing facility in a uniform manner throughout the state. The assessment shall be voluntary for all applicants, except those who have applied for or have been determined to be eligible for medicaid benefits.

II. The assessment shall be completed prior to admission or, if necessary for reasons of the person's health or safety, as soon after admission as possible, in accordance with rules adopted by the department pursuant to RSA 541-A.

III. The department in a uniform manner throughout the state shall determine whether the person is clinically eligible for nursing facility services.

IV. The department shall inform both the applicant and the administrator of the nursing facility of the department's determination of the services needed by the applicant and shall provide information and assistance to the applicant in accordance with RSA 151-E:9.

V. If a nursing facility admits a person who at the time of admission was not determined to be clinically eligible for the level of services provided by a nursing facility and that person, within a 3-year period after admission, is determined to be financially eligible for medicaid benefits pursuant to RSA 151-E:3, I(b), the nursing facility shall be responsible for all costs of medicaid-funded long-term care services provided to the individual for the period of time, not to exceed one year, from the date of the determination of financial eligibility to the end of the third year of admission unless the individual is determined to be clinically eligible for nursing facility services.

VI. Any assessment of medical needs conducted under this section shall be conducted by a qualified medical professional.

151-E:8 Assessment or Reassessment at Time of Eligibility. The department shall perform an assessment or reassessment of the person's clinical eligibility when the person becomes financially eligible for medicaid benefits pursuant to RSA 151-E:3, I(b).

151-E:9 Information and Assistance. The department shall provide information and assistance to each applicant to a nursing facility. Such information and assistance shall:

I. Be based upon the principle that services shall be provided in the setting that is least restrictive of the applicant's ability to live independently;

II. Take into consideration the applicant's choice of service location;

III. Include information regarding the degree to which the services sought are available at home or in some other community-based setting;

IV. Explain the relative costs to the applicant of choosing care in the home or other setting rather than nursing facility care; and

V. Include advice as to whether receiving services in a home or other community-based setting is clinically appropriate for the applicant.

151-E:10 Notification by Hospitals. Prior to the discharge or referral of any person to any nursing facility, a hospital shall notify the department that such person requires nursing facility services which necessitate an assessment under RSA 151-E:7 or the provision of information and assistance under RSA 151-E:9.

151-E:11 Program Management and Cost Controls.

I. The department shall designate in its operating budget requests, specific class lines for nursing facility, mid-level, and home-based care provided for in this chapter. These class lines shall reflect, and the requesting documentation shall include, the anticipated number of persons to receive services. The department shall not increase expenditures in approved budgets for care class lines or the number of persons to receive mid-level or home care services without the approval of the legislative fiscal committee.

II. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1999, and each fiscal year thereafter the average annual cost for the provision of services to persons in the mid-level of care shall not exceed 50 percent of the average annual cost for the provision of services in a nursing facility. The average annual cost for the provision of services in home-based care shall not exceed 33 percent of the average annual cost for the provision of services to persons in a nursing facility. Average annual costs shall be the net medicaid costs exclusive of provider payments.

151-E:12 Rulemaking. The commissioner of the department of health and human services shall adopt rules, pursuant to RSA 541-A, relative to the administration of this chapter.

2 Prohibition Added. Amend RSA 151-C:4, III to read as follows:

III.(a) No certificate of need shall be granted by the board for any nursing home, skilled nursing facility, intermediate care facility or rehabilitation facility from the effective date of ~~the 1995~~ chapter 310, laws of 1995, department of health and human services reorganization act, through the period ending December 31, 2001, except that a certificate of need may be issued for replacement or renovation of existing beds as necessary to meet life safety code requirements or to remedy deficiencies noted in a licensing inspection pursuant to RSA 151 or state survey and certification process pursuant to titles XVIII and XIX of the Social Security Act ~~[or for other good cause]~~.

(b) No certificate of need shall be granted by the board for any nursing home, skilled nursing facility or intermediate care facility if it will result in the total number of licensed nursing facility beds in the region exceeding 40 beds per each 1,000 persons aged 65 and older living in the region.

3 New Paragraph; Nursing Facility; Certificate of Need. Amend RSA 151-C:6 by inserting after paragraph II the following new paragraph:

III. In any standards for nursing facilities, the board shall provide that priority for a certificate of need for additional nursing facility beds shall be given to any facility which after January 1, 1999, has surrendered its certificate of need for the same or greater number of nursing facility beds. A facility may transfer to any other entity its priority status for a new certificate of need.

4 New Paragraph; Residential Care Facility Licensing Rules. Amend RSA 151:2 by inserting after paragraph III the following new paragraph:

IV. Licensing rules for residential care facilities and supported residential care facilities, as defined in rules adopted by the department pursuant to RSA 541-A, which are licensed pursuant to RSA 151:2, I(e), shall permit such facilities to admit residents who have been determined eligible for nursing facility services under a medicaid home and community-based care waiver for the elderly and chronically ill and who have been referred to such a facility as an alternative to placement in a nursing facility, provided that the clinical services and supports required by the person can be provided or obtained in the facility. No bed may be licensed in both the nursing facility and residential care facility categories at the same time.

5 Patient's Bill of Rights. Amend RSA 151:21, V to read as follows:

V. The patient shall be transferred or discharged after appropriate discharge planning only for medical reasons, for the patient's welfare or that of other patients, if the facility ceases to operate, or for nonpayment for the patient's stay, except as prohibited by Title XVIII or XIX of the Social Security Act. No patient shall be involuntarily discharged from a facility because the patient becomes eligible for medicaid as a source of payment.

6 New Paragraph; Patients' Bill of Rights. Amend RSA 151:21 by inserting after paragraph XIX the following new paragraph:

XX. The patient shall not be denied admission to the facility based on medicaid as a source of payment when there is an available space in the facility.

7 New Paragraph; Reserve Accounts. Amend RSA 24:13 by inserting after paragraph III the following new paragraph:

IV. Any county upon a majority vote of the county commissioners and subsequent majority vote of the county convention may establish a nonlapsing reserve account for the purposes of funding long-term care services.

8 Reimbursement of Funds for Persons Eligible to Receive Nursing Home Services; Limitation on County Payments. Amend RSA 167:18-b to read as follows:

167:18-b Reimbursement of Funds for ~~Recipients in~~ Persons Eligible to Receive Nursing [Homes] Home Services; Limitation on County Payments.

I. All expenditures in carrying out the purposes of this chapter or RSA 161 relative to old age assistance or aid to the permanently and totally disabled recipients who are in nursing homes shall be made in the first instance from the public assistance fund hereby created, but each ~~[political subdivision]~~ county shall make monthly payments to the state for the amounts due under this section within 30 days from notice thereof and shall reimburse said fund for all assistance granted to persons for which such ~~[political subdivision]~~ county is liable, to the extent of ~~[61-1]~~ 50 percent of the non-federal share, except that no charges shall be made for the non-federal share for recipients in state institutions and intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded (ICF-MR) serving developmentally impaired persons approved by the department of health and human services.

II. Each county shall be liable in the same manner as provided for in paragraph I for old age assistance and aid to the permanently and totally disabled recipients who are eligible for nursing home care, but who are in another setting as an alternative to placement in a nursing home and are supported under the medicaid home and community-based care waiver for the elderly and chronically ill, as such waiver may be amended from time to time, except that no charges shall be made for services under the waiver to the extent the average cost of all such services exceeds the average cost for care that would have been provided in nursing homes.

III. The counties shall have an aggregate credit of $2,000,000 against amounts due under this section for each fiscal year beginning July 1, 1998. The $2,000,000 shall be allocated among the counties based upon the proportion each paid under this section in the prior fiscal year and shall be made available as soon as possible after the start of the fiscal year. If the federal share of expenditures under this section is made available to the state in a method other than as a fixed percentage reimbursement, the non-federal share shall be the amount of expenditures remaining after appropriate application of federal funds.

IV. The total reimbursements by all counties made pursuant to this section for persons who have been determined eligible to receive nursing facility services shall not exceed the amounts set forth below for any of the state fiscal years 1999-2003:

- (a) State fiscal year 1999-$54,000,000.*
- (b) State fiscal year 2000-$58,000,000.*
- (c) State fiscal year 2001-$63,000,000.*
- (d) State fiscal year 2002-$70,000,000.*
- (e) State fiscal year 2003-$77,000,000.*

V. In no event shall the financial obligation of any county for reimbursement of funds pursuant to paragraph I for state fiscal year 1999 exceed the amount that the county otherwise would have had to pay pursuant to paragraph I if this section were not effective prior to July 1, 1999.

VI. For purposes of this section all expenditures shall include all reimbursements made for medicaid services, including but not limited to, payments for skilled nursing, hospital, physician and pharmaceutical services.

9 Local Medical Assistance Contribution. Amend RSA 167:18-f to read as follows:

167:18-f Local Medical Assistance Contribution. In addition to any other reimbursement required by law, each county shall, within 60 days from notice thereof, reimburse the public assistance fund at the rate of $6 per month for each recipient of old age assistance and $23 per month for each recipient of aid to the permanently and totally disabled for whom the county would be liable under the provisions of RSA 166, except that no reimbursement shall be required for any recipient for whom the county has an obligation under RSA 167:18-b.

10 County Approval Required. Sections 8 and 9 of this act shall not take effect unless both are approved by the legislative body of each of the state's counties on or before December 31, 1998. The chairman of the board of county commissioners in each county shall notify the commissioner of health and human services of the date when such approval occurs, but no later than January 15, 1999. The commissioner of health and human services shall notify the director of legislative services of the date the commissioner receives notification of all 10 counties' approval.

11 New Subdivision; Long-Term Care Assistance Fund Established. Amend RSA 167 by inserting after section 93 the following new subdivision:

Long-Term Care Assistance Fund

167:94 Long-Term Care Assistance Fund.

I. There is hereby established in the office of the state treasurer a fund to be known as the long-term care assistance fund. The sum of $1,000,000 is hereby appropriated to the long-term care assistance fund and such sum may be encumbered or expended during fiscal year 1999. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

II. For fiscal year 1999, payments from the proportionate share funds and any surplus carried forward from previous years shall be expended in accordance with the following priorities:

(a) All appropriations under 1995, 310:63 and 1997, 350:1, 05, 350:11 and 351:5 to accounts within the department of health and human services.

(b) Reimbursement from unappropriated proportionate share funds to the general fund for the $1,000,000 expenditure.

(c) Up to an additional $3,000,000 shall be deposited in and is hereby appropriated to the long-term care assistance fund.

III. The state treasurer shall invest and reinvest the assets of the fund in accordance with law, and the principal assets and accumulated income in the fund shall be nonlapsing and shall be continuously appropriated to the department of health and human services. The department shall not commit or expend any funds from the long-term care assistance fund, except as may be contained in an annual spending plan, without consultation with the oversight committee on health and human services and approval by the legislative fiscal committee.

167:95 Purposes of the Fund. The principal assets and interest earnings from the fund shall be used exclusively by the department of health and human services for the development of the community-based infrastructure needed to implement the community initiatives contained in the department's long-term care plan. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the funds authorized for expenditure shall not be reduced by any funds made available from other sources.

167:97 Restrictions on Support. In developing the community-based infrastructure pursuant to RSA 169:95 or in any other program, the department shall act as a single state agency on aging and shall not establish or provide support to area agencies on aging.

If the waiver is approved then the commissioner shall adopt rules pursuant to RSA 541-A, to implement this program.

14 Requests for Amendment to Waiver. Except as otherwise provided in this act, the department of health and human services shall not request any amendment to the medicaid home and community-based care waiver for the elderly and chronically ill that on a net basis increases costs, without prior notice to all county commissioners, consultation with the oversight committee on health and human services, and prior approval of the legislative fiscal committee.

Rep. Mary Brown moved Ought to Pass with Amendment and offered a floor amendment.

Floor Amendment (2404h)

Amend the title of the resolution by replacing it with the following:

RELATING TO: the state's responsibility to provide to all citizens the opportunity for a public education.

PROVIDING THAT: the general court shall have the exclusive authority to determine the content, extent, and funding of a public education and that the state may fulfill its responsibility to provide to all citizens the opportunity for a public education by exercising its power to levy assessments, rates, and taxes, or by delegating this power, in whole or part, to a political subdivision, provided that upon delegation, such assessments, rates, and taxes are proportional and reasonable throughout the state or the political subdivision in which they are imposed.

Amend the resolution by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

I. That article 83 of the second part of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

[Art.] 83. [Encouragement of Literature, etc.; Control of Corporations, Monopolies, etc.; Exclusive Authority of General Court to Determine Content, Extent, and Funding of Public Education; State's Responsibility to Provide for Public Education; Powers; Duties; Delegation.] Knowledge and learning, generally diffused through a community, being essential to the preservation of a free government; and spreading the opportunities and advantages of education through the various parts of the country, being highly conducive to promote this end; it shall be the duty of the legislators and magistrates, in all future periods of this government, to cherish the interest of literature and the sciences, and all seminaries and public schools, to encourage private and public institutions, rewards, and immunities for the promotion of agriculture, arts, sciences, commerce, trades, manufactures, and natural history of the country; to countenance and inculcate the principles of humanity and general benevolence, public and private charity, industry and economy, honesty and punctuality, sincerity, sobriety, and all social affections, and generous sentiments, among the people: Provided, nevertheless, that no money raised by taxation shall ever be granted or applied for the use of the schools of institutions of any religious sect or denomination. Free and fair competition in the trades and industries is an inherent and essential right of the people and should be protected against all monopolies and conspiracies which tend to hinder or destroy it. The size and functions of all corporations should be so limited and regulated as to prohibit fictitious capitalization and provision should be made for the supervision and government thereof. Therefore, all just power possessed by the state is hereby granted to the general court to enact laws to prevent the operations within the state of all persons and associations, and all trusts and corporations, foreign or domestic, and the officers thereof, who endeavor to raise the price of any article of commerce or to destroy free and fair competition in the trades and industries through combination, conspiracy, monopoly, or any other unfair means; to control and regulate the acts of all such persons, associations, corporations, trusts, and officials doing business within the state; to prevent fictitious capitalization; and to authorize civil and criminal proceedings in respect to all the wrongs herein declared against.

The general court shall have the responsibility to provide to all citizens of the state the opportunity to receive a public education, and in furtherance thereof, it shall have the exclusive authority to determine and set forth the content, the extent, and the funding of that education. The general court shall fulfill its responsibility directly or in concert with its political subdivisions through the exercise of its power to make, ordain, and establish all manner of wholesome and reasonable orders, laws, statutes, ordinances, directions, and instructions. The general court shall provide for the funding of said education through its power to directly impose and levy assessments, rates, and taxes, or through a delegation of such power, in whole or in part, to the political subdivisions of the state, provided that the resulting assessments, rates, and taxes are fair and proportional throughout the state or political subdivision whose legislative body imposes the assessment, rate, or tax. Nothing in this article shall be construed to limit the amount the state or any political subdivision may expend on the funding of education or to deny, disparage, or infringe any other right of the people as set forth elsewhere in this constitution.

II. That the above amendment proposed to the constitution be submitted to the qualified voters of the state at the state general election to be held in November, 1998.

III. That the selectmen of all towns, cities, wards and places in the state are directed to insert in their warrants for the said 1998 election an article to the following effect: To decide whether the amendments of the constitution proposed by the 1998 session of the general court shall be approved.

IV. That the wording of the question put to the qualified voters shall be: Are you in favor of amending article 83 of the constitution to include the following language: "The general court shall have the responsibility to provide to all citizens of the state the opportunity to receive a public education, and in furtherance thereof, it shall have the exclusive authority to determine and set forth the content, the extent, and the funding of that education. The general court shall fulfill its responsibility directly or in concert with its political subdivisions through the exercise of its power to make, ordain, and establish all manner of wholesome and reasonable orders, laws, statutes, ordinances, directions, and instructions. The general court shall provide for the funding of said education through its power to directly impose and levy assessments, rates, and taxes, or through a delegation of such power, in whole or in part, to the political subdivisions of the state, provided that the resulting assessments, rates, and taxes are fair and proportional throughout the state or political subdivision whose legislative body imposes the assessment, rate, or tax. Nothing in this article shall be construed to limit the amount the state or any political subdivision may expend on the funding of education or to deny, disparage, or infringe any other right of the people as set forth elsewhere in this constitution"?

V. That the secretary of state shall print the question to be submitted on a separate ballot or on the same ballot with other constitutional questions. The ballot containing the question shall include 2 squares next to the question allowing the voter to vote "Yes" or "No." If no cross is made in either of the squares, the ballot shall not be counted on the question. The outside of the ballot shall be the same as the regular official ballot except that the words "Questions Relating to Constitutional Amendments proposed by the 1998 General Court" shall be printed in bold type at the top of the ballot.

VI. That if the proposed amendment is approved by 2/3 of those voting on the amendment, it becomes effective when the governor proclaims its adoption.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This constitutional amendment concurrent resolution provides that the state may fulfill its responsibility to provide to all citizens the opportunity for a public education by exercising its power to levy assessments, rates, and taxes or by delegating this power, in whole or in part, to a political subdivision provided that upon delegation, such assessments, rates, and taxes are proportional and reasonable throughout the political subdivision in which they are imposed, and that the general court shall have the exclusive authority to determine and set forth the content, extent, and funding of public education in this state.

(Speaker Sytek in the Chair)

CACR 45, relating to the state's responsibility to provide to all citizens the opportunity for a public education. Providing that the general court shall have the exclusive authority to determine the content, extent, and funding of a public education and that the state may fulfill its responsibility to provide to all citizens the opportunity for a public education by exercising its power to levy assessments, rates, and taxes, or by delegating this power, in whole or part, to a political subdivision, provided that upon delegation, such assessments, rates and taxes are proportional and reasonable throughout the state or the political subdivision in which they are imposed. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT

Rep. Neal M. Kurk for Finance: This proposed amendment to CACR 45 achieves four important objectives: 1) The amendment restores the rights of the people and their elected officials to decide matters of educational policy and funding by restricting the opportunities for perpetual court intervention. This provision helps New Hampshire avoid the years of litigation which have caused well-publicized problems in many other states. 2) The amendment binds the state to providing at least $225 million in state aid to public education every year, beginning in fiscal year 2001. Current state aid for education totals about $127 million. This increase would be the largest in state history. State aid could go higher in any year, but could not fall below the baseline set in the amendment. Local districts could use state education aid for school spending, for property tax relief or for a combination of both. 3) The amendment clearly establishes local control over education decisions in all areas except those where explicit state law is written. 4) The amendment expressly preserves the protections from unfunded mandates afforded by article 28-A. Vote 13-7.

Amendment (2378h)

Amend the title of the resolution by replacing it with the following:

RELATING TO: state funding of public education.

PROVIDING THAT: beginning in fiscal year 2001, and every fiscal year thereafter, the state shall provide no less than $225,000,000 in support of primary and secondary public education; judicial review of the state's duties with regard to education is restricted to the funding level provision of the proposed amendment; taxes imposed by a political subdivision in support of public education need be proportional and reasonable only throughout that part of the city, town, or unincorporated place within such political subdivision from which they are collected; and matters pertaining to primary and secondary public education shall be determined locally.

Amend the resolution by replacing paragraph I with the following:

I. That article 83 of the second part of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

[Art.] 83. [Encouragement of Literature, etc.; Control of Corporations, Monopolies, etc.; State Funding of Primary and Secondary Public Education; Judicial Review; Taxes Imposed by Political Subdivisions to be Reasonable and Proportional; Local Authority Over Educational Matters.]

Knowledge and learning, generally diffused through a community, being essential to the preservation of a free government; and spreading the opportunities and advantages of education through the various parts of the country, being highly conducive to promote this end; it shall be the duty of the legislators and magistrates, in all future periods of this government, to cherish the interest of literature and the sciences, and all seminaries and public schools, to encourage private and public institutions, rewards, and immunities for the promotion of agriculture, arts, sciences, commerce, trades, manufactures, and natural history of the country; to countenance and inculcate the principles of humanity and general benevolence, public and private charity, industry and economy, honesty and punctuality, sincerity, sobriety, and all social affections, and generous sentiments, among the people: Provided, nevertheless, that no money raised by taxation shall ever be granted or applied for the use of the schools of institutions of any religious sect or denomination. Free and fair competition in the trades and industries is an inherent and essential right of the people and should be protected against all monopolies and conspiracies which tend to hinder or destroy it. The size and functions of all corporations should be so limited and regulated as to prohibit fictitious capitalization and provision should be made for the supervision and government thereof. Therefore, all just power possessed by the state is hereby granted to the general court to enact laws to prevent the operations within the state of all persons and associations, and all trusts and corporations, foreign or domestic, and the officers thereof, who endeavor to raise the price of any article of commerce or to destroy free and fair competition in the trades and industries through combination, conspiracy, monopoly, or any other unfair means; to control and regulate the acts of all such persons, associations, corporations, trusts, and officials doing business within the state; to prevent fictitious capitalization; and to authorize civil and criminal proceedings in respect to all the wrongs herein declared against.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this constitution, the state's duty to cherish the interest of literature and the sciences, and all seminaries and public schools, shall be governed exclusively by the provisions of this paragraph. Beginning in fiscal year 2001 and in each fiscal year thereafter, in support of primary and secondary public education, the state shall appropriate and expend not less than $225,000,000. Judicial review and enforcement of such duty shall be restricted only to the provisions of the preceding sentence. The specific purposes and method of distribution of such expenditure shall be determined by statute. Taxes imposed by political subdivisions of the state for support of primary and secondary public education need be proportional and reasonable only throughout that part of the city, town, or unincorporated place within such political subdivision from which they are collected. All matters pertaining to primary and secondary public education shall be determined by the legally constituted authority of the local district providing such education, except as otherwise prescribed by statute in accordance with part I, article 28-a of this constitution.

Amend the resolution by replacing paragraph IV with the following:

IV. That the wording of the question put to the qualified voters shall be: Are you in favor of amending article 83 of the second part of the constitution to provide that, regardless of anything else in the constitution:

Starting in the year 2000, the state will fund an amount not less than $225,000,000 each year for the purpose of discharging its duty toward public primary and secondary education;

The purpose and manner of distribution of this amount will be determined by law;

That local government will control all aspects of such education except those the state assumes by law, subject to the unfunded mandate protection provided in the constitution,

Local taxes used to support education shall be reasonable and proportional within the community where they are imposed; and

The court review and enforcement of the state's duty will be restricted to the funding level provision of the proposed amendment, which states:

"Notwithstanding any other provision of this constitution, the state's duty to cherish the interest of literature and the sciences, and all seminaries and public schools, shall be governed exclusively by the provisions of this paragraph. Beginning in fiscal year 2001 and in each fiscal year thereafter, in support of primary and secondary public education, the state shall appropriate and expend not less than $225,000,000. Judicial review and enforcement of such duty shall be restricted only to the provisions of the preceding sentence. The specific purposes and method of distribution of such expenditure shall be determined by statute. Taxes imposed by political subdivisions of the state for support of primary and secondary public education need be proportional and reasonable only throughout that part of the city, town, or unincorporated place within such political subdivision from which they are collected. All matters pertaining to primary and secondary public education shall be determined by the legally constituted authority of the local district providing such education, except as otherwise prescribed by statute in accordance with part I, article 28-a of this constitution?"

AMENDED ANALYSIS

The constitutional amendment-concurrent resolution requires that beginning in fiscal year 2001, and every year thereafter, the state shall provide no less than $225,000,000 in support of primary and secondary public education; restricts judicial review of the state's duties with regard to education to the funding level provision of the proposed amendment; requires that taxes imposed by a political subdivision in support of public education need be proportional and reasonable only throughout that part of the city, town, or unincorporated place within such political subdivision from which they are collected; and requires that matters pertaining to primary and secondary public education shall be determined locally.

Rep. Franks offered a floor amendment.

Floor Amendment (2382h)

Amend the title of the resolution by replacing it with the following:

RELATING TO: the state's responsibility to provide for full funding of foundation aid to education.

PROVIDING THAT: the general court shall ensure that sufficient funds are appropriated to provide for full funding of foundation aid to education, and ensure that proportionality and reasonableness of the local property tax effort to provide funding for primary and secondary public education is required statewide.

Amend the resolution by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

I. That article 83 of the second part of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

[Art.] 83. [Encouragement of Literature, etc.; Control of Corporations, Monopolies, etc.; State's Responsibility to Provide For Full Funding of Foundation Aid to Education.] Knowledge and learning, generally diffused through a community, being essential to the preservation of a free government; and spreading the opportunities and advantages of education through the various parts of the country, being highly conducive to promote this end; it shall be the duty of the legislators and magistrates, in all future periods of this government, to cherish the interest of literature and the sciences, and all seminaries and public schools, to encourage private and public institutions, rewards, and immunities for the promotion of agriculture, arts, sciences, commerce, trades, manufactures, and natural history of the country; to countenance and inculcate the principles of humanity and general benevolence, public and private charity, industry and economy, honesty and punctuality, sincerity, sobriety, and all social affections, and generous sentiments, among the people: Provided, nevertheless, that no money raised by taxation shall ever be granted or applied for the use of the schools of institutions of any religious sect or denomination. Free and fair competition in the trades and industries is an inherent and essential right of the people and should be protected against all monopolies and conspiracies which tend to hinder or destroy it. The size and functions of all corporations should be so limited and regulated as to prohibit fictitious capitalization and provision should be made for the supervision and government thereof. Therefore, all just power possessed by the state is hereby granted to the general court to enact laws to prevent the operations within the state of all persons and associations, and all trusts and corporations, foreign or domestic, and the officers thereof, who endeavor to raise the price of any article of commerce or to destroy free and fair competition in the trades and industries through combination, conspiracy, monopoly, or any other unfair means; to control and regulate the acts of all such persons, associations, corporations, trusts, and officials doing business within the state; to prevent fictitious capitalization; and to authorize civil and criminal proceedings in respect to all the wrongs herein declared against.

In furtherance of its obligation to cherish the interests of public schools, the general court shall, through the exercise of its power to make, ordain, and establish all manner of wholesome and reasonable orders, laws, statutes, ordinances, directions, and instructions, and periodically review the same, ensure that sufficient funds are appropriated to provide for full funding of foundation aid to education and ensure that proportionality and reasonableness of the local property tax effort to provide funding for primary and secondary public education is required statewide.

II. That the above amendment proposed to the constitution be submitted to the qualified voters of the state at the state general election to be held in November, 1998.

III. That the selectmen of all towns, cities, wards and places in the state are directed to insert in their warrants for the said 1998 election an article to the following effect: To decide whether the amendments of the constitution proposed by the 1998 session of the general court shall be approved.

IV. That the wording of the question put to the qualified voters shall be: Are you in favor of amending article 83 of the constitution to include the following language: "In furtherance of its obligation to cherish the interests of public schools, the general court shall, through the exercise of its power to make, ordain, and establish all manner of wholesome and reasonable orders, laws, statutes, ordinances, directions, and instructions, and periodically review the same, ensure that sufficient funds are appropriated to provide for full funding of foundation aid to education and ensure that proportionality and reasonableness of the local property tax effort to provide funding for primary and secondary public education is required statewide."

V. That the secretary of state shall print the question to be submitted on a separate ballot or on the same ballot with other constitutional questions. The ballot containing the question shall include 2 squares next to the question allowing the voter to vote "Yes" or "No." If no cross is made in either of the squares, the ballot shall not be counted on the question. The outside of the ballot shall be the same as the regular official ballot except that the words "Questions Relating to Constitutional Amendments proposed by the 1998 General Court" shall be printed in bold type at the top of the ballot.

VI. That if the proposed amendment is approved by 2/3 of those voting on the amendment, it becomes effective when the governor proclaims its adoption.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This constitutional amendment concurrent resolution provides that the general court shall ensure that sufficient funds are appropriated to fully fund foundation aid to education, and that proportionality and reasonableness of the local property tax effort to provide funding for primary and secondary public education is required statewide.

and the Franks floor amendment failed.

Rep. Alger offered a floor amendment.

Floor Amendment (2389h)

Amend the title of the resolution by replacing it with the following:

RELATING TO: state funding of public education.

PROVIDING THAT: beginning in fiscal year 2001, and every fiscal year thereafter, the state shall provide no less than $225,000,000 in support of primary and secondary public education; judicial review of the state's duties with regard to education is restricted to the funding level provision of the proposed amendment; taxes imposed by a political subdivision in support of public education need be proportional and reasonable only throughout that part of the city, town, or unincorporated place within such political subdivision from which they are collected; and matters pertaining to primary and secondary public education shall be determined locally.

Amend the resolution by replacing paragraph I with the following:

I. That article 83 of the second part of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

[Art.] 83. [Encouragement of Literature, etc.; Control of Corporations, Monopolies, etc.; State Funding of Primary and Secondary Public Education; Judicial Review; Taxes Imposed by Political Subdivisions to be Reasonable and Proportional; Local Authority Over Educational Matters.] Knowledge and learning, generally diffused through a community, being essential to the preservation of a free government; and spreading the opportunities and advantages of education through the various parts of the country, being highly conducive to promote this end; it shall be the duty of the legislators and magistrates, in all future periods of this government, to cherish the interest of literature and the sciences, and all seminaries and public schools, to encourage private and public institutions, rewards, and immunities for the promotion of agriculture, arts, sciences, commerce, trades, manufactures, and natural history of the country; to countenance and inculcate the principles of humanity and general benevolence, public and private charity, industry and economy, honesty and punctuality, sincerity, sobriety, and all social affections, and generous sentiments, among the people: Provided, nevertheless, that no money raised by taxation shall ever be granted or applied for the use of the schools of institutions of any religious sect or denomination. Free and fair competition in the trades and industries is an inherent and essential right of the people and should be protected against all monopolies and conspiracies which tend to hinder or destroy it. The size and functions of all corporations should be so limited and regulated as to prohibit fictitious capitalization and provision should be made for the supervision and government thereof. Therefore, all just power possessed by the state is hereby granted to the general court to enact laws to prevent the operations within the state of all persons and associations, and all trusts and corporations, foreign or domestic, and the officers thereof, who endeavor to raise the price of any article of commerce or to destroy free and fair competition in the trades and industries through combination, conspiracy, monopoly, or any other unfair means; to control and regulate the acts of all such persons, associations, corporations, trusts, and officials doing business within the state; to prevent fictitious capitalization; and to authorize civil and criminal proceedings in respect to all the wrongs herein declared against.

Notwithstanding any other provision of part second of this constitution, the state's duty to cherish the interest of literature and the sciences, and all seminaries and public schools, shall be governed exclusively by the provisions of this paragraph. Beginning in fiscal year 2001 and in each fiscal year thereafter, in support of primary and secondary public education, the state shall appropriate and expend not less than $225,000,000. Judicial review and enforcement of such duty shall be restricted only to the provisions of the preceding sentence. The specific purposes and method of distribution of such expenditure shall be determined by statute. Taxes imposed by political subdivisions of the state for support of primary and secondary public education need be proportional and reasonable only throughout that part of the city, town, or unincorporated place within such political subdivision from which they are collected. All matters pertaining to primary and secondary public education shall be determined by the legally constituted authority of the local district providing such education, except as otherwise prescribed by statute in accordance with part I, article 28-a of this constitution.

Amend the resolution by replacing paragraph IV with the following:

IV. That the wording of the question put to the qualified voters shall be: Are you in favor of amending article 83 of the second part of the constitution to provide that, notwithstanding any other provision of part second of the constitution:

Starting in the year 2000, the state will fund an amount not less than $225,000,000 each year for the purpose of discharging its duty toward public primary and secondary education;

The purpose and manner of distribution of this amount will be determined by law;

That local government will control all aspects of such education except those the state assumes by law, subject to the unfunded mandate protection provided in the constitution,

Local taxes used to support education shall be reasonable and proportional within the community where they are imposed; and

The court review and enforcement of the state's duty will be restricted to the funding level provision of the proposed amendment, which states:

"Notwithstanding any other provision of part second of this constitution, the state's duty to cherish the interest of literature and the sciences, and all seminaries and public schools, shall be governed exclusively by the provisions of this paragraph. Beginning in fiscal year 2001 and in each fiscal year thereafter, in support of primary and secondary public education, the state shall appropriate and expend not less than $225,000,000. Judicial review and enforcement of such duty shall be restricted only to the provisions of the preceding sentence. All matters pertaining to primary and secondary public education shall be determined by the legally constituted authority of the local district providing such education, except as otherwise prescribed by statute in accordance with part I, article 28-a of this constitution?"

PROVIDING THAT: notwithstanding that portion of the New Hampshire supreme court's decision in Claremont School District v. Governor, dated December 17, 1997, which imposed on the general court an end of the 1998 tax year deadline for creating and implementing a new system of funding public education, the deadline shall be extended to April 1, 2000 in order that the general court be given a reasonable time to effect an orderly transition to a new system of funding public education.

I. That the second part of the constitution be amended by inserting after article 8 the following new article:

[Art.] 8-a. [Applicability of Supreme Court's Public School Funding Decision]. Notwithstanding that portion of the decision of the supreme court of this state in Claremont School District v. Governor, dated December 17, 1997, found in the New Hampshire Reports, volume 142, page 462, which imposed on the general court the end of the 1998 tax year as a deadline for action, and in

PROTEST

Pursuant to Part 2, Article 24 of the New Hampshire Constitution, Rep. Loren Jean requested that his protest, and that of the undersigned members, be entered on the Journal.

I (we) have voted today in favor of the passage of CACR 45. I have done so despite my serious concerns about placing something as temporal as the $225 million funding level in our Constitution, a document of principle, because I believe that it is important to put the question of legislative jurisdiction and school funding before the citizens of New Hampshire this November in the general election.

Floor Amendment (2454h)

Amend the title of the resolution by replacing it with the following:

RELATING TO: the state's duty to assure the opportunity for an adequate primary and secondary public education to all pupils in the state.

PROVIDING THAT: the state shall have the duty to assure the opportunity for an adequate primary and secondary public education to all pupils in the state; in fulfillment of which, the state may require the cost of such education to be supported by taxes assessed by the political subdivisions of the state; such taxes shall be reasonable and proportional throughout the part of the political subdivision in which they are collected, provided that no political subdivision shall be required to assess real estate taxes for such purpose at a rate in excess of 5 percent of the average equalized rate necessary to support the total statewide cost of an adequate primary and secondary public education, and that all matters pertaining to primary and secondary public education shall be determined by the legally constituted authority of the local district providing such education.

Amend the resolution by replacing all after the resolving clause with the following:

I. That article 83 of the second part of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

[Art.] 83. [Encouragement of Literature, etc.; Control of Corporations, Monopolies, etc.; State's Duty to Assure the Opportunity for an Adequate Primary and Secondary Public Education; Taxes Imposed by Political Subdivisions.] Knowledge and learning, generally diffused through a community, being essential to the preservation of a free government; and spreading the opportunities and advantages of education through the various parts of the country, being highly conducive to promote this end; it shall be the duty of the legislators and magistrates, in all future periods of this government, to cherish the interest of literature and the sciences, and all seminaries and public schools, to encourage private and public institutions, rewards, and immunities for the promotion of agriculture, arts, sciences, commerce, trades, manufactures, and natural history of the country; to countenance and inculcate the principles of humanity and general benevolence, public and private charity, industry and economy, honesty and punctuality, sincerity, sobriety, and all social affections, and generous sentiments, among the people: Provided, nevertheless, that no money raised by taxation shall ever be granted or applied for the use of the schools of institutions of any religious sect or denomination. Free and fair competition in the trades and industries is an inherent and essential right of the people and should be protected against all monopolies and conspiracies which tend to hinder or destroy it. The size and functions of all corporations should be so limited and regulated as to prohibit fictitious capitalization and provision should be made for the supervision and government thereof. Therefore, all just power possessed by the state is hereby granted to the general court to enact laws to prevent the operations within the state of all persons and associations, and all trusts and corporations, foreign or domestic, and the officers thereof, who endeavor to raise the price of any article of commerce or to destroy free and fair competition in the trades and industries through combination, conspiracy, monopoly, or any other unfair means; to control and regulate the acts of all such persons, associations, corporations, trusts, and officials doing business within the state; to prevent fictitious capitalization; and to authorize civil and criminal proceedings in respect to all the wrongs herein declared against.

The state's duty to support public education shall be governed exclusively by the provisions of this paragraph. Judicial review and enforcement of such duty shall be restricted only to the provisions of this paragraph. It shall be the duty of the state to assure the opportunity for an adequate primary and secondary public education to all pupils in the state. The specific nature and means of fulfilling such duty shall be determined by statute, which shall be upheld if reasonably related to the fulfillment thereof. The state may require the cost of such education to be supported by taxes assessed by political subdivisions of the state, which shall be reasonable and proportional throughout the part of the political subdivision in which they are collected, provided that no political subdivision shall be required to assess real estate taxes for such purpose at a rate more than 5 percent higher than the average equalized rate necessary to support the total statewide cost of adequate primary and secondary public education, as determined by statute. All matters pertaining to primary and secondary public education shall be determined by the legally constituted authority of the local district providing such education, except as otherwise prescribed by statute in accordance with part 1, article 28-a of this constitution. Nothing in this article shall be construed to limit the amount the state or any political subdivision may expend for the purpose of education, or to deny, disparage, or infringe any other right of the people as set forth elsewhere in this constitution.

II. That the above amendment proposed to the constitution be submitted to the qualified voters of the state at the state general election to be held in November, 1998.

III. That the selectmen of all towns, cities, wards and places in the state are directed to insert in their warrants for the said 1998 election an article to the following effect: To decide whether the amendments of the constitution proposed by the 1998 session of the general court shall be approved.

IV. That the wording of the question put to the qualified voters shall be:

Are you in favor of amending the Constitution by adding a new paragraph which:

1. Limits local school property tax rates that the state may require for supporting adequate education to no more than 5 percent above the state average tax rate for such taxes; and

2. Defines the state's duty to support public education as the duty "to assure the opportunity for an adequate primary and secondary public education to all pupils in the state; and

3. Prescribes that this duty will be carried out through laws passed by the legislature, subject to approval by the governor; and

4. Requires that such laws be upheld by the courts if they are reasonably related to fulfilling this duty; and

5. Permits the cost of such education to continue to be supported by local school property taxes which are reasonable and proportional throughout that part of the political subdivision in which they are collected; and

6. Authorizes local school districts to determine all matters pertaining to primary and secondary education, except such matters determined by state laws which provide funds for any newly-imposed requirements; and

7. Makes clear that this new paragraph is not intended to restrict amounts the state or any local district may spend for education, or to affect constitutional rights other than the state's duty to support public education; and that such new paragraph shall read as follows:

"The state's duty to support public education shall be governed exclusively by the provisions of this paragraph. Judicial review and enforcement of such duty shall be restricted only to the provisions of this paragraph. It shall be the duty of the state to assure the opportunity for an adequate primary and secondary public education to all pupils in the state. The specific nature and means of fulfilling such duty shall be determined by statute, which shall be upheld if reasonably related to the fulfillment thereof. The state may require the cost of such education to be supported by taxes assessed by political subdivisions of the state, which shall be reasonable and proportional throughout the part of the political subdivision in which they are collected, provided that no political subdivision shall be required to assess real estate taxes for such purpose at a rate more than 5 percent higher than the average equalized rate necessary to support the total statewide cost of adequate primary and secondary public education, as determined by statute. All matters pertaining to primary and secondary public education shall be determined by the legally constituted authority of the local district providing such education, except as otherwise prescribed by statute in accordance with part 1, article 28-a of this constitution. Nothing in this article shall be construed to limit the amount the state or any political subdivision may expend for the purpose of education, or to deny, disparage, or infringe any other right of the people as set forth elsewhere in this constitution?"

V. That the secretary of state shall print the question to be submitted on a separate ballot or on the same ballot with other constitutional questions. The ballot containing the question shall include 2 squares next to the question allowing the voter to vote "Yes" or "No." If no cross is made in either of the squares, the ballot shall not be counted on the question. The outside of the ballot shall be the same as the regular official ballot except that the words "Questions Relating to Constitutional Amendments proposed by the 1998 General Court" shall be printed in bold type at the top of the ballot.

VI. That if the proposed amendment is approved by 2/3 of those voting on the amendment, it becomes effective when the governor proclaims its adoption.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This constitutional amendment concurrent resolution provides:

1. That the state shall have the duty to assure the opportunity for an adequate primary and secondary public education to all pupils in the state.

2. The nature and means of fulfilling such duty shall be determined by statutory provisions, which shall be upheld if such statutes are reasonably related to fulfilling this duty.

3. That in fulfillment of this duty, the state may require the cost of such education to be supported by taxes assessed by the political subdivisions of the state.

4. That such taxes assessed in support of primary and secondary public education shall be reasonable and proportional throughout that part of the political subdivision in which they are collected, provided that no political subdivision shall be required to assess real estate taxes for such purpose at a rate in excess of 5 percent of the average equalized rate necessary to support the total statewide cost of an adequate primary and secondary public education.

5. That all matters pertaining to primary and secondary public education shall be determined by the legally constituted authority of the local district providing such education.

Amend the title of the resolution by replacing it with the following:

RELATING TO: the state's duty to assure the opportunity for an adequate primary and secondary public education to all pupils in the state.

PROVIDING THAT: the state shall have the duty to assure the opportunity for an adequate primary and secondary public education to all pupils in the state; in fulfillment of which, the state may require the cost of such education to be supported by taxes assessed by the political subdivisions of the state; such taxes shall be reasonable and proportional throughout the part of the political subdivision in which they are collected, provided that no political subdivision shall be required to assess real estate taxes for such purpose at a rate in excess of 5 percent of the average equalized rate necessary to support the total statewide cost of an adequate primary and secondary public education; that no political subdivision shall receive any additional state funding if such political subdivision enacts or maintains the enactment of any local laws, ordinances, rules, or regulations which are intended to or result in the restriction of reasonable economic growth or development within said political subdivision; and that all matters pertaining to primary and secondary public education shall be determined by the legally constituted authority of the local district providing such education.

Amend the resolution by replacing all after the resolving clause with the following:

I. That article 83 of the second part of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

[Art.] 83. [Encouragement of Literature, etc.; Control of Corporations, Monopolies, etc.; State's Duty to Assure the Opportunity for an Adequate Primary and Secondary Public Education; Taxes Imposed by Political Subdivisions; Effect of Local Restrictions on Reasonable Economic Growth and Development.] Knowledge and learning, generally diffused through a community, being essential to the preservation of a free government; and spreading the opportunities and advantages of education through the various parts of the country, being highly conducive to promote this end; it shall be the duty of the legislators and magistrates, in all future periods of this government, to cherish the interest of literature and the sciences, and all seminaries and public schools, to encourage private and public institutions, rewards, and immunities for the promotion of agriculture, arts, sciences, commerce, trades, manufactures, and natural history of the country; to countenance and inculcate the principles of humanity and general benevolence, public and private charity, industry and economy, honesty and punctuality, sincerity, sobriety, and all social affections, and generous sentiments, among the people: Provided, nevertheless, that no money raised by taxation shall ever be granted or applied for the use of the schools of institutions of any religious sect or denomination. Free and fair competition in the trades and industries is an inherent and essential right of the people and should be protected against all monopolies and conspiracies which tend to hinder or destroy it. The size and functions of all corporations should be so limited and regulated as to prohibit fictitious capitalization and provision should be made for the supervision and government thereof. Therefore, all just power possessed by the state is hereby granted to the general court to enact laws to prevent the operations within the state of all persons and associations, and all trusts and corporations, foreign or domestic, and the officers thereof, who endeavor to raise the price of any article of commerce or to destroy free and fair competition in the trades and industries through combination, conspiracy, monopoly, or any other unfair means; to control and regulate the acts of all such persons, associations, corporations, trusts, and officials doing business within the state; to prevent fictitious capitalization; and to authorize civil and criminal proceedings in respect to all the wrongs herein declared against.

The state's duty to support public education shall be governed exclusively by the provisions of this paragraph. Judicial review and enforcement of such duty shall be restricted only to the provisions of this paragraph. It shall be the duty of the state to assure the opportunity for an adequate primary and secondary public education to all pupils in the state. The specific nature and means of fulfilling such duty shall be determined by statute, which shall be upheld if reasonably related to the fulfillment thereof. The state may require the cost of such education to be supported by taxes assessed by political subdivisions of the state, which shall be reasonable and proportional throughout the part of the political subdivision in which they are collected, provided that no political subdivision shall be required to assess real estate taxes for such purpose at a rate more than 5 percent higher than the average equalized rate necessary to support the total statewide cost of adequate primary and secondary public education, as determined by statute. All matters pertaining to primary and secondary public education shall be determined by the legally constituted authority of the local district providing such education, except as otherwise prescribed by statute in accordance with part 1, article 28-a of this constitution; and provided that no political subdivision, including a school district or an area served by separate school districts, shall receive any additional state funding if such political subdivision enacts or maintains the enactment of any local laws, ordinances, rules, or regulations of any kind which are intended to, or result in, the restriction of reasonable economic growth or development within said political subdivision as determined by statute. Nothing in this article shall be construed to limit the amount the state or any political subdivision may expend for the purpose of education, or to deny, disparage, or infringe any other right of the people as set forth elsewhere in this constitution.

II. That the above amendment proposed to the constitution be submitted to the qualified voters of the state at the state general election to be held in November, 1998.

III. That the selectmen of all towns, cities, wards and places in the state are directed to insert in their warrants for the said 1998 election an article to the following effect: To decide whether the amendments of the constitution proposed by the 1998 session of the general court shall be approved.

IV. That the wording of the question put to the qualified voters shall be:
Are you in favor of amending the Constitution by adding a new paragraph which:

1. Limits local school property tax rates that the state may require for supporting adequate education to no more than 5 percent above the state average tax rate for such taxes; and

2. Defines the state's duty to support public education as the duty "to assure the opportunity for an adequate primary and secondary public education to all pupils in the state;" and

3. Prescribes that this duty will be carried out through laws passed by the legislature, subject to approval by the governor; and

4. Requires that such laws be upheld by the courts if they are reasonably related to fulfilling this duty; and

5. Permits the cost of such education to continue to be supported by local school property taxes which are reasonable and proportional throughout that part of the political subdivision in which they are collected; and

6. Authorizes local school districts to determine all matters pertaining to primary and secondary education, except such matters determined by state laws which provide funds for any newly-imposed requirements; and

7. Provides that no political subdivision shall receive any additional state funding if such political subdivision enacts or maintains any laws, ordinances, rules, or regulations which restrict reasonable economic growth or development; and

8. Makes clear that this new paragraph is not intended to restrict amounts the state or any local district may spend for education, or to affect constitutional rights other than the state's duty to support public education?

V. That the secretary of state shall print the question to be submitted on a separate ballot or on the same ballot with other constitutional questions. The ballot containing the question shall include 2 squares next to the question allowing the voter to vote "Yes" or "No." If no cross is made in either of the squares, the ballot shall not be counted on the question. The outside of the ballot shall be the same as the regular official ballot except that the words "Questions Relating to Constitutional Amendments proposed by the 1998 General Court" shall be printed in bold type at the top of the ballot.

VI. That if the proposed amendment is approved by 2/3 of those voting on the amendment, it becomes effective when the governor proclaims its adoption.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This constitutional amendment concurrent resolution provides:

1. That the state shall have the duty to assure the opportunity for an adequate primary and secondary public education to all pupils in the state.

2. The nature and means of fulfilling such duty shall be determined by statutory provisions, which shall be upheld if such statutes are reasonably related to fulfilling this duty.

3. That in fulfillment of this duty, the state may require the cost of such education to be supported by taxes assessed by the political subdivisions of the state.

4. That such taxes assessed in support of primary and secondary public education shall be reasonable and proportional throughout that part of the political subdivision in which they are collected, provided that no political subdivision shall be required to assess real estate taxes for such purpose at a rate in excess of 5 percent of the average equalized rate necessary to support the total statewide cost of an adequate primary and secondary public education.

5. That no political subdivision shall receive any additional state funding if such political subdivision enacts or maintains enactment of any local laws, ordinances, rules, or regulations of any kind which are intended to, or result in the restriction of reasonable economic growth or development within such political subdivision, as determined by statute.

RELATING TO: the collection of real estate taxes in support of public education.

PROVIDING THAT: in fulfilling its duty to support primary and secondary public education, the state may require the cost of such education to be supported by taxes assessed by the state and collected by political subdivisions of the state; that such taxes shall be equal in valuation and uniform in rate throughout the state, and that no political subdivision shall be required to collect real estate taxes at a rate in excess of 5 percent of the average equalized rate necessary to support the total statewide cost of an adequate primary and secondary public education.

Amend the resolution by replacing paragraph I with the following:

I. That article 83 of the second part of the constitution be amended to read as follows:
 [Art.] 83. [Encouragement of Literature, etc.; Control of Corporations, Monopolies, etc; State's Responsibility to Provide for Public Education; Delegation to Political Subdivisions.] Knowledge and learning, generally diffused through a community, being essential to the preservation of a free government; and spreading the opportunities and advantages of education through the various parts of the country, being highly conducive to promote this end; it shall be the duty of the legislators and magistrates, in all future periods of this government, to cherish the interest of literature and the sciences, and all seminaries and public schools, to encourage private and public institutions, rewards, and immunities for the promotion of agriculture, arts, sciences, commerce, trades, manufactures, and natural history of the country; to countenance and inculcate the principles of humanity and general benevolence, public and private charity, industry and economy, honesty and punctuality, sincerity, sobriety, and all social affections, and generous sentiments, among the people: Provided, nevertheless, that no money raised by taxation shall ever be granted or applied for the use of the schools of institutions of any religious sect or denomination. Free and fair competition in the trades and industries is an inherent and essential right of the people and should be protected against all monopolies and conspiracies which tend to hinder or destroy it. The size and functions of all corporations should be so limited and regulated as to prohibit fictitious capitalization and provision should be made for the supervision and government thereof. Therefore, all just power possessed by the state is hereby granted to the general court to enact laws to prevent the operations within the state of all persons and associations, and all trusts and corporations, foreign or domestic, and the officers thereof, who endeavor to raise the price of any article of commerce or to destroy free and fair competition in the trades and industries through combination, conspiracy, monopoly, or any other unfair means; to control and regulate the acts of all such persons, associations, corporations, trusts, and officials doing business within the state; to prevent fictitious capitalization; and to authorize civil and criminal proceedings in respect to all the wrongs herein declared against.

In fulfilling the state's duty to support public education, the state may require the cost of such education to be supported by taxes assessed by the state and collected by political subdivisions of the state. Nothing in this article shall be construed to limit the amount the state or any political subdivision may expend for the purpose of public education.

Amend the resolution by replacing paragraph IV with the following:

IV. That the wording of the question put to the qualified voters shall be: Are you in favor of amending article 83 of the constitution to provide that:

"In fulfilling the state's duty to support public education, the state may require the cost of such education to be supported by taxes assessed by the state and collected by political subdivisions of the state. [Art.] 5 [Power to Make Laws, Elect Officers, Define Their Powers and Duties, Impose Fines and Assess Taxes; Prohibited from Authorizing Towns to Aid Certain Corporations.] And further, full power and authority are hereby given and granted to the said general court, from time to time, to make, ordain, and establish, all manner of wholesome and reasonable orders, laws, statutes, ordinances, directions, and instructions, either with penalties, or without, so as the same be not repugnant or contrary to this constitution, as they may judge for the benefit and welfare of this state, and for the governing and ordering thereof, and of the subjects of the same, for the necessary support and defense of the government thereof, and to name and settle biennially, or provide by fixed laws for the naming and settling, all civil officers within this state, such officers excepted, the election and appointment of whom are hereafter in this form of government otherwise provided for; and to set forth the several duties, powers, and limits, of the several civil and military officers of this state, and the forms of such oaths or affirmations as shall be respectively administered unto them, for the execution of their several offices and places, so as the same be not repugnant or contrary to this constitution; and also to impose fines, mulcts, imprisonments, and other punishments, and to impose and levy proportional and reasonable assessments, rates, and taxes, upon all the inhabitants of, and residents within, the said state; and upon all estates within the same, provided that property taxes shall not be used to fund public education; to be issued and disposed of by warrant, under the hand of the governor of this state for the time being, with the advice and consent of the council, for the public service, in the necessary defense and support of the government of this state, and the protection and preservation of the subjects thereof, according to such acts as are, or shall be, in force within the same; provided that the general court shall not authorize any town to loan or give its money or credit directly or indirectly for the benefit of any corporation having for its object a dividend of profits or in any way aid the same by taking its stocks or bonds. For the purpose of encouraging conservation of the forest resources of the state, the general court may provide for special assessments, rates and taxes on growing wood and timber.

II. That article 83 of the second part of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

[Art.] 83. [Encouragement of Literature, etc.; Control of Corporations, Monopolies, etc.; State's Duty to Assure the Opportunity for an Adequate Primary and Secondary Public Education; Taxes Imposed by Political Subdivisions.] Knowledge and learning, generally diffused through a community, being essential to the preservation of a free government; and spreading the opportunities and advantages of education through the various parts of the country, being highly conducive to promote this end; it shall be the duty of the legislators and magistrates, in all future periods of this government, to cherish the interest of literature and the sciences, and all seminaries and public schools, to encourage private and public institutions, rewards, and immunities for the promotion of agriculture, arts, sciences, commerce, trades, manufactures, and natural history of the country; to countenance and inculcate the principles of humanity and general benevolence, public and private charity, industry and economy, honesty and punctuality, sincerity, sobriety, and all social affections, and generous sentiments, among the people: Provided, nevertheless, that no money raised by taxation shall ever be granted or applied for the use of the schools of institutions of any religious sect or denomination. Free and fair competition in the trades and industries is an inherent and essential right of the people and should be protected against all monopolies and conspiracies which tend to hinder or destroy it. The size and functions of all corporations should be so limited and regulated as to prohibit fictitious capitalization and provision should be made for the supervision and government thereof. Therefore, all just power possessed by the state is hereby granted to the general court to enact laws to prevent the operations within the state of all persons and associations, and all trusts and corporations, foreign or domestic, and the officers thereof, who endeavor to raise the price of any article of commerce or to destroy free and fair competition in the trades and industries through combination, conspiracy, monopoly, or any other unfair means; to control and regulate the acts of all such persons, associations, corporations, trusts, and officials doing business within the state; to prevent fictitious capitalization; and to authorize civil and criminal proceedings in respect to all the wrongs herein declared against.

The state's duty to support public education shall be governed exclusively by the provisions of this paragraph. Judicial review and enforcement of such duty shall be restricted only to the provisions of this paragraph. It shall be the duty of the state to assure the opportunity for an adequate primary and secondary public education to all pupils in the state. The specific nature and means of fulfilling such duty shall be determined by statute, which shall be upheld if reasonably related to the fulfillment thereof. The state may require the cost of such education to be supported by taxes assessed by political subdivisions of the state, which shall be reasonable and proportional throughout the part of the political subdivision in which they are collected, provided that no political subdivision shall be required to assess real estate taxes for such purpose at a rate more than 5 percent higher than the average equalized rate necessary to support the total statewide cost of adequate primary and secondary public education, as determined by statute. All matters pertaining to primary and secondary public education shall be determined by the legally constituted authority of the local district providing such education, except as otherwise prescribed by statute in accordance with part 1, article 28-a of this constitution. Nothing in this article shall be construed to limit the amount the state or any political subdivision may expend for the purpose of education, or to deny, disparage, or infringe any other right of the people as set forth elsewhere in this constitution.

III. That article 100 of the second part of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

[Art.] 100 [Alternate Methods of Proposing Amendments.] Amendments to this constitution may be proposed by the general court or by a constitutional convention selected as herein provided.

(a) The senate and house of representatives, voting separately, may propose amendments by a three-fifths vote of the entire membership of each house at any session.

(b) The general court, by an affirmative vote of a majority of all members of both houses voting separately, may at any time submit the question "Shall there be a convention to amend or revise the constitution?" to the qualified voters of the state. If the question of holding a convention is not submitted to the people at some time during any period of ten years, it shall be submitted by the secretary of state at the general election in the tenth year following the last submission. If a majority of the qualified voters voting on the question of holding a convention approves it, delegates shall be chosen at the next regular general election, or at such earlier time as the legislature may provide, in the same manner and proportion as the representatives to the general court are chosen. The delegates so chosen shall convene at such time as the legislature may direct and may recess from time to time and make such rules for the conduct of their convention as they may determine.

(c) The constitutional convention may propose amendments by a three-fifths vote of the entire membership of the convention.

Each constitutional amendment proposed by the general court or by a constitutional convention shall be submitted to the voters by written ballot at the next biennial November election and shall become a part of the Constitution only after approval by two-thirds of the qualified voters present and voting on the subject in the towns, wards, and unincorporated places. If constitutional amendments approved by 2/3's of the voters at an election conflict, the constitutional amendment which receives the most votes shall prevail.

IV. That the above amendment proposed to the constitution be submitted to the qualified voters of the state at the state general election to be held in November, 1998.

V. That the selectmen of all towns, cities, wards and places in the state are directed to insert in their warrants for the said 1998 election an article to the following effect: To decide whether the amendments of the constitution proposed by the 1998 session of the general court shall be approved.

VI. That the wording of the question put to the qualified voters shall be:

Are you in favor of amending the Constitution by adding a new paragraph which:

1. Limits local school property tax rates that the state may require for supporting adequate education to no more than 5 percent above the state average tax rate for such taxes; and

2. Defines the state's duty to support public education as the duty "to assure the opportunity for an adequate primary and secondary public education to all pupils in the state; and

3. Prescribes that this duty will be carried out through laws passed by the legislature, subject to approval by the governor; and

4. Requires that such laws be upheld by the courts if they are reasonably related to fulfilling this duty; and

5. Permits the cost of such education to continue to be supported by local school property taxes which are reasonable and proportional throughout that part of the political subdivision in which they are collected; and

6. Authorizes local school districts to determine all matters pertaining to primary and secondary education, except such matters determined by state laws which provide funds for any newly-imposed requirements; and

7. Makes clear that this new paragraph is not intended to restrict amounts the state or any local district may spend for education, or to affect constitutional rights other than the state's duty to support public education; and that such new paragraph shall read as follows:

"The state's duty to support public education shall be governed exclusively by the provisions of this paragraph. Judicial review and enforcement of such duty shall be restricted only to the provisions of this paragraph. It shall be the duty of the state to assure the opportunity for an adequate primary and secondary public education to all pupils in the state. The specific nature and means of fulfilling such duty shall be determined by statute, which shall be upheld if reasonably related to the fulfillment thereof. The state may require the cost of such education to be supported by taxes assessed by political subdivisions of the state, which shall be reasonable and proportional throughout the part of the political subdivision in which they are collected, provided that no political subdivision shall be required to assess real estate taxes for such purpose at a rate more than 5 percent higher than the average equalized rate necessary to support the total statewide cost of adequate primary and secondary public education, as determined by statute. All matters pertaining to primary and secondary public education shall be determined by the legally constituted authority of the local district providing such education, except as otherwise prescribed by statute in accordance with part 1, article 28-a of this constitution. Nothing in this article shall be construed to limit the amount the state or any political subdivision may expend for the purpose of education, or to deny, disparage, or infringe any other right of the people as set forth elsewhere in this constitution?"

VII. That the wording of the question put to the qualified voters shall be:

Are you in favor of amending the Constitution to provide that property taxes shall not be used to fund public education?

VIII. That the wording of the question put to the qualified voters shall be:

Are you in favor of amending the constitution to provide that when constitutional amendments approved by 2/3's of the voters at an election conflict, the constitutional amendment which receives the most votes shall prevail?

IX. That the secretary of state shall print the questions to be submitted on a separate ballot or on the same ballot with other constitutional questions. The ballot containing the questions shall include 2 squares next to the questions allowing the voter to vote "Yes" or "No." If no cross is made in either of the squares, the ballot shall not be counted on the question. The outside of the ballot shall be the same as the regular official ballot except that the words "Questions Relating to Constitutional Amendments proposed by the 1998 General Court" shall be printed in bold type at the top of the ballot.

X. That a proposed amendment is approved by 2/3 of those voting on the amendment, it becomes effective when the governor proclaims its adoption.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This constitutional amendment concurrent resolution provides:

1. That the state shall have the duty to assure the opportunity for an adequate primary and secondary public education to all pupils in the state.

2. The nature and means of fulfilling such duty shall be determined by statutory provisions, which shall be upheld if such statutes are reasonably related to fulfilling this duty.

3. That in fulfillment of this duty, the state may require the cost of such education to be supported by taxes assessed by the political subdivisions of the state.

4. That such taxes assessed in support of primary and secondary public education shall be reasonable and proportional throughout that part of the political subdivision in which they are collected, provided that no political subdivision shall be required to assess real estate taxes for such purpose at a rate in excess of 5 percent of the average equalized rate necessary to support the total statewide cost of an adequate primary and secondary public education.

HB 1669-FN-A-L, adding a capital gains tax to the interest and dividends tax, and designating all revenues from the interest and dividends tax for funding education. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE Rep. David J. Alukonis for Finance: This bill adds a capital gains tax to the interest and dividends tax and provides that all revenues from the interest and dividends tax be deposited to a fund dedicated for the purposes of public education. There was very little support for this sort of tax to be imposed upon the citizens of New Hampshire. Additionally, consideration of any tax increases in order to finance additional appropriations for public education should be made during the normal budget deliberations impacting the year for which the appropriations will be made. Vote 17-2. Adopted.

HB 1670-FN-A-L, relative to a statewide school tax on income for purposes of funding a constitutionally adequate education and making an appropriation therefor. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE Rep. Charles L. Vaughn for Finance: The Finance Committee had before it two income tax bills relative to funding for a constitutionally adequate education. The committee felt only one bill needed to be studied and believes HB 1668-FN-A-L to be the better vehicle. Vote 16-3. Rep. Jacobson spoke against and yielded to questions. Rep. Wheeler requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded. The question being the adoption of the report.

HB 1671-FN-A-L, establishing a securities transfer excise tax to meet state obligations in funding education. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Avis B. Nichols for Finance: This bill establishes a securities excise tax to fund state education obligations. However, the tax can be easily avoided by locating or conducting transfers and sales out of state. The bill would also have a significant negative impact on the New Hampshire retirement system. Furthermore, the bill would discourage the expansion of the financial services industry in the state. For these reasons, the committee recommends the bill be voted inexpedient to legislate. Vote 19-0.

Reps. Hemon and McCann spoke against.

Rep. Wheeler requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

CLERK'S NOTE

When less than two-thirds of the elected membership is present, Part II, Article 20 of the state constitution requires the assent of two-thirds of those present and voting to take any action.

HB 1675-FN-A-L, establishing a referendum for a new taxation plan to fund public education. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. David J. Alukonis for Finance: This bill would establish a procedure whereby the legislature may submit a question regarding the imposition of a statewide tax for funding education to the vote of the people by ballot. It would additionally allow the voters an opportunity to select an alternative tax plan to the tax designated by the legislature. In light of the Finance Committee's action on CACR 45 and numerous other Claremont-related bills, the committee feels that this proposal is not needed. Additionally, serious concerns were raised regarding the understandability and simplicity of the questions as they would be placed on the ballot. Vote 19-0.

Rep. Wheeler requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

The question being the adoption of the report.

HB 1676-FN-A-L, relative to collection by the state of local property taxes paid by business, industrial, and public utility properties and redistribution to municipalities for education purposes on a per pupil basis. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. Charles L. Vaughn for Finance: This bill proposes that local property taxes owed by business, industrial and public utility properties be paid to the state and redistributed to municipalities on a per pupil basis to fund a constitutionally adequate education. The redistribution would require property tax increases on residential property owners in many communities and discourage business development. The committee believes both consequences are undesirable. Vote 19-0.

Rep. Wheeler requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

Adopted by the necessary two-thirds.

HB 1681-FN-A, increasing the tobacco tax on all tobacco products and designating the increase in revenue for the advancing better classrooms program. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

Rep. David J. Alukonis for Finance: This bill proposes to increase the rate of the tax on tobacco products in order to finance the Governor's ABC plan. Given that, pursuant to passage of either HB 1075 or CACR 45, additional appropriations for education will not take place until at least fiscal year 2000, there is no need to raise additional revenues at this time. Consideration of any tax increases, as well as budget reductions, in order to finance additional appropriations for primary and secondary education should be considered during the normal budget cycle in the next session of the legislature. Vote 12-9.

Rep. Buckley spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Burling spoke against.

Rep. Mock spoke in favor.

Rep. Wheeler requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

Rep. Flora: Thank you, Madam Speaker. Esteemed members of the House, this is the last day of the 1998 session and it has been a contentious day. I would hope that we could put contention aside now because it is the last day of the 1998 session whether it is at the call of the chair or whoever. It is a session in which you have served all of us as the Honorable Speaker of the House and I would like to take a moment now to say, Thank you. Throughout all that has confronted us in the past two years, Madam Speaker, you have been fair. You have handled the most volatile issues with grace and with dignity. You have had the conviction to lead and you have had the courage and personal strength to compromise when compromise was very, very difficult. I know I have just completed my first two years here but I believe I can speak for every member in this body when I say, Thank you. Thank you for the hours and hours you have worked; thank you for your leadership; and thank you for your outstanding personal character. Madam Speaker, you have served the citizens of our great state with uncommon diplomacy and, indeed, you have served us all well.
